FRIDAY, JUNE 10, 1904.

Recollections of Chester.
On May 10th, a note was addressed to the editor of the Augustus, Maine, Journal, giving the inscription on the tombstone of Chas. P. Emerson, of the 15th Maine regiment, who died in Chester in 1866, and saying that respect was paid to the graves of Union soldiers that day. It seems that the letter was published in the Journal, and we have since received a very cordial letter from Maj. H. A. Shorey, editor of the Bridgton News and secretary and Historian of the Fifteenth Maine Regimental Association, returning thanks on behalf of the survivors for the attentions shown. The following paragraph is copied from the Bridgton News:

"The grave referred to is of a soldier of the regiment with which the senior of The News served. In South Carolina there are probably from five to three hundred graves of Maine soldiers. Besides the Maine 25th the 29th Maine—both burying a good many in 1865—6—was in South Carolina and the 30th Maine in Georgia nearly a full year after Appomattox. It certainly must be a pleasure to friends of the soldier thus buried to read of such tender tributes."

Below are some extracts from Maj. Shorey's letter:

"The Fifteenth came to South Carolina after the war and South Carolinians then living will recall that we were a friendly rather than a hostile force."

We landed first in the populous Rice-growing district, Georgetown, S. C., and later scattered all over the state. In very many South Carolina church yards the mortal remains of our dear boys slumber—but the immortal parts are and have long been upon the evergreen shore.

As to Chester, in the spring of 1866, it was headquarters of a sub-district; we had four or five companies stationed at Laurens, Unionville, Spartanburg, Laurens, York, etc. For a period, as ranking officer, I commanded the sub-district, with headquarters at Chester. Later, and for a considerable period, I commanded the detachment at Unionville, later was Judge Advocate of a military commissar at Columbia.

I have pleasant recollections of your people, not only at Chester, but all through that region. I myself would gladly furnish a wreath for the grave of that superb Confederate cavalry soldier, Capt. John Tucker, of Plantersville, Georgetown District, who lost his life (in a deer hunt) while contributing to the entertainment of federal soldiers early in our occupancy of the coast section. I was riding by his side when he fell, mortally wounded, being thrown from his horse.

A boy of twenty-five when there, I am an old man of sixty-four today. How much I should enjoy re-visiting old scenes in the Palmetto state. In a printing office in Chester in 1866, I was a frequent visitor. I had my official orders printed there and have a specimen of one of them. I am a printer from wayback, and I have been a newspaper publisher ever since the war.

Winthrop Advertising.

The article on the subject of Winthrop's advertising on the first page of this paper, as is indicated in the article itself, is from the Abbeville Press and Banner. The Lantern was offered 60 cents to run the notice eight times. This proposition was of course declined. We are running the advertisement, however, at just what we would have charged if it had been sent direct. It must be said that the original proposition of the Advertising Syndicate was not more absurd than that submitted by President Johnson last year, when the cumbersome conditions of the latter also declined, and as no increase of price was offered, but only a slight modification of conditions, we did not make the notice.

If the Rock Hill Herald's statement is correct that there is a special appropriation of nearly $400 for advertising these examinations and that it has been the same for several years, the papers of Chester county were offered a very small percent of their share of the take-off last year. But we are inclined to think that the Herald is in error, as its statement is in conflict with the reason assigned by President Johnson last year for not offering reasonable compensation for the service.

The war news is that the Japanese began their attack on Port Arthur yesterday morning.

"Thou Art Peter."

Editor Bacon, of Edgefield, writes thus about a Chester minister.

