VISIT TO OLD COUNTRY.

Oban, a City Where the People Live on Fish and Strangers and Have No Methodist Church—Loch Lomond and Loch Katrine.

[By Dr. G. B. White.]

Oban is a beautiful city of about seven thousand population. Nearly every house is built of stone. Most of the city is built on a strip of land about one hundred and fifty yards wide, bounded on one side by a bay and on the other by a mountain hundreds of feet high. Oban is a great summer resort and is visited by thousands of people every year. There are several large hotels there and so far as I could see the place must be largely supported by tourists. There were no manufacturing establishments that I could see. I was told there were a great many fish caught in the bay. I have heard that a great many of the people of Florida live on fish and strangers, and I think the people of Oban must live in the same way. Just a short distance from the city on a mountain could be seen the ruins of an old castle. On another mountain near by could be seen an immense building but never completed, intended for a hotel. They call the castle their ancient ruin and the hotel their modern ruin. I spent the Sabbath day there and have never seen it better observed. They have six Presbyterian churches. Two of them are the established churches and are supported by the government. Two of them are called the United Free Church, and two the Free church. In one of the established churches they have one service in the Gaelic language every Sabbath. I heard a sermon in Gaelic preached on the street the day I was there. The first four churches mentioned have large splendidly built stone buildings and each of them will seat several hundred people. The Catholics, Episcopalians and congregationalists have small church buildings. Two Baptist worship in a hall. Oban is the only place I ever saw of any size that did not have a Methodist church in it.

The famous "Stone of Destiny" remained for a long time after it was taken from Ireland in an old cattle boat three miles from Oban. It was then taken to Scone in Scotland, where it remained for a long time. It was finally taken to Westminster Abbey, in London, where it has remained for the past six hundred years. The old coronation chair rests on this stone on which the kings and queens of Scotland and England have been crowned for hundreds of years.

I went to the depot Monday morning and started back to Glasgow by an entirely different route from the one I went. Before I got to the depot I met my friends from Iowa whom I had met on Saturday on my way to Oban. We got into the same compartment and passed the time pleasantly while the train made a run of about fifty miles, going east. They got off the train at Chianricar, as their tickets called for a trip through the Troscachs going east. I continued my journey by rail about another fifty miles to Callander. This hundred miles was through a very strange looking country. There was no trouble to fully realize I was in a strange land. I was a rough mountainous country almost uninhabited a good part of the way. I could see a dwelling house occasionally. About the only industry the people seemed to be engaged in was the raising of sheep and goats. I saw a good many flocks grazing on the mountains. These mountains are bare of trees but are covered with a short grass. At Callander I took a coach for a trip through the Troscachs going west. These coaches are drawn by four horses and haul twenty-five people each trip, having five seats and each seat holds five people. It takes a pretty tall step ladder to get up to your seat. We made the trip for about ten miles by coach, over a splendid road. On one side of the road was a mountain and on the other most of the way a beautiful lake. About eight miles from Callander we came to the Troscachs hotel, where we took dinner. Here I met a lady that crossed the ocean with us. From this hotel to lake Katrine, a distance of about two miles, we passed through the Troscachs, a wild romantic looking country well known to Sir Walter Scott, some of his writings. Here I met a lady that crossed the ocean with us. Is Beauty Only Skin Deep?
Beauty is only skin deep, but the forces that create beauty are as deep as the fountain from which they flow, when the Blood is charged with impurities Beauty disappears, when the blood is pure Beauty blossoms in face and form. RYDALES Liver Tablets keep the Liver healthy and the Bowels regular, prevents the blood becoming laden with bile and waste matter, make the skin clear, eyes bright and Beauty more than skin deep. T. S. Leitner.

A Professional Swearer.
James Quarles, a distinguished lawyer of Tennessee, was one day trying a case, and after producing his evidence, rested, whereupon the defense produced a witness who swore Quarles completely out of Court and a verdict was rendered accordingly. After the trial one of his friends came to him and said: "Why didn't you get that fellow to swear on your side?" "I didn't know anything about him," replied Quarles. "I might have told you how bad a man you just as hard as he'll swear for the other side. That's business. Judge that fellow takes in swarmin' for a living.—Chicago News.

