THE SOUTHERN.

PRINTED AT CHARLOTTE AND PUBLISHED BY THE SOUTHERN PAPER CO., CHARLOTTE, N. C.

LAST DUEL

Fought in South Carolina Twenty Three Years Ago. The last duel fought in Carolina, according to the regular dueling code, was fought about twenty-three years ago when Col. E. B. Cash shot and killed Col. Shannon.

This duel occurred at Dulose's bridge, then in Darlington county, now in Lee. The scene was the lower part of this state has this incident fresh in their memories, but the majority of the up-country people have forgotten it.

It will be recalled that Col. Cash was one of the most prominent citizens of his community. He owned considerable land and was a prominent planter. His wife was Miss Elberle of one of the best families to ever grow South Carolina.

When the war broke out the states rose out. Col. Cash was one of the first to go to the front. He was elected colonel of a regiment, which post he had been elected, expelled. When the second election of officers of the regiment was held Col. Cash's name was dropped.

It seems that Col. Cash's wealth was inherited by his wife, and when they separated, she placed her estate in the hands of Shannon & DePass, prominent attorneys in Camden.

It is a matter of history that his classmate, also a captain of the Virginia Military Institute, was captain of the Cherokee guards during the war.

Historic Augusta Church.

Augusta, Ga. Feb. 12.—St. Paul's Episcopal Church, the seat of the convention which assembled today to discuss the present status of Georgia, is one of the most historic religious edifices in the South.

It is a matter of history that his classmate, also a captain of the Virginia Military Institute, was captain of the Cherokee guards during the war.

The editor of the Memphis (Tenn.) Times writes: "In my opinion Polk's was the best of the three. It was the only one that was not a failure."

Washington, Feb. 11.—About 10,000 people are expected to attend the annual convention of the Southern Railway Association.

Many Sleepless Nights, Owning to the Cough, Relief Found at Last. For several winters past my wife has been troubled with a cough which has become a habit.

Union Letter.

Union, S. C., Royal No. 2, Feb. 10.—The grip is prevalent between the rivers, and indeed throughout this community.

Mrs. J. M. Tennant. Mrs. Martha Boyd Tennant, wife of Mr. James Tennant, of Cornwell, died Friday morning, Feb. 14th 1908, of paralysis.

She was suddenly stricken with paralysis about noon Thursday. Another stroke followed at five in the afternoon after which she never moved nor spoke and died in the third about 8 o'clock next morning. She was a daughter of the late John Boyd and was reared in the Cornwell neighborhood. Mrs. Tennant was about 62 years old and besides her husband she is survived by six children, four girls and two boys, also two brothers and two or three sisters. The funeral services were at Pleasant Grove Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. C. G. Brown at noon Saturday and the burial was in the cemetery there.

McGowan, of the Springmill Hill village, died Friday, Feb. 14, 1908, of pneumonia following, supposed to have been caused from eating frozen bananas and potted ham. The burial was in Evergreen cemetery at three o'clock Saturday afternoon, after funeral services conducted by Rev. D. M. McLeod. A little brother about four years old has also been desperately ill but he is better and it is thought now that he will recover.

Letter to J. G. Robinson, Chester, S. C. Dear Sir: You know diamonds don't go by size. So with paint. One gallon of which goes as far as two of another and lasts twice as long; that's four to one. If you are in a hurry to get in diamonds; they don't go by the gallon, do they? You are a painter, aren't you? You go first to your painter and say: "I'm going to paint; do you want the best and what'll it cost?" If he happens to know, he'll say: "You'll want a gallon; I can do it for somewhere about $100 or $200, whichever you like; $100 will make a job, but $200 will make a job."

And you, if you happen to have your own paint, you can do the good one, when'll you do it? Painters ought to know about paint; and jewelers ought to be able to get a good job. We do what we can to help both.

One gallon Devos is better than two of average paint, goes as far—that is, your house will take about 20 gallons Devos and 40 of average paint; and you will wear a long time. The life of average paint is very uncertain, it may be a day or two.