This was the text of the Rev. John Bass Shelton, of Chester, who preached the commencement sermon in the S. C. C. I. auditorium on Sunday morning last. The Rev. Mr. Shelton is evidently a man out of the common run. He is a large, handsome, striking-looking man with a Jove-like front and a look and bearing so proud and haughty that until you hear him, you do not like him. His theme was Solidity of Character in Man and Woman, and his address was magnificently strong and telling. His exposure and denunciation of the superficiality, emptiness and frivolity of modern society and his solemn warning against this emptiness and frivolity—were thorough and eloquent. And yet he descended to no revolting picture of the waltz or the card-table or the whiskey saloon. Indeed he did not even mention these things by name. And yet he rebuked them so splendidly, so keenly and so trenchantly that the wayfaring man though a fool was obliged to understand him perfectly. This man has the power to drive his meaning and his object clear home without unwisely condescending to mud and littleness. And apart from his intellectual force, Mr. Shelton has a superb dramatic force—a force worthy of God's pulpit. Edgefield will always be delighted to welcome, to listen to, and to profit by, the Rev. John Bass Shelton.—The Edgefield Chronicle.

What's the matter with a baby show for Gaffney? Chester has just had one and everybody knows that Gaffney has sweeter and prettier babies than Chester.—Gaffney Ledger.

The Chester mothers don't know it yet.

Mr. J. G. Mobley attacked Mr. W. Byrd Evans with a cowhide yesterday morning and a fight followed, in which neither was much hurt. They were separated and put under peace bonds. Both are candidates for railroad commissioner, and the trouble grew out of reports which Mobley charged Evans with circulating.

Attorney General Kgoz has been appointed U. S. Senator for the unexpired term of Senator Quay, and it is expected, of course, that he will be given the regular term beginning next March.

In love with his labor will always win, whilst the dead in the shell, weary of life fellow, who waits and wishes, whining the plaintive old whine, "The world owes me a living," will drift into the eddies of obscurity. One is the old cross cut, the other the steam circular saw, laughing in sardonic irony at all the so-called impossibilities of life. Experience and enterprise, the twin civilizers have modernized the odd methods of merchandizing. In the long ago, favor and friendship cut a very conspicuous figure in the successful operations of a mercantile establishment. Today the people generally are wide awake and well posted when it comes to paying out the hard cash, and one of their inexorable demands is simply this: Values stripped of the chaff. A casual observer passing down Main street towards the Opera House will notice one continuous stream of people going in and out of W. R. Nail's Red Racket Store. This fact in itself proves beyond the shadow of a doubt that the people nowadays, irrespective of creed, politics or religion, will patronize that house that has the audacity to give the most goods for the least money.

Robinson-Lyle.
 Miss Kate Robinson and Mr. L. Lafayette Lyle, of Lando, were married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. F. Robinson, at Edgemoor Wednesday, June 1st, at 4:30 p. m. The ceremony, performed by Rev. L. T. Presley, was in the hall, which was darkened and lighted with candles. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Anna Hollis, came the ushers, Messrs. J. G. Hollis, of Lando, and J. L. Kee, of Hollis; next came the dame of honor, Mrs. Joe Wylie Whiteside, sister of the bride, in her bridal robe. Next the groom with his best man, Mr. David Lyle, his brother, the groom taking his place under an arch made of white crepe paper, decorated with white roses and green leaves, with a background of cedar and ferns. Then the bride with her sister, Miss Edna Robinson, came down stairs facing the audience and took her position. During the ceremony music played softly could be heard. The bride was dressed in white silk mull over white silk tulle and trimmed with medallions and chiffon and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and maiden hair fern. The groom wore a suit of broadcloth, with white vest.

After the congratulations the guests were invited to the dining room where a splendid supper was served. A number of friends and relatives were present, and the presents were many and valuable. A reception was given by next day by the groom's mother, Mrs. Dr. Lyle.

For a Charity Bed.
 A meeting was held at the A. R. P. church yesterday afternoon, according to previous announcement, to consider a proposition for maintaining a charity bed in the Magdalen hospital. The attendance was small, but much interest in the undertaking was manifested and it was agreed that another meeting should be held, the time to be set by the ministers of the city. Dr. Pryor makes an exceedingly generous offer, and it is desired that all our people be interested in the cause, which plainly will save money to the county and city, besides the great blessing to poor patients.

