THE EVENING STAR

Vol. XI, No. 88.

CHESTER, S. C., TUESDAY, AUGUST 11, 1908.

COMPANY A, 17TH REGIMENT.

Sketches of the Men and Movements of the Company From Establishment to the End of the War.

We remained at Camp Lee until about the 1st of Feb. 1862, when we moved to Camp Fallow, on John's Island. About this time or soon afterwards the brigade known as Evans' brigade, was formed, consisting of the 11th, 18th, 22nd and 23rd regiments of the Holcomb Legion. The last named command consisted of a regiment of infantry, one battery (Macedon's) and one company of cavalry. Peter F. Starke was commander of the Holcomb Legion. He had been promoted and given the command of the brigade on military standing and during the war would have been quite different. Our work consisted in drilling and policing John's Island. We were ordered by larger hands to leave their homes and plant their negroes elsewhere, except a few old negroes who were of little value anyway. Many of these people had quiet homes that were wrecked and were sent to the workhouse. When he said it was "Hell," I have often wondered if Tecumseh has not long since realized the meaning of that word. No man with first-class of a gentleman, much less a Christian, would make war with women and children and decrepit old men, burn their houses from the hearth to the eaves and destroy all the stock and burn and destroy all the provision his people could not carry away. Tecumseh Starke was a brave and noble man. On the 22nd of May the regiment was reorganized for Confederate service. There were many changes in the personnel of the regiment. Officers retired and he was in poor health at the time. We reorganized for Confederate service on the 10th of May, 1862. J. H. Means, Fairfield, was re-elected captain. E. McNeister, of Columbia, was re-elected lieutenant colonel. Stark Means, of Colonel Means, defeated Julius J. Chester, for major. Stark Means had been a member of the 17th regiment. Col. Chester was born and reared in Fairfield county. J. W. Cotton was a lieutenant in Co. A, also of Fairfield county. A. also of Fairfield county. Means was appointed adjutant. Inasmuch as the 17th regiment was reorganized, the 17th regiment was reorganized. The 17th regiment was reorganized. The 17th regiment was reorganized.

Diarrhoea Cured.

My father has for years been troubled with diarrhoea, and tried every remedy possible to effect a cure, but without success. He was advised to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy advertised in the Philadelphia Record, and decided to try it. The result is one I could not believe. He has now sound and well, and although thirty years old, he is as vigorous as a young man. Sold by all druggists.

An Undervalued Speech.

J. G. Huntington started for the convention Saturday to represent South Carolina. He carried a speech with him in which he would urge the convention to take an influence over to Bryan—Carolina's support. Of course I don't want to deceive you," said Mr. Shepard, "I intend, if I am allowed to finish, to nominate Mr. William J. Bryan. The hall broke into a wild uproar, a dozen delegates madly struggling in the main aisle in an attempt to reach Mr. Shepard. Names and hats were shaken at him furiously, while hordes of excretion went up from all sides of the hall. Associated Press report of independence convention.

Ten Years in Bed.

"For ten years I was confined to my bed with disease of my kidneys. I had tried every remedy, but nothing helped. I was advised to try Foley's Kidney Pills, and after taking a few boxes I was able to get up. I am now as well as ever, and I can do all the work I wish to do. Let your doctor advise you.

The Business Outlook For 1908.

On all sides we see evidences that the tide has turned. A steady improvement from this time onward is to be expected for with confidence. In New York, Chicago, Pittsburg, St. Louis, Houston and other industrial centers mill after mill are reopening their doors. The stocks of goods in the hands of manufacturers and wholesalers have been reduced to low figures, and the assumption of purchases, which is under way in all the great lines of trade is beginning to send in orders to the factories with a little of their old-time volume.

Within the past three weeks the output of the mills of the United States Steel Corporation has been increased ten per cent over the average of recent months. The promise is that by the beginning of November that largest of the world's steel concerns will be running its works to nearly their full capacity. The iron and steel industry of the United States is almost half the country's product, and also responding to the upward turn in trade.

