TUESDAY, JULY 17.

Elsewhere in this issue we are publishing an article under the caption, "Shall it be dogs or children to starve?" We would suggest that every woman who has a child which is the habit of playing with a dog or cat, read this article. There are some excellent advice in this article, if one will but practice it.

Teachers attending the National Education Association Convention in Portland, Oregon, Wednesday, divided on the question of whether the association should recommend that male teachers be exempted from the selective draft.

We fall to see any reason why teachers, as a class, should be exempted any more than other citizens and it is a surprise that they should even register such a thing. There are plenty of teachers other than those between 21 and 31 years of age, who are able to handle the school situation during the war.

Fifteen years ago it was a very common occurrence to see men under the influence of whiskey, on the streets any day in the week. Fifteen years ago many men drank and kept whiskey in their stores for their best customers. Today it is entirely different and fifteen years from now we can look back and see where another change for the better has taken place.

The greatest prohibition worker is not the fellow who gets on the platform and says, "Down with John Dillinger." The greatest prohibition worker today is the man who supervises the railroads and the other employees. During recent years there has been a mutual understanding among the railroads that they would not employ a drunkard and this, to our mind, has done more for the prohibition cause than the ballot. If every man who supervises men would agree not to hire any man who drank intoxicants it would have a better effect than a national prohibition law passed by Congress. The time is coming when it will be the case and that time is not far away.

The Department of Labor announced a few days ago that it had inaugurated a plan for mobilizing adult male volunteers for service in employments of every kind, public and private, which are necessary to the effective conduct of the war. Those who are willing to engage in such service, whether in a voluntary or wage-earning capacity, are asked to enroll as members of the United States Public Service Reserve. Detailed information as to the qualifications of each member will be obtained, studied and recorded. Arrangements have been made to get prompt information of opportunities for service. Available members will be put in touch with governmental departments and other agencies which need men for work of value to the nation.

A certificate of enrollment and an appropriate badge or button will be given each member. The application form of the reserve states: "I hereby apply for membership in the United States Public Service Reserve, United States Department of Labor, and request registration in its records of the accompanying description of my training, experience, aptitudes and capacity for service. I further request that the United States Public Service Reserve, when it learns of a need, in public or private employment, for service in the national interest of a man of my qualifications, to notify me with particulars, including duties and compensation, and hereby afford me an opportunity to accept or decline my assignment to the reserve. I make this application because I desire a contribution in this way to the national effort, and will do my utmost to do so."

The estimate of the duration of the war are merely speculative. There is no way for the average layman to conservatively set a date for the termination of the conflict. Anyway, if the conflict lasts for any length of time this government is going to be forced to set a price on farm products. We see no sane way to get around this fact.

Already men are leaving the farms for manufacturing centers where wages are on the upward curve. The Government is going to secure farm labor at a dollar a day when a manufacturing plant will pay that same laborer three dollars a day. To win this war we must have the fruits of the soil and the only reasonable way to get the fruits is to set a price so that the owner of the soil will know just how much he can afford to pay for his labor.

Let the American army of democracy, the 600,000 chest-graders, suffer more casualties from moral disorders than from the shells of the enemy. There must be a military re-orientation in prohibitions against vice and intemperance. The wastage of the Spanish-American war was from lack of instead of having front-line mosquitoes in place of missiles from flies and disease rather than from the destructive force of the Spanish.

Science and sanitation triumphed over the mosquito. Now it remains for scientific armies of sanitation to triumph over the ruthless enemies, booze and disease.

One can read in the draft law, in the regulations and in the expressions of Secretary of War Baker, that he means this army of 500,000 lean young Americans to be the first army that ever took the field and stayed in the field and returned from it held unscathed by the dual war of disease and intemperance. Secretary Baker is determined that the wounds inflicted on our army of liberation shall not be those inflicted by the central powers and not those so habitually inflicted by the army upon itself.

Recreation is to take the place of disease and indulgence. Adjoining houses and grounds are to be used in garbion to healthful exercise, to wholesome amusement, to off-hour sports, to athletics, to play and to the degrees that healthy men indulge in at home.

ABSENTEE EXEMPTION CLAIMS AND EXAMINATIONS.

The Provost Marshal General has issued the following: "The question now most commonly asked is whether it is necessary for an absentee, if unable to return to his home, to file a physical examination and for a hearing on his exemption claim." This point is covered by section 29 of the exemption regulations.