McCullough & Ferguson is certainly the place to send your orders for groceries if you want them quick.

Mrs. T. B. McKeown and Miss Bessie, of Cornwall, returned yesterday afternoon from commencement at Jones Seminary. Mrs. Julia Gamble, of All-Healing, came with them.

When You Buy FURNITURE

You must depend to a large extent on the honesty of the dealer.

B-SHARP WE ARE NOT ANGELS

(If we were would be out of business) but whatever you buy of us must be as we represent it to you or your money back. In all the years that we have been selling goods to the people we have not had one person to say we cheated them or misrepresented our goods. WE NEVER MAKE A STATEMENT WE CAN'T BACK UP and we want to make one right now.

We Can Save You One-Fourth on Your Furniture Purchases.

Come to see us. Get our prices and let us show you how we get goods at such a big discount below our competitors. There is a way to prove our statement too: Compare our prices with those of our competitors.

EXAMPLE: Man came in our store the other day, said he wanted some furniture, picked out a lot, bill was fifty dollars. Man was surprised and said: "Why, that bill was a duplicate of a list I had picked out at a Furniture Store down street only your goods are much newer and they wanted seventy odd dollars." He had made twenty dollars in just a few minutes. We have his name if you want to know. Also that of lots of others who have had similar experiences. Moral is shown in our illustration.

THE NICHOLSON FURNITURE STORES

Many Times

Children are backward and seemingly dull in their studies because of defective vision. This is a day of much learning and hence more is required of the eyes than in times past. Do not make the fatal mistake of neglecting to learn the condition of the children's eyes.

SMERING

In the proper one to examine their eyes and if glasses are needed he will supply the right kind.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find out. Fill a bottle of common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours. This indicates an ailment or setting of the kidneys. If you find it in evidence of kidney trouble, it is a frequent desire to pass or pain to the back or back is aching. Convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

That to Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that the Kidney Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidney, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and supplies the water, if it is bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being obliged to get up during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, etc., and in the form of a bottle. Write for a free copy to the publisher, Dr. J. C. Kilmer, 101 West Broadway, New York. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Ashcraft's Eureka Liniment

This Liniment will remove sprains, splits, ringbones, and all cartilaginous growths, when applied in the earlier stages of the disease, and will relieve the lameness even in the most stubborn cases. One of the most common lamenesses and mules is sprain of the tendon caused by overloading or hard driving. Ashcraft's Liniment is a never-failing remedy. The Liniment is also extensively used for chronic rheumatism and for all kinds of stiff joints. For "scratches" Ashcraft's Eureka Liniment is without equal. A few applications is all that is necessary to cure this disease in its worst form. Owing to the wonderful anti-septic qualities, this Liniment should be used in the treatment of all tumors and sores where proud flesh is present. It is both healing and cleansing, entirely destroying all parasites and putrefaction. This Liniment acts as a counter-irritant and stimulant. Price 50c. bottle. Sold by Johnston Drug Store.

Laughter Does Away With Drugs. Whether this be absolutely true or not, there are no doubt great advantages in the way of health that come to the person who is buoyant and happy, seeing the bright even the ludicrous side of the affairs of life. In western New York there resided, until a few years ago, a physician who was known as the "Laughing Doctor." Doctor Bredner was always full of smiles, presenting the happiest kind of a face, so much so as to have given to his name quoted, and it is said that his good humor was contagious and that his presence and his cheerful, hopeful advice brought all that was necessary for his patients; he dealt sparingly in drugs, if at all, and still was very successful. A man in a neighboring city was recently given up to die; his family was sent for and gathered at the bedside; one called to see him who assured him smilingly that he was all right, would soon be well, and in fact in such a strain that the sick man was forced to laugh, and the effort roused up his energies and his system; he rallied and was soon well again. It may be stated as a general principle that the person who laughs much will be sick but little, and it is the experience of many that when a life of hilarious freedom is adopted, there is an increase in bodily strength, vigor, and vitality. Laughter is contagious, and it is often found that the presence of one jovial spirit will affect a whole company. Invalids are always helped by a call from a smiling, hopeful friend, and depressed by the presence of "Aunt Doleful." Independence.

