Winnboro Letter.

WINNORO, Oct. 31.—Tonight Halloween night, and doubtless young people are trying their wits to see what is in store for them. As I made my fortune four years ago, I don't have to try such a new, but we used to have hallowe'en night. The county fair passed off very nicely last week. I don't know how many people attended year as did last, and I know as well as many exhibiters in the household department. Several who took premiums county fair took their prizes to the state fair and took premiums down there. We are looking forward now to the closing of synod, which will be Thursday, the 5th. The church is completed, all but the steeple, and they will be ready this week. We expect a full delegation and hope they are as anxious as we are to have them. A warm welcome awaits them.

Bessie Wright, of Spartanburg, visiting her brother Mr. Bryson. She will remain over synod. James Foster, of Glenn, has been on a visit to his brother, John S. Cathcart. Mary Caldwell, of Alabama, and David Flenniken, of North Carolina, have been visiting Mrs. Jenniken. Mrs. W. H. Blain, of Blacklock, and relatives and friends here.

Maggie Blain is at her home, Mr. James Blain's, near the town. Mrs. J. N. Caldwell, of Rosborough, and relatives are visiting relatives in Mexico. The symptoms of influenza are the symptom of lung disease. It kills the germs that irritate the throat, soothes the irritation, and stimulates the nerves that control the respiratory organs and thus nature to speedily restore normal conditions and healthy condition. T. S. Leitner.

Beckhamville Echoes.

BECKHAMVILLE, Oct. 30.—A heavy flakes of snow fell in its parts the other day. The wild geese have made their appearance. It will be but a few days until we can hear the report of guns and then the loud cries of rilling from the geese to take and flee for refuge. Mrs. W. T. Jackson is still improving but very slowly. Mr. and Mrs. Turner Varnadore, Health, was in your town last week. Mr. E. D. Brice, of Woodward, visited here last week. Miss Julia Stroud was in Chester this week shopping. Miss Lottie Jackson is in Lancaster visiting relatives. Mr. E. D. Brice, accompanied by Miss Annie Wilson, made a flying trip to Backsville, to visit Miss Annie Culp, of Lancaster, a visiting her sister, Mrs. T. M. Jones. CATAWBA FLOWER.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from Throat and Lung trouble. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and no further resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lora Cross of Brimfield, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by all Druggists, price 50c, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Mrs. Nation - has challenged you to joint debate. She offers him the hall and give him $500 he will go on the platform with her and let her get a whack at it. Mrs. Nathan says Dizzie is an old fraud, and that she can't do it. The Restorer hasn't accepted the challenge. He has said, however, that Mrs. Nation is a fraud, and that Christian Science is a humbug. "What a happy time the prophets, seers and reformers are having among themselves!" - Savannah News.

Children Up Meas.

Few things have been printed more grimly than the letter from one of the Tillman jurors to which we refer elsewhere, says the Register. It is a curious and simply interesting study. The author is rarely heard from by the public. This juror is heard from and we cannot recall another instance where the hopeless mental condition of an ignorant man grasped with serious subject is so vividly portrayed. This juror evidently lost the entire of the question with which he was chosen and then to treat whether the killing of Tillman by Tillman was murder. It will be observed that he does not consider whether or not the killing was in self-defense. Evidently he had a dim notion that the dead man was on trial before him and that his function was to decide whether the victim deserved death on general principles.

He lays down as one of his guiding principles that all the "guiding principles" do not tell of a case of a man being hanged for killing an editor. Some notion that an editor is somehow different from other human beings and subject to punishment like a noxious wild animal when he becomes troublesome or offensive is floating about in the chaotic mind of the hood and true man of Lexington county. This view, which is widely prevalent in the back makes a comfortable outlook for South Carolina journalism.

The belief that the state could make an appeal is satisfied with the verdict, that the purpose and duty of the juror is to limit and define the "liberty of your press," the suggestion that some more bold be shed on the going over the Georgia head Jim Tillman man are the distorted and distorted and catching his first year of civilization. They are horribly fascinating when we find them in a white man serving as a juror and representing the guardianship of the state's dignity and peace in a land of old civilization in the year 1903.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off the middle of the life severe and irrespective of old age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever, Constipation all yield to this perfect Pill. 25c. at all Druggists.