How We Catch a Cold.
A cold is sometimes contracted while remaining inactive for a while in an uncomfortable room or a cold draft and by failing to sleep under light conditions. But most colds are caught while sleeping too cold at night. Deep sleep causes sluggish circulation which renders the system susceptible to change of temperature. To avoid this, cover sleep under plenty of cover. To cure colds use RYDALES Elixir. It lessens the severity and shortens the duration of a cold and prevents Pneumonia, Bronchitis and Consumption. T. S. Leitner.

He—can't send my clothes to the tailor's every time they need a button. We must economize. Can't you sew on these suspender buttons yourself?
She—My dear, fasten them up with a hairpin. That will save thread you know.

Rodman Items.
RODMAN, Jan. 9.—Christmas passed off quietly but very pleasantly around here. A good many dinings and parties were given, to the pleasure of all who attended them.

Misses Carrie Belle Kee and Mary Gill and Master Emmet Rodman have returned to Jones Seminary, after spending the holidays at home.

Mr. Jimmie Simpson and Miss Dora Locke have returned to Due West.

Mr. G. Utah Jordan has returned to his home at Pleasant Valley, Texas, after spending two weeks with relatives here. He was looking well and was in the best of health. We hope that he was so impressed with his visit to his old home that he will not stay away so long again (11 years).

Miss Mary Rothrock, of Chester, and Mrs. Fannie Creech, of Knox, visited friends here not long since.

Out of His Sight.
The chief was cross that morning, and was venting his wrath on the pretty young lady who manipulated the typewriter, says Illustrated Bits.

A Very Close Call.
"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was aching with pain," writes W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman, of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters, and after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Weak, sickly, run-down people should get such new life, strength and vigor from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by all druggists. Price 50 cents.

Olive Leaves.
OLIVE, Jan. 8.—We are sorry to learn of the burning of Mr. J. C. Kirkpatrick's children. The accident occurred several days since. It is thought that the burns are not so serious as was first supposed, although the little one is suffering much pain yet.

Mr. J. W. Bailey surprised his friends on Christmas eve by bringing home a young bride. He was married on that day to Miss Mary Rhodes, of Gastonia. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey spent a few days with the former's relatives, returning to Gastonia the 29th inst. We extend congratulations.

Mr. Joe Pope has moved to the place vacated by Mr. Aycock.

Miss Bille Bailey has returned to her school near Bullock's Creek. She was at home Christmas week.

Rydal's Stomach Tablets.
Rydal's Stomach Tablets are for the Stomach and organs of assimilation and are not intended for a "cure all." They contain concentrated aspic, Pepsin, Pure Pancreatin and other digestive agents. They contain powerful tonics and mild stimulants that have a specific effect on the Stomach and organs of assimilation, which aid nature in reconstructing the broken down cells and strengthening the flaccid muscles of the walls of the stomach and other digestive organs. RYDALES Stomach Tablets are a perfect stomach medicine. They relieve at once and soon cure the worst forms of stomach trouble. Price 25 and 50 cents. T. S. Leitner.

The Dispensary.
The most sanguine friends of the dispensary must see that in practice, the beautiful theories fail. Some one predicted in the early days that the profits would run the State government in ten years but on the contrary, with the most complete monopoly imaginable, with high profits and solid support, taxes are not reduced.

Domestic Troubles.
It is exceptional to find a family where there are no domestic ruptures occasionally, but these can be lessened by having Dr. King's New Life Pills around. Much trouble they ease by their great work in Stomach and Liver troubles. They not only relieve you, but cure. 25c, at all druggists. & f

Halsville Letter.
HALSELVILLE, Jan. 11.—Mr. Ross Durham has purchased a single saw mill recently and now has it in operation. It is something new in this section. The work of the mill is very good. Mr. Durham has acquired sawing thousands of shingles for his own use, besides for the general public, although shingle timber is rather scarce.