Rules for R. F. D. Don't put your box so far from the road side that your carrier cannot reach it without getting out of his vehicle. Don't put your box on the post so the lid won't open back. Don't ask your carrier to mail letters without postage. Don't ask your carrier to haul eggs, butter, chickens, etc. without offering him pay. Don't ask your carrier to wait until you can write a letter or note. Don't ask your carrier to tell Hannah that Jane will come up there Sunday if not providentially hindered. Don't sit on the side of the road waiting for your carrier to come along so you can ride with him when you only have a short distance to go. Nine times out of ten you could be where you started while you were waiting on your carrier. Don't leave $1.25 in your mail box and say "Mr. Carrier, please bring me 25c worth of meat, 10c worth of coffee, a package of soda, a plug of Schnapp's tobacco and a quarter sack of flour, if you have room. Many thanks for your trouble." Don't ask your carrier to mail letters from one box to another without proper postage. It takes just as much postage to move a letter or parcel out of your box as it does to move it out of the mail office.

Please observe the above rules as much as possible and remember, where a carrier has sixty boxes on his route and has only two minutes at each box, he has lost two hours of his time. You cannot regain lost time. Our time is limited. We hope this will not hit any one on our route. Respectfully, R. F. D. CARRIER.

MANUFACTURED BY Mrs. S. L. Clemens Dead.

FLORENCE, ITALY, June 6. Mrs. Samuel M. Clemens, the wife of "Mark Twain," the American author and lecturer, died of syncope here yesterday afternoon. Half an hour before her death she had conversed cheerfully with her husband. Mrs. Clemens died painlessly. The body has been embalmed and will be sent to the United States. Mr. Clemens speaks continually by the coffin. He speaks to no one.

Mrs. Clemens was married in 1870. Her maiden name was Olivia L. Langdon. She was born in Elmira, N. Y.

"Do you know," he went on glibly after the parlor clock had struck 11, "do you know that a man is like a watch, because he is known by his works." "I know he is not like a watch," she remarked, with a yawn, "for when he is wound up he doesn't seem to go."

The J. M. C. Entertainers.

The following invitations were issued last week: The Juvenile Musical Club will entertain at Miss Somerville Booth's Thursday evening 7 o'clock. Please respond.

A number of guests were present among whom were Misses Annie May Pratt, Janie Hardas, Fanny Spry, Lottie Klutz, Ethel Nichols, Rebecca Hafner, Lizzie Hardin, Marie Cross, Louise Carpenter, Carrie Hood, Janie Ford, Patti Gage, Gladys Patrick, Lizzie Macaulay, Wrenn Hafner, Josephine James, Mary Lindsay, Madeline Pryor, and Messrs. Lyles Glenn, John McKee, William Lindsay, William Anderson, John Hyde, Will Bewley, Will Les Davidson, Sirdair Jovay, Claude Dill, Dan James, Jarvey Bewley and Robert Morrison.

The hostess was assisted in receiving by the other club members and the evening passed very pleasantly. Delightful refreshments of cream and cake were served, after which the guests departed with many expressions of enjoyment.

HUSTLE AND BUSTLE.

M. D. Harrison & Co. Raising Dust.

In the following clipping, if you will put Chester for Elizabeth City and J. T. Collins & Co. for Mr. Lavanstein, you can then apply the words to the sale going on at the store of J. T. Collins & Co., on Gadsden street:

Today and tomorrow, and eight days thereafter, will be record-breaking days in the trade of Elizabeth City. There arrived from Syracuse, N. Y., the following members of the firm of M. D. Harrison & Co., of that city, who inaugurated a big bargain feast and carnival of low prices at the Globe Store: Mr. Saul Tumin and Mr. W. C. McCaw.

