THE LANTERN,
PUBLISHED TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS.
J. T. BIGHAM, Editor and Prop.
Entered at the Postoffice at Chester, S. C., as second-class matter.

FRIDAY, MAY 24, 1901.

Mr. W. B. Culp has lost four mules this spring. He thinks they die of colic—Lancaster Enterprise.

It seems that colic usually prevails in proportion to the scarcity of home raised corn.

In another column we publish a communication from Mr. Newbold relative to the Reese matter. His offer is such that it not only will enable the Oxford men who still cling to the man in Reese to prove their contention, if it is well founded without any expense, but it holds out to them $200 additional inducement to do so, giving them $500 instead of the $300 reward already offered. It seems to us that their failure to accept this offer will be a confession that they do not believe the man is Reese.

The good people of Lancaster are becoming expansionists. They want to add a half mile to the radius of the circle over which Mr. Waddy Thompson reigns and it is believed that the people of the newly to be acquired territory prefer annexation rather than independence. The editor of the Review is an outsider and he wants to swap his independence for municipal advantages. The present limits extend a half mile in each direction, and he claims that more than half the population within a mile is outside the present boundary.

Mrs. Potter Palmer, of Chicago, was appointed inspector of streets in her ward, and wanted to be, but had no other things to inspect at present and had to decline. Another lady has been appointed, however, in one of the wards and has accepted. Now this is the very idea for Chester. Let's have a lady appointed inspector of streets and back lots in each ward, not to look after the streets as surfaces to travel over, but to cure eye-sores, to wage war against rubbish and all things that mar the appearance of the streets. We mention the back lots because the streets cannot be kept in creditable condition while wagon loads of waste paper dumped out at the rear take the wings of the wind and fly around the corners along the streets. A wagon could be placed at their service when needed, but a man or a boy would perhaps serve a better purpose most of the time. The abuses they could prevent would doubtless be more than those they would have to remedy. They could do much by reading the riot act to some of our business men. Of course they would not want any salary. They would be satisfied with the honor they would win for themselves and for the city. THE LANTERN will announce candidates free of charge.

McLaurin at Greenville.

Senator McLaurin spoke at Greenville Wednesday, according to appointment. He had a large audience, made up according to reports, of the better class of citizens, urban and rural. The speech was evidently well received as will appear from the report of the State, which is emphatically opposed to the senator and can be relied upon not to have colored its report in his favor. There was a great deal more to the speech for it lasted more than two hours and when it was over Senator McLaurin was thoroughly fatigued and looked somewhat worn. It was a crisis for him, he realized it and he threw all the fervor and feeling of his body into what he said. "It was a good speech, and from his standpoint strong. At times it rose to decided eloquence, full of heart and meaning and then it went to the ridiculous, jibing at Tillman, or Latimer or Hemphill or Gonzales or "Old Granny" or The State.

The meeting was held in Greenville's new opera house—a dignified structure. It is said to comfortably seat 1,200 and allowing for the unoccupied seats in the upper galleries those standing near the doors, there were fully 1,200 in the audience, it being the seating capacity of the opera house. It was what might be called a high class audience. It was very largely made up of business men in Greenville, many substantial farmers, about one hundred of Greenville's best lady folk and a large contingent of the student body from Furman university. There was refined audience, say half rural and half town folk. They were all orderly and well behaved. There were no questions, no jeers, no taunts and occasionally fierce applause. In fact to a stranger unfamiliar with the significance it might have been taken to be an address to a graduating class, liberally applauded, but for the jabs Senator McLaurin would occasionally give Tillman or some one else. I have noticed that audiences that sit down seldom, if ever, get enthusiastic and today's gathering was appreciative but lacked the old time political snap and ginger, perhaps because there was no one around to poke at Senator McLaurin or to harass him with questions. When Senator McLaurin proclaimed his absolute independence of all bosses, there was applause; when he proclaimed that he had rid the state of negro rule and carpet bagism there was carping; when he announced himself an expansionist the applause was generous; when he dramatically exclaimed "I am a Democrat in spite of the standers on me," there was a bit of old time whoop, and so it went for a score or more of minutes. When he argued the theories of government expansion, subsidy and the like the audience listened quietly and attentively.

The "hot stuff" the "boys" like and about which they cap themselves horse was not in today's speech; that will perhaps come under the fire and inspiration of opposition and it may have been very well to have at least one pronouncement like that of today without interruption or bother and that each candidate for the senatorial toga be allowed to the same so the voters can quietly sit down and read, digest and compare views, without the annoyances of side and irrelevant issues.

