Republican Candidate for Vice-President Accepts Nomination

SPEECHES MADE AT INDIANAPOLIS

Five Thousand People Enthusiastically Greeted the Speakers as They Appeared on the Veranda of the Fairbanks Home.

Indianapolis, Special.—Charles W. Fairbanks, senior United States Senator from Indiana, was yesterday formally notified of his nomination for vice president of the United States by the Republican convention. The notification address was made by Ellihu Root, former Secretary of War.

Mr. Fairbanks, who was in the city to see Senator Fairbanks' beautiful home at Sixteenth and Meridian streets, in the presence of members of the notification committee and many other invited guests. The day was one of the most beautiful of the year, and as Senator Fairbanks stood on the veranda watching the finishing touches being put to the preliminary arrangements, he smilingly said: 'This is the kind we used to call McKinley weather.'

Gathered at the residence were 5,000 people. Senator Fairbanks and Mrs. Fairbanks received the committee and the notification address. Mr. Root and Senator Fairbanks led the way to the veranda, where seats were provided for the notification committee.

An enthusiastic greeting was accorded the two speakers as they appeared on the veranda. The notification lasted for several minutes, during which the members of the committee were seated. Cheers broke out again and again and several recognitions were made.

Mr. Root, without preliminary address, declared that the nomination of Senator Fairbanks was the result of the action of the convention which now waits upon you was approved by the National Convention of the Republican party, held at Chicago in June, and its agreeable duty is to notify you of this fact.

We give you formal notice of that nomination which assures of a divided and hearty support of the great party which has executed the people's will. The government of the United States for the better part of the last half century. The nomination committee, by its action, has opened the way to a new era of representative government.

It is a great office to which you are called, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, and George Clinton, and John C. Calhoun, and Martin Van Buren, and many others whose names are in the history of our country, have filled it.

It is the office of high dignity and great importance. The credit and honor of our country are largely concerned in the manner in which you perform it.

to-sixth birthday. It is no disparagement to this gentleman, for whom I am sure the highest compliment can be said, that he shares the common lot of mortals, and that the election of any President would result in the death of the American people.

By attempt by such a man to perform the duties of the office would with practical certainty be speedily followed by a complete breakdown both of body and of mind.

Senator Fairbanks was given another ovation as he arose to accept the nomination. He said: 'I am deeply indebted to you for the honor which you have conferred upon me by nominating me for vice president of the United States.'

Committee: I thank you for the very kind and thoughtful attention which you have given to the official notification of my nomination for Vice President of the United States. The unswerving and unanimous nomination by the Republican party is a great honor.

I accept the nomination, which you have made with a profound sense of the honor and responsibilities of the office to which I have been nominated. My utmost endeavor will be to discharge the duties of the office to the best of my ability.

The platform adopted by the convention is an explicit and emphatic declaration of the principles of the party which have brought great honor and credit to our country.

The movement and economic policies which have been forcibly re-announced here at the very foundation of our republic are the essential elements of our national strength.

The enemies of sound money were powerless enough to suppress mention of the gold standard in the platform which has been adopted by the Democratic national convention.

FORESIGHT Multiplies its rewards daily. HINDSIGHT Spells only regret and disappointment. When you buy a steel range figure on its lasting practically a life time. A little "foresight" will help you. We Recommend Genuine JEWEL Steel Ranges. Because we can afford to—we know they are all right, and built to last. "Foresight" would suggest that no painted or enameled range could stand the heat, and you know what a fright a range looks when it chips and turns white, how hard it is to clean! Jewels are made of Blue Painted Steel, the smooth kind. Come ask us all about ranges—we're enthusiastic about Jewels. The Waters & Spratt Co.

When You Buy FURNITURE You must depend to a large extent on the honesty of the dealer. B-SHARP WE ARE NOT ANGELS (If we were we would be out of business) but whatever you buy of us at 25 per cent as we represent it to you or you get your money back. In all the years that we have been selling goods to the people we have not had one person say we cheated them or misrepresented our goods. WE NEVER MAKE A STATEMENT WE CAN'T BACK UP and we want to make one right now. We Can Save You One-Fourth on Your Furniture Purchases. Come to see us. Get our prices and let us show you how we get our goods at such a big discount below our competitors. There is a way to prove our statement too: Compare our prices with those of our competitors. EXAMPLER: Man came in our store the other day, said he wanted some furniture, picked out a low, had a fifty dollars; Man was surprised and said: "Why, that bill was a duplicate of a list I had picked out at a Furniture Store down street only your goods are much newer and they wanted seventy odd dollars." He had made twenty dollars in just a few minutes. We have his name if you want to know. Also that of lots of others who have had similar experiences. Moral is shown in our illustration. WORSE EVERY YEAR.
Plenty of Chester Readers Have the Same Experience.
Don't neglect an aching back. It will get worse every year. Backache is really kidney ache. To cure the back you must cure the kidneys. If you don't other kidney ills follow—Urinary troubles, dizziness, Bright's disease.