In other words, these gentlemen, experienced in advertising and selling goods, known as the world's bargain givers, arranged for a ten day's sale of the $40,000 stock of Mr. Lavanstein for cash at greatly reduced figures. Then the printing presses began to hum, the sign painters to work, to give this news to the people of the Albermarle region.

The Tar Heel power presses were confiscated for the time being, so to speak, and were busy for three days getting the printing ready.

The sale is on and it behooves everybody to hurry. The Tar Heel has priced some of the desirable values in the store, and knows that prices have been sacrificed and cut with a keen knife to the very bottom figure. Messrs. Tumin and McCaw are making friends here, proving themselves to be very agreeable and pleasant gentlemen, well posted in their business. Mr. Lavanstein is well known already as one of the leading business men and a special King of Bargains, in the way of low selling. This sale is unprecedented.

Death of J. R. London.

Maj. J. R. London, one of Rock Hill's oldest and most highly esteemed citizens, died at his home last Wednesday evening, aged 71 years. He had been in ill health for several months with some trouble and went to Baltimore three weeks ago in hope of getting relief but was informed nothing could be done and coming home grew rapidly worse until the end came.

Mrs. J. C. Butler and little son Chalmers, who were in the city Friday on their way from a visit to relatives in Lancaster to Winnsboro to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mackorell, returned to the city yesterday morning and left on the S. A. L. for their home in Abbeville. Mr. Butler came over to Winnsboro Sabbath and accompanied them.

Pat Carroll killed Gao, Caulfield in Charleston last night. They had disagreed and come to blows, but were separated and Caulfield was on his way home, when Carroll followed him and shot him, wounding two other men.

Today and tomorrow, and eight days thereafter, will be record-breaking days in the trade of Elizabeth City. There arrived from Syracuse, N. Y., the following members of the firm of M. D. Harrison & Co., of that city, who inaugurated a big bargain feast and carnival of low prices at the Globe Store: Mr. Saul Tumin and Mr. W. C. McCaw.

In other words, these gentlemen, experienced in advertising and selling goods, known as the world's bargain givers, arranged for a ten day's sale of the $40,000 stock of Mr. Lavanstein for cash at greatly reduced figures. Then the printing presses began to hum, the sign painters to work, to give this news to the people of the Albermarle region.

The Tar Heel power presses were confiscated for the time being, so to speak, and were busy for three days getting the printing ready.

The sale is on and it behooves everybody to hurry. The Tar Heel has priced some of the desirable values in the store, and knows that prices have been sacrificed and cut with a keen knife to the very bottom figure. Messrs. Tumin and McCaw are making friends here, proving themselves to be very agreeable and pleasant gentlemen, well posted in their business.

Lavanstein is well known already as one of the leading business men and a special King of Bargains, in the way of low selling. This sale is unprecedented.

Death of J. R. London.

Maj. J. R. London, one of Rock Hill's oldest and most highly esteemed citizens, died at his home last Wednesday evening, aged 71 years. He had been in ill health for several months with some trouble and went to Baltimore three weeks ago in hope of getting relief but was informed nothing could be done and coming home grew rapidly worse until the end came.

Mrs. J. C. Butler and little son Chalmers, who were in the city Friday on their way from a visit to relatives in Lancaster to Winnsboro to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mackorell, returned to the city yesterday morning and left on the S. A. L. for their home in Abbeville. Mr. Butler came over to Winnsboro Sabbath and accompanied them.

Pat Carroll killed Geo. Caulfield in Charleston last night. They had disagreed and come to blows, but were separated and Caulfield was on his way home, when Carroll followed him and shot him, wounding two other men.