Miss Maggie Hater, of Chester, is visiting her sister, Mrs. M. A. Colvin.

Mr. J. N. Caldwell was in town Monday.

Mr. T. E. Dye and spent a most enjoyable time listening at some very fine music made by Mr. Dye with violin and his daughter, Miss Ida, and niece, Miss Mamie Crowder, with guitars. They are endowed with fine musical talent.

Mr. T. J. Cunningham, one of the most successful farmers of Halsville, who has recently bought the place known as the George Mobley plantation, has been running four horse plows on that plantation for about three weeks turning under broom sedge. M.

Let Them Strike.
It is said that 30,000 government clerks are affected by the order issued several days ago requiring them to work seven hours and a half a day. They have been on duty only seven hours heretofore and been taking half an hour of government time for luncheon. Now they will be required to eat in their own time. Naturally they do not like the new arrangement, but if they would like to give up their jobs there would be no difficulty in getting 30,000 persons to take their places.—News and Courier.

Winnboro Letter.
WINNSBORO, Jan. 7.—Happy new year to all. May this year be the most prosperous on record spiritually, as well as temporally.

Mr. N. G. DesPortes' handsome home was burned yesterday morning. I don't think they have any idea how the fire originated. The family were awakened about 5 p. m. and barely escaped with their lives. Mr. DesPortes' house was one of the handsomest in town. He had about 5000 insurance on house and contents, but that amount will not cover the loss.

Mr. J. L. Ratterree and son, Banks, from near Alliance, were in town Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Grant, and little Maurice, from near Armenia, spent Thursday until Saturday with Mrs. F. Bryson.

Prof. W. H. Hamilton, of Clover High School, visited Mr. J. L. Richmond during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Matthews, who were married last week in Anderson, are now in town and will make this their home.

There were only six murders in Fairfield county during Christmas week, some of the effects of dispensary whiskey.

Tillman on the Bible.
The Hon. Joseph Weldon Bailey of the constitution and Texas instructed the Senate of the United States at some length on the history of the Democratic party last week. Comparing its present situation in the Senate, where its members, he declared, had carried "independence to the point of insubordination," with the splendid discipline of the Republicans, amounting to "subject submission," he cried in ringing tones:

"With such an organization pursuing such a lofty purpose, those who associated with their power, now affected to despise us, shall learn that it is as true in politics as it is in Holy Writ that 'pride goeth before a fall.'"

The Hon. Benjamin R. Tillman, dispensary king, arose slowly. He reproved Mr. Bailey with a glance, and said:

"Pride goeth before destruction" Let the Congressional Record tell the story of this incident:

"The Senator from South Carolina corrects my quotation and I would be glad to amend by making it 'destruction' if the people will carry his amendment into effect."

"Mr. Tillman—Pride goeth before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall."
"Mr. Bailey—The Senator from South Carolina is so much better versed in the Bible—
"Mr. Tillman—Than in the law."
"Mr. Bailey—He is so much better versed in the Bible than I am that I always yield to his correction."

Then Mr. Bailey continued his speech, the championship in Biblical research having been bestowed upon Mr. Tillman by champion of the constitution. A graceful and touching incident in the lives of two stern statesmen.—New York

THE LANTERN,
 PUBLISHED TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS
 J. T. BIGHAM, Editor and Prop.
 Entered at the Postoffice at Chester, S. C., as second-class mail matter.
 FRIDAY, JANUARY 15, 1904.

Gov. Heyward is decidedly in favor of encouraging the making of good roads and removing obstacles in the way of raising revenue if the people are inclined to do so.

As we predicted, Gov. Heyward did not recommend the increase of the dispensary directors' salaries. The demand for such a useless waste of money was too transparent. The only attempt at an argument in favor of the increase that we have heard or seen is that it would tend to shield those who accept the position from the suspicion of getting "kick-offs," which pitiful plea is not equivalent to one in favor of leaving the door open to the thief the burglar from the suspicion of theft.

