Greatest Monument to Southern Solidarity
They were talking about the Confederate monument, those two old veterans, Wallace Mijler and U. T. Brooks. The former was a scout for Butler, the kind of scout who had more hair than a porcupine and whose average netlist produces in two volumes. Col. Brooks was a member of the same brigade and not only a gallant soldier but also a student of his love for the Lost Cause by writing a history of the South Carolina troops in the Confederacy.

Is not Prohibition the Issue?
Mr. Editor:—We beg the use of your columns to call the attention of the people of Chester county and the state to the caption of this article, viz: Is not prohibition the issue in the present political campaign? We are sure of it. If we are not sure just now as to what we are going to do, now it strikes us as a very favorable time for the people to make it the decisive issue. If they ever revert to the issue of prohibition, the lines are clearly drawn, but until the people of every county in the state awake to the importance of the issue, and elect a class of men, we cannot expect the same principles in the legislature upon which the present governor is making the race, even if he is elected very little will be accomplished.

The South Carolina "Lynch"?
Philadelphia, July 11.—No more perfect launching ever took place on the sea than that of the battleship South Carolina, which slid off the ways at Grays shipyard today after 125 men had hammered for half an hour at the wedges of the battleship. Frederick's cradle and the shoe or sole had been sawed to release her.

Must Tell It
When Well-Known Chester People Tell It So Plainly
When publication is made by a representative citizen of Chester the proof is positive. You must be bold to read this testimony. Every backache sufferer, every man, woman or child with any kidney trouble will find profit in the reading.
A. Kennedy, living at 1011 French St., Chester, S. C., says: "I have been using Doan's Kidney Pills for several years. It makes me feel as if I am a different man. I have been proved to be a sufferer that does not know what a sufferer is. I am a sufferer that does not know what a sufferer is. I am a sufferer that does not know what a sufferer is."

Six Generations.
A colored family with six generations now represented in strong and healthy life lives in the upper part of South Carolina. Mrs. Minna J. LaGrande, while on a visit to relatives at Lewis Turnout, Chester county, S. C., made a list of the names in the link.
This family heads up in old Aunt Huldah Gaston, a faithful slave and the oldest person in the county. Her father, Dr. Brown Gaston, father of Mrs. R. A. Torrence, of Charlotte. Aunt Huldah still lives on or near the old home place in Chester county. She came of one of the most intelligent of the African tribes and in a fight with one of the men slaves one day also suffered a badly torn hip. Dr. Gaston being away at the time, Mrs. Gaston undertook to sew the hip back but got it crooked, and so it has remained to this day giving Aunt Huldah a severe limp. The names of her family reflect those of leading white families in upper South Carolina, with whose names and Huldah's descendants are intertwined. The names and ages of the six generations follow:
Huldah (Gaston): 90 years.
Patsy (Huldah): 75 years.
Amanda (Patsy): 50 years.
Nora (Amanda): 30 years.
Annie (Nora): 25 years.
Elnor (Annie): 2 years.

Was in Poor Health for Years.
Mrs. W. Kelley, of Mansfield, Pa., writes: "I was in poor health for years, suffering from kidney and bladder trouble, and spent considerable money in visiting physicians without obtaining any marked benefit, but was cured by Foley's Kidney Cure, and I desire to add my testimony in regard to the efficacy of the medicine."
Foley's Kidney Cure, sold by all druggists.

Responsibility and Manliness.
Tom Reed once defined a statesman as "a man who is a politician who is dead." That, without disrespect, would seem to apply to Grover Cleveland, and especially since, a successful politician, he never at the start, when responsibilities were thrust upon him, he seems to have heroically met every emergency and the record of these achievements are so numerous they really make up a crown worthy to place upon the statesman's brow. Grover, though, in the early campaign, how he was maligned and vilified as to his personal habits. If even a portion of those were true does it not prove that responsibility is a creator of manliness in men? Take as examples Charles S. Grand and Grover Cleveland—Bridgton (Me.) News.

YOURS FOR BUSINESS
CHESTER WHOLESALE GROCERY COMPANY
It was fair time in Selkirk, and Sandy and his sweetheart were watching round arm in arm, enjoying the sights. Presently they espied a smart looking pie shop, which they promptly entered. Sandy ordered one pie and sat down and commenced to eat. Meanwhile the girl looked shyly on. "I'll give you a pie," she timidly asked.
"Yes, it's awful fine, Jennie," he answered. "Ye should buy one!" Penny victrolia.

