APPROPRIATIONS MADE

Final Figures of the General Appropriation and the State Tax Levy

Columbia, S. C. Sunday.

At 1:30 Sunday morning the general assembly was ready to adjourn. The final adjournment of the general assembly was marked by a display of good feeling seldom seen, especially as the aftermath of such vicissitudes of fortune.

Many of the leaders had gone home and there was little chance for speeches. The members wanted to finish up. There was the usual delay in getting the amendments from the committees, and while waiting, Mr. Frazer moved that the house go into a committee of the whole. Under the rules, the speaker had to sign the chair, and Mr. Rucker of Anderson was selected to preside.

REED SMOOT SPEAKS

Mormon Senator Addresses the Senate in Own Belief

HE MAKES A GOOD IMPRESSION

Utah Senator Delivers Long-Expected Address, Being Supported by President William Howard Taft in an Analytical Speech of Criticism Submitted in the Case.

Washington, Special. — Senator Reed Smoot's long expected address to the Senate in defense of his position as Senator from Utah, was the feature of the session.

Supported by Senator William Howard Taft in an analytical speech of the evidence, which had been submitted by the Senate, "and demurred," said Mr. Smoot, "and demurred by the Senate in the strongest terms declared emphatically that he had taken no oath inconsistent with that he had taken as a Mormon."

"The Senate is entitled to know my personal attitude upon the subject of polygamy," said Mr. Smoot, "and upon the subject of loyalty to the government. Upon these two matters I shall express myself briefly, but with entire candor."
"First, I desire to state, as I have repeatedly heretofore, stated to the Senate and to the country, that I am not and never have been a polygamist. I never have had but one wife, and she is my present wife."

Part of Religious Faith.
"The Mormon people, however, regarding this doctrine as a part of their religious faith, and when the law was passed denouncing its practice, the execution of the law was resisted on the ground that it was unconstitutional, as being an interference with their religious liberty and rights."

Ceremonies Not Divulged.
"Reference has been made to an alleged reasonable obligation which is sought to claim is a part of the Mormon endowment ceremonies, the Senate will understand that these ceremonies are therefore not divulged. They were instituted in the Mormon Church by Jos. Smith, some time prior to his death, and are yet given as part of the temple ceremony; being of a religious character; they are not to be divulged and for the same reason, a part of the Mormon belief being vicious performance of ordinance and ceremonies."

There does not exist in the endowment ceremonies of the Mormon Church the renunciation of allegiance to the United States or to any other nation. They are of a purely religious nature, wholly between man and his God, and as with the ritual of various fraternal organizations, regarded as sacred and inviolable.

"In closing let me say under my obligation as a Senator that which I have said under oath before the committee, that I have never taken oath or obligation, religious or otherwise, which conflicts in the slightest degree with my duty as a Senator or as a citizen. I owe no allegiance to any Church, or other organization, which in any way interferes with my supreme allegiance to my country, an allegiance which I freely, fully and gladly give."

HUMAN HAIR FOR MENDING

One of the fur boleros forms a very convenient pocket for the handkerchief.
One of the latest of dancing frocks for a small girl is a mass of narrow ruffles.
Tweeter hats of black of gold trim, with flowers in soft pastel shades, are delightfully bright and dainty, and should, universally be worn.

Little boys, played along the panels, shoulder straps, sleeves, etc., are a charming garniture for young girl party dresses.
Double straps over the shoulder, though laid close together, are more effective than one wide one.
A huge velvet-covered button affords to fasten each of the three wide bands that constitute the skirt cut slightly on the wrong side and it is finished.

The embroidery hoop is useful for mending tears in the legs of hosiery, a dropped stitch in "drop stitch stockings" being taken up easily in this hoop. Handkerchiefs, napkins, table linen and tears in dresses and aprons can all be patched without the use of a needle and thread stretched in the hoop.—Housekeeper.