Improvement is registering itself in the reduction of the number of idle locomotives and cars. When the number was at its highest, in the closing days of April, 415,000 cars were stabled throughout the United States for lack of work. In the closing days of July the number had dropped to the 300,000 line. The heavy crops of wheat and corn are likely to send the number of idle cars down to very small figures before November. If the cotton crop is not so big as was expected, it will be a little larger of the business men of the country want it to be, and what they expect it to be very likely to be in the United States will probably be actively at work by January first.

As the country had a right to expect, the Circuit Court of Appeals of the decision of the District Court against the Standard Oil Company which involved the $25,000,000 case had a crushing effect on general trade. The case goes back to the lower court for a new trial, in which hysteria will probably have a smaller part than in the one which has just been set aside. The country wants to see the law enforced against all sorts of offenders, high and low, but we must protect the source of their appearance of a surrender to demagogic clamor. We must prevent protection from degenerating into anything like a protection for the weak. James W. Van Cleave, President National Association of Manufacturers in American Industries for August.

Men Past Sixty in Danger.

More than half of mankind over thirty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually accompanied by rheumatism. This is both painful and dangerous, and if neglected may lead to kidney stones, irregularities and has often proved the origin of the disease. Dr. J. C. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, is a powerful and safe remedy for all kidney troubles. It is a powerful and safe remedy for all kidney troubles. It is a powerful and safe remedy for all kidney troubles.

Pittsburg Doctors Find Lockjaw Cure.

Pittsburg, Aug. 6.—The Magee Anti-toxin, which was developed by the Pittsburgh, attached to the Mercy Hospital, comes to the fore with what is claimed is the first real cure for tetanus or lockjaw. Magnesium sulphate injected into the spinal column is said to have fourteen years of age, was discharged from the Pittsburg Hospital. He was one of the most severe cases to come under the notice of local physicians, and the new cure was watched with great interest. The boy was hurt with a toy pistol on July 4 and July 13 was carried to the hospital in convulsions. Injections of a 5 per cent solution of magnesium sulphate was started, and gradually increased to 15 per cent. By degrees the body of the boy, which had become rigid, resting only on the back for the last six weeks, began to relax. Anti-toxin, too, was used in good quantities to assist in the work of relaxing the muscles. All the hospital physicians here believe that there was no hope of anti-toxin saving the boy's life so far had the disease progressed before it was treated. The treatment lasted twelve days before the muscles of the body became once more pliant, and the last nine days have been spent by physicians in examining the boy and his condition is "wonderful." The boy was claimed by the Mercy hospital physicians.

Why James Lee Got Well.

Everybody in Zanesville, O., knows Mr. James Lee of rural Ross, Ohio. He was a very healthy man, but he was afflicted with a severe case of kidney trouble. He was advised to try Foley's Kidney Pills, and after taking a few boxes he was able to get up. He is now as well as ever, and he can do all the work he wishes to do. Let your doctor advise you.

Cultury of Cotton Growing.

In the year of Our Lord 1793 the United States produced 3,138 bales of cotton, weighing 600 pounds each, though as a matter of fact the actual total was up in 1793, and in 1800 only 25,000 bales; the price was 25 cents per pound and our exportations aggregated 770 bales and our imports 370 bales. This was the beginning of the history-work of cotton by the Government. Since then the statistics have been regularly kept, showing step by step the progress made from year to year. In 1890, or just 100 years, during which time the 13 states grew to 46 states, and during which time these states passed through the war with France in 1793, the war with England, the war with Mexico "Don't argue to your stunt" is said to have come from the Philippines.
Everybody who registers in order to be qualified to vote, as it may be a matter of some importance this year. And then, everybody ought to vote.

Those who do not know very well about either Bliet or Grace will be interested in the result of the election in Charleston, to see how they stand among the people who know them both.

The Record shows quite conclusively that the score of the Rock Hill team in the games of the State League could have been a little worse than it was. And now we see how it might have been done, if they could have burrowed under the cellar floor, on which Orangeburg was standing.