There were only one or two remarks from the audience and they were good natured. When Senator McLaurin said: "I acknowledge his master and I refuse to obey the dictates of any political boss inside or outside of South Carolina." Citizen Josh Ashley cried out: "That's right my friend."

Again when Senator McLaurin said he had done his best for his state, someone in the audience cried out: "We'll give you a chance to do that again."

Senator McLaurin replied: "They say I'm going to die but I do not look like it."

It is noteworthy that when Senator McLaurin said that a "wiser man, truer patriot and more patriotic man than President McKinley never lived" there was decided applause in which the women joined quite readily.

Senator McLaurin followed the text of his prepared address but did not follow the diction exactly. Once in a while he left the text entirely and changed the order of delivery slightly but in no instance materially.

Destructive Cyclone.

A phone message from Leslie station advises us of a destructive cyclone that passed through Catawba township yesterday morning at a quarter past 6 o'clock. The direction was from the southeast to the northwest. The barn of Mr. T. M. Allen, at Harmony, was destroyed and a horse and mule were killed. Houses were blown down on the plantations of Messrs. Will Simpson, W. S. Leslie, F. H. Barber and others. Two Negroes were badly hurt on Mr. Simpson's place. It is thought that the injuries of one of them may prove fatal.—Yorkville Enquirer, 22nd.

The commencement exercises of the State Colored college at Orangeburg, will take place May 30th till June 5th. We have received a neat card giving the programme of exercises.

Winthrop College Scholarship and Entrance Examinations. The examinations for the award of vacant scholarships in Winthrop College will be held at the college on Friday, July 12th at 10 o'clock.

Mr Newbold makes an Offer.

CHESTER S. C. May 23 1901.
Editor LANTERN: In your paper of the 14th inst, you copy a letter recently published in a Lancaster paper, from J. A. Montgomery, of Oxford, Miss., about the recent case capture fiasco. When I first saw this letter I thought that I would treat it with the contempt that I find its author deserved, as I have neither the time nor inclination to engage in a newspaper controversy with any one, but since these gentlemen have seen fit to brouil my word and to intimate that I was bribed by Reese in the jail at Oxford not to identify him, I will have this to say to them at least. That if they will prove that R. Stevens and Marion R. Reese are one and the same man, I will pay them two hundred dollars ($200) in addition to the rewards already offered, and I will pay also the necessary expenses of such identification, as well as the expenses of bringing the man to this state.

Stevens was under indictment in the United States court in six cases for using the mails for fraudulent purposes, and in twenty other cases for impersonating a United States officer for fraudulent purposes, and for the United States district, attorney told me that he would have no trouble in sending Stevens up for life, and this gentleman went to the jail with me for the purpose of delivering the man up to me if "identified" him as Reese. Yet it never occurred to Messrs. Porter and Montgomery that if I had been "bribed" and wanted to benefit the man I would have "identified" him as Reese, and would have started back with him and let him escape en-route.

I do not know Mr. Porter, but his kinsman, Mr. Montgomery, took advantage of my arrival in Oxford, Miss., to beat the hackman out of a ride up town and also to beat the proprietor of the Magnolia hotel out of his supper, and it is said in Oxford that he has never done anything since his arrival there thirty years ago but loaf and act as balliff during that time, and I don't suppose that he can be in any way except where he is not known. This being the case in this county is one reason that I write this letter.

I will say in conclusion that I have sufficient money deposited to make this offer good, and I shall pay no attention to any further communications in the papers. Yours very truly,
W. H. NEWBOLD.

THE SENATOR EXPLAINS HIS VOTES

On Party Questions and His Relation to the Administration—Not Seeking Federal Favors.

FARMERS' MOVEMENT.

Follow citizens: The political reform of 1890 had for its main object the independence of thought and action on the part of the people in political affairs. It was this that made me a reformer.

THE "ALLIANCE."

Follow citizens: It affords me great pleasure to address you on this subject. I thank you for the honor and the opportunity. I recognize the fact that it is the public opinion of the people that counts.

PRINCIPLES HIGHER THAN PARTY.

Political parties under our form of government are a necessary thing. They grow out of the political relations established by the government.

her in which cannot participate, and so evil of which I must not bear any part. I would not have an easy conscience.

DEMOCRACY BROADER THAN SECTIONALISM.

Bellow citizens: There is no pretense to the stability of our government as a whole.

THE MONEY QUESTION.

Beginning with the year 1892, there has never been rapid industrial changes in any country.

ANOTHER GREAT CHANGE AS THE RESULT OF THE YEAR 1892.

