MUST COUNT COST
AFTER GREAT WAR

French Minister Points Out How Financial Burdens Will Impel Nations to Reduce Forces.

Paris, June 27.—The ministers of finance in the belligerent countries will be the most for fervid advocates of the limitation of armaments after the war, asserted Marcel Sembat, Socialist leader and French minister of public works in a statement to a representative of the Associated Press today.

M. Sembat occupies the first actual cabinet post held by a Socialist in France, continuing the ministerial

"They will speak not only in the name of the superior ideal of social solidarity, they will speak in the name of the budget and of public credit. If we leave aside the philosophical considerations that support the idea to devise a limitation of armaments, it seems to me that during the war and after it financial considerations alone will suffice."

"I have come from an interesting session of the chamber, devoted to a discussion of war appropriations. Two discourses, one by the minister of finance, Albert Mérieux, general budget reporter of the chamber, and the appropriations committee, emphasized the extent of the sacrifices that the war has imposed on you. You know that M. Mérieux calculated the war was costing France $100,000,000,000. The expenditures of the English are not less than ours, while the Russians and Italians are feeling a heavy burden on their shoulders. On their side our adversaries, the Germans and Austrians, are crushed by financial burdens. You have noticed recently the failure of the Austrians to pay their debts."

"If the war proves to be long, not an improbable conjecture, the president of the cabinet and the minister of finance today took occasion to say so, and to prepare the public mind for its endeavor to form an idea of what will be the status of public finance of the belligerent countries at the conclusion of peace."

"We must expect that the public debt of each of these countries will be augmented by a considerable number of billions."

"I ask then of any one capable of seriously examining a financial situation how it will be possible to pay the debts contracted or the interest on the loans and at the same time keep up as costly armies and fleets as in the past without renouncing expenditures for social reforms which impose themselves today on all civilized peoples."

"The carnage of which we are witnesses may reasonably be expected to open the eyes of the people to their real interests, but considering only the practical side of the question whether it will be easier after the war than before to limit armaments, it seems to me that it will."

"This war has demonstrated above all the supremely important role of cannon, rifles, shells and explosives. In the United States you know also that rifles and cannon can not be improved over night—months are necessary."

"Formerly to partisans of the limitation of armaments was cited the ability of Prussia to get around the prescription of that so imposed by Napoleon I, but since it is demonstrated that troops, however numerous, can do nothing without a powerful artillery, we may find a practical means of control in the supervision of all manufactories of arms and cannon by an international committee instituted by the convention for the peace. That commission should include representatives of each European power and should limit its activities to a permanent treaty of a neutral state, such as Switzerland."

LEO FRANK HAS CHANCE FOR RECOVERY

Green Says No One Else Had Any Thing to Do With His Attempt to Murder Frank.

Milledgeville, Ga. July 18.—Leo M. Frank lay in the State prison hospital here tonight with what attendants said was a fighting chance for recovery. Physicians had succeeded in stopping the flow of blood from a jagged wound h. his throat made with an improvised knife in the hands of William Cream, a fellow convict, also serving a life term for murder. The blow was struck while Frank slept in his bunk in the dormitory late last night. This latest and most spectacular phase of the two-year fight for Frank's life may suddenly be the subject of an investigation by the Georgia Prison Commission, which refused to recommend that Frank's death sentence be changed to life imprisonment, before Governor Harris indicated today he would start such an investigation to ascertain if Cream acted entirely of his own volition.

Frank said today, when taken from solitary confinement long on the night of the attack, he was not questioned, but he planned and executed the attack alone. He was not communicative today and gave as his only excuse that "he thought it should be done." He said, however, that he regretted his act.

Frank was quartered in a dormitory with about 100 other prisoners and occupied a bunk about 40 feet from one of the two doors to the large room. Cream's bunk was fourth from him. No prisoner is allowed to leave his place without permission from one of the two guards on duty.

Frank called out for permission to get up and it was granted.

"He started down the line of bunks toward the one occupied by Frank. As he reached it he quickly grabbed Frank by the hair and delivered one blow with the knife he had concealed. The attack was witnessed by the guard who runs to the bunk and prevented Cream from striking again. Cream was overpowered and among prisoners who rushed to Frank's aid were two physicians, one of whom also was serving a life term for murder."