Obituary.

The home and friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coleman, of Halsellville, has been made sad by the death of their third daughter, Miss Susie, who was sick about five weeks with typhoid fever and died last Tuesday evening, Oct. 27th. Susie was about sixteen years of age and one of the brightest girls in the community. She was needed in Heaven and God in his own way called her home. She is now with Jesus to whom she gave her heart some years ago, and whom she loved and served. It is hard when God death all things well, and may we be led by the Spirit to say, "Thy will be done, O Lord; and not ours." Susie has paid the debt that we all must pay. Some day sooner or later, God will call us too. Will we be ready when that day comes? May the Lord comfort and bless the bereaved family and friends and may they be comforted by the life which Susie has loved that is well with her soul. T. C. F.

A Runaway Bicycle.

Terminated with an ugly cut on the leg of J. B. Orner, Franklin County, Ill. It developed a stubborn ulcer unyielding to doctors and remedies for four years. Then Buckner's Arctic Salve cured. It is just as good for Burns, Scalds, Skin Eruptions and Piles. 25c. at all Druggists.

Aint It The Truth?

This world is full of spinners and whippersnappers. Their bluff. And fuller still of sadder wits. Who did not bleed enough.

Smothered in a Pile of Cotton.

Ernest, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. H. Kinard, of the Bachman Chapel community, of Newberry county, met with a horrible death Wednesday. He was in his father's cotton house, playing hide and seek with his little baby brother, when he fell headforemost into a hole which he had dug into a pile of cotton and his life was smothered out. At the dinner hour at Mr. Kinard's home Friday, Mrs. Kinard asked her son, Ernest, to take his baby brother, a little boy about three years of age out to play. As the boy started away from the house with the baby he was asked by his father where he was going, and replied that he was going to the cotton house to play. In about an hour Mrs. Kinard called Ernest to dinner. He failed to answer, and Mrs. Kinard, becoming alarmed, went to the cotton house. She found her son in the pile of cotton dead. The little boy's sons, of Mr. Kinard, had gone to the cotton house when they usually do every day to play. Ernest was the oldest child, and he supposed the children were playing hide and seek, and Ernest fell into a hole about four feet deep which he had dug in the pile of cotton. He was in this position when taken out. It was found that breath had left the body. The neighbors were called in, and every effort was made to restore the little boy's life, but all to no avail.—Newberry News & Herald.

Rydalene Liver Tablets.

Rydalene Liver Tablets cure all liver troubles. They act specifically on the liver, the bile bladder, and the ducts, the intestines and bowels. They stimulate the liver and cause a perfect flow of bile into the bowels, keep the bile duct healthy, increase the peristaltic movement of the intestines and thus restore a healthy action of all these organs. Rydalene Liver Tablets are easy to take, being small, and they do not irritate the stomach and can always be depended upon. Price per box of 50 tablets, 25 cents. T. S. Leitner.

The Girl Who Works.

Take your hat off to the girl who works. It is for an ideal condition of society which, makes it necessary for a woman to earn independent living, to say nothing of supporting a family, but conditions like the poor, we have with us all ways. The girl who works bears the heat and burden of the day with poor reward, and she is often looked down upon by her more fortunate sisters, but she has her love and soul as far above the idle, luxurious woman as the sky is above the earth. She looks with pitying sympathy on the girl who has her head and bent shoulders of her father and mother, or she watches over and toils for her orphaned brothers and sisters, that they may not stumble and fall upon rough places. She sings when her heart is heavy and she laughs in the joys of her loved ones and mingles her tears in their sorrows. She rests only that she may have strength to try and try again, but those few are sweeter than any blossom the idle woman can pluck.—Green-ville (N. C.) Reflector.

Not A Sick Day Since.

"I was taken very sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicine, but none of them relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try it. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not since a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuritis, Liver and Kidney troubles, and General Debility. This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C. writes. Only 50c. at all Druggists."

The Best Prescription For Malaria.

Chills and Fever is a bottle of Green's Tasteless Chill Tonic. It is simply Iron and Quinine in a tasteful form. No Cure, No Pay. Price 50c.