Another great change as the result of the year 1892, the rapid development of our country.

HOW CAN I BEST SERVE THE INTERESTS OF MY CONSTITUENTS?

LOCAL NEWS.

Blanche McElhaney, of Rock Hill, is visiting Miss Marion Leckie.

Mrs. W. Holmes Hardin and Miss Edna returned last Tuesday from New York.

Mr. J. E. Sloan came home from Concord, N. C., to attend the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Bland.

We believe we omitted to mention that Mr. Julian W. Sloan is home from the medical college in Richmond.

Mr. J. L. Davidson, of Chester, master of trains on the L. & C. and the C. & N. W. railroads, was in town Monday.

The death of Mr. Wilson B. Simpson, mentioned by our Rodman correspondent, will be sincerely regretted by many of our readers.

Mr. Jno. Edwards, of Lancaster, came over yesterday to meet his sister, the wife of conductor Roddey, who was up the road and was expected down last evening.

Mr. J. H. Westbrook, of Fort Lawn, was in town yesterday with samples of his cotton. He has to sell it to make room for his oats.

Mr. J. R. Hicklin, of Richburg, says the freshets of this week were the worst he has ever seen. He has never seen the streams so high or so much damage done to land and crops.

It is reported that there was a cyclone a few days ago, in the Wylie's Mill neighborhood, which blew away several calves, leveled forests and did much other damage.

Mr. J. M. Smith, of Oak Ridge, who is in town today, tells us that Thomas Henry, who lived near Mr. I. N. Jamison's, died yesterday, of pneumonia.

We are indebted to Mr. W. B. Horne for an invitation to attend the commencement exercises of the Bliss Electrical School, of Washington, D. C., with a public exhibition of the electrical apparatus produced during the year, on Wednesday, June 6th.

Mr. M. H. Wachtel returned yesterday morning from the K. of P. meeting in Spartanburg. He believes that Spartanburg's hospitality cannot be excelled.

Mr. S. E. McFadden, who was to go, did not get off. The grand lodge will meet next year in Greenwood.

Have now good country beef. Choice steak 12c. J. T. Peay.

Brainerd Institute. We acknowledge with thanks an invitation to attend the commencement exercises of Brainerd Institute, next Tuesday, the 28th, at 10 a. m.

The Churches. Union services will be held one month in the evening during the summer, including September.

Kansas beef 12 1-2 to 17 1-2 cts. a pound, the price having risen. Country beef 12 1-2 cents, when we have it. J. T. Peay.

Mr. M. A. Bland.

M. Bland's funeral and burial took place Wednesday as announced in Tuesday's LANTERN.

Mrs. A. Bland was a native of Tennessee, but removed with her parents, to Greensboro, N. C., at an early age.

Mrs. Bland's membership in the Presbyterian church was much more than a mere profession and much more than that of the average professor of religion.

Mrs. Julia Sloan is now the only one of the family with whom Miss Annie Gutt having died August 27th, 1898.

For sale or rent - 5 room house on Pinckney st., fresh and desirable in first-class condition.

Conductor Roddey Dies Suddenly. Mr. M. C. Roddey, a conductor on the C. & N. W. railway, was found dead in bed at the Nicholson hotel Wednesday night about 8 o'clock.

Mr. Wilson preached at Fishing Creek last Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Atkins (the new pastor) preached at Uriel.

Messrs. Baskin and Fraser, of Odgen, visited in this neighborhood this week.

Miss Mary Gill has returned home from Yorkville, where she has been attending school. We are glad to have her with us again.

Miss Pearl Rodman, of Waxhaw, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Rodman.

Communion service will be held at Pleasant Grove M. E. Church next Sunday.

Mrs. Douglass and children have returned from a visit to Sandy River.

Rumor says that wedding bells will ring in our midst before many more months elapse.

Call and examine The Deering "Ideal" binder, and see what illustrations are made by the Company and R. A. LOVE, Agent.

Feasterville Item. There was a good rain in this section last Sunday evening, the 21st instant.

There are very good stands of both cotton and corn. Some are chopping out cotton. The small grain will not be so good as some thought it would be.

Since my last communication Mr. David A. Coleman has returned from Louisville, Ky., where he has been attending the lectures of the medical department of the University of Kentucky.

Not long since, Messrs H. D. S. S. and E. W. Coleman and Mr. D. C. Colvin established a line in telephone and are now connected with the Wolling exchange.

Hon. J. B. Morrison visited this section this week. He is selling a weeder, which I think does good work in both cotton and corn.

