Today's Senior Chapel Officially Opens Senior Week Program

Senior Order Taps Nine Members

Thirty rising seniors, chosen for outstanding leadership and scholarship, were initiated into membership in Senior Order of Good Studenthood at the college chapel this morning. The group will be called "the Class of Forty-One," and the order is the highest student honor at this college.

Among the new members are Anthony M. Brown, president; Peggy Howell, secretary; Mary Katherine Martin, treasurer; Mary Katherine Jordan, corresponding secretary; Margaret M. Bach, historian; Dorothy C. Cozine, junior class secretary; Lois M. Johnson, junior class president; and Robertia P. White, junior class treasurer.

Senior Order has sponsored a number of programs and activities throughout the year, including the annual Senior Week program.

Senior Order Members Placed Now Says Kelly

The members of the Senior Order are now placed, and Kelly will begin to work under the guidance of their respective mentors. They will attend meetings and events to learn more about the organization and its goals.

Kelly is a rising senior and is excited to be a part of this prestigious group. She looks forward to working with her mentors and contributing to the Senior Week program.

Man Of Affairs Discusses World Affairs In Informal Talk With Students

By BETTY RICHARDSON

He started into The Advertiser office and asked to see the editor. He did it as a matter of course because he knew there would be a reporter to talk with him. The editor corrected and remarked that Mr. Bicknell had been a reporter for some time.

Dr. E. S. H. Stier, head of the Mathematics department, will speak on 'Mathematics and Its Role in the Study of Mathematics' as part of an Institute to be held at Winthrop University, June 17-20. This Institute, the first of its kind, is held for teachers of secondary mathematics and is part of the defense program to give an outline of mathematics necessary for the nation's defense. Lecturers for the Institute have been from various sources, colleges, and other high schools of North Carolina. The Advertiser is expected to appear.

The Institute will be attended by members of the General Assembly and State Education Department, as well as members of the national defense programs. The purpose of the Institute is to promote the understanding and appreciation of mathematics among high school teachers and students.

Crystal Gazer Forecasts Future For Class Of '41

Sara Carmichael looks into her crystal for the future of the class of '41 and makes the prediction that it will be a successful one. She forecasts a bright future for those who will be attending college next year.

The crystal is clouded, but she sees a ray of hope in the future. She predicts that the class will be successful in their endeavors and that they will be able to overcome any obstacles that may arise.

To The S. C. General Assembly:

As perhaps the last class that will benefit directly from the new dormitory you have recently completed, we express our appreciation for the new and improved facilities that will be enjoyed by your successors. The new dormitory will provide adequate living accommodations, recreational facilities, and a healthy environment for our students.

Representing every county in South Carolina, and speaking for our class and the others that will come after us, we say simply and heartily:

"THANK YOU!"

Phipps Gives Last Message
To Departing Senior Class

Seniors:

Greetings!

During the past four years of undergraduate study we have been privileged to work in a truly beautiful and inspiring campus setting. We have learned much about the world and ourselves in the many offices and classrooms of Winthrop. It is our hope that you will continue your work to ensure even greater success for your class and your alma mater. We wish you all the very best in your future endeavors and extend our warmest congratulations to you.

The above message is a joint statement of the four-year program of undergraduate study and serves as a reminder of the important role that Winthrop College plays in the lives of its students. We hope that you will remember this message as you proceed with your future studies.

Arnabala Gives Inside Dope On Her Senior “Plus-Girl” Friends

I am arnabala, and I am one of the students who live in the new dormitory, Winthrop College, South Carolina. I have been living here for four years, and I have made some wonderful friends who I consider to be my “plus-girls.”

One of my nicest gestures was when we went to the Johnsonian office on the first day of school, and we were offered a special meal. It was really nice of them to think of us in such a thoughtful way.

As for the rest of the week, we have had a lot of fun activities. Last week, we went on a field trip to the beach, and we had a wonderful time. We took lots of pictures, and we laughed a lot.

I love my time at Winthrop College, and I am looking forward to the future. I hope to have many more activities like this one in the future.
