To the Freshmen

A WORD TO THE FRESHMEN

The Freshman is in his first year as a student at Winthrop. Having survived his Freshman year successfully, he has passed through one of the most difficult stages of his college career. He has gained a knowledge of the institution and its workings, and has learned to live with the atmosphere and conditions of university life. In the Freshman year, the