A Newberry citizen tells you how the cure is effected.
"I was J. H. Harris, chief of police of Newberry residing on First street. I suffered for some years from my back and kidneys and a dull aching across the middle of my back made me miserable especially at work when it was much worse. I had no rest in any position, the secretions were caused and full of sediment and caused me to rise a number of times during the night and between this annoyance and the backache it was impossible for me to get much sleep, which was fast undermining my general health. I tried a number of remedies, but when I saw the advertisement about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box nothing gave me relief. The use of this remedy according to directions promptly brought about a decided change for the better. After using two boxes the backache all left me, the kidney secretions cleared up and regulated their normal action and appearance."
Plenty more proof like this from Chester people. Call at Fryer-McKee Drug Co's store and ask what their customers report.
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McBride Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

I was all run down from an acute rheumatism and was unable to do any work and take a rest. I found that I was weak in strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as your WINE OF CARDUI was recommended to me as such a good medicine for the ill of the first bottle, and took three more, I found I was restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it a fine tonic and excellent for weakness, nervous conditions, and am pleased to endorse it.

Captain Roddey Lost.
Well, who would have thought! Capt. Roddey got lost Thursday in a neighborhood in which he was raised. He and Mrs. Roddey made a visit to Mr. J. N. Whitesides, at Lewisville, that day, and on the return they got lost. They were in a buggy and Capt. Roddey took the wrong road, finally finding himself at Rodman. Leaving there he drove for the old Saluda road and again got lost. But Messrs. J. F. Reid and T. L. Johnson happened upon in the neighborhood and spotted them out of the wilderness, taking them to Lewis's Turnout, where they left their buggy and boarding the train, came home. Capt. and Mrs. Roddey were as wet as if they had fallen in a creek, and Capt. Roddey declared they had been in two cloudbursts. When he was at Lewis's Mr. Johnson offered Capt. Roddey a seat, but he shook the dripping water out of his clothes, he exclaimed as he thivered, "It is your job, believe you me, to stand up." He had, as the saying goes, sure been drenched.—Rock Hill Herald.

A Southerner Suggested.
Esopus, N. Y., Aug. 10.—Francis Burton Harrison, who represents the thirteenth New York district in congress, was put forward today for the Democratic nomination for governor of New York. His name was suggested in an informal discussion between New York politicians on the way to Esopus. It was received so favorably that some of the Tammany officials predicted that the name of Mayor George B. McClellan and former Secretary of War Daniel S. Lemoine would be eliminated.
Advocacy of a boom for Mr. Harrison at this time is said to be in keeping alike with the inclination of State leaders to give the governorship nomination to Tammany and with the demand of the organization that its claims be recognized.

Sheriffs Should Be Brave.
The Florence Times thinks that we might find ourselves without sheriffs if only those candidates were permitted to seek suffrage who are willing to die in the performance of their duties. Then they would be a deuced good reminder for South Carolina. Better empty coffins than being filled by cowards who bring disgrace on their county and state and give encouragement to the lawless.—The State.

Cholera Infantum.
This disease has lost its terrors since Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy came into general use. The uniform success which attends the use of this remedy in all cases of bowel complaints in children has made it a favorite wherever its value has become generally known. For sale by J. J. Stringfellow.

The Name Niagara
"Everybody pronounces Niagara wrong," said a philologist. The accent of this beautiful Indian word should not be put on the syllable 'ag' but on the syllable 'ar'—the penult—the one before the last. Niagara means hark to the thunder. Its accent should fall on the penult because the Indians themselves accent it there, because in practically all our Indian names of places the penult is the accented syllable. Think of the Indian names of places. Don't you accent nearly all of them on the syllable before the last? There are for instance, Toronto, Mississippi, Allegheny, Appalachicola, Narragansett, Tuscaloosa, Catawba, Teonondaga, Oswego, Onondago, Wissahickon and Hochelaga. In all these names the accent is on the penult. Niagara is a Huron word, and if you can't see it then you will find that the accents it is as does Saratoga or Tuscaloosa. We don't know how we have fallen into the habit of accenting it wrong."—Chicago Chronicle.