The two convict physicians gave Frank first aid and treated the wound until Doctor Compton, the prison physician, was summoned from his home half a mile away. The three men took 25 stitches in Frank's neck. Dr. H. J. Rosenberg, the Frank family physician, arrived from Atlanta today with nurses. He said that while Frank's condition is precarious, he has a chance for life.

Mrs. Frank was in Milledgeville at the home of J. M. Burns. She was not told of the attack until after the physicians had finished their work. She became hysterical but later was calmed and was taken to the prison hospital.

The cut extends from the front of the neck around the left side to almost the middle of the back of the neck. Neither the windpipe nor the spinal cord is hurt, but the Jugular vein is partly severed. The physician's greatest fear tonight was that some of the stitches might slip, causing more loss of blood.

Frank has benefited by the outdoor life since being brought to the farm June 21. Though a small man, he always had a rugged constitution. That, coupled with his exercise of the last three weeks, are in his favor, the doctors said. He took some nourishment today.

Frank knew of the demonstrations against the action of Governor Slatton, whose term recently expired in committing his sentence to the prison farm by force. Those who reached his side first last night after he was wounded believe he had all this in mind when he said:

"I guess they have got me now." He did not lose consciousness and after being taken to the hospital, requested that his assistant be forgotten.

Green was sentenced from Columbus for killing a man named Kitchen. Shortly after the crime a jury inquired into his sanity but declared him sane. Saturday he was hoping to get along with other prisoners. He concealed in his clothing the knife he used in the butchering and later it is believed secreted it in his bunk.

NEGRO SHOT BY ANOTHER.

John Hughes, colored, was shot and painfully wounded Tuesday evening by William H. Pratt, a well known negro. The wounds of Hughes are not expected to prove serious though he doubtless will lose, the limb about where the arm joins the body.

From information obtainable it seems that Hughes was coming up through Pratt's cane patch and falling to stop when halted by Pratt several times. Pratt immediately came to town and surrendered to the authorities.

FRECKLES

February and March Worst Months for This Trouble—How to Remove Easily.

"There's reason why so many of your body freckles in February and March but happily there is also a remedy for these ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled. Simply get an ounce of a fine, double strength, from your druggist and apply a little of it night and morning, and in a few days you should see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the light ones have vanished entirely. Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles, for if not removed now they may stay all summer and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Your money back if it don't work."

ATTEMPT TO KILL MAYOR AND WIFE.

Unknown party fires into Room of Mayor of Hickory.

Hickory, July 16.—The home of Mayor W. S. Stanley of Highland, which is located just east of the Hickory Chair Manufacturing Company in that town, was fired into with a pistol by some unknown person this morning about 1 o'clock and the mayor and his wife narrowly escaped being killed while asleep in bed.

Two shots were fired, both through an open window, by which the bed in which Mayor Stanley and his wife were sleeping stood, one shot striking the headboard of the bed; about 12 or 15 inches over Mr. Stanley's head and the other going diagonally across the room and out of another window.

From the manner in which the bullets ranged one of the shots could not possibly have missed Mrs. Stanley more than five in his, and the result of the pistol, which naturally threw the weapon upwards when it was discharged, undoubtedly was all that saved their lives, as it was evident that some one intended taking Mayor Stanley's life.

The person who did the shooting was evidently a familiar with the place and it is presumed that he watched the house and saw Mr. and Mrs. Stanley retire and returned after giving them time to go to sleep. Mr. Stanley is said to have stated that the shade was not drawn when they retired.

TUESDAY JULY 23.

CRIME OR NEGLECT.

Should some fiduciary officer of the City or the County of Chester prove faithless to his trust, there is not the possible shadow of doubt of the fact that in addition to invoking all the machinery of the law to capture and punish the culprit, a storm of indignation would be evoked from the community in general. This is but natural and right and yet crimes of far greater import are being committed in this and other cities every day—and the protest or complaint is so weak and feeble that they are utterly useless.

In this day and time of enlightenment there is no reason and no excuse for flies and mosquitoes. Civilized people have learned by sad and expensive experience the folly of providing breeding places for these pests and the war of extermination has been going on for years in many communities.

Chester is lagging behind in this respect. There is no need for it that, it just habit and a bad habit at that, which must sooner or later be broken.