"Sec. 29. Local boards may order the physical examination of any person called and the hearing on a claim for exemption or discharge transferred to another local board when the order in which a person is called is for military service and has been determined and a certificate that he has been called for service mailed as required by section 15 hereof if it is shown to the satisfaction of the local board having jurisdiction of his registration card that because of his permanent removal or necessary absence it is impracticable for him to be physically examined by or to file a claim for exemption or discharge and the affidavit in support thereof with such local board an order may be entered directing his physical examination and the hearing of any claim for exemption or discharge filed by or in respect of him to be made and determined by another local board to be designated in such order.

"However, no such application may be filed or no such order entered until after the order in which he is liable to be called for military service is determined by the local board having jurisdiction of his registration card and until after the order that he has been called for service has been mailed as required by section 15 hereof.

"The local board designated in any such order shall be considered to have jurisdiction to examine him physically and such local board and the district board having jurisdiction shall take and have jurisdiction to file and determine claims by or in respect of such person as though his registration card were in the possession of such designated board.

"However, the local board so designated and the district board having jurisdiction shall be considered as if at all times such person as to whom has been called for service by the local board having original jurisdiction, and unless such person is examined or discharged, he shall be certified to the adjutant general if the State, Territory or District, as the case may be, in which he is registered as not exempted or discharged. Thereupon the adjutant general shall certify to the district board having jurisdiction at the place to which he is fixed pursuant to address from the Adjutant General of the Army and that he is considered in all respects as having been certified as not exempted or discharged by the district board having jurisdiction of the case in which he is registered, and the district board having jurisdiction of his registration card shall be considered as if he had been examined by the local board having jurisdiction of his registration card.

Perplexities of the Selective Draft. It was a foregone conclusion that the selective draft would be slow and attended by many difficulties. In view of the vast machinery which must be constructed of forty-eight States before the drafting of names can begin, it is not surprising that the date of the beginning has been postponed until the last week in July. If nearly 10,000,000 numbers are to be drawn, the work of the exemption boards will be enormous. But, of course, the men who held numbers in the first 600,000 men who will be required to fill the vacancies in the regular army and the National Guard and to form the first contingents of the national army, will get the first services of the exemption officers.

In this State there will be more than 60,000 of them, in Pennsylvania more than 60,000, in Illinois nearly 50,000. When men are drawn, others will take their places, and this operation of drafting and exempting will continue until the first contingent is obtained. This sort of work can scarcely be finished in a month. There need be no fear that the contingents will not be finished when the first increment of the national army is ready for training. For quite apart from the possible exemption of many men to escape service on more or less flimsy pretexts, which must all be investigated, there will be many exemptions for just cause.

Physical defects can be easily detected, if the examinations are thorough and systematic. It can hardly be hoped that the best results will be obtained in this regard until the first contingent is obtained. It will take time to decide in some cases whether or not the acceptance of a man for military service would be consistent with the public welfare. He may be too expert a mechanic to be sent soldiering, although not employed in any work of national importance. As a matter of fact, each case must be decided on its merits; the new soldier to be selected as individuals. They will doubtless be benefited by the brand-new system, and so will be examiners, but by the time the second draft is called for the machinery will be in good working order and the selection will be quick.

The country views the operation calmly and with confidence that an army so assembled will be a really democratic army, made up of the best material, and an army such as this country must always have hereafter.—New York Times.

SOUTH BEST FOR TRAINING CAMPS

Washington, July 16.—In a statement tonight, commending the War department policy of locating the first of the troop training camps in the South, Major Gen. Gorgas, surgeon general of the army, declared such an arrangement would have a great influence for good health and hence for military efficiency.

"I am strongly in favor of sites in the South for training camps because of health advantage to the men," said Gen. Gorgas. "The outstanding fact is that men trained in the South will have weather conditions permitting their being out of doors practically all of every day. In certain regions, wisely chosen, for National Guard camps, rain is scarce, in the winter when the heaviest training will be done—and at night soldiers here will sleep in quarters where there is free air circulation.

"There is, of course, a military advantage involved beyond the fundamental gain of having soldiers physically fit for their work. It is obvious that men-in-training should have the maximum hours per day and days per week for drill and exercise. The few weeks of summer weather, which soldiers in the South may encounter, will be more than offset by the long autumn and winter training during which the troops will undergo the larger part of their training."

United States Tires

Are Good Tires.

Today—tires cost less than ever

Your tires actually cost you less per mile today than they did a few years ago, provided you buy the right kind of tires.