Rodman Items.

RODMAN, May 22.—Planting of both corn and cotton is almost over. Some bottom land is still unplanted.

It does look like we are blessed with extra good weather. Light rains and warm weather have revived the tender plants and it will evidently stimulate the farmer with renewed zeal to push their farm work.

When Thomas Gray wrote these splendid lines that immortalized his name, farming was evidently not so attractive as it is at present.

The curfew tolls the knell of parting day. The lowing herd winds slowly o'er the lea. The plowman homeward plods his weary way.

I think it might be paraphrased a little when applied to some people of other professions. I sometimes think it might read as follows:

The curfew tolls the knell of parting day. The lowing herd winds slowly o'er the lea. The plowman homeward plods his cheerful way.

Yours truly, ROBT. R. JEFFARES. P. S. Since writing the foregoing I think there has been one of the heaviest rainfalls that we have had in this section for several years.

It began raining Tuesday morning about 8 o'clock and rained without ceasing for several hours. The water courses have been very high.

Mrs. Kate Davis, after visiting her son, John Killian, of Carlisle, returned home recently.

Mr. John Killian, of Union, visited his brother, Mr. Wm. Davis, last week.

Simplicity, durability and light draft are the strong points of the Deering "Ideal" binder. R. A. LOVE, Agent.

From Near Wellridge. WELLIDGE, May 21.—Mr. Editor: There has been an abundance of rain in this part of the country in the last few days.

Tuesday, the 21st instant, we had a regular downpour nearly all day, which washed the land very bad, especially where freshly plowed.

Little Rocky Creek was as high, if not higher than it has been in many years. The ground being warm, this rain will bring up the cotton, and other tender plants.

Grass, of course, will come in abundance and will cause lots of hard work to keep the crop clean.

Some talk about the farmer working hard all summer, killing grass, and then buying northern or western hay in the spring. Now, if we could get a grass that was fit for hay, we would not kill it, but crab grass is not good for hay nor any thing else that I know of.

Messrs H. D. S. S. and E. W. Coleman and Mr. D. C. Colvin established a line in telephone and are now connected with the Wolling exchange.

Mr. John C. Gladden had the misfortune to lose his mule a few days ago. Mr. H. D. Coleman also lost one not long since.

Little Rocky Creek was as high, if not higher than it has been in many years. The ground being warm, this rain will bring up the cotton, and other tender plants.

Grass, of course, will come in abundance and will cause lots of hard work to keep the crop clean.

Some talk about the farmer working hard all summer, killing grass, and then buying northern or western hay in the spring. Now, if we could get a grass that was fit for hay, we would not kill it, but crab grass is not good for hay nor any thing else that I know of.

Messrs H. D. S. S. and E. W. Coleman and Mr. D. C. Colvin established a line in telephone and are now connected with the Wolling exchange.

Hon. J. B. Morrison visited this section this week. He is selling a weeder, which I think does good work in both cotton and corn.

Not long since, Messrs H. D. S. S. and E. W. Coleman and Mr. D. C. Colvin established a line in telephone and are now connected with the Wolling exchange.

TRUTH.

You don't see near so many pretty goods in any other store in Chester, and you don't see such good goods near so cheap in any other store in Chester as are now being gaily brought by hundreds of delighted customers in Klutz' New York Racket.

Better goods and cheapest price is faster convincing more and more people that this is the store of all stores.

Attempt to describe this wonderful and unapproached stock of goods would be crazy folly. You must come and see for yourself and you will quickly decide that the half, no not the half could have been told.

The ladies of Chester and Chester county are buying more Silks than they ever did buy. It's because Klutz plays them in quality and price.

Black Taffeta Silks, 95 cents. Albatross in delicate shades only 45 cents a yard. Mull in soft bewitching rainbow hues, 25 cents a yard.

White Organdy, worth 25 cents, selling at 15 cents a yard. Lots and lots of beautiful Summer Dress Goods here at 10 and 7 1/2 cents and 5 cents and 2 1/2 a yard.

Nice quality yard wide Bleaching 5 cents a yard. Lace and Embroidery and All-over lace and All-over Embroidery, the materials ready and cheapness of which will certainly surprise you.

Belts in latest styles and in great variety. Shirt Waists in rare designs at low down price. White Granulated Sugar 6 cents a pound, or 12 pounds for $1.00.

Arbutic Arrow Coffee 1 1/2 cents. Clothing for gentlemen in great variety. Did you see this all wool Blue Serge Suit $5.00, and this heavy Check Suit - bound Suit at only $2.00.