Insanitary conditions in a city are due either to ignorance or willful and wanton neglect of duty on the part of duly commissioned officers. When some innocent person is stricken by disease due to the neglect of some officer, that officer is guilty of the crime of murder and all the mitigating circumstances such as "official can plead is—ignorance."

Ignorance is no excuse. It is merely the slothful habit that has for years hampered the growth, betterment and development of this city. There is plenty of intelligence, energy and experience here, but it is shackled by habit, selfishness, by narrow-mindedness until the people have come to look through darkened glasses upon anything bright and good for the welfare of all.

It would be an easy matter to specify disease-breeding places in this city, and such specification may be necessary before action is taken. In the meantime, of course, the lives of many people are in deadly peril.

Who is willing to take the risk? What good can come from it? Who can deny the fact that the disconnected closets in congested districts are a deadly menace to every citizen?

CAN BE OVERDONE.

The appointment of Thomas Edison as a member of Secretary Daniels' staff reminds us of his doctrine as to continuous labor for a great many hours without sleep or recreation. Mr. Edison will tell you that most people waste a lot of time in bed. To quote the poet:
The heights, by great men reached and kept,
Were not attained by sudden flight,
For they, while others dreamed and slept,
Were toiling up in the night."
This is all very true but the poet discreetly forgot to mention that all men are not blessed with the constitution of the ox.
Before any man attempts to follow the advice of Mr. Edison he would do well to ascertain from his physician just how far he can violate the laws of moderate living.

A SANE ACT.
As to the sanity of Harry Thaw, we are ignorant. A Judge and jury now say he is sane and their verdict is accepted by the majority of people. Thaw, since his release, has made the statement that he would endeavor to divorce Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. Well, he may be sane or he may be insane but his endeavoring to secure a divorce is about the sanest thing he could possibly do.

AUTOMOBILE CLUES.
It is probable that a convention will be called to meet in Columbia in September or October for the purpose of organizing a State Automobile Association.

Such an organization should prove of great value, inasmuch as the members could discuss the improvement of highways throughout the entire State and by acting jointly should be able to do greater things than when acting so erratically. If the automobile owners had an urance that the money would be properly spent they, no doubt, would favor a State tax on each car to be used in the improvement of the highways. The automobile has done wonders for the roads through out the entire country and as yet the gasoline buggy is in its infancy.

LARGE MEETING AT FORT LAWN.
(Written for The News)

A large number of people, many representing the six Baptist churches in the fourth division W. M. U. of Chester Association met together last Friday at Fort Lawn Baptist church for the purpose of attending the quarterly meeting. Rev and Mrs. J. R. Moore, and Miss Lottie Thomas, president of the fourth division, were entering in their efforts to make the day a success. A splendid program was carried out. A most cordial welcome was extended to all by Rev. J. R. Moore, pastor of the local church which was happily responded to by Miss Lottie Thomas of Harmony, Misses Jo and Katie Yarbrough, Maud White and Mabel Garrison presented different departments of young people's work in an interesting and instructive manner. Several talks were made and papers read by different ones on the following subjects: "The Teacher's opportunity to teach the Bible and Mission," Personal Service, Personal Responsibility to God "How to make the monthly habit an interesting" and Giving.
Two sessions were held with an intermission at noon which a bountiful dinner was spread under the shade of the large oak trees near the center of the thriving little town of Fort Lawn. Harmony Baptist church invited the next quarterly meeting to be held there the first week in September 1915.

In Memoriam.
On the 29th of May, 1915, at her home, near Forest Depot, Bedford county, Va. Mrs. Alice Turpin Elliott passed away, leaving her husband and seven children to mourn their loss. Dr. Herbert T. Elliott, of Unity Station, Pa., Mr. Maurice Elliott, of Suffolk, Va., Mrs. J. W. Falgout, Chester S. C., and Mrs. W. J. Baker, Jr. Meigs, Frank and Albert and Miss Mary Elliott of Bedford county. Mrs. Elliott was a native of Bedford county born January 16, 1854. She married to Samuel A. Elliott February 2, 1876. Her body rests at North Bedford Baptist church where the funeral services was conducted by the pastor, Rev. C. K. Hobbs and Rev. W. S. Royall, a former pastor. She had long been a faithful member of that church. Her devotion to her husband and children and theirs to her was strong and tender, and their home-life was therefore beautiful and attractive. She was characterized by a self-sacrificing spirit which manifested itself in all her relations to church, home and friends, in all which she was ever faithful and true.