When a candidate feels inclined to call his competitor a liar and such, he ought to apportion to him on the shoulder and as little as possible, and into the woods with him, where there are no policemen to interrupt the fight, no women to faint and no children to run over by the fellow who has had a plant.

South Carolina may give a majority for the Democratic ticket but in many states this result will depend upon hard work that will cost money, and the Democratic party has not an army of office holders, great corporations and favored and grateful capitalists, to depend upon, as the Republican party has, and "must look to people of limited means for a large number of small contributions to defray local machine expenses."

We have a man in Anderson who wears Mr. Kern's quite well—Daisy Math.

We have a man in Union who used to buy vegetables from Mr. Kern's sister—Union Times.

We have a man in Branchville that tells us Mr. Kern's first cousin—Branchville Journal.

We have a man in Laurens whose daughter's first cousin's wife has bought vegetables just like those sold by Kern's sister—Bethel Advertiser.

We have a man in Clifton who is authority for the statement that he heard another man say that Maj. Henshall said that Mr. Kern was born in Charleston—Clifton Chronicle.

Charleston must have been in North Carolina then.

Mr. Blease, who was a member of the state senate and claims to have been an influential member, and therefore important, of that branch of the legislature, should be called upon to explain why he did not save the state from the extravagant appropriations, about which we are now hearing so much.

Also why a member of the commission to investigate dispensary frauds, he did all in his power to throw obstacles in the way of catching the grafters.

Also why, as an advocate of economy, he so strenuously opposed every effort to keep the dispensary fund out of the hands of Federal receivers, when we know that such receivership meant a loss of $200,000 or $300,000 to the state.

Also why he has not accepted Mr. Lewis W. Parker's challenge to tell what high state official was the South Carolina agent of Latham, the liquor dealer who swindled the state for a wholesale. Mr. Blease having admitted that he knows who that agent was, and Mr. Parker having understood Latham to say he was his office to go.

Also, having declared that Blease will stick to those who stick to Blease; will he now tell the voters whether, if elected, governor, he will stick to the dispensary grafters if they stick to him.

Also, will he say whether he thinks a governor should use his office to reward those who stick to him, rather than to elect men alike of all the people.

Also, if elected, governor, will he promise to protect the tax payers against all extravagant appropriations?

Letter to J. A. Owen.
Chester, S. C.
Dear Sir: If you should have bread that you wish to be made into any other and at less cost by the day you'd have a pretty good business wouldn't you? We have just such a business as that in this county. We can make any other gallon of paint in the county—that's bread at less cost, by the day; but the difference isn't so small as it is bread. And a job wears long that's bread at less cost by the day. People hate to paint, it costs money to paint, and they hate the smell. We can make any other gallon of paint in the county—that's bread at less cost, by the day; but the difference isn't so small as it is bread. And a job wears long that's bread at less cost by the day. For Railroad Commissioner. I beg to announce my candidacy for reelection to the office of Railroad Commissioner. I am making my campaign on the basis of "what I have done" and not on what I have done with. Those who have had business with the Railroad Commission will testify that I have ever been ready to discharge the duties of my office fearlessly, impartially, and to the best advantage of the people of South Carolina, and that I have always been content to leave the duties of my office to those desiring information and relief.

I am the only Railroad Commissioner who has moved his residence from Columbia to be in daily touch with the work of the office. During my term of office I have inspected personally every line of railroad in the state, often walking across the tracks that I might be assured that the conditions of the roadbeds and treaties were safe. I have been often in every county in South Carolina, looking into the conditions of stations, and improving the conveniences of the traveling public. I have stood for lower freight and passenger rates, better schedules, and safer modes of travel. This has endeared me to the people, and I have been formerly has always been appreciated, and has been an incentive to a faithful performance of my duties. I hope to have your support in the coming election, and shall strive to ever render you faithful service. Very truly, J. C. McFadden, Railroad Commissioner.