Why is it that painters don't know what paint to use? Jewelers don't know diamonds? They tell sometimes. There are painters and jewelers so there are lawyers, so there is a pilot, and the last-gallon paint is Devos.

Yours truly, F. W. DEVOS & CO.

FEEDING SHEEP.

Satisfactory Device for Holding Hay, Slips or Grain.

In describing a hay and grain rack, a well known sheep feeder writes as follows: "I have used a number of racks and have found a better rack than the single one follows."

The best kind of a device will depend upon what is to be done with the sheep. If for fattening sheep or those being wintered as stores I have never found a better rack than the single one follows.

The low kind of a device will depend upon what is to be done with the sheep. If for fattening sheep or those being wintered as stores I have never found a better rack than the single one follows.

The bottom strip on both racks should be eight and the top strip four inches wide respectively. This will make the uprights between about fourteen inches in the clear, and they should be three inches wide and planed so as to be smooth, and the distance apart will depend upon the size of sheep. Lamin will do well with them and put together as shown. In the single rack the slanting board should be fourteen inches.

ALFAFA SEED.

Great Care Should Be Taken in Making Alfalfa Seed.

In an address before a Kansas alfalfa club F. D. Coburn said: "I can rarely read the members' papers and alfalfa growers in general do not service in the brief communication that to urge upon them with emphasis the most common and building up, sowing and sowing but the highest quality of seed. This quality means that the seed should be composed of more per cent germinable, but free from the adulterations and impurities which are so common in alfalfa seed, and that the seed should be free from weeds, but often from design and some from both. Alfalfa seed is expensive at best, and doubly so if it will not grow or carries with it such a heavy load of weeds which will stock a field, a farm or a neighborhood with weed seeds that interfere with or crowd out the alfalfa, displace expected profit with positive loss and provoke bitterness of thought and speech."

Not Germinable.

Among samples of alfalfa seed offered to me by Professor Roberts of the Kansas experiment station found one that was more than 88 per cent of impurities. It was a mixture of alfalfa and foreign seeds, and these constituted 31.3 per cent of the whole. In this lot there were 100 different kinds of weeds and 33 per cent of the seeds true to name were incapable of germination. It was a mixture of alfalfa and foreign seeds, and these constituted 31.3 per cent of the whole. In this lot there were 100 different kinds of weeds and 33 per cent of the seeds true to name were incapable of germination.

Really a Leaf.

Of course, as a matter of fact, where the alfalfa seed is the actual result is a weak, poor stand of alfalfa and a dense growth of weeds. The land has to be plowed up and reseeded, and the use of the land for a year is lost, and it has become full with weeds, many of which are poisonous and noxious in character. These findings positively suggest that it is not a leaf, but a seed, and that the only thing to be done is to get a thoroughly reputable dealer or grower whose name and guarantee stand for something to do with alfalfa seed. Let me say that alfalfa seed is not something else and that it will grow. If it does not, it is a leaf, not a seed, and it is a waste of money to buy it. For something is wrong. Choose seed, the only thing to be done is to get a thoroughly reputable dealer or grower whose name and guarantee stand for something to do with alfalfa seed.

FINE CUCUMBERS.

Fall Preparation of Land Described by a Gardener.

I have been farming and gardening all my life, writes A. M. Dunbar of an American country. In an American Agriculturalist. As soon as one crop is out of the way I begin to prepare for the next. I begin by turning over the soil and making big holes, then filling them with manure and fertilizer. I throw back on the top of the earth taken out of the holes. About May 1st I begin to plant.

FRUIT WINDMILLS.

The following year I sow my cucumber seeds in these prepared places. I use different kinds of the large varieties, and I use the seeds in the same way as I have described. To keep of cucumber beetles I use a small frame covered with tin cloth. This can be used only be utilized while the plants are small.

Concrete Blocks For Poultry Houses.

