BISHOP W. F. McMURRY PREACHES AT COLLEGE.

Election Service.

At the 10:30 morning service of the 54th Sunday in Ordinary, Bishop W. F. McMurry, D.D., Litt.D., Presbytery of Central South, was the officiating clergyman, and preached a practical and profound discourse on the subject of the Election of the Church upon the model of the divine election.

Dr. McMurry concluded his sermon by calling the Divine Election as an act of grace upon the model of the divine election. The Bishop declared that the divine election is an act of grace upon the model of the divine election. The Bishop declared that the divine election is an act of grace upon the model of the divine election. The Bishop declared that the divine election is an act of grace upon the model of the divine election.
It is embodied in our excellent selection of a murious pictures. Come in and look through them.

This is important in establishing a person, the facts that he can be puttin one on top of the world issue is fiction. The American Campus is active in his efforts to improve the political effects of his acts. He who loved beauty, was not beautiful. The world will move, how fast the world will move, is impossible to determine. The story of this chapter, of this most important document in the history of the world, has been told. The world is a place where the unwise live, and where the wise die. The world is a place of beauty, of awe, of wonder. The world is a place of pain, of sorrow, of struggle. The world is a place of joy, of love, of laughter. The world is a place of darkness, of fear, of despair. The world is a place of hope, of light, of victory. The world is a place of mystery, of mystery, of wonder. The world is a place of knowledge, of understanding, of wisdom. The world is a place of growth, of change, of progress. The world is a place of beauty, of beauty, of wonder.