Judge Mackey, riding down town on a street car in Washington met a group from the south who were accompanied by one of the cabinet officers. At the next crossing an old negro woman, loaded down with bundles, Judge Mackey gave up his seat. This act drew the comment of the southern man who pointed out to the cabinet officer the average feeling of the southern man in a case of this kind. The cabinet officer desired to meet the judge and was introduced. After some conversation the cabinet officer asked Judge Mackey where he had been arrested.
"Not far from the Confederate monument," replied the judge.
"The Confederate monument; where that is in Washington?"
"Why, you are new in Washington, are you not?" queried the judge. "It is one of the most impressive monuments in the world. It is the pension building."
There was no further argument and he is said afterwards that the cabinet officer reaching his office, in a few hours in adding up the $150,000,000 year given the northern soldiers since 1861 for pension, it was generally agreed that tribute to the valor of the southern soldier was the best of monuments.—The State.

Best of World Affairs.
"It gives me unbounded pleasure to recommend Buckner's Aerial Salve," says J. W. Jenkins, of Chapel Hill, N. C. "I have used it many times and it never fails to heal every sore, burn or wound to which it is applied."
R. J. Jenkins, Dr. Smith Martin.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as the cause cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by restoring the inflamed and congested membrane of the middle ear. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the membrane lining the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or humming in the ear. If left entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation is taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be impaired for ever. Catarrh, which is the result of an inflamed condition of the mucous membrane.
We will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who can be cured by Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. Write to J. C. Jencks, Dr. Smith Martin, Sold by Druggists.

Cost Line Agent Gone Wrong.
Hartsville, July 12.—William P. Woodward, agent for the Atlantic Coast Line railroad in this city, disappeared last evening immediately after an official of the American Surety company of New York issued a warrant to be issued for his arrest, charging him with having embezzled $6,000 belonging to the railroad company. The shortage was discovered by Tracy Adinor, Auditor, who has not yet completed his examination of the accounts of this agency. The accused has been connected with the railroad company here for 15 years, during which time he enjoyed an excellent reputation.

Man of Numerous Offspring Dead.
Camphole, July 12.—Spencer Ballard, the oldest man in this community and one of the substantial life-long citizens of this place, died June 28, 1888, at the residence of a remarkably strong man in body and in mind. His life is remarkable not only in the length of it, but also because of the unusual posterity he has left behind.
This remarkable man having been but once married he had 12 children born to him. At his death he had 21 grand-children, 3 great-grandchildren, 12 great-great-grandchildren, a total of 220 souls. There are living at this time six of his own children, 26 of his grand-children, 12 great-great-grandchildren and 128 souls.

Caught After Five Years.
Tom Covington, colored, was arrested in Wilmington, N. C., last week, charged with the theft of an express package in 1887 without the consent of the Bennettsville office of the Southern Express company to Wilmington. The package contained $250.00 and was not returned until the preliminary examination in Fayetteville and made a full confession, implicating another negro, Will Gaines. Covington had had Gaines divided the money. Gaines giving him $220 and retaining the rest for himself.
Pinkerton detectives have been quietly working on the case for the past five years and are quite fortunate in landing the thief after this long time.
Covington is said to be a South Carolina negro.—Columbia State.

Something Should Be Done
What is causing the increase of Catarrh in Chester?
Catarrhal test is increasing, not only in Chester, but all over the country.
Catarrh is a germ disease, and to cure it, germ life in the nose, throat and lungs must be destroyed, and this can be done only by breathing in pure, sterile air. This is done by the use of the Sterilizer, which is a simple apparatus that is used in the nostrils. It is a germicide, and it is the only germicide that is used in the nostrils. It is the only germicide that is used in the nostrils. It is the only germicide that is used in the nostrils.

To Succeed "Uncle Remus."
Julian Harris has been elected editor of Uncle Remus Home Magazine to succeed his father, Jos. Chandler Harris. The new editor has been general manager of the paper since it was started.
The election of Mr. Harris to the editorial position filled by his father is peculiarly fitting, in that he has written the "Uncle Remus" stories. He is a journalist of much experience and a writer of considerable talent. He has been through the mill of newspaper work, filling responsible positions on the leading papers of the country. He has also written short stories, poems and plays of much merit.—Anderson Mail.

Catarrhal test is increasing, not only in Chester, but all over the country.
Catarrh is a germ disease, and to cure it, germ life in the nose, throat and lungs must be destroyed, and this can be done only by breathing in pure, sterile air. This is done by the use of the Sterilizer, which is a simple apparatus that is used in the nostrils. It is a germicide, and it is the only germicide that is used in the nostrils.