Southern Railway Make Good Record.

Atlanta, Ga., July 16.—More than sixteed and a half million passengers a number greater than the combined population of Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky, were transported by Southern Railway during the year ended June 30 with only one fatal injury to a passenger while on a train and that one was standing on a car platform in direct violation of the Company's rules.

Of this great number of passengers, not one was killed in a train accident.

The excellent record was shown in figures given out today indicating the high degree of safety that has been attained in the handling of Southern Railway passenger trains. In marked contrast are figures recently given out by President Fairfax Harrison, of Southern Railway, showing that during the same period twelve persons riding in automobiles were killed in accidents at public highway crossings, every one of the car observed the familiar warning, "Stop, Look, and Listen."

FRESH TROPS SENT

GERMAN ARMIES IN RUSSIAN PROVINCES

London, July 16.—Reinf. recent months have been sent to the German troops in the Russian provinces of Courland and Kovno, with the result that vigorous military operations have been resumed in that section. The Russians are offering a stubborn resistance and are holding strategic positions. The general staff in Petrograd and telegraphed to the Central News and Exchange Telegraph Co. here. The text of the communication follows:

The enemy, having received reinforcements in the region of Rigo and Shavli, began on the 14th an advance from Hatanopol on Goldig and the sector Shrubden-Foery. Our cavalry and advance guards are holding the enemy at the Passares of the Windau and Venta rivers and at other favorable positions.

In the region across the Niemen. Wednesday night, there was a heavy rifle fire on a broad front, but the offensive undertaken by small infantry sections was easily repulsed.

A partial enemy attack the same night in the direction of Lomza also was repulsed.

On the right bank of the Pissa and on both banks of the Skwa the situation is unchanged. The enemy captured several trenches, but did not repeat his attack because of heavy losses suffered in the fighting Wednesday.

Between the Orzye and the Wkrn fronts, south of Praszyn, several enemy attacks were repulsed Wednesday.

On the Bug and on the Zota Lipa there was no fighting of any significance.

On the left bank of the Vistula, there has been no change.

Between the Vistula and the Bug on the 14th, the enemy made numerous separate attacks, all of which were repulsed by our fire.

On the evening of the 13th Austrian troops took the offensive in the sector Novoska-Olks. The enemy attacked our bridge-heads in the right bank of the river near Kouchow and Chokan. He also attacked the position in the region of Ivanloja, Kowelniki and Sinkow. Our artillery on the 14th bombarded the enemy successfully at many points during the crossing of the river and compelled him at some places to abandon the attempt to cross. The fighting continues.

ANNUAL MEETING OF AMERICAN PLOWMEN

National Farmers' Union Renders Unselfish Service to Agriculture.

By Peter Ricford.

The National Farmers' Union will hold its annual convention in Lincoln Nebraska, on September seventh, and will round out the eleventh year of its activities in the interest of the American plowman. When that convention is called to order every farmer in America should pause and bow his head in honor of the men gathered there to render a patriotic and unselfish service to agriculture. That organization, born in the cotton fields of Texas, has grown until geographically it covers almost the whole of the United States and economically it deals with every question in which the welfare of the men who bare their backs to the summer sun are involved. It has battled for a better marketing system, rural credits, cheap money, diversification, scientific production, agricultural legislation and has carried on its work of education and co-operation in season and out.

The Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America brings the question of organization squarely before every farmer in this nation. Without organization the farmers can neither help themselves nor be helped by others and through organization and systematic effort all things are possible.

The farmers of the United States contribute more and get less from government than any other class of business. They have better securities and pay a higher rate of interest than any other line of industry. Their market more products and have less to say in fixing the price than any other business. They get more political bombance and less constructive legislation than any other class of people. The farmers can only acquire an influence in government and in economics as will enable them to share equitably the fruits of their labor through organization and every farmer on American soil who desires to help himself and his fellow plowmen should rally around the Union.

POLITICAL GOSSIPS

When one class of people has anything to say, it has secured largely the custom to make a political issue out of it instead of a friendly discussion, to get it in a book instead of a newspaper, to argue it before a jury instead of to settle it in the higher courts of Common Sense. Political agitators, political lawyers, political preachers and masculine women are powerful in politics and dissension, selfishness, intolerance and hysteria run rampant in public affairs. In the low, damp, murky atmosphere of misunderstanding envelopes public thought breeds political reptiles, vermin, bugs and lice which the pure air of truth and the sunshine of understanding will choke to death.