He—Let's form a society for mutual admiration. I, for instance, admire your beautiful eyes. And what do you admire in me?
She—Your good taste."

Gen. Edward McCrady.

Charleston, Nov. 2.—Funeral services over the remains of Gen. Edward McCrady, who died suddenly yesterday, were held at St. Philip's church this afternoon. There was a large concourse of friends to pay the last mark of respect to one of South Carolina's ablest sons.

Gen. McCrady was born in Charleston April 8, 1833, and was a son of Edward McCrady, a distinguished member of the bar of this city. He was prepared for college in the private academies of his native city and was graduated from Charleston college in 1854, two years later being admitted to the bar.

He made a splendid record in the Confederate army. He resumed practice of his profession in October, 1865, and in 1880 he was elected to the legislature from his county where he served until 1890. He was the author of the state election and registration laws and also established a bureau of Confederate records in the adjutant general's office from the collection of rolls and records and other important measures.

He was elected a member of the Historical society of South Carolina in 1887 and was one of the early members of the Elliott Society of Natural History. For some years he was a trustee of the Charleston literary society of Medical college of South Carolina. He was at the time of his death president of the Historical society. In 1900 he received the degree of doctor of laws from his alma mater.

Gen. McCrady's greatest bequest to future generations is his history of South Carolina, of which three volumes have been issued. Volume 1 covers a period from 1670 to 1719 and was published in 1897, being a history of the proprietary government. Volume 2, 1719-1775, covers the royal government of the state and was published in 1899 and volume 3 covers the revolutionary period, 1775-1789, and was published in 1901.

Stomach Trouble Causes Heart Trouble.

Heart trouble is almost always caused by stomach trouble. The stomach fails to digest all the food, and the residue ferments, forming excess of gas which distends the walls of the stomach, causing a pressure on the nerves and arteries that supply the heart. This causes the heart to palpitate or skip a beat occasionally, or both, which is usually very alarming, causing nervous apprehensions. Rydalene Stomach Tablets prevent this trouble. They digest the food and prevent gas from forming in the stomach. When there is no gas in your stomach your heart will not trouble you. T. S. Leitner. 1 & 10c.

Foot-Ball Plays Killed.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 31.—Fifteen persons were killed and over 50 injured, some fatally, this morning by a collision between a special passenger train on the Big Four railroad and a freight engine drawing coal cars. The accident happened in the edge of the city. The passenger train of 12 coaches was carrying 953 persons, nearly three hundred of whom were students of the University of Indiana. The freight train was carrying the Indiana university squad for the State championship which was to have been fought this afternoon.

In the first coach back of the engine were the Purdue football team, substitute players and managers. Three players, the assistant coach, trainer and seven substitute players of the university team were killed and every one of the 53 other persons in the car was either fatally or seriously hurt.

THE PRICE OF PEACE.

An Appeal from Certain Quarters to Let up on the Rasicals and Those Who Shirk Their Duty.

It is a well known and steady effort in one or two quarters to turn the attention of the weak and morally sick from a realization of the conditions in South Carolina by attacking the north for its charge of mal-administration of law in this state. One Lexington paper, with absolute disregard for truth, tells its readers that "most of the comments from the north are from Republican papers" whose "false statements and dirty charges" are "almost enough to make a marble statue blush."

The disgrace of the state has been commented upon as freely by Democratic as by Republican papers of the country; the press of the south has been more free in denouncing the crime than that of the north, and the press of South Carolina more unreserved in its condemnation than the papers of any other state. It is therefore the veriest demagogic rot to attempt to manufacture a sectional or party issue. The Captain News says:

In all candor we appeal to the press of the state to let up on these deplorable affairs; "let bygones be bygones," let white-winged peace continue to hover over our fair sunny south.

For centuries moral cowards have made similar appeals when confronted by a problem; when action not supineness was required of men. Make no protest; touch not the public conscience; conceal from the people the light in which their transgressions are viewed by others; let the "deplorable affairs" be hushed up because: some influential persons have part in them; there a cloak over; private and public shame and the moral cowards will be happy. Then, too, will white-winged peace hover over a land whose newspapers are conducted by fawning toadies; whose preachers are hypocrites; whose judges are tools of corruption; whose streets are in possession of flouting troops!

