Powerful Medicine Secured From First.

New York, April 26.—For the first time in eight years and the second time in the history of the science of medicine an operation was performed on a man who had been afflicted with the disease of rabies. The operation was a complete success and as a result the patient was able to walk and talk. The operation was performed by Dr. J. B. Sims, who is a specialist in the treatment of rabies.

Inquest in Sims Case.

An inquest was held Monday by Magistrate Coker over the body of J. B. Sims, who was shot while returning from town. Several witnesses were examined and the testimony taken was mainly circumstantial. More than two witnesses testified that Sims, believing that he was being shot, said that he was shot by Ben Stogner, brother of Hampton Stogner, who lives in the community. Sims, the witnesses testified, said he recognized Ben's voice as he spoke to some one with him. Sims, the witnesses testified, said he recognized Ben's voice as he spoke to some one with him.

Think Joe Johnson Greedy.

Washington, April 27.—It can now be stated with definiteness that the South Carolina members of the public buildings bill are well-satisfied. Alton, Orangeburg, Darlington, Newberry, Galmy, Laurens and Union each $500. This means that each of the South Carolina members who are asking for public buildings will get one building except Johnson, who will get two. It is held up by the speaker and it may not be reported this week, although it was at first intended that it should be reported and pass the house last week.

The Knocking of the Beat.

There is a whole heap of truth in the following article on the newspaper man and the chronic kicker. Every newspaper man has characters of the kind to contend with and they are the bane of his life. The article which is from the Chapel Hill News, says: "Did you ever think of it? Suppose every business man in the town took as much interest in the upbuilding of the town as the newspaper man. He works for railroads, churches, schools, good streets, enforcement of the laws, and a hundred other things for the general good; he urges, scolds, badgers and cajoles around generally until he gets what he sets out for. Imagine his feeling, then, when some lamer string half kind of a fellow reproaches him because he doesn't boom things enough, and nine times out of ten that same fellow has never spent one cent towards the support of the paper, and the paper he reads with marked regularity is either borrowed from the next door neighbor or picked from a counter in the store at which he trades."—Wilmington Star.

There are 20 students in attendance.

The Columbia seminary was founded in 1828 by the Rev. Dr. D. D. Potts, and is now one of the oldest and highest standard. It is well equipped from a literary standpoint and has a large endowment fund.

The price of bad roads.

In reducing the good roads question to the dollars and cents basis, the department of agriculture has handed the farmers and country tax-payers generally an argument which they ought to find irresistible. The department's figures are based on careful and exhaustive tests. They demonstrate that the actual cost of hauling per ton mile, is 64 cents over dry, sandy roads, 8 cents over rutted roads, and 11 cents on broken stone roads in ordinary condition, and 14 cents on broken stone roads in good condition.

Valued Saver as Gold.

Military Day at State Fair.

Plans are now being discussed for a military day at the state fair in October. A few days ago Capt. Joo G. Mobley, the president of the fair society, wrote Col. W. P. Brock, the assistant adjutant general for officers and to the prizes to be offered as a means for competition among the various companies of the state. Col. Brock suggested that a first prize of $250 and a second prize of $150 be offered for a gold medal for military drill. Some of the members of the society have suggested that this be reduced to a first prize of $100 and a second prize of $50.

Disturbed the Congregation.

Answering Children's Questions.

Anyone who has the ability to ask a question that to him is worth asking, has the capacity to receive an answer that to him is worth inquiring. A thoughtful child, on inquiring the location of heaven, was told by his mother that he could never get there unless he was good. She was probably right in so far as the child's ability to understand was concerned, but she was wrong not to tell him that fact was not herself and not with him. He knew as much about answering him as he knew about questioning her, but she was not to be troubled about his understanding her explanation. There is no question that a child can seriously and fairly ask that cannot be perfectly and fairly answered. Let a child or to lead it to infer that it is "too little" to know anything more on any subject about which it has been known to frame a question, is to deny its capacity for further growth. It is to thrust the child's mind into a dungeon, instead of opening it to the light.—Ex.

