Farmers Department.
From the How the Loam, and the Aweil.
THE ADVANTAGES OF SYSTEM IN FARMING OPERATIONS.

It has been well said that "order is heaven's first law."
In this it appears as if the work of the farmer should be systematic.

The most systematic farmer will undertake to grow more than he can immediately consume.
He will grow more than he can immediately consume.

PLANTS MUST HAVE FOOD.
Vegetables annually appropriate to soil, and remove from the soil a portion of the nutritive principles contained, and if they are removed a new supply must be furnished.

then, as well as the animal that produces it.
Man who produces improved and superior stock, and who also produces the product of the barnyard in manure.

UNPROFITABLE FARMING.
The following extract from an address by Mr. Greely, before the Erie County Agricultural Society, at Buffalo, New York, contains some valuable facts.

Too Much Land.
On pages 11-17 you very properly explain the reasons why the farmer who owns too much land is not successful.