Who does not long for peace! It is that the peace for men! Is it peace to surrender, to give and crime! Is it peace, is it honor for the state to stand dumb and inert when the very citadel of civilization is assailed!

There is here is none so shallow as to believe that the condemnation by South Carolina papers of the Lexington verdict has for its chief purpose the exorcism of that wretched jury and the criticized lawyers! Most of the ignorant members of that jury are beyond reach of the lash of public scorn, even if they were not already lost shades in hell. There is a deeper purpose, a more patriotic intention. There is a conscience to be aroused in that large peace-at-any-price element which has been willing to let things drift; a conscience to be aroused to the duties owed by 'very honest man. There will be many other murders in South Carolina, and when there is money or influence in behalf of the murderers there will be other attempts to pack and debauch juries.

Press, pulpit and brave men—it is, those worthy to speak in behalf of the honor of South Carolina—are looking to the future. They know there can be no "fair, sunny south" over which peace may hover so long as her soil is bloodsoaked and murders go free, "as God multiplies and our justice has no foothold and justice is re-entrenched.—The States.

You Know What You Are Taking When You Take Groves' Tasteless Chill Tonic because the formula is plainly printed on every bottle showing that it is simply Iron and Quinine in a tasteless form. No Cure, No Pay, 50c.

Near Concord, N. C., Sabbath morning, Nov. 1st., a financial party were driving along the railroad, the miles attached to the wagon became frightened at an approaching train and ran across the track. The wagon was demolished, the corpse was torn to pieces and the multitude and our occupants of the wagon were killed.

THE LANTERN.

Entered as 2nd class mail matter.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1903.

It is stated that J. H. Tillman is to settle in Birmingham, Ala. It is sincerely hoped that the news is true, and if he could only take Juror Rinsinger and all the rest of the men of that stamp with him the state would be very much benefited by the emigration.—Yorkville Enquirer.

Another Wreck on the Southern. There was a head on collision Wednesday morning on the Southern three miles above Chester. The 30 train coming south was running on time and collided with an extra work train going north which consisted of an engine and flat car, and was running flat foremost at the rate of about 10 miles an hour. The accident was due to a blunder on the part of the work train crew in over looking the time the regular passenger train was due. Gus Baston, a colored laborer on the work train was instantly killed.

Mr. George W. Fetner, engineer on the passenger train, put on emergency brakes and stood to his post through the crash and was knocked unconscious against the side of his cab. Three left ribs were broken and he received internal injuries and will hardly recover. The engineer on the flat car put on emergency brakes, jumped from his cab and was unhurt. The fireman on the passenger train, put on emergency brakes and stood to his post through the crash and was knocked unconscious against the side of his cab. Three left ribs were broken and he received internal injuries and will hardly recover. The engineer on the flat car put on emergency brakes, jumped from his cab and was unhurt.

The injured men were brought down to Chester and made as comfortable as possible until late in the afternoon they were sent down to Columbia, Engineer Fetner to the Columbia hospital and the colored men to the colored hospital. Dr. Thornwell, however, was worse hurt than he at first thought and was put to bed at the Nicholson hotel, until the first north bound train got through late in the afternoon, he went home. Work was commenced immediately at clearing the track and trains passed through about 5 o'clock p. m.

Mr. J. M. Bell, manager of the Telephone Exchange here, was on the wrecked train but escaped unhurt. He says he felt the brakes and braced himself against the seat in front. Only three ladies, Misses Rena Caldwell, Morsen Harris and Isabella Grier, of Fort Mill, were on the train. They were coming to Chester to attend the Woods-Sledge marriage.

Fudges Letter. FUDGES, Nov. 3.—Our school opened last Tuesday morning under the efficient management of Miss Bessie Wilder, of Savannah, Ga. She is boarding at Mr. J. J. Jordans. The Landsford school has also opened with the former teacher, Miss Ida Odom, of Yorkville. Rev. D. N. McLeod is holding a protracted meeting at El Bethel, this week.

