VICTORY FOR MISS RANKIN.
 McCauley Pale Bureau of Engraving on 8-hour Work Basis.

Washington, July 9.—Secretary McAdoo tonight ordered the Bureau of Engraving and Printing placed on an eight-hour basis as to all men and women employees. This action came as a sharp and sudden end to the struggle here by Director Rankin, Representative in the House of Representatives from Montana, has made in behalf of the women employees of the bureau who have been compelled for many weeks to do overtime work in the stress of printing connected with the Liberty Loan bonds and Federal Reserve notes for issuance to take care of advances to the Allies.

Miss Rankin was appealed to by representatives of the employees and made a careful personal investigation in the bureau, with every facility afforded by Director Rankin. She was convinced of the truth and justice of the complaints and at once sought a conference with Secretary Franklin in which she laid before him evidence she had gathered in support of her claim that men and women were being forced against their will and to determine their health and personal responsibilities to work from fourteen to sixteen hours a day. The Secretary at once ordered an investigation to be made by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Oscar T. Crossby, the auditor for the Interior Department, Decatur A. Price and the Chief Clerk of the Treasury Department, John L. Wilmette.

This committee met today at the Bureau Building, Miss Rankin being present, and decided that the shortest method of ascertaining the facts was to conduct an investigation of the employees, which showed every hour of work performed by all persons on the rolls. The committee then interviewed a number of men and women, who told their story in a manner which at once won the committee to their view of the situation.

PODDLING THE HUN A CRIME.
 The people of Great Britain, aroused by the recent air raid in which an unusually large number of women and children were wantonly murdered, are once more attempting to stir their "passive" Government to adopt measures of reprisal.

The refusal to adopt such measures which alone will carry home to the German people a knowledge of their infamy in upholding the methods of barbarism, is nothing short of an unpeakable slaughter of the innocents. The systematized and persistent campaign of assassination has been borne without retaliation in kind quite long enough to demonstrate to the civilized world how reluctant is any self-respecting nation to resort to such measures. But it has also been long enough to show to the satisfaction of every man that the rules of civility which govern the warfare of knightly gentlemen are merely mocked and abused by the brutal Hun, whether at home or in the field, whose instinctive blood-lust knows no law but to kill.

In our own daily experience a band of midnight marauders were abroad, killing and destroying; night after night would we calmly wait until we could summon the officers of the law and, with elaborate legal process, entrap the criminals and summon them before the court for punishment or, as a safeguard for our sleeping women and children, would we shoot, and shoot to kill, as soon as we caught sight of their fiendish faces?

We hear much of these chivalric motives which restrain England from reprisals. Is it, in point of fact, true that the chivalry to expose English women and children to the merciless raids of these arch-fiends of the skies?

Is there any excuse for pursuing a policy which is solicited for by the foul-mouthed females of Germany who spit upon the English wounded and even in the ranks of the Red Cross distinguish the emblems of a nurse by deliberately refusing aid to those who wear a British uniform?

As the manufacturers record of last week forcibly pointed out, it is time to have done with this sentimentality about the German people not being our enemies. They are our bitter and inveterate foes, and they are loud in their demands that this business warfare upon innocent civilians should go on.

It is a known fact, as the News has pointed out, that a single midwife upon one of the interior German cities spread such abject terror among the people that for a brief moment they clamored for a re-employment of these raids. Their dull, untrained minds can understand nothing but the force they have defied, and they should have it thrust into their very eyes until they employ their Government to end these murderous raids.

This grossly-mistaken mercy to the enemy is called a crime by the hundreds of women and children who even now, under all the laws of probability, stand marked for slaughter as they sleep.

The foregoing, from the Macon News, does not begin to tell the full story. The death of the women and children by the murderous campaign of Germany is a small part of the heinous crimes of which the soldiers are guilty. For a long time in the medical academies of this country have been quietly discussing whether in view of the countless outrages upon the women of France and Bel-

DR. MAYO TO CONFER ON MEDICAL STAFF

Minneapolis, Minn., July 10.—Dr. William J. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., today is on his way to Washington to confer with the Government officials relative to building up a central medical staff in Washington which will assure American soldiers the best medical service while in the field. Other leading medical men of the country also will attend the conference.

Reports that Dr. Mayo and his brother, Charles H. Mayo, would go to France to work lacked confirmation.

GOVERNOR CONTERS AT WAR DEPARTMENT
 Manning Goes to Washington to See Situation in South Carolina.