Object Lesson to Farmers.

The fact that one hundred solid acres of strawberries were raised from the Wilmington district to Northern markets on Wednesday, and that all indications point to even larger shipments every week, speaks well for the trucking industry in the eastern part of the State. One of the most things about being a senator is the grand species that are made over you after you are dead. While alive you are liable to be called anything from a pookoot to a rattor, or from a krafter to a tenagoo, but as soon as you are dead and turned to clay up rise your old enemies and declare you were the greatest man who ever lived, full of sentiment, absolute in honesty and courageous and intelligent to an abnormal degree. Eat What You Want.

Science Has Now Found the True Way to Cure Indigestion

The first thing to do in the case of indigestion or stomach weakness is to strengthen the muscular walls of the stomach and intestines, so that they will care for the food that is eaten. In no other way can this be done as well as by taking a Micon tablet before each meal. This restores strength to the stomach muscles and stimulates the pouring out of gastric juices, so that the food digests readily and its nourishment is retained in the system to build up energy and vitality.

Use Micon and you will have no more sick headache, heartburn, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, spots before the eyes, nervousness and all the many other symptoms that are the direct result of indigestion.

The Chester Drug Co. gives with every 50 cent box of Micon a quantity to refund the money on the return remedy cure.

ALL DEALERS

When a rooster finds a big fat worm he calls all the hens in the farm yard to come and share it. A similar trait of human nature is to observe when a man discovers something exceptionally good, to want all his friends and neighbors to share the benefits of his discovery. This is the spirit in which Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is prepared. This explains why people who have tried it, have been so generous in giving letters to the manufacturers for publication, that others similarly afflicted may also obtain relief. Behind every one of these letters is a man who would like the writer to be of use to someone else. This remedy is for sale by ALL DEALERS.

Friend to Friend.

The personal recommendations of people who have been cured of coughs and colds by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have done more than all the other make it a staple article of trade and commerce over a large part of the civilized world.

Employers' Liability Bill.

Washington, April 22.—President Roosevelt today signed the employers' liability bill, upon receiving an opinion from Attorney General Gregory that the measure was constitutional. The bill makes railroads or other common carriers liable for injuries to passengers or employees resulting from the negligence of any of the officers, agents or employees of such carriers, or by reason of any defect of insanesibility in equipment. This provision is made applicable also to carriers in the territories. The bill (S. 16407) was introduced in the House (S. 16407) in the District of Columbia, the Panama canal zone and other possessions of the United States.

It is provided that, in any action brought under provisions of this bill, the injured employee shall be held to have assumed the risk of his employment in any case where the violation or the carrier of any statute enacted for the safety of employees contributed to the injury or death of the employee.

Any contract, rule, regulation or device to enable the carrier to exempt itself from liability under the act is rendered void by a specific declaration to that end. Provision is made, however, that any carrier who is not entitled for any contribution to the employee or his family in the form of insurance, relief, benefit or indemnity, is not liable for the result of any such contract.

In his opinion the attorney general states that the bill is within its scope to "common carriers by railroads."

Swallowed His Back Teeth.

The Lincolnton News tells that Mr. Shofur Hill, while sailing on South Fork river, became amused at some of the remarks of a common sailor who he saw laughing, which caused him to heave a false oath that was in the front part of his mouth. The tooth which he heaved was a lower molar which was serrated, or jagged like a hobble nail, and it lodged in Hill's throat near the collar bone. Hill went to Lincolnton and called Dr. J. B. Wright, who tried to remove the tooth with instruments but it was so firmly imbedded in the man's throat that the dentist was obliged to cut out the bone in the throat. After considerable manipulation the tooth worked down a little further.