Mrs. N. M. McGee has rented her place out for next year. She expects to leave in the near future to visit relatives in Arkansas during that time.

Mr. R. H. Fudge is now having a ten-room dwelling built which will be a great improvement to Fudges. Mrs. E. J. McFarlow moved last Saturday to Cornwell's Mill, where she will take charge of the school at that place.

Mr. Oscar A. Jordan and Miss Mary attended the fair at Columbia last week. They report a really pleasant time. They stopped a few days with friends at Rockton, on their way home.

Miss Mary Scriob, of Yorkville, spent a few days with Mrs. N. M. McGee last week.

Letter From Fort Law. FORT LAWN, Nov. 3.—Farmers are about through gathering cotton and it has, with fine weather for gathering the fleecy staple, turned out better than was expected. Hay, corn and peas are about gathered into the barns, sweet potatoes, are piled and the hogs turned into the fields. Most of our farmers who look well into the future are making themselves busy putting in small grain.

Our school is progressing nicely under the principalship of Mr. W. A. Douglas and his assistant, Miss Burt. Mr. Douglas has put forth a great deal of energy and good thought for the improvement of our school and school building. The building is now celled through out and painted. The new patent desks have just been put in, which adds much to the comfort of those whom we often forget on a cold wintry day when we are perched in a cushioned chair before a roaring fire reading a newspaper.

Rev. Mr. Brown, who preached for us during his vacation, finds it convenient to come up from Columbia and preach for us the first and third Sunday at half past three o'clock. We are glad to have him come back and preach. Among those who visited the fair from our midst were Messrs. W. L. Abernathy, J. B. Daniel, Frank Jordan, S. M. McWaters, Charley Dunlap, William Cureton and W. Douglas.

Mr. Will Kirkpatrick, Jr., and two sisters returned Monday from the fair.

Our town is on a boom. New houses, and additions to houses, are being made on every side. The hammers are ringing daily on the cottage of Mr. J. B. Daniel, which will be completed in the near future.

The addition to Mr. W. P. Roddey's house has been completed.

Mr. J. L. Rape expects to move into his new home soon.

Mr. Arthur Garrison is having a splendid barn built.

Mr. W. L. Abernathy has let out the contract for an addition to his dwelling.

The colored people are doing credit to themselves by tearing down their old church and building a new one.

The intendet, Mr. D. Ferguson received into the coffers of our town thirty dollars for disorderly conduct on the streets Saturday last.

Several went up to Chester Monday to attend court.

Old Mr. McCorkle, who has been in very feeble health for some time, is very ill.

Items from Rock Hill Herald. Mr. James M. Crawford, whose serious illness was mentioned in this paper last Saturday, died at the home of his relative, Mr. J. A. Black, Saturday morning a few minutes after 12 o'clock and at noon his body was interred at Neely's Creek after services by Rev. Oliver Johnston. Mr. Crawford left his home Thursday night to come down town, but never reached his destination. He was a sufferer from Bright's disease, but was suddenly attacked with uremic poison and falling on the ground in the garden was found there the next morning in an unconscious condition and remained in that condition until he died.

Mr. Crawford was about 57 years of age, a native of Newberry county, where he was raised and merchandised until about 18 years ago, when he removed to Chester county, where he taught school. Since then he merchandised at Edgemore and Leslie, and of recent years he made Rock Hill his home. At the time of his death he was in the employ of the government as mail carrier on R. F. D. No. 3, Rock Hill.

yesterday with her sister Miss Rachel Brawley, at Winthrop College.

Mr. W. H. Wyllie left Sunday for Chester, where he joined a party to have a bird hunt Monday.

Miss Bessie Westbrook, a most charming young lady of Chester, came up Saturday and spent until Monday morning with her friend, Miss Eunice Cloud at the home of Prof. E. W. Hall.

Mrs. A. H. Greens left the city Monday to spend a while with her son, Mr. Gib Greene, at Chester.

Mr. Sam H. McDaniel met with a painful accident at the dam yesterday. A plank fell from a scaffold and striking him on the left foot, broke the big toe and mashed two others. He was brought to the home of his mother, Mrs. W. H. Wyllie, and attended by Dr. Fennell.