Washington, July 10.—In order to effect the work of leaders in the so-called "reform" movement in South Carolina, who have made several trips to Washington recently in the effort to have war department officials believe Gov. Manning was a "separatist" against them in naming the exemption boards for South Carolina, and at the same time to make a strong appeal to Secretary Baker and other officials in behalf of South Carolina as the place for one of the military plants. Gov. Manning today held an important conference with Secretary Baker, Brig. Gen. Crowder, provost marshal, and others. The governor went over the whole war situation as it exists in South Carolina, and as he officially, and as heretofore, the confidence remains in him as far as the military interests of that State are concerned.

SPRINGSTEIN NOTES.
 As a follow-up of Baby Health Week and the Contest held last Friday, Dr. McConnell was asked to speak to the Civic Club on Monday night at the Community Building. He gave a very helpful and practical talk, dealing with the prevention of typhoid poisoning.

Rev. C. C. Herbert by invitation of the ladies of the Boy Scout Society, held a half-hour talk at the Men's Reading Room Monday evening, and helped them get ready for the organization of the Chester Troop number 37.

Thirty young people were present for the Pook Party on Tuesday evening.

The two founding classes are making vegetable salads just now. A salad display showing variety will be arranged for the Mothers who come to the Club on Friday afternoon.

The shower baths are very much in demand during this weather.

Mr. B. F. Cato, the new overseer of the Beaming Department has moved his family over from Charlotte. They are a welcome addition to our community.

Springstein is patriotic. At least one dozen of her members are wearing the khaki, and the flag still floats from the mill tower, though the one on the Community Building staff is down.

Recent additions to the Men's Reading Table are magazines conducted by H. S. Adams, W. W. Mr. Powell, and others. Mr. W. H. Mr. S. S. Austin and the Record by Harvey Davis.

CONGRESSWOMAN MAY BE AT FILBERT PICNIC
 York, July 12.—Thursday, August 22, promises to be a red letter day for Filbert, county of York, a hamlet which only assumes the proportions of a city once a year. Incidentally Thursday, August 22, is going to mark an epoch in the history of South Carolina, because on that day the first Congresswoman ever elected in the United States will speak in this State. Suffragettes of the State, and they are numerous, Lord knows, will take notice accordingly.

Plans for the annual Filbert picnic are fast maturing. The program committee has heard from a number of the invited speakers and it is practically certain that a number of big names, not only of the State but of the nation, are coming to Filbert on August 22, and from that little village deliver the folks a message.

A letter from Congressman Stevenson received recently states that Miss Rankin is very much interested in her proposed trip to Filbert, and that she certainly will present August 22, unless something unforeseen arises. Congressman Tom McKeown of Oklahoma, who by the way, is a native of Chester county, has accepted the invitation to be present. Congressman Tom Filbert himself will talk and speak at Filbert next month. Dr. Olin Sawyer of Georgetown, mayor of that pretty little city and a cooking good speaker, states positively that he will be at Filbert. Ex-Governor Please writes, "You know I'm there" and Senator John L. McLaurin and Congressman Stevenson are equally emphatic.

The good women of Filbert say are already looking the chickens over and the slaughter of fowls is going to be great about August 1, and greater still on picnic day which follows. In addition to many good speeches, a balloon will ascend heavenward and there will be much entertainment of all kinds.

AIR RAID MENACES POWER OF PREMIER
 London, July 10.—The debate last night in secret session on the air raid seems to have exonerated Lord French from blame in the eyes of most of the members of the House of Commons, but the general effect does not strengthen the position of the Government there. The members feel that the War Cabinet failed to estimate properly the extent of the aeroplane menace to London, although of course great efforts will be made now to cope with it effectively.

The Premier's figures on airplane construction in France on a good impression, but he gave no reason why the acceleration had not begun instantly when the present Government took office, instead of considerably afterwards. Lloyd George's continued power over the House of Commons in the only substantial step supporting the Government, "which has still done of it the Mississippi" debate, in which a failure to satisfy the public opinion was made of considerable effect. HEAVY PENALTY PROVIDED IN CASE OF FALSE OATH
 Within the course of a few days it will, no doubt, be necessary for a number of Chester citizens to make affidavits regarding the exemption of various parties who will be selected under the provisions of the new military law.

Every citizen should be familiar at this time, with the criminal code of the United States regarding such and we are advised that sections 47-125 and 337 for the benefit of our readers.

"Any person who shall make of a party to the making of a false statement or certificate as to the fitness or liability of himself or any other person for service under the provisions of this act, or registration made by the President, thereunder, or otherwise evade or aids another to evade the requirements of this act or of said regulations, or who in any manner, shall fail or neglect fully to perform any duty required of him in the execution of this act, shall, if not subject to military law, be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in the district court of the United States having jurisdiction thereof, be punished by imprisonment for not more than one year, or if subject to military law, shall be tried by court-martial and suffer such punishment as the court-martial may direct."

