An Idea of Prayer.

Here is a sample of religious ideas, from the Columbia Record, that will make our intelligent readers, Jews and Gentiles alike, wonder where this "Record man" got his religious training and what his creed is:

Not long ago a Record man gave a well-known rabbi a copy of the Hebrew faith as a public acknowledgment. The meeting was opened by an invocation, offered by a minister from one of the evangelical churches of the city.

Although this minister must have known that there were in his audience men as good as himself, who, believing with all their hearts in the One Deity he worshipped, held nothing less than the same faith as he professed to the Christian church.

Just why the desire of the Jews that when a prayer is offered at a public function in the presence of persons who do not believe in Christianity, must deliberately repudiate the Savior whom he acknowledges as his Master and whom alone he professes to depend for salvation. By similar reasoning, if an atheist is rightfully present, "The One God" must be eliminated from any cases him.

There are 19,000 women who own stock of the Pennsylvania Railroad. This is the surprising statement made by Vice-President Trayer. Almost half of it, to be more exact, 47 per cent of all the shareholders of the world's greatest railway.

It would be interesting to know what a "Record man" and "the Jew beside the Record man" think prayer is, whether nothing more than an empty formality designed to entertain the persons who are present.

Once upon a time there was a good master who had a beautiful horse. He loved his servant and gave him six of these horses, keeping for himself only one splendid white horse.

Christened "Columbia." Camden, N. J., March 12.—The membership of the New York Shipbuilding Company, in this city, for the Chesapeake Steamship Company, was launched and named by Mrs. Lillie Elliott Emerson, of Columbia, S. C.

Sparks' Show. Sparks' show was here yesterday and last night. It is a small show, but was very good. They had some pretty boys and would have had an educated pony of very amusing. There were about eight or ten wagons in the street parade, one large and one small, and a few horseback riders. The acting was as good as any seen in larger shows.

Electric Railway Committee. At the meeting of citizens on Tuesday, March 5th, to hear the plans and propositions of the Public Service Corporation for the building of electric railway lines through this and other sections of the state, the chairman of the meeting was authorized to accept the proposition of that committee to confer and co-operate with the promoters of the enterprise. A. G. R. R. R., chairman, has named the following as members of that committee: J. Glenn, S. M. Jones, T. H. White, A. M. Alken, Jos. A. Walker, Sr.

Mr. G. G. Nisbet Dead. Mr. G. G. Nisbet, died suddenly of heart failure yesterday morning, March 14, 1907, at his home near Lewisville. He had been in bad health for about six months, but has been worse the last few weeks. He was sitting in his chair and after he had eaten his breakfast Mrs. Nisbet started to leave and he called her to the kitchen to the stove room. When she reached his head had fallen to one side and he died right away. He was 62 years of age. He was married twice married. The funeral services will be at Union A. R. P. church to-day conducted by Rev. B. A. Lummas and the burial in the cemetery there. He is survived by his wife.

Women Investors. There are 19,000 women who own stock of the Pennsylvania Railroad. This is the surprising statement made by Vice-President Trayer. Almost half of it, to be more exact, 47 per cent of all the shareholders of the world's greatest railway.

White is the lot of the fair sex owns half the 6,000,000 shares of the company, their portion must still be very large. That is the surprising statement made by Vice-President Trayer. Almost half of it, to be more exact, 47 per cent of all the shareholders of the world's greatest railway.

Horse Stolen. Once upon a time there was a good master who had a beautiful horse. He loved his servant and gave him six of these horses, keeping for himself only one splendid white horse.

What Hamlet Get Headquarters? A rumor of some interest is to the effect that the Seaboard Air Line railway will move the headquarters of the division superintendent, from Raleigh to Hamlet in the near future.

Can Write on Front of Post Cards. By an order of the postoffice general, issued several months ago, and which went into effect March 1st, senders of postal cards are to write on the front of the card, the right half being reserved for the use of the postoffice.

Should Make Farm Sustain Itself. Many people are interested in the acreage to be put in cotton this year, but the question that should engage the attention of Laurens farmers is the acreage in corn, oats, wheat and other crops besides cotton. It is good policy to raise cotton in plenty but it is good policy to have other things to keep the hands and the mules busy during the times that they are not needed in the cotton patch. Every farmer who raises the mules and his wife is in the business of the farmer to make the farm sustain itself.

Negro Shooting at Winnsboro. Winnsboro, March 13.—Stark Means, armed with a shotgun and pistol, shot Ed Russell, John Taylor and Anna Belle Russell here last night at 10:20 o'clock. The three farmers in the town. All parties are injured. Taylor was slightly wounded, and both the Russells seriously wounded. The town's attention is directed to Anna Belle Russell.

