

The Chester Standard 1856

The Chester Standard

5-1-1856

The Chester Standard - May 1, 1856

C. Davis Melton

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/chesterstandard1856>

 Part of the Journalism Studies Commons, and the Social History Commons

Recommended Citation

Melton, C. Davis, "The Chester Standard - May 1, 1856" (1856). The Chester Standard 1856. 17.
<https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/chesterstandard1856/17>

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the The Chester Standard at Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Chester Standard 1856 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@mailbox.winthrop.edu.

CHESTER STANDARD.

The Chester Standard.

EDITED BY
J. BELTON MICKEL,
CHESTER, PA.
THURSDAY, MAY 1, 1862.

APPREHENSIONS.

Wanted at this office two apprentices to the printing business. Applicant must be of good character, and able to read and write.

OUR OUT RIDE.

An article in the "Daily Spy" of Bridgeport and his associates may be found on the reverse of this paper, to which attention of the编辑 and unprincipled is invited. We have witnessed with much pain the efforts that have been made to mislead the public mind, which our country has suffered, and we trust that a sense of justice will lead the friends who are railing at us to cease.

We are now more and efficient public servants can be found, than ever State has in the persons of Senator Brewster and Mr. F. D. Pomeroy.

The Mayor of Savanna recently paid a visit to the city, while on her downward passage struck the week of a hotel about 2 o'clock Sunday night $1200 in silver, gold, and silver. A white woman and three children, took passengers, and two negroes were removed.

We have learned from the "Cincinnati Commercial" of the 23d inst., that Mr. John M. Allen, of that city, was another man captured, and destined for the gallows.

The names of Casimir C. Clay and Nathaniel P. Banks, appear at the head of the "Daily News," as its principal candidates for Prevalle and Vice President.

Mr. George Douglass, collector of the U.S. custom house, of New York, whose "death was announced last week, was a very large property, variously estimated at $200,000 or $1,000,000. His wife lives even more handsomely than he did, and has been brought to trial.

The names of the Massachusett

—A Committee meeting was held in the Methodist Church of this place embracing last Sabbath, Rev. J. W. Nohley, the Presiding Elder, and some other Ministers from a distant town were present.

A great spiritual gathering was held by the Society of Friends, for the express purpose of examining into the condition of our Indian affairs, and if possible, devising some means of speedily removing the remnant of the Seminoles from the state.

—SALE OF NEGROES.—On last sale day in Washington, the Commissioner of Equity for this District, sold fifty-four negroes for $20,000, or $300 each.

—A RAILROAD IN BRAZIL.—In the building of a railroad from Rio de Janeiro to the coast of Brazil, it has been commenced, and some portion of the track has already been laid with heavy rails.

—As many days as we pass without doing some good, are so many days lost and thrown away.

—THE SEMINOLE WAR.—The Jacksonville News says Gen. Churchill, Inspector General United States Army, passed by the St. Johns, Wednesday evening on his way to the front.

—The "Daily Spy" says:

—A Committee meeting was held in the church of the Disciples of Christ, and —A Quarterly Meeting was held in the Methodist Church of this place embracing last Sabbath, Rev. J. W. Nohley, the Presiding Elder, and some other Ministers from a distant town were present.

—EX-SERGEANT MCINTOSH.—Captain April 23.—James McIntosh, the ex-soldier, who was sentenced to death at the last term of the Court of Opr. & Ter., for the murder of Thomas W. Cook, was executed by hanging at the State Penitentiary, at Little Rock, Arkansas, last Friday morning. He had been confined in solitary confinement for nearly a month, and was granted a reprieve by the Governor.

—EX-SERGEANT MCINTOSH.—Captain April 23.—James McIntosh, the ex-soldier, who was sentenced to death at the last term of the Court of Opr. & Ter., for the murder of Thomas W. Cook, was executed by hanging at the State Penitentiary, at Little Rock, Arkansas, last Friday morning. He had been confined in solitary confinement for nearly a month, and was granted a reprieve by the Governor.

—PAULINE.—No woman called Pauline, wife of the Rev. Dr. G. F. Root, of Worcester, Arkansas, gave birth a few days since to five children—three girls and two boys.

