Fascist Education Is Indoctrination - Bailey

The Johnsonian wanted something on comparative education philosophies in the fascist nations and the United States. It is based around an argument by Esther Balfour of Rock Hill, a junior, and a discussion of the extent to which the Rock Hill system of education is correlated. A good case for education versus indoctrination, the article concludes:

"American Education: A Blessing to Youth"

"In fascist times, there has been an emphasis on education to train the youth for the defense of the state. The youth are taught to obey authority, and to be obedient to the state. This has led to the indoctrination of the youth with fascist ideas."

Improvizations in Italy

The fascist regime in Italy has placed a strong emphasis on education to train the youth for the defense of the state. The youth are taught to obey authority, and to be obedient to the state. This has led to the indoctrination of the youth with fascist ideas. The youth are taught to be obedient to the state, and to be willing to sacrifice their lives for the state if necessary. This has led to a strong emphasis on patriotism and national pride."

"The fascist regime in Italy has placed a strong emphasis on education to train the youth for the defense of the state. The youth are taught to obey authority, and to be obedient to the state. This has led to the indoctrination of the youth with fascist ideas."

"I Live What I Write" Says Harding

By FANNY COWAN

Bernita Harding, prominent author and lecturer, who says "I live
all the books I write," will address the annual meeting of the Responsible Living League at the Woman's Club of Winthrop on Monday, October 29. In the new auditorium on Campus Avenue. Mrs. Harding's speech will be on the subject of her latest book, "Responsible Living.
Our times demand a new sense of morality and a moral code."

"I live what I write," she will say.
"Living has a double meaning. It means both living physically and living morally."

"We are in a moral world of confusion. We need the sense of comradeship which I try to give in my books."

Mrs. Harding said she will try to show the audience how to "live"
what she writes. "I try to live what I write," she said. "I live what I write." She said she will try to explain how she Green and what she writes about it.

She will also try to explain how she writes her books. "I live what
I write," she said. "I live what I
write." She said she will try to explain how she writes her books.

Mrs. Harding will also try to explain the fate of Zita and her said. "I live what I write." She said she will try to explain the fate of Zita and her children.

She will also try to explain the fate of Zita and her children. "I live what I write," she said. "I live

Editorial

FROM DEAN FRASER

Casually

The Dean Says

Last spring the editorial board in The Johnstonian was much agitated by the approach of "Winthrop is too much with us."

So how much is too much with us?

I know what you're thinking - "Oh, sure, you're dead against Winthrop."

Now, that's not true. I love Winthrop. It is my home away from home. But I do believe that Winthrop is too much with us.

Why? Because we are a college, not a community college. We have responsibilities to our community, but we also have responsibilities to our own students and faculty. And I believe that Winthrop is too much with us.

To the Student:

I am not writing this as aBuyer, but as a Student. I am writing this to tell you that Winthrop is too much with us.

We are a college, not a community college. We have responsibilities to our community, but we also have responsibilities to our own students and faculty. And I believe that Winthrop is too much with us.

Why? Because we are a college, not a community college. We have responsibilities to our community, but we also have responsibilities to our own students and faculty. And I believe that Winthrop is too much with us.

This Column Salutes...Models Exhibit 20 Costumes In Fashion Show Last Wednesday

BY SARAH W. REES

Chorus in the program of entertainment for the festivities was the musical number, "This Is My Song," in which the participants were accompanied by Mrs. Eliza Bailey. Following this, a group of dancers performed a dance to the music of "Hot August Nights."

The audience was delightfully entertained by the beautiful costumes on display, which were created by the students themselves. The costumes were of various types, including dresses, evening gowns, and suits. Each costume was unique and showcased the creativity and talent of the designers.

The costumes were judged by a panel of judges, who selected the winners based on criteria such as design, color, and overall presentation. The winners were presented with certificates and prizes, and their costumes were displayed in the campus center for the day.

The fashion show concluded with a closing Remarks by the event coordinator, who expressed her gratitude to everyone involved in making the event possible. The audience was left with a sense of excitement and accomplishment, and the event was considered a success.
The Recreation Roundup

By CATHERINE BAILEY

Each year when summer passes
And the leaves begin to fall
The sports interest is focused
On the heroes of football.

Hockey Practice Slated to Begin Monday Afternoon

The hockey field will be the scene of action for the first this year when all new students, freshmen and upperclassmen begin practice at 5:30 o'clock afternoon, announced Marjorie Chapman, chairman of the hockey club.

Informal Pep Meeting Scheduled for Monday

To Begin Sports Season

There's more than a hint of fall in the air with Indian summer and other sports getting under way, and Winthrop will join in the fun with an informal pep meeting to be held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the gym, organized by the Athletic Association and the new student body.

More students interested in organized sports are needed. No previous experience is necessary. For more information call Mrs. Margaret Fitton, 108 Allen.

RHYTHM, MUSIC, FASHION, GYMNASIUM EQUIPPED

The gymnasium Is the latest in every way. The facilities have been bought. Tennis players are warned against the spread of these diseases while swimming.

Tennis Courts Must Be Reserved

Cash will be turned over to the Winthrop gymnasium office for the use of the whole student body.

DANCE SETS INAUGURATED

The sports clubs are being organized and action getting under way. Marjorie Chapman, who organized the sports meet earlier, will work with the varsity team. At the second annual sports meet, everyone is expected to be present.

Gymnasium Equipped with New Kitchenette

The kitchenette will be available for use by the faculty and all\uhom. It is a small kitchenette in the basement, equipped with a two-burner electric range, a sink and a table for the preparation of meals. The kitchenette is now in use.

Gymnastics Announced

The Newman club of Winthrop college will meet on Monday and Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the gym. The dancing will be announced later.

The Newman club, a local group of last year, and the dance. "By means of this abrupt decision of Dr. W. A. Uline, Jr., 1945, will probably be continued."

Warning to Infected

A boy, age 14, with symptoms of chickenpox, who was in the audience at the game, has been asked to note the absence of the boy.

These symptoms of chickenpox are fever, skin eruptions, sore throat, headache, swollen glands, rash and red spots. The child was last at the game Oct. 16 and after approximately a month of practice play, the inter-collegiate tournament will be played on Winthrop's home court.

On Saturday, the first game of the week-end, will be noticed. The ladies will be allowed to swim. A list of names will be posted on the bulletin board in the gym, and better programs, commented Roxy Sims, athletic association. "We expect to have many more of these games on the gridiron."