Roosevelt Will Not Run Again. Los Angeles, Cal., March 13.—In an interview with the Associated Press, Butler, president of Columbia University, said: "President Roosevelt will not run for the presidency again. He has no desire that any pressure be brought to bear upon him. The principles which Roosevelt stands for are greater than the man. The republican party must support the principles of Roosevelt, not the standard bearer may be at the next election. With Mr. Root as president and Mr. Taft chief justice of the supreme court, the country would be pretty nearly ideal. But hardly look for such a combination to succeed."

A Cow's Appetite. Several years ago a farmer near Chesterfield whose modesty forbids the publication of his name, had a cow on a barn yard fence. A calf chewed up the fence in the garment in which was contained a standard gold watch. Last week the animal, a solid old milk cow, was bothered for beef and the time piece was found in such a position between the fangs of the cow that the process of respiration had kept the watch running up, the watch had lost, but four minutes and two and a half ticks in seven days. It is one of the most remarkable occurrences ever heard of.—Carolina Spartan.

To Deport English Laborers. Baltimore, March 13.—A party of 24 persons, many of whom will probably be deported to England, arrived here this morning from North Carolina in charge of United States Marshal Milliken of that state. They are part of a party of 80 persons brought from England under contract to work in cotton mills in North Carolina. They are in charge of immigration Commissioner Louis T. Moore. The boys were arrested and immigration inspectors until their cases have been disposed of.

Churn and Chicken Money. Mrs. Joe Mays, of Edgelys county, Georgia, who has a splendid home, applied by the family, Mrs. Mays sold 230 pounds of butter for $56.30. She had 40 hens from which she sold 145 chickens for $45.70 and 183 dozen eggs for $21.50. Her total income from those two sources was $124.30.—Lexington Dispatch.

Kidnapped Boy Found. Salt Lake, Utah, March 14.—Horace Marvin, Jr., the kidnapped son of Dr. Horace Marvin, of Dover, Del., is now in the hands of the Salt Lake City police. The officers discovered him in the hands of a man and two women on a southbound train at 10:30 o'clock. The man, who was in charge of the party, was in the hands of the police.

Ought to Welcome Anything Facile. An Atlanta man who made a murder attempt on the life of a prominent shot her in the leg so that it had to be amputated, has assaulted an editor of an Atlanta paper from behind because he alleged that the paper published false and slanderous reports on him. It strikes us that anything false that could be said of this sort of a man would be a gross flattery.—Florence Times.

Ret. C. Lewis Fowler, who graduated from Furman a few years ago, and who has since taken a course at Newton Theological Seminary, will return to South Carolina if the way is opened. He is now pastor at Georgetown, Mass. We cordially commend him on any field seeking a pastor. He is most highly esteemed by his brethren in the South Carolina pastors.—Baynes Courier.

False Entries in Transfers. A recent session of the general assembly passed an important act affecting the records of the State Land Office in the transfer of property. It has been often charged by auditors who attempt to enforce the law that the records of property are not kept up. Every man who transfers the books, the object being to deceive the county boards of equalization when assessments were made. The law, however, is not enforced. The State Land Office is now endeavoring to enforce such action in the following language:

"Section 1. That all contracts that are entered into, with intent to evade the laws of the State of South Carolina, shall be null and void. And any person who is guilty of such an act, shall be deemed to have committed a public offense, and shall be liable to a fine of not more than $1000.—S. C. Code, § 2020.

Kershaw Night Light Caught. On Sunday night last, the depot at Kershaw was gone into and $11 taken from the money bin. There was no clue to the robber, but Mondar Mr. T. Stevens missing $5.00 from the pocket of a pair of pants he had worn on the night he was robbed. The morning and knowing no one who had access to the room but Will Williams, a 15-year old colored boy who did his house cleaning, demanded of him to take over the bill. The boy, taking in the situation, forked out the bill and in doing so displayed three dollars additional in small change. Mr. Williams had kept the money without his knowledge except by stealing it, made inquiry of Mr. Hamrick, the depot agent, who was also moving slowly. Mr. Brown stepped on the track to couple the cars but before he could get out of the way he was caught between the boiler and the lower portion of his body fearfully mangled. He uttered a scream, and after being carried several feet by the moving train, he was killed by the bumpers, he expired in his arms, and was carried to the hospital, where he died. The body was buried in the cemetery, crossing the ditch by the side of the track, he sat down and falling back to the earth uttered several plaintive moans and life was extinct. Thus death came to his relief in less than a minute after the fearful accident. An inquest was held by Magistrate Oakley and a verdict rendered in accord with the above facts.

Pointing out Booz. On Friday afternoon last Sheriff Hunter destroyed something over eight gallons of booze at Kershaw which had been seized at the depot. The booze was stored in a contraband there since the Cary-Cochran law took effect. Under the new law, in prohibition counties, the sheriff is required to destroy all contraband liquors seized, after holding thirty days, and this, our sheriff seems to delight in doing, from the complete way in which he demolished the booze. The boy was arrested and put in the jail at Kershaw Friday.—Lancaster News.