Is Consumption Curable?
Yes! If Rydale's Elixir is used in time; before too much of the lung tissue is involved. This modern, scientific medicine removes all morbid irritation and inflammation from the lungs to the surface and expels them from the system. It softens the bronchial tubes, moistens rough surfaces, relieves the cough and makes breathing easy. Rydale's Elixir does not dry the mucous membrane, but moistens it. Its action is just the opposite—it stimulates and soothes. It kills the germs that cause chronic cough and lung disease. It has the nature to restore these organs to health. Trial size 25 cts. Large size 50 cts. The large size holds 2 1/2 times the trial size. T. S. Stringfellow.

FOR RAILROAD COMMISSIONER
Address of Prominent Citizens of Marion County, South Carolina, to the Voters of South Carolina in Indorsement of W. Boyd Evans.
To the Voters of South Carolina: No public question of recent years has elicited more common interest in South Carolina, and, indeed, in the whole country, than that of the reorganization and restriction of great corporations and combinations within the bound of the law.
Of these great corporations none save so close a connection with our great material welfare and interests as the railroads, for upon them depends our intercourse and commerce with the outer world. They are the very fiber of our material growth and development as a state and a people. By the maintenance of just and equitable laws between our people and the railroads—their public servants—can these creatures of the law be rendered most of representative men, to be elected while, and assist in the progressive march which the state has begun, and at the same time yield the returns to those who own their stocks.

In the light of these principles our state has enacted laws providing for a Railroad Commission, composed of representative men, to be elected from her people, whose duty it is to regulate and adjust the passenger and freight rates of the respective roads within the state with justice and impartiality, and to secure equal rights to all and special privileges to none.
That the spirit of this law may be fully and as speedily executed, we say that this commission, in whose hands lies more of our material welfare and prosperity than any other department of our government, should be composed not only of the highest integrity, but of education, experience and tried business capacity; men who by profession and training are able to cope with the finest business and legal talent that money can buy.
Realizing the necessity and utility of a most vigorous administration of and with the demand of the organization, its establishment upon a stable business basis, and that these great ends can only be obtained by maintaining the highest standard in the selection of its members, we, the undersigned citizens of Marion county, present for your attention the name of Mr. W. Boyd Evans, a native of this county, and of whom we believe possess those high attributes which qualify him to meet the obligations of the office to which he aspires with the greatest efficiency and honor. He is energetic, progressive in his ideas and aggressive in advancing them; a Mason, a Pythian and Odd Fellow; he is in close touch and sympathy with all that tends toward the development of his fellow man and native state. We feel that a word setting out what manner of man he is and what class of man he sprung from will not be amiss.

In a recent history of Marion county, written by the Honorable W. S. Sellers, Esq., he has this to say of W. Boyd Evans' grandfather, Nathan Evans, and his father, William Baker Evans:
"Nathan Evans was one of Nature's noblemen; had great good sense, was energetic and upright in every respect; always lent his ear to a tale of suffering; had a kind and sympathetic heart, and would help his neighbor in distress. If it was in his power, often to his own injury; he injured himself and family by becoming surety for others. He lived on an splendid farm, which he managed to keep, till his death; he was a very popular man, yet he never aspired to the honors of office but once, when then of his own motion, but being urged by his numerous friends he became a candidate for Representative in the State Legislature in 1856, and though the contest was heated, he was triumphantly elected at the head of the ticket, and served a term in the house. Faithful to his trust, he returned from public life in full confidence of his people. He loved his home and family too well; pursuits of home life were more congenial to his nature."
"William Baker Evans, W. Boyd Evans' father, was a captain in the war, a true and valiant soldier. In one of the battles of Virginia (Cold Harbor) he was badly wounded, shot through one of his lungs—while at the time was thought to be mortal, but to every one's surprise he recovered. After recovery he returned to his command and continued there to the surrender of Johnson's army, 26th April, 1865. Captain Evans is a very worthy citizen and a man of good character and good man in his family—in short he is a high toned gentleman; he is a farmer."

W. Boyd Evans is the son of this glorious Confederate soldier. He is essentially a self-made man, for his father lacking the means to bear the expense of his college education, he had to experience himself, unaided, by dint of hard work and untiring perseverance.
While still at college, Mr. Evans was elected, against all competitors, to fill the position of Secretary of the Judiciary Committee of the