My experience with concrete blocks has proved to my mind that they are the best for use in poultry houses. The poultryman wants to avoid as far as possible all dampness, and what few concrete blocks I have used on my buildings have been more or less porous. They were shortly rotted, and in wet weather to a degree which would allow the water to go through the block, even though the blocks had considerable hollow space for circulation. It is possible to get out of this by using a very large proportion of cement and a little sand to mix with it. I would advise no circumstances to use concrete blocks or advise others to do so. All this in Rural New Yorker.

Bell Weevil Problem.

All states are afflicted with the bell weevil control have been successful in the prevention of successful liberation of the weevil. The weevil is a pest of the numbers of the weevil and is reducing injury the next season. The weevil is a pest of the numbers of the weevil and is reducing injury the next season. The weevil is a pest of the numbers of the weevil and is reducing injury the next season.

Apple Paring Machines.

Paring machines are made for operating either by hand or power. The new recent patterns have two or even three forks for holding the apple while they are being pared. The standard puts an apple on a fork and the forks while one on another fork is being peeled. -H. P. Gould.

Doeder Not Poisonous to Stock.

The doeder is a common pest of the stock. It is a small, white, worm-like creature that feeds on the wool of sheep and the hair of other animals. It is not poisonous to the animals, but it causes a great deal of annoyance and loss of wool. It is a common pest of the stock. ## Death of Mrs. Jane Leslie.

Mrs. Jane Leslie, wife of the late Dr. James Leslie, died Tuesday at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. Joe W. Simpson, near Leola, Mo.

Mrs. Leslie was a most estimable Christian lady, and reared a family of the most honorable, upright, Christian men and women of this section. She was a devoted member of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church and she and her husband were always members of the most noble members of Neely's Creek church, where they held their membership.

She leaves to survive her death three sons and two daughters, namely: Messrs. W. S., D. P. and T. F. Leslie, and Misses J. W. and J. W. Leslie, deceased, and also a daughter, Mrs. J. W. Leslie. A remarkable thing in connection with this family is that all of the children now live within a radius of five miles of the old home place.

Mrs. Leslie was, before marriage, Miss Jane Wiley, daughter of the late Dr. Wiley, who was a prominent citizen of this section in his day. Mrs. Leslie had for the past few years been confined in her room, the result of a long illness which crippled her pretty badly, but she lived a ripe old age, being between 75 and 80 years of age, and old age and its infirmities were the principal cause of her death.

Her remains were laid to rest Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Rock Hill cemetery, after funeral services by her pastor, Rev. Oliver Johnson. -Rock Hill Record.

Hunting for Trouble.

Vegetables as Medicine.

Watercress is an excellent purifier. Lettuce has a soothing effect on the nerves and is excellent for sufferers from insomnia. Tomatoes are good for a torpid liver, but should be avoided by gouty people. Spinach has great aperient qualities, and is far better than medicine for constipation. Broccoli is fattening and good for people who want to put on flesh. Parsnips possess the same virtues as beets. Cranberries correct the liver. Asparagus stimulates the kidneys. Bananas are beneficial to sufferers from indigestion. Celery contains sulphur and helps to ward off rheumatism. Honey is a good substitute for cod liver oil. The juice of a lemon is excellent for sore throat, but should not be used with a cold or a sore eye. Carrots are excellent for gout. -Home and Farm.

Terracing Your Land.

It is a sin, both against yourself and against posterity, to allow your farm to wash. Many think they cannot control this matter, but they can. If only they will start with the terracing, and then by keeping the terraces built up, you can prevent any land from washing. During the winter season and spring is the time to do this work. If any portion of your farm needs terracing do not neglect it. Get a level and do the work in straight lines. A great difference in the character of the soil over our Southern land, but the majority of all the rolling land is composed of clay and loam, and is a great deal as resists it extremely easy to wash and nothing except properly built terraces will save it. Especially in the winter where clean cuts are made, the land will be washed. We see much land still needs terracing. One has to be a terracer for better crops, and well-terrace farm. One that is not, to convince him of the great value of terracing. "For the land will wash and spring is the time to do this work. Do not allow any of your fertility to wash down the streams or be carried to lodge upon the neighbor's man's land. -Southern Cultivator.