Hill was willing to undergo an operation but as he suffered considerably he later returned to Lincolnton and the doctors got to work. They tried again to get the tooth out without cutting, but finding it impossible the News tells how they did it.

"The tooth was located in the front part of the throat, but it was so firmly imbedded in the walls of the oesophagus and could not be dislodged without tearing out the walls of this organ. An incision of the wall was made on the median line just above the ribs, through which the stomach was then cut open and Dr. Wright inserted his hand through the stomach up into the oesophagus, where he just located the tooth with the tip of his finger. The tooth was then pushed a long distance through down the throat, finally succeeded in pushing the tooth down into the stomach where it was caught at the bottom of the stomach and the tooth and plate were removed."

At last account Mr. Hill expected to live and laugh and smile some more. In the days when all sorts of surgical operations are common this operation is probably not unusual, but the story of Mr. Hill's experience with his false teeth is interesting.

Farmers' Union Sun.

For the purpose of supplying an immediate need for disseminating Farmers Union News, after the reorganization of the state Union, the S. C. Farmers Union News Bureau was established in February last by the executive committee which has been supplying this need until April meeting at which time the new Bureau was discontinued in favor of the Farmers Union Sun, a new farm paper to be published at Spartanburg by a Joint Stock Co. by S. P. Parrott of Gaffney and other Union men scattered over the state.

In behalf of the Farmers Union I extend thanks to the number of newspapers, nearly all of which have rendered such good faithful service in our interest during the existence of our Union News Bureau.

Marking the Pesky Piles.

Augusta, Ga., April 23.—Dr. J. B. Morgan has commenced a series of health experiments. He is satisfied that a majority of the cases of common disease come from contamination spread by the common house fly. He determines just how much flies spread disease Dr. Morgan is preparing to spread in certain localities, where flies are very numerous. He will be distributed through his preparation, will coat their feet and legs with the whitened substance. Dr. Morgan will then, through the assistance of everybody in Augusta, be on the lookout for those flies. He has asked that in every instance where a fly is seen, a flag is found to catch it and send it to the board of health office, with a statement of the locality of the fly's capture.—Special to News and Courier.

Be Careful Girls.

"A girl should never know a man whom she would be ashamed to have her mother know his name."
 We do not know who said it, but it meets with our most hearty endorsement. Girls' nowadays, generally speaking, are entirely too careless in the matter of forming acquaintances. Many a girl finds out when it is too late that she has been associating with a man unwell in, every respect, but her friends and acquaintance. Let a good-looking young stranger enter a community, and without knowing any thing about him or his character, there are some girls who will welcome any attention he may feel disposed to show them; when for a night they know he may be married man or an escaped felon.—Lancaster News.

Mrs. Pat Butler and her little son Chalmers, who have been spending some time in Lancaster, with the family of her sister, the late Mrs. T. C. Hicks, were in the city yesterday afternoon enroute from Yorkville to Winnsboro on a short visit to her parents, Mr. J. C. Mackrell.—From there she will go to Hartsville, where she will keep house for her cousin, Mr. Robert P. Mackrell.

Mr. R. B. Steele died at the home of his niece, Mrs. Bonnie Beard, Saturday morning after an illness extending over several months. The deceased was born in Fairfield county, about 28 years ago. Her maiden name was Kennedy. Her husband died within a short time after her marriage and she remained a widow during the balance of her life. She had been a resident of Yorkville during the 12 or 15 years previous to her death, making her home in a store with her only daughter, Mrs. R. A. Wabary, and later with her niece, Mrs. Beard. The funeral took place from Trinity church Sunday afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. Henry Carleton.—Yorkville Enquirer.

PATRONS of Meadow Dairy: We sold milk through the winter at less than cost of production. Now, many of our patrons keep cows through the summer or buy from neighbors lower than we can afford to sell. If they will not stick to us in the summer, we will have to charge higher prices in winter or sell our stock now when they will bring good prices and in best of business. J. D. Ratterree. 4-24d