On Boys' and Children's Suits and Knee Pants Klutz knocks the whole town out the first round.

You gentlemen who wear Shirts just come here and see how well you will be pleased.

If you want to be the best pleased and besides if you want to save the most money you can't do otherwise than buy everything from your cheapest friend—

KLUTZ' New York Racket.

A Solomon Come to Judgment.
Police Justice John J. Mahoney, of Chicago, gave a good reproduction of the judgment of Solomon not long ago. Two Germans had each other arrested on the charge of stealing a fine dachshund, which they both claimed. "That dog is mine!" said one. "I wouldn't take it for him."

"He's mine," said the other, "I think more of that dog than I do of one of my children."
"One of you is mistaken," said the judge. "I cannot decide this matter. I will settle it by letting a policeman take the dog and shoot him."
"All right," said one of the claimants waving his fist in the face of the other man. "Just so you don't get him."

"No, don't shoot the dog," shouted the other man. "He's too nice a dog to be ruthlessly shot. Let the other man have him: only I hope, Your Honor, that you will make a stipulation that he treat him right."

"The dog is yours," said the judge to the second man. "Take him home with you."

Fighting Pests.
It has been customary to poke fun at some of the more detailed labors of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and to question scornfully what use the mass of data collected can be to the practical farmer. In Everybody's Magazine there is an article by Dr. L. O. Howard, of the bureau, showing how the government scientists have repeatedly saved the fruit-grower's ruin after ruin and have made it possible to build up great agricultural industries. In "Fighting Pests With Insect Allies" it is told how the entomologists killed off the white scale which threatened ruin to the orange growers of California by importing "lady-birds" from Australia, how grass hoppers are destroyed by a fungus, how the Smyrna fig industry of California has been created by the Blastophaga. It makes a narrative of distinct interest and value.

Miss Florence Newman, who has been a great sufferer from muscular rheumatism, says Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only remedy that affords her relief. Miss Newman is a much respected resident of the village of Gray, N. Y., and makes this statement for the benefit of others similarly afflicted. This liniment is for sale by all druggists.

Decision on "Humph."
The meaning of the word "humph" was the subject of a judicial decision in the Irish court of appeal on Monday last. Four judges of the Queens Bench Decision, from which the appeal was taken, were unable to come to a unanimous decision as to the meaning of the word. Mr. Justice Madden and Mr. Justice Boyd held that "humph" as used by Sir Walter Scott and Miss Austen in their novels was an expression of dissent, while the Lord Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Burton inclined to the conclusion that "humph" only meant a "dissatisfied condition of mind." The court of appeal has now decided that the word is "an expression of doubt or dissatisfaction," or, as Lord Justice Walker put it, in the words of the "Century Dictionary," a "grunt of dissatisfaction."—Ex.

The city of Washington has inaugurated a crusade against the wicked theatrical posters, which are hereafter to be censored. This is rather a surprising spasm of virtue. What we should have fancied Washington would do was rather to make the shows live up to the posters.—Spartanburg Journal.

Sharp Featured Female—Don't, eh? Well I happen to be the only sewing machine in this house, and as I'm a widow as well, I've got the right to look upon your remark as a proposal.

A gleam of comprehension flashed across the agent's face, and with one glance at the "machine" he skipped.—Ex.

He Failed to Presume.
The American tourist is so firmly convinced that he is being cheated on all hands during his European travels that he occasionally oversteps the bounds of prudence.
"What is the price of this pin?" asked a young man in a Paris shop, handling a small silver brooch of exquisite workmanship.
"Twenty francs, monsieur," said the clerk.
"That's altogether too much," said the young American. "It's for a present to my sister. I'll give you five francs for it."
"Zen it would be I zat gave ze present to your sister," said the Frenchman, with a deprecatory shrug, "and I do not know ze young mademoiselle."—Youth's Companion.

LYON MANUFACTURING CO., BROOKLYN, N. Y. TYLERVILLE, S. C., OCT. 20, 1900.
Dear Sir: I am 65 years old and for some time have been troubled with a kidney complaint which resulted in Dropsy. I took two bottles of your Vaughn's Lithonriptic and it did me a heap of good. I could not get any more of the Lithonriptic and I went to doctor but he did me no good. Then he advised me to take your Vaughn's Lithonriptic again. I have taken six bottles and my legs which were heavily swollen have come down and I am now well. Mr. J. L. Little, of this place (Tylerville) had dropsy and used your Vaughn's Lithonriptic and he is well now. Respectfully yours,
J. WARREN BEAKEY