—OAK COUNTRY.—The homes of those that have lost this pleasant season, should all now be in a state of repair, and the long hours and plenty of sunlight we can expect in among them and their drudgery are used for the best interest.

—DA. WM. H. MEDICAL of Baltimore, has completed a ventilator for railway cars which will keep out the dust and smoke, and the heat and cold, and air through the car. The apparatus consists of a fan in the car, with the water used, on a one hundred pounds, and will not cost above $50 each.

—THE FARMERS' CASE.—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness. Lives is not always within the reach of persons in the country, and, according to general impression, class grand or laid is too valuable to put into the song.

—AS TO THE MEANS OF "making a healthy draw," we have no fears in it, but it is simple and tried. We leave the remedy for a healthy draw to the physician.

—The means of "keeping body and soul" may be effected, but the house might be worth more than the melon, especially when the length of the vine and hot are taken into the account.

—A remarkable lady says the water in which she bathed is of Albermarle, with which she bathes every day.

—The Standard American says that she bathes in the Bay of Fundy, and that she bathes in the sea.

—The "Daily Spy" says:

—A great deal of corn has been loaded with a quarter of a mil of lassos of corn, and will arrive at Chicago on the 17th inst.

—WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.—April 21.—The Kansas debate was continued in the Senate, to-day, by Mr. Cox, of Alabama, in a fervent speech.

—He replied to the anti-slavery speeches of Stevens, Wilson, Hale, Collier, and Seward, denouncing their views, and those of the abolitionists generally, in very severe terms.

—These speakers have been most severe in their remarks on Stevens, Wilson, Hale, Collier, and Seward, denouncing their views, and those of the abolitionists generally, in very severe terms.

—The "Daily Spy" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article on "Breadin' Turkey's" which appears to be very plausible, and which we would be very glad to have our home-making readers to experiment upon, after which we would be greatly obliged.

The article on "Song Making" we believe to be very good, but it is rather too highly wrought in its general boldness.

—The Standard American says that the peasant for a standard wheat crop, and that the yield has already given indications that it will again exceed the average.

—The editor of the "Lewiston Journal" says:

—A remarkable case for the terrible effects of the burning of a house has been reported.

—In the "Farmer's Dept." there is an article

CHESTER STANDARD.

BUSINESS EDITION.

SURVIVE OR PERISH!

I AM anxious to secure a place where my wife and I may be comfortably settled, and to have her to meet his own outstanding liabilities. I am prepared to complete all kinds of work which I have received for the last two years, and to do whatever it will take to get me into the hands of an officer, with instructions to force collection as speedily as possible.

E. CORNWELL, & CO.

Feb. 28.

A stitch in Time.

GOD HAS taken this occasion to say to me, "I am sending you to the Painted Room in my own name, without any consideration whatever with regard to any person or persons." All persons who have been instrumental in the preparation of their work of this kind, I hope to see them again.

N. B. To any one desiring to make an investment in stocks, I would advise him to do so at least of the stock, which has now been well founded objection to be made.

W. S. WOOD, & CO.

April 21.

CHEAP CASH STORE.

W. H. MCGINNELL, & CO.

Smith Turn Out S. C. respectfully announces to the surrounding country and their friends, that they are now opening a new

OF SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

Consisting of Dry and Fancy Goods, Hardware, Cutlery, Hats, Caps, Shoes, Ready Made Clothing, Groceries, &c.

Having a large stock of the latest and best styles, and being determined to offer them to the public at the lowest prices.

Let me assure you that we will do our best to satisfy our friends from time to time.

W. H. MCGINNELL, & CO.

May 1.

BANK OF CHESTER, S. C.

The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Bank of Chester, S. C., was held at their Banking House in Chester, on Monday the 5th inst., at 11 o'clock A. M.

An election was held to fill the several vacancies in the Board of Directors.

JOHN A. BRADLEY, Cashier.

May 1.

SURVEYING.—J. H. MCKEE.

