DR. KINARD ADDRESSES THE SUMTER CHAPTER

Attends Third Annual Banquet of Winthrop Daughters and Speaks on Work of the College.

Dr. J. P. Kinard, of the Winthrop Board of Trustees, was the guest of honor and the chief speaker at the annual banquet of the Winthrop Daughters on Monday evening, March 15, in the John B. Stetson Room of Faris Hall. The event was sponsored by President Thomas G. Mor-Virtue in recognition of the 19th amendment to the Constitution, which granted women the right to vote.

Mrs. M. L. Parlier, of Sumter, a member of the Winthrop Daughters and President of the Sumter Chapter, and President Mor-Virtue welcomed the guests, acknowledging the contributions of the Winthrop Daughters to the College and their tireless efforts in advancing the cause of women's equality.

Dr. Kinard, who was introduced by Mrs. Parlier in very gracious and fitting terms, extended his thanks to the ladies of the Sumter Chapter for their efforts and for the support they have given to the College. He also expressed his gratitude to President Mor-Virtue for the invitation and for the College's commitment to women's rights.

Dr. Kinard then spoke of the many changes that have taken place in the College and in the world, and the evolution of the role of women in society. He highlighted the significance of the 19th amendment and its impact on women's participation in various fields, including education, politics, and the workforce.

He discussed the challenges faced by women in the 19th century and the strides made since then, emphasizing the importance of education and the role of the College in empowering women. Dr. Kinard also spoke about the importance of community and the contributions of the Winthrop Daughters in fostering a supportive environment for women on campus.

He concluded his speech with a call to action, urging the audience to continue their efforts in advocating for women's rights and to support the education of future leaders.

The evening concluded with a dinner and dance, providing an opportunity for the guests to socialize and network. The event was well-attended, with a significant number of Winthrop Daughters and supporters in attendance.

Throughout the evening, the atmosphere was filled with a sense of pride and accomplishment, as the Winthrop Daughters celebrated their achievements and looked forward to continuing their work in support of women's rights.
COME OUT FOR BASKETBALL

"Come on, everybody — that bell has fallen in line. Let's find a game and play it every time," is the familiar call that will be heard through the opening of the basketball season. This for a number of years has been our way. Each year we have been striving harder to make our team reflect the spirit of enthusiasm that we believe with the opening of the basketball season this spirit of "all ye Winthrop girls" has been the burden of our desires. We have seen how anxious the upper classmen fall in line and are ready to take an active part of the season. This for a number of years has been the case. This year is to have students use The Johnsonian as a laboratory for their self-expression. The contest is open to all students of the college and means to take an active part in college affairs. We have already seen how anxious this class is to maintain a true college spirit. Each team will be fighting hard to win honor for its class. It is impossible for everyone to be a player on the team, but every one can help by becoming an active member of the sideline. Let us show our team that we are backing them by attending those games.

WHO WRITE FOR THE JOHNSONIAN?

An announcement was made in the last publication of The Johnsonian of a prize contest open to all students of the college except the editors of the paper. The editors are not being received and the staff hopes that this contest will be the means of eliminating further interest in studentistic in the paper, The Johnsonian.

The purpose of the contest is two-fold. Primarily its purpose is to have students use The Johnsonian as a laboratory for their self-expression and as a means of discerning the individual, assisting the present staff, and inspiring the future of The Johnsonian.

A short story is to be written, not exceeding forty pages in length, and must be original and not have been submitted to or published anywhere. The contestants are urged to write with the ideas of a prize contest open to all students of the college, The Johnsonian.

The purpose of this contest is two-fold. Primarily its purpose is to have students use The Johnsonian as a laboratory for their self-expression and as a means of discerning the individual, assisting the present staff, and inspiring the future of The Johnsonian. The contest also wishes to find literary ability among the students of the college. The authors of short stories will be given the list of students eligible for next year's staff. A student who has made a complete and satisfactory story will be considered a member of the staff for the following year.

May she have stockings, but she sows to it that they are in accordance with the latest fashions. She may be effective looking, but she does not wear the "old stuff."

Muddled thinking is the cause of the chaotic condition in the religious today.

There is more world consciousness among these gentle women, and it is in America that the values are drifting into Christ.

We need to re-think God in Jesus Christ.