If two or more persons conspire either, to commit any offense against the United States in any manner, or for any purpose, and one or more of such parties do so, the effect of the conspiracy, each of his part, to such conspiracy shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both.

Whoever, having taken an oath before a competent tribunal, officer, or person, in any case in which a law of the United States authorizes an oath to be administered, that he truly, declares, depose, or certify truthfully, or that any written declaration, deposition, or certificate, which he subscribed, is true, shall willfully, and contrary to such oath, state or subscribe any material matter which he does not believe to be true, is guilty of perjury, and shall be fined not more than $2,000, or imprisoned not more than five years.

Whoever directly commits any act constituting an offense defined in any law of the United States, or aids, abets, counsels, commands, induces or procures its commission, is deemed to have committed such offense.

Civic Fights Had Nothing to Do With Decision—Railroad Official Admits We Need Something Done

The following letter from Mr. John G. Richards, Chairman of the South Carolina Railroad Commission, to Mr. W. L. Stanley, Assistant to the President of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, at Atlanta, Ga., will be of interest to Chester people. Mr. W. L. Stanley, Ass. to Pres. SEAB. Ry. Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir:

Replying to yours of June 29th file S. C. 214, in regard to depot at Chester, S. C.:

The Commission feels that you have misunderstood its purpose in issuing order for construction, when the order was issued, but we were prompted by the necessity which should be apparent to everyone. You yourself admit that the expenditure and these improvements are only intended for a temporary purpose, therefore it seems that we are all agreed that in the near future it is absolutely necessary to have an entirely new depot to meet the demands at Chester. The Commission has also taken into consideration, in reaching its decision, the excellent revenue which your road derives from the city of Chester, and has done so for a long period of years. We have taken into consideration the conditions of the country, we have taken into consideration the fact that we have considered this question in all of its phases, but we unanimously stand by our past action and feel that new depot, adequate for several years, should be erected at Chester without unnecessary delay.

Very truly yours,
JOHN G. RICHARDS,
Chairman.

BANQUET ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

The informal banquet held on the large lawn of Mr. F. McCullough on York street, yesterday afternoon for the members of Company G, First South Carolina Infantry, was most enjoyable affair, as was attested by all present.

Several days ago it became known that the members of this company, who have been located in Chester for several weeks, would be called away and the Chester Chamber of Commerce, assisted by the ladies of the City League, decided to give the company a farewell banquet. An excellent menu was prepared by the ladies and was served on lovely tables which had been erected on the spacious lawn. The committees in charge of the banquet, of which Mrs. W. F. McCullough was chairman, deserve to be commended for the high standard of excellence spread prepared for the members of the company. The cigars were furnished by the Moffat Grocery Company and the cocktails by Mr. John M. Jones.

Appropriate talks were made by Mr. A. J. Stringfellow, R. M. Spratt, Mr. O. D. Lloyd and Rev. Baby Phillips and Herbert after which the members of the company enjoyed a social hour with the citizens of the town.

The Company left with the train this morning for Columbia, where they will be placed on board of the train for the night and will arrive at the depot about four miles from the city.

HATRED OF AMERICA INTENSE IN GERMANY

Pamphlet Dishing W.H. Punishment of United States Daily Discussed.

The Hague, July 10.

The latest specimen of childish nonsense published in Germany is a pamphlet of about thirty pages called "Die Strafe Amerikas," or translated, "America's Punishment." The pamphlet deals with the punishment that it hopes is coming to America after the war, but says nothing of how Germany hopes to punish America. It indicates that an intense hatred of America is growing in Germany. Your correspondent learns that another pamphlet of this style is expected to be published in a few days. The price of each is ten cents. The pamphlet says:

"Twenty years hence America will find herself in the same position as Germany now occupies. The Americans were the German people who were ready to defend their country or go under. America will be defeated and Germany will be victorious."

The pamphlet further explains that South and Central America and Mexico will turn against America and that Canada also will be a dangerous enemy; that America at present "thinks merely of material interests and success, but will pay dearly for her sins."

Koehnke, commenting on America's aerial program, says that it will be comparatively easy to find air-planes which will not come in contact with the German aviators and which will not be shot down and without danger; but that as for the proposed 100 schools, the Americans doubtless have no intention of carrying them out. Koehnke, commenting on America's aerial program, says that it will be comparatively easy to find air-planes which will not come in contact with the German aviators and which will not be shot down and without danger; but that as for the proposed 100 schools, the Americans doubtless have no intention of carrying them out.