In the first place, don't buy a nondescript tire that some dealer has a selfish price motive in selling to you.

Buy a tire with a name behind it—a tire, the quality of which must be so good that the reputation of a great Company is protected.

United States Tires, with the name of the largest rubber manufacturer in the world behind them, are safe tires to buy.

United States Tires are constructed under an exclusive time-tried vulcanizing process that is patented.

They are heavily built with the best materials that the markets of the world afford.

United States Tires are carried by the following Sales and Service Repots., who can tell you which of the five types of United States Tires exactly suits your needs: FENNEL-YOUNG-MOTOR COMPANY.

JOIN THE RED CROSS

By joining or assisting the Red Cross Society you help the wounded soldiers and also help to keep them from disease in the army.

By helping our soldiers well you help win the war.

The following will give you an idea of the sickness in previous wars.

In the Mexican war 9 died of disease to 1 from wounds. In the Crimean war France lost 10 men by sickness for every one killed. In our own Civil war 2 died from disease for each one shot. During the Franco-Prussian war 12 Germans died of sickness of every one killed in battle. No modern hygiene was so far advanced at the time of the recent Russo-Japanese war that the world was startled by the fact that for the first time in the history of armies there was only one death from disease for every 2 men who died fighting. In the present great war sanitation is working on a super-scale, and modern hygiene is rapidly getting down the excessive death rate.

The better the health of our army the sooner we will win.

The car of Deaver Little, of Great Falls, caught on fire last night and Mrs. Little was painfully but not seriously burned. The fire department was called out by a dash from Adams, Ga., where they extinguished the blaze. The accident occurred in front of the Rodney Reid Garage. Mr. Little had stopped to have his tank filled and used a match to ascertain how much gas he had in the tank. His hands and legs were painfully burned as a result and but for the prompt action of a bystander in smothering the flames the burns would have been serious. He was taken to the general laboratory and burns treated. —Rock Hill Herald, Monday P. M.

AMERICAN VANGUARD NEAR BATTLE FRONT

Party July 14.—The Vanguard of the American Troops who left on Thursday the seaport town where they have been encamped arrived at their permanent camp today. The men went into training immediately, notwithstanding the holiday order that had been issued by General Pershing.

Major General Sibert, who will be in command at the camp, lunched with the troops yesterday after watching the military spectacles of the day here, the two officers holding their final conferences before General Pershing's departure for the front. General Pershing will follow him after a time.

The American ambulance at Neuilly, just outside of Paris, will be normally turned over to the American army and the Red Cross next week in the presence of General Pershing and Justin Godart, under secretary of the hospital service, says the Paris Herald.

The ambulance committee will be dissolved and replaced by an officer of the American army, but the staff of surgeons and nurses will remain in the ambulance to care for the wounded just as it has been the outbreak of the war, only under a new name and management.

The Engineer's Commission which has been studying conditions here in the American army has ordered as the first essential for its training camp 123 miles of four-inch piping to carry water. In addition, $75,000 has been authorized for the construction of the trenches.

Later, the experience gained in this employment will be devoted to the digging of real trenches at the battle front.

The commission's investigations show it is necessary for a large supply of American portable barracks, because the troops often will be quarried in sections where there are no barracks. The houses in the houses have been destroyed in bombardments.

One of the largest shirt-clothes plants in the United States has been engaged to come to France to build and maintain the facilities at bases to be used by the American troops. The plants will be equipped with American machinery, derricks and other apparatus.

The Engineering Department evidently expects a large demand for shovels because it calls for 60,000 shovels in the plan of the line of field as well as 300,000 picks and 60 steam rollers. The Factory Corps will be ordered to 20,000,000 feet of wire rope for the most essential needs of the American army.

FIRST REGIMENT INVADEING GREENVILLE

Columbia, July 13.—A part of the supply company of the First Regiment, South Carolina Infantry, is en route to Greenville this morning preparatory to the movement of the entire regiment to that city.

A number of the units of the First Regiment are now quartered at the state fair grounds. Others are in different parts of the state, where they have been on guard duty, ready to move to Greenville. Three of the companies of the second battalion are at the campment site, six miles east of the town. The other companies of the second battalion will be stationed at the campment upon its arrival here.

It is expected that the entire regiment with the exception of the second battalion, which will be left at Greenville, will be in campment, will be in Greenville within the next few days.

