Court Proceedings.

The court of general sessions for the county adjourned Tuesday afternoon after disposing of all cases that were ready for trial. The Grand jury returned no bill in the case of Ernest Wilson, charged with arson.

James Thron was convicted of acting as an emigration agent without license and was sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 or spend four months on the county chain gang. It is needless to say, however, that Dixon chose the latter alternative.

Ed Heyward, charged with assault and battery with intent to kill, pleaded guilty to assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature, and was sentenced to 18 months on the chain gang.

John Cunningham, indicted for the murder of Johnson Cunningham, was found guilty of manslaughter, and was sentenced to six years on the county chain gang or in the state penitentiary.

Reuben Hall, indicted for an attempt to ravish, was found not guilty. Hall conducted his own defense and showed conclusively that there was nothing in the charge against him.

Yesterday morning was devoted to jury business.

The grand jury's report reads as follows:

GRAND JURY'S REPORT.

To the Hon. Jas. Aldrich, presiding judge of Chester county.

We, the grand jury, beg to submit the following report:

1. We passed upon all bills given by the solicitor for our consideration and reported our findings to the court.
2. We examined the books of the county supervisor, treasurer and school commissioner and found the same correct and properly kept. We found cash on hand in supervisor's bag to be on June 15, 1907, $11,072.
3. We examined the county chain gang and found 31 convicts, 11 head of mules, 3 head of hogs and other implements, such as wagons, etc., all of which seemed to be in good condition and well cared for.
4. We examined the county poor house and found on hand about 150 bushels of corn, about 1,000 or 1,050 bundles of fodder between 1,000 and 1,200 bushels of good oats, mules, 6 head, 4 young and 2 old ones, and 32 head of cattle and 1 head of hogs. We found in full utilization 75 acres of corn, and 37 acres of cotton, 25 to 30 acres of peas, all of which seem well worked and in good condition. The farming implements are in fairly good order.
5. We found 2 of the inmates' houses leaking and needing covering, also the cook room of Mr. Brown's house needing re-covering. We found 4 white and 13 colored inmates, all well cared for.

We recommend that some new tenement houses be built for those that are there be re-enclosed and improved.

The committee appointed by the grand jury to examine the jail found the same unsafe and, therefore, we recommend that the supervisor secure bids on building a new jail.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

L. H. GRANT,
 Foreman.

Farmers Injuring Their Own Cause.

The report from Columbia is to the effect that so many of the farmers through the south have sold their cotton for future delivery that the control of the market has probably passed into the hands of the speculators. The Cotton Association could still control the market by offering higher prices on the opening than the speculators are willing to pay, which would force the market up with a jump, but ought the association to do this? Ought any organization or set of men continue to help those who persistently murder every movement made for their assistance and then lie soporific on their backs and call for more help? The market situation will probably be just as it was last fall through these advance sellings, when the poor man had to stand the loss and the man who was able made two crops with one working. Party She Admired With

Brown Lamson tells of a Colorado woman who presented herself one day at the registration booth of a party in that state for the purpose of qualifying to vote upon the school question at the next election.

"What was the political party of your affiliate?" asked the clerk. The lady blushed and otherwise exhibited confusion of manner.

"It is obligatory that I answer that question?" she inquired.

"Certainly, madam. The law requires it."

"Then," said the woman, "I don't think I care to vote if I must mention the party's name. However, I don't mind saying that it is one of the nice ones I've ever met."

"What is it?" asked the clerk.

"The Republican party," she replied.

"That is all right," said the clerk, "and you are now qualified to vote upon the school question."

"Thank you very much," said the woman, and she turned to go.

Will and Jobs

Fite, the famous catcher for Charlotte, who played here this week, retold rather an amusing incident that occurred while he was playing Monroe last week.

"The Monroe team there were two young sixteen-year-old boys, twins, who looked precisely alike. Both are good players and are known all over the section of the country."

"The game began with Willie on the box; it is thought, and John behind the bat. The two boys were exactly the same size, weigh the same, dress alike, and really no one can tell them apart."

The second was reached, when John was in the box and Willie behind the bat. The game was played with similar changes, John taking Willie's place and Willie taking John's place.

Blocked in Electric

Edgely, July 1.—Sheriff Out of Edgely this afternoon returned from Modoc, on the Charleston & Western Carolina railroad, in Edgely, and reported that he had been blocked in to look into a most unfortunate and bloody affair.

McDaniel, a man of large frame and high character, is the leading merchant of Modoc. Mr. Tom Glanton, also of Modoc, entered McDaniel's store under the influence of whiskey, it is said, late on Saturday afternoon and became engaged in a dispute with McDaniel and his two sons, who were in the store, over some little bill or account. He was ordered or pushed out of the store, but returned, his return giving rise to a bloody affray with both of which are not yet very clear.

In this affray Warren McDaniel, one of the sons of Winchester McDaniel, shot Tom Glanton in the stomach, twice and in all probability the wound will prove fatal. Glanton emptied his revolver without effect. What can be said the shooting does not seem to be clear yet.

Freeman Glanton, a son of Tom Glanton, was also shot and but timely medical aid might have bled to death.

Tom Glanton was taken to the hospital in Augusta, where at this moment he lies in extremis. If not dead, just before Sheriff Out left Modoc a local physician returned from the hospital in Augusta and reports that there was no earthly hope of Glanton's life.

Should Glanton die Warren McDaniel will come immediately to Edgely and surrender himself to the sheriff.—Special to The State.

Would Shoot Autoists. Middleton, N. Y., July 2.—Owners of good horses in Orange county are suffering from the disappearance of their rigs as fast as possible. Pleasure driving is a thing of the past because of reckless automobile drivers.

There is no road in Orange county no matter how remote, that is free from the harassment of these kind of automobiles. It is out of the question to bring one of those boozed-soaked individuals to justice when your horse is snarled. If the driver is drunk, his machine, satisfaction for the horseman is out of the question. City and county officials are doing their best with this class of special privileges, and the only reckoning for horses, damage, and drivers must be settled on the spot. Therefore, if you mind one's own business, go around and enforce every man's right to half road and proper courtesies. If necessary, shoot first and explain later.

Water Brought Back

London, June 28.—At 3:45 this afternoon Edge, who started to break the twenty-four hour record, and completed 1,460 miles, which set the record mile a minute for the entire time, which he began to garble when he started. As twenty-four hours were up, he expired. His wife, Edgely, had two sons and fifty miles to his credit in which to better the antiquated record.

Notes from Optimists. We had some of the news here of late in this section. Some hard rains washed the land pretty badly but didn't injure corn looking much. The rain is a good thing and certainly a relief. Old corn is looking very well and cotton is doing well except bad stands.

The Yankee in German News. The Yankees are a joyous people. They are before everything optimists. Why should they not be? They dwell in a beautiful land full of the resources of the earth. They are not overladen with knowledge, but learn for practice, and during the greater part of the year a blue heaven stretches over them.