Negro Gets Rhodes Scholarship. Philadelphia, March 12.—Allen Le Roy Locke, colored, of Philadelphia, who will be graduated from Harvard University in June, has received the Rhodes scholarship at Oxford university, which this year was allotted to the colored race. The news was announced by a committee headed by Professor Harrison of the University of Pennsylvania. Locke was chosen over four other candidates.

A GUARANTEED CURE FOR PILES. The only medicine that is guaranteed to cure piles. It is a most reliable and safe medicine. No cure, no pay. 50c per bottle.

A Card To The Public. For some weeks past I have been a candidate for the office of City Clerk, and the announcement of my candidacy has appeared in the Chester papers. During the past few weeks I have received many suggestions which have led me to believe that it is impossible for me to make the race.

My brother, Mr. Louis Samuels, was last week, elected County Dispenser by the County Board of Control. It has been represented to me that it would be impossible for me to make the race for the position of County Dispenser. I conclude it to be my duty not to imperil my brother's position in order to gratify my own ambition, and I cannot obtain the consent of my own mind to let my desire for municipal office and honor embarrass him in the discharge of his official duty.

I, therefore, take this method of announcing to my friends and the public generally my withdrawal from the Mayoralty contest. The many friends who have consistently and steadfastly stood by me in the race thus far advanced, and assured me of their loyal support, I publicly tender my sincere and heartfelt thanks and gratitude. While I thus respectfully withdraw from the contest, I shall ever have the welfare of the City of Chester in mind, and will always contribute as best I can for its prosperity and advancement as a citizen. Very respectfully, HENRY SAMUELS, Chester, S. C., March 14, 1907.

Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup is a new remedy, an improvement on the laxative known as Cathartic. It does not grip or nauseate and is pleasant to take. It is guaranteed. Lettner's Pharmacy.

Conductor Crushed to Death. A shocking accident befell Mr. L. P. Brown, conductor of the Southern, while his train was shifting cars at the depot about noon, last Saturday, resulting in his almost instant death. It seems that several loose cars were slowly coming down the track, being controlled by a brakeman, to be coupled to the train, which was also moving slowly. Mr. Brown stepped on the track to couple the cars but before he could get out of the way he was caught between the boiler and the lower portion of his body fearfully mangled. He uttered a scream, and after being carried several feet by the moving train, he was killed by the bumpers, he expired in his arms, and was carried to the hospital, where he died. The body was buried in the cemetery, crossing the ditch by the side of the track, he sat down and falling back to the earth uttered several plaintive moans and life was extinct. Thus death came to his relief in less than a minute after the fearful accident. An inquest was held by Magistrate Oakley and a verdict rendered in accord with the above facts.

AT THE BIG STORE S. M. JONES & CO.

OPERA HOUSE. POETIC MASTERPIECE.

Goethe's Faust Comes Down to Us from an Historic Age.

Hidden away in a maze of tradition is the legend of Faust, but the poet Goethe took the most salient portions thereof and wrote his masterpiece—The mountains of Germany peek with wretches, fairies, hobgoblins and other weird folk. With such a certain number of years of youthful vigor, the poet is in a return for a certain number of years of the fact that it has been brought down to us almost as it was written in the Middle Ages.

The heroine Marguerite is as a lovable character, and it is her innocent beauty that tempts Faust to sell his soul to win her. Despite this world apart, a tale of love to tell, the play is really to the youth and his maiden fair and also to the grandeur and his worthy dame. The love story is not the least interesting portion of the play, and has a real bearing on the whole drama. With 14 years experience in the role of Marguerite, Mr. J. L. Leland can point with pride to the fact that his presentations have been crowned with success ever since the evening of his initial performance in the City of the Straits.

Mr. Leland and his incomparable company appear at Chester Opera House on Monday evening March 18.

White Girls as Waiters.

On stopping at the Nicholson hotel on his way through Chester the other night, a representative of The Enterprise noted that the negro waiters have been displaced by white girls. Inquiry developed the information that the operations of the Southern Power company at Great Catawba Falls had taken most of the negro men waiters out of town, and that the negro men waiters had become so scarce that the hotel was obliged to rely upon them to do their work. The white girls had been installed for about three weeks of a month. They were both from the city and the understanding is that they are doing their work quite satisfactorily.—Yorkville Enquirer.

Owing to the inclement weather and some sickness, the congregation was very small at the A. B. No Graft Found.

The expert accountant who has been examining the management of Hooker Washington's school by direction of the Alabama Legislature, has found only one thing to criticize, and that, the expenditure of $5,000 for the entertainment of President Roosevelt when he visited Tuskegee last summer. The accounts of the institution are said to be kept in a business-like way and the money expended for the support and improvement to have been properly expended. No special fault is found with the expenditure on Mr. Roosevelt's account, but some of the economists think that became rather high. But the Alabama Legislature does not do much for the school, and so far as we can see has no right to say what it shall do with its own funds, that have been largely contributed by the President's sympathizers up North.—News and Courier.