The Greenville Water Power company, of Greenville, which will see to it that the national guard camp to be established in Greenville is plentifully supplied with good water, was commissioned by Secretary of War W. Banks Dove today, with a prepared capital of $200,000, most of which, it is understood, has already been practically subscribed. The petitioners are C. S. Webb, A. L. Mills and J. C. Birnie, all of Greenville.

TRIP TO BOLL-WEELV DISTRICT

Mr. A. O. Lloyd, secretary of the Chester County Gunners' Association, is expected to leave for the trip to Boll-Weelv district, under the leadership of Mr. R. A. Riley, county demonstration agent for Chester county, are perfecting arrangements for an automobile trip through the boll-secr district of south Georgia.

At present the plans are to leave Chester August 10th, making the trip via Columbia, Augusta and Macon. The trip will take the party into districts where the weevil has made its invasion; districts into the section where the weevil is being combated for the second year and then into the section where the weevil has left.

Mr. R. A. Riley, secretary of the Black stock telephone exchange.

Mr. R. B. Bigham, of Cornwall, Route 1, is reported as being very ill at his home in that section.

TO GET DRUNK MAY BE A FEDERAL CRIME

Person Who Gets Liqueur For Medical Purposes and Then Uses it as Beverage Violates Federal Law.

So strict is the federal law prohibiting shipments of whiskey into "dry" territory which took effect July first, that there is a possibility that a strict interpretation of the federal law may become a cause for the offender to be tried in the federal court and sentenced to fine or imprisonment for his first offense and imprisonment without alternative of fine for subsequent offenses. While the authorities may not push the law this far it can readily be seen that when a man is drunk, this is in most cases prima facie evidence that he has used whiskey for beverage purposes and it is not shown that the whiskey was ordered by the offender under the pretenses of using for medicinal purposes, as is the requirement in this State and then used it for beverage purposes, he is liable to prosecution for violation of the federal law.

The new Federal law imposes very strict regulations upon the receipt of whiskey in "dry" states, of which South Carolina is one. A letter has just been received here by the United States attorney at Washington, instructing the local authorities with reference to the new law, and pointing out some of its main features.

According to this letter, every form of liquor transportation into dry territory, except in the manner and for the purposes specified in the law, is prohibited.

A federal offense to bring liquor into the state on the person, by private conveyance, or in baggage, as well as by common carrier, except by the use of a license issued by the judge of probate and a permit received as provided by the state law.

Assistant District Attorney Mayes has advised in the United States law that it has his understanding that if a person makes an affidavit and secures a permit for the shipment of liquor on the ground of receiving it for medicinal purposes, and then after the liquor is received, uses it for beverage purposes, he is liable to prosecution in the federal court.

The federal act prescribes a penalty of six months imprisonment, or both for the first offense, and not more than a year's imprisonment for subsequent offenses.

No cases have yet come to the attention of the federal authorities in this district, under the new federal act.—Greenville Piedmont.

SOLDIER HID WIFE ON ARMY TRANSPORT

Corporal Said to Have Brought His Bride All the Way from Arizona.

An Atlantic City, July 15.—A young woman attired in khaki and with her black hair cut short returned to the United States today as a military prisoner after an unsuccessful attempt to pass an American passport. The woman is said to be the bride of a Corporal, who, having been married just before the first American army left for France, smuggled his wife aboard the vessel.

The woman left America with a regiment from Douglas, Ariz. One name of the pseudo-soldier was withheld. The Corporal is said to have said of his bride past the embarkation officers as a member of his squad. With her dark hair clipped short and wearing masculine features it was difficult to detect her identity.

It was learned that the woman showed away for three days after the transport sailed and was discovered by the army surgeon when the corporals' squad, with others belonging to the same company, were roused about the ship's deck to have their throats examined. Early the same morning there had been rumors current among the soldiers and members of the crew of the transport that a woman had stowed away on board disguised as a soldier. The surgeon was notified of this and requested by the commanding officers of the two regiments on the ship to keep a strict lookout.

As soon as the woman was detected she was placed under guard in one of the after-deck cabins, and no one was allowed to communicate with her. The woman will not be released until the federal authorities have decided that it is to be done with her. It could not be ascertained today whether the soldier would be sent back to Douglas, or whether she would be punished for impersonating a soldier.

Members of this and other regiments of the army officers said that they could not understand how the disguised woman traveled with the regiment from Arizona and was not detected several days in the barracks at the port whence the transport sailed. It was denied, they said, that all members of the Corporal's squad must have been in the secret and aided in bringing her from detection.

Mr. T. A. Crosser was awarded the prize July 14th. Special Watch to be given away July 21st.