Authorial Regrets.
It is the practice nowadays for young scribble cranes of literature hanging on to the embittered frounce of journalism to tell of the utterly irresponsible number of times the original author of this morning offered his manuscript to indifferent and scowling publishers. I thought Mark Twain held the record until Epina Sinclair braved the sanctims of no fewer than twenty-seven publishers in slow succession before he found one with sufficient fall-back to take him. A majority of authors of 16-18 failed with regrets for what they wrote at 25. It is said that Winston Churchill (U. S. A.) destroyed drawers full of attempted literature before he found the publisher for his "The World As I See It." Excellent exercise, however, He has no regrets. It is said that Balzac rewrote one of his romances eight times. What an earth did the genius of libertines manifold his stuff? —New York Press.

The Badge of Honesty

Is an ever wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years ago a book called "The Golden Medical Discovery" was published in London, and it was the first of its kind. It was a book that was written by a man who was a doctor, and it was a book that was written for the people. It was a book that was written in a simple and plain language, and it was a book that was written in a way that was easy for everyone to understand.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, pure blood and so invigorates and purifies the system, and it is a book that is a badge of honesty. It is a book that is a badge of honesty, and it is a book that is a badge of honesty. It is a book that is a badge of honesty, and it is a book that is a badge of honesty.

Family Remin.
 The 80th birthday of Mr. Geo. W. Kirkpatrick was celebrated with the usual honors at his home at Batesville Wednesday. Though the day was very unfavorable forty-eight persons in all were present to enjoy the day with him. With only one exception all were closely connected with the family. Two daughters were absent, Mrs. T. A. McGill, of Leona, Texas, and Mrs. D. Sanders, of Herbert, S. C. A grand daughter, Miss Sallie Sanders, represented the latter family.
 The decorations were white hydrangeas and ivy with a few violets. The dinner was elegant and abundant and was greatly enjoyed. Though he is now eighty years of age Mr. Kirkpatrick is still quite active and it was quite a pleasure to him as well as the family connection to spend the day together.
 Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Ewart were in town today with grip last week. Mr. Ewart was unable to fill his appointments Sunday.—Mr. D. E. Boney has been confined to his bed with grip during the past week. He leaves this afternoon for the northern markets to purchase his spring stock and states that on his return he will offer to the trade some "eye-opens"—Rock Hill Record.

The Social Club.
 The Social Club was entertained in a most charming manner on Tuesday afternoon by Miss Annie Leckie. Hearts reigned supreme as they should in St. Valentine's month. Twenty five members were present to enjoy the hospitality so charitably dispensed by the genial hostess.
 The guests were received under festoons of red hearts, and each was given two hearts tied together, with instructions to write a love message in six words. Miss Kathleen Crawford was the successful one in this amusing contest and was presented with the prize, a heart shaped box of candy by Mrs. H. M. Spratt, Jr., in a congratulatory little speech. Mrs. Will Crockett, in her usual bright way, featured Miss Nett Spratt with a box of mint hearts for not being able to put a love message in six words.
 The guests were invited into the dining room, which looked like cupid's bow, with the soft, candle light shedding a glow on the artistic decoration of hearts. A most tempting menu was served in heart shaped dishes by Miss Fannie Spratt and Ella Croom.

The last speaker was Mr. Kendrick, of Gastonia, who is a traveling representative.
 Refreshments were served in the hall.
 There was considerable disputing yesterday morning as to whether the white substance over everything was snow or frost. As it was known F. Hoeman Darby was on duty during the night he was asked to decide and he says positively the stars were shining all night and it was frost. A few flakes of snow fell Wednesday afternoon but it was scarcely noticed.

Better than Immigration.
 Within the past two years and six months, six children have been born near Sedalia, Ohio. Thirty months ago Mrs. Allen gave birth to twins, another pair of twins, and now the third set of twins are on hand. With a few such couples in South Carolina, we would not need a immigration department.—Johnson Monitor.

Looks like some of our legislators are about to have it in for the editors now. But times may bring about a change in this particular. At some future day, when the editors decide to make their offices, they will be calling around and getting the editors of the sheet as readily as any "punch" and here is one instance where they are not used a immigration department.—Johnson Monitor.