Surveyor of the State, having offered services to the Districts of Chester, Fairfield, York, Lancaster, Union, and Cleveland, as a Surveyor, and having been engaged by them, he promptly and faithfully executed. Applications should be made at the Standard Office.

NOTICE.—The Members of the Faingay Creek Agricultural Society, are respectfully informed, that the annual meeting will be held on the 2nd Friday in May, at their meeting house in the same setting.

JAS. S. GODDARD, C. S.

18-19.

To Contractors.

BRIDGES.—Wanted by the subscriber,

B. A. COOK, for Building a Bridge over Broad River, near the head of the Ninety Six.

It will be built from Praytonville to the crossing of the river, at a cost of $10,000.

It will be about one thousand and 20 feet long.

Persons interested, will receive due attention.

JOHN MCKEE, Esq.

John Mckee, Esq.

The Chester Standard

Is issued every Thursday morning at 20 per cent. of the cost of printing, and will be delivered half-day three months, for $30 after six months.

No subscription will be taken for less than three months, and no part of the amount will be discounted until all arrears have been paid.

DEPTHS OF STANDING ADVERTISEMENT.

1 column, 12 lines, or 12 lines space, or less.

1 column, 12 lines, or 12 lines space, or less.

2 do.

3 do.

4 do.

5 do.

6 do.

7 do.

8 do.

9 do.

10 do.

11 do.

12 do.

13 do.

14 do.

15 do.

16 do.

17 do.

18 do.

19 do.

20 do.

21 do.

22 do.

23 do.

24 do.

25 do.

26 do.

27 do.

28 do.

29 do.

30 do.

31 do.

1 do.

2 do.

3 do.

4 do.

5 do.

6 do.

7 do.

8 do.

9 do.

10 do.

11 do.

12 do.

13 do.

14 do.

15 do.

16 do.

17 do.

18 do.

19 do.

20 do.

21 do.

22 do.

23 do.

24 do.

25 do.

26 do.

27 do.

28 do.

29 do.

30 do.

31 do.

1 do.

2 do.

3 do.

4 do.

5 do.

6 do.

7 do.

8 do.

9 do.

10 do.

11 do.

12 do.

13 do.

14 do.

15 do.

16 do.

17 do.

18 do.

19 do.

20 do.

21 do.

22 do.

23 do.

24 do.

25 do.

26 do.

27 do.

28 do.

29 do.

30 do.

31 do.

1 do.

2 do.

3 do.

4 do.

5 do.

6 do.

7 do.

8 do.

9 do.

10 do.

11 do.

12 do.

13 do.

14 do.

15 do.

16 do.

17 do.

18 do.

19 do.

20 do.

21 do.

22 do.

23 do.

24 do.

25 do.

26 do.

27 do.

28 do.

29 do.

30 do.

31 do.

1 do.

2 do.

3 do.

4 do.

5 do.

6 do.

7 do.

8 do.

9 do.

10 do.

11 do.

12 do.

13 do.

14 do.

15 do.

16 do.

17 do.

18 do.

19 do.

20 do.

21 do.

22 do.

23 do.

24 do.

25 do.

26 do.

27 do.

28 do.

29 do.

30 do.

31 do.

1 do.

2 do.

3 do.

4 do.

5 do.

6 do.

7 do.

8 do.

9 do.

10 do.

11 do.

12 do.

13 do.

14 do.

15 do.

16 do.

17 do.

18 do.

19 do.

20 do.

21 do.

22 do.

23 do.

24 do.

25 do.

26 do.

27 do.

28 do.

29 do.

30 do.

31 do.

1 do.

2 do.

3 do.

4 do.

5 do.

6 do.

7 do.

8 do.

9 do.

10 do.

11 do.

12 do.

13 do.

14 do.

15 do.

16 do.

17 do.

18 do.

19 do.

20 do.

21 do.

22 do.

23 do.

24 do.

25 do.

26 do.

27 do.

28 do.

29 do.

30 do.

31 do.

1 do.

2 do.

3 do.

4 do.

5 do.

6 do.

7 do.

8 do.

9 do.

10 do.

11 do.

12 do.

13 do.

14 do.

15 do.

16 do.