The paper continues that the statement of America's wonderful new inventions does not in the least surprise any one from the "land of unlimited possibilities," as it is considered necessary with every fresh report and it would be most surprising if the Americans let this opportunity for advertisement of their inventive power escape them.

"We shall probably receive many more astounding figures until the time when American arms appear on the west front," says the paper.

"Our armies are prepared to wait calmly the days when the Americans come out, not under the fire of our machine reports, but of our machine guns."

"Quality First"

After an hour's wait captors and captives marched to the depot, where another squad on duty had taken charge of several hundred more men. At 9:30 o'clock the prisoners were lined up two abreast. Flanked by 2,000 heavily armed citizens the captives were ordered to march down the railroad tracks toward Warren. At Lowell, a squad of about 300 more alleged I. W. W.'s were merged into the procession.

The baseball park at Warren was chosen for the place of assembling the men to be deported. Word of the "clean up" had preceded the sheriff and his men, and when the prisoners reached the park hundreds of spectators on the scene set up jeers. For two hours leaders of the Industrial Workers attempted to make themselves heard above the hoars and jeers of the crowd. When it seemed as if the park would hold no more additional squads of prisoners were packed in and the jeers were increased.

Shortly before noon, a special train of cattle cars rolled up to the park. The prisoners were marched in single file from the enclosure to the railroad and on to the cars. As each man entered the box, he addressed to the authorities, he was asked if he wanted to go to work as an additional squad of prisoners. Those who expressed a desire for employment were held for further questioning every one on the streets. Tonight hundreds of men are parading the streets. Every male citizen is armed, some with shotguns and others with revolvers and rifles.

Mrs. F. L. Whitlock underwent an operation at the Chester Sanitarium Tuesday evening.

GROWING ONION SETS.
Clemson College, S. C., July 12—Onion sets are grown from comparatively poor land in the early spring. They are not thinned at all nor are they fertilized, and on account of being planted so thick they produce only onions of very small size. These are gathered as soon as the necks begin to wither and bind and are stored in the same way as described for mature onions. An onion set should not be more than 2-3 of an inch in diameter. If large sets are planted they will frequently rot to set the following spring without increasing the size of the bulb. Therefore it is very necessary to select small size onion sets rather than large ones for planting.

Varieties.—The best varieties of onions to grow in the South for commercial purposes are White Pearl and Princesmaker. These are onions of large size, attractive appearance and very mild flavor. Bermuda onions may be grown in the sections of the South profitably. The Crystal Wax is probably the most satisfactory variety of this type.

To Our Friends and Patrons:

In view of the increased costs of labor and supplies as well as the high cost of living generally, we find it necessary to increase our charge for a shave from 10 cents to 15 cents—effective on and after Monday July 16, 1917 next. Our charge for cutting hair, shampoos, massages, etc. will remain as heretofore. We wish to assure our patrons of our sincere appreciation of their business, and of our continued efforts to give them as nice, clean, up to date shops as can be found in any city anywhere.

The Beauty Spot of the Blue Ridge Mountains

Chimney Rock and Bat Cave
SITUATED IN HICKORY NUT GAP.
There are many hotels and boarding houses and country homes where board can be obtained at lower rates than at any other section where the same class of accommodation is given. Before you make up your mind where to go, write us for printed information, which will be sent free of cost. If you want a few picture postal cards of the many beauty-spots around here, send 10 to 25 cents in stamps and we'll buy and send them to you.

Teachers of Public and Private Schools who want to take special courses under the most competent instructors should write "Literary, Arts and Handkerchief Association, Teachers who want to join the Teachers' Outing Club," where they share expenses, and thereby get their outing at smallest cost. Write "Outing Club."

Doctors, bankers, lawyers, merchants and manufacturers can get printed information that is of special interest to them. It costs less to send your family here than any other section. Furnished cottages, single rooms for housekeeping and tents can be rented at reasonable rates. Write for information. Address Thomas F. Turner, Bat Cave P. O., N. C.

JOIN THE RED CROSS

By joining or assisting the Red Cross Society you help the wounded soldiers and also help to keep down disease in the army. By keeping our soldiers well you help win the war. The following will give you an idea of the sickness in previous wars.

In the Mexican war 6% of disease to 1 from wounds. In the Crimean war France lost 10 men by sickness for every one killed. In our own Civil War 2 died from disease for each one shot. During the Franco-Prussian war 12 German died of sickness for every one killed in battle. But modern hygiene was so far advanced at the time of the recent Russo-Japanese war that the world was startled by the fact that for the first time in the history of armies there was only one death from disease for every 2 men who died fighting. In the present great war sanitation is working on a super-scale, and modern hygiene is rapidly cutting down the excessive death rate.

The better the health of our army the sooner we will win.