Chester was the first county in the state to agitate, to any extent, the good-roads movement, and was along with the first in starting actual earnest work at making permanent good roads. And now we have a right to expect of our delegation in the legislature an enthusiasm in all measures favoring good roads. There will be many members "in favor of good roads, but"—(also of another item.) They "will yield to no one in advocacy of making good roads, if"—(the dear people will re-elect them.) Our members are not of this kind. They are in favor of the movement, but we want to urge them to such zeal as to inspire the indifferent and hesitating.

The governor in his message recommends biennial sessions, arguing that very few of the states now have annual sessions of the legislature, and he can see no reason why this state has need for more frequent sessions than other states. Of course the question of economy was mentioned. There is no necessity for a meeting of the legislature every year, and it would not be necessary to have longer sessions biennially than we now have, as most of the actual work is done in the last few days, whatever the length of session. The politicians and those who expect jobs during sessions may be expected to oppose the change, and there are others for whose views we cannot account, some of them honestly seeing obstacles in the way, as they think.

Our suggestion of a commission to note errors and omissions in the written history of South Carolina and the Confederacy and in current writings has been commended by other papers and in private communications. We wish our people could be educated up to the importance of preserving the history in which they are most concerned while it is within our reach and rescuing that which is passing out of reach. Our children are going to be told—for we are already being offered the information in effect—that South Carolina had practically no part in the war of independence; that she furnished very few troops and these saw very little if any active service; that the men who resisted the invader on our own soil came down here from New England.

Are we going to sleep over the magnificent record of South Carolina in the Revolutionary war until posterity are taught that it is all a myth? Is it true that our children are being taught that in certain battles of the war between the states, South Carolina troops behaved in a cowardly manner and that honor for the desperate courage with which they have been credited on those occasions is due to troops from other states? Have other sections found us so destitute of state pride that they feel safe in telling the world and posterity that such was the record of our fathers—and shall we meekly permit their imputations to go into history without a protest? Let us inquire and learn what is true, and correct what is false—and let us correct the falsehoods of omission as well as those of commission. The only way to accomplish this is to have suitable men appointed whose business it shall be to take the matter up systematically, and now is the time.

A Uricque Souvenir.
 Col. J. W. Reed has presented us with a miniature Confederate haversack, made of white duck, 3 3/4 inches square. Gen. Lee's picture, between two Confederate flags, in colors, and resting on implements of war, adorns the front. The shoulder strap is made of dainty red ribbon, and the flap is tied down with a bow of the same. The haversack contains General Lee's farewell address to his army, Father Ryan's Conquered Banner and an acrostic poem on the Confederate States of America. These souvenirs are gotten up by Mr. R. C. Moseley, a Winston-Salem, N. C., who will be pleased to mail one to any address receipt of 25 cents.

I finally tried Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured at the Pryor-McKee Drug Co's store, my attention having been attracted to them by the strong endorsements made for them and since using my back has not pained me and has gained much in strength.  We have received the largest shipment of Candy ever sent to any retail grocer in Chester, from plain stick to the finest Chocolates and Bon Bons, which I will sell at wholesale and meet any price and go them one better.
 To the Retail Christmas shopper we will make prices lower than you have ever seen before. We have gotten the quantity, price and all the discounts and mean to cut the life out of the price of EVERYTHING. Nuts, Raisins, the fanciest line of cakes ever shown in Chester Still selling the finest Cream Cheese for 15c. Macaroni 3 for 25 cents. Old Fashion New Orleans Molasses. New Crop Georgia Cane Syrup, the finest to be had, at 50c Flour the best and just a little cheaper than you can buy elsewhere.
 Premier Flaked Wheat. If you haven't tried it you have missed one of the greatest dainties, wholesome and nutritious, already prepared, only 10c package and a chance at a handsome Wostenholm Carving Set.
 The only trouble we have in our tobacco business is we have cut the price too low, they are taking it so fast we run out, but we are getting the best things and will continue the sale as long as our money lasts.