We have too many self-appointed interpreters of the people who are capable of grasping the fundamental principles of business and who at best can only translate gossip and add color and sensational stories. No industry can stand upon error and right rules—right or wrong. No industry can thrive upon misunderstanding, for public opinion is more powerful than a King's sword.

When prejudice, suspicion and class hatred prevail, power gravitates into the hands of the weak, for demagogues thrive upon dissension and statesmen sicken upon strife.

The remedy lies in eliminating the middleman—the political gossip—and this result can be accomplished by the managers of business sitting around the table of industry and talking it over with the people. Interchange of information between industries and the people is as necessary to success in business as interchange in commodities, for the people can only rule when the public understands. Away with political interpreters who summon evil spirits from their prison cells and loose them to grasp the welfare of the people in the name of "My Country."

PHILIP

Philip, the Macedonian king, while drowsy with wine was trying a case and the prisoner after sentence was pronounced, exclaimed, "I appeal." "And to what do you appeal?" inquired the astonished monarch. "I appeal from Philip, drunk to Philip sober," replied the prisoner, and the king granted the request and a hearing gave the prisoner his liberty.

The people drowsy with the wine of discord oftentimes pronounce a verdict in public questions which they reverse in their more calm and deliberate meditations. The next best thing to making no mistake, is to correct them.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Lesson IV.—Third Quarter, For July 25, 1915.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, 1 Kings viii, 22-30. Memory Verses, 23, 24—Golden Text, Isa. lvi, 7—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

In some respects the ark of Noah the tabernacle of Moses and the temple of Solomon were the three most remarkable buildings in the history of the world, for God Himself was the sole designer of each, and each was intensely typical of things to come concerning the Saviour, salvation and the kingdom. The great truths of our redemption have been made more plain to me by tabernacle studies than in any other way, and I most earnestly commend to all readers a little book costing only 25 cents entitled "The Tabernacle" or "The Gospel According to Moses," by George Rodgers. (Am. S. S. Union, 1816 Chestnut, Philadelphia.) The spiritual kings of the temple are very similar, but with more of the kingdom outlook.

Solomon began to build the temple 480 years after the Exile (1 Kings vi, 1). If you add up the figures in Acts xiii, covering this period, you will make it 573, but if you subtract the 65 years of the oppressions of all Israel in the days of the Judges, the accounts will agree perfectly. Out of fellowship with God means lost time, whether with a nation or an individual. (Num. vi, 12; Job xxxiv, 20.) The temple was finished in the eleventh year of his reign, and it was plundered just thirty-four years after. In the fifth year of Hezekiah's reign (2 Kings xiv, 25, 26). This was just the time between the birth of the Messiah, the true temple, and His death. Zerubbabel built the second temple after the return from Babylon. At the time of Christ's ministry Herod had been rebuilding that temple forty-six years (John ii, 20). The last eight chapters of Ezekiel tell of a temple yet to be built when Israel shall be restored. Both tabernacle and temple were dwelling places for the Spirit of the Lord. God was in Christ. Every true believer is now His temple (1 Cor. vi, 19, 20). The church, His body, now being built, is the temple in which we are for the present most interested (Eph. ii, 19-22). All the materials for tabernacle and temple were willing of ferings (Ex. xxv, 2; xxv, 21; Chron. ii, 3, 9, 17). Christ gave Himself willingly for us (Eph. i, 5; John vi, 38). We must be willing offerings, keeping nothing back.

Remember the only foundation (1 Chron. iii, 1) spoken of in a previous lesson, the great statement suggested by Moriah and Ornan's threshing floor the silver basis of the tabernacle boards and set 1 Cor. iii, 11. If we are truly in Christ we are living stones in the temple now being builded (1 Pet. ii, 5), but the believer is a stone in the quarry or somewhere for its particular place in the building (1 Pet. ii, 5), but the believer is a stone in the quarry or somewhere for its particular place in the building (1 Pet. ii, 5), but the believer is a stone in the quarry or somewhere for its particular place in the building (1 Pet. ii, 5).