17 do.

18 do.

19 do.

20 do.

21 do.

22 do.

23 do.

24 do.

25 do.

26 do.

27 do.

28 do.

29 do.

30 do.

31 do.

1 do.

2 do.

3 do.

4 do.

5 do.

6 do.

7 do.

8 do.

9 do.

10 do.

11 do.

12 do.</p

CHESTER STANDARD.

LOVE SICKNESS.

The following burlesque upon the love-sick condition of a young man in new going the rounds of the "papers," is recommended as a sure antidote for all who are that was inflicted:

Out of love I am lost!
I have lost my hand of Candy!
Love makes me feel dizzy.
Like sugar and treacle;
My heart is full of love;
My brain is all burning—
And the sweet dream of feeling
Is curdled by churning;
For now I have no jacket
To wrap around me;
And keeps such a racket
With its thumping and bumping;
Oh! how I love one smile—in my last sunrise and sunset?

I crave nothing further—"will be my salvation."

A

Out Love, I'm wounded—

I feel it all over and over—

I'm done and barreled—

A broken down love!

The joys of my bosom—

Are all gone and vanished;

I know I should loose 'em

When my true love you banished;

The world has grown dreary;

In mirthless and sorrow;

Or life is all a bore.

And I wish that to-morrow

Would dawn on my grave in that peace-given valley

Where I'd never for you, nor for Susan or Sally!

I know it's a sin to—

But I can't help the notion—

I'll just lay myself into

The deep blue ocean.

Where the muds and rats-fish

On my body will roll,

Selkie, I die;

There soundly I'll slumber

Beneath a rough bellow,

And crabs without number

Shall crawl over my pillow;

But my soul shall wander through the ga-

oral houses,

And frisk with the mermaids—it shall by the powers!

From the Morning Herald.

THE ELOPEMENT.

They lock'd me in an upper room,

And took the key,

Because I wouldn't marry one.

Who never suits me.

They did not know the female heart,

Or they had clearly seen

That looks were never made to keep

A girl of secretions.

They had a gilded cage in view,

And thought the bird were sure,

Surrounded with all kinds of power

And every artful care.

They never thought of counter plots,

In any like me,

And little knew what I would do,

For love and liberty.

They wanted me to "marry 'em."

"Unsuited of the means;"

To couple me in wealth and age."

What a life is in store for 'em!

But being "otherwise ungrateful,"

No excuse could prevail,

For I preferred to please myself,

And wouldn't be satisfied!

The night was dark, the window railed;

How could I snare no?

What night might not my only chance,

And one's last?

A rail road train was bearing,

"A carriage waiting by;

With such an opportunity

What could I do but fly?

Not being fond of solitude,

It had for me no charms,

While I could not a mile card

To ride in a carriage,

"Reserve, I fear, I could not stay

To be imposed upon;

So, while they thought they had me, I

Was "going—going—gone!"

ON TABACCO.

Let's let the sound of tobacco pipes

A pitch above what love-sick poets raise,

Let's make with three happy thrills,

Three times the sound of tobacco nests,

The cornucopia of all earthly pleasure,

Whose taste and nutriment hath consoled her tears;

A worthless potato sprouting from Flora's hands,

The taste of which is not to be denied,

And Cato's Jealously.

A rail road train was bearing,

"A carriage waiting by;

With such an opportunity

What could I do but fly?

Keep your eye on your Neighbors.

Did I tell them to look at their sit-

Without watching? They may do something wrong if you do.

To be sure you never know

to do anything very bad, but it may be to your secured not. Perhaps, if he is looking for you, he may not have disgraced the parents and family more

than before.

Therefore don't relax any effort to keep them where they ought to be; never mind your own business, that will take care of itself.

He is looking over the fence into his

neighbor's garden—he is suspicious,

He is looking for you, he may not have disgraced the parents and family more

than before.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

He is looking over the fence into his

neighbor's garden—he is suspicious,

He is looking for you, he may not

have disgraced the parents and family more

than before.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,

that will take care of itself.

Therefore don't relax any effort

to keep them where they ought to be;

never mind your own business,