Willsburg School. Miss Eva Hill has declined to teach the Willsburg school another year, and Miss Ethel Walker, of Union, has taken her place. Miss Hill has had charge of this school for three years, and the praise which the patrons are bestowing on her is unlimited. The trustees are at a loss for words to express their appreciation. The school has been built up from a very small beginning to its present flourishing condition. The house and grounds have been improved and a centre has been established from which general refinement has radiated. The school pays a comparatively good salary and runs six months in the year. This is of course due largely to the intelligent work of the trustees and the educational spirit of the community, as so much could not have been accomplished had not the efforts of the teacher met a hearty response from the patrons. New Lot of Caskets coming in at Gladden & Green's. Harde's old stand. See them and get their prices. Once a Resident of Chester. Mr. Theodore D. Kline, general manager of the Central of Georgia railroad, died at the Ds Soto hotel in Savannah Monday morning at 2 o'clock. The remains were taken to Anniston, Ala., where he had recently made his home, for burial. Great honor was paid his remains by people in railroad circles, as well as by a host of others. Mr. Kline married Miss Eugenia Hoist, of Chester, and lived here for some time, his first business venture being here. He was remarkably successful in every business in which he engaged. He began the railroad business at the bottom and rapidly advanced to the high position which he held at the time of his death. Mrs. Kline survives with a number of children, all of whom are grown.

Rev. J. H. Simpson, of Hickory Grove, was in the city yesterday on his way home from Lancaster. The Fertilizer Problem Solved. A special to News & Courier from Spartanburg says the farmers met and discussed the fertilizer question, that they protested against the advance in price. Farmers, you need not pay their price. Be independent of that gigantic combination; make your own fertilizers at home at a cost that will not exceed $5.00 per ton. You have the material principally in your own houses without purchasing a lot of worthless weight (500 lbs) of ground up cck, sand, clay, cinders, etc to the top of which is no value at all. The 240 pounds of plant food chemicals is all you get for $50.00 a id it is worth about $4.00. The time has come and now is for the farmer to look to his own interest and not be led as sheep to the slaughter by those designing men who care for nothing only personal gain. There is a firm in Baltimore who will sell you all the chemicals you want in large or small quantities that does not belong to a trust or combine but to the farmer. You can get your chemicals to make one ton of fertilizer at cost of only $4.00, then you have the best fertilizer in the world, by test. This fertilizer is made by the Lipsy method of mixing fertilizers and represented by John C. Simms, as state agent, now at the Gladden & Greening house, Chester, S. C. He will give you all the information desired.

Several Reasons Why the JEWELS Are the Best Ranges on the Market: They are very heavy and are substantially and mechanically built, are lined with extra heavy asbestos sheeting, which keeps an even temperature in the oven. The oven bottom is made in sections so as to prevent warping. The oven door is perfectly balanced and drops down without a jar, forming a nice broad shelf on which to slide the pans out. They also have the new broiler attachment and draft feed as well as the dumping ash grate, heavy fire box linings, and a tight warming closet that keeps food warm and moist. The Jewels have stood the test of time, and are more universally used than any other range. You can find that out for yourself.

Dyspepsia Cured Free

The Grover Graham Dyspepsia Remedy is sold under a positive guarantee that it will cure Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Gastritis or any form of stomach disorder, no matter how chronic or severe. The very first dose removes all distress, tones the weak stomach, prevents fermentation and restores digestion.
Every nerve and fiber of the body depends upon the stomach for its support.
When digestion ceases a slow form of starvation begins, and the vital organs, deprived of their sustenance, become debilitated. Good digestion is essential to health; proper assimilation of nourishment means pure, rich blood, strong nerves, sound sleep and makes life worth living. The most terrible case of Stomach disorder is immediately corrected by our remedy, the world-renowned,
European specific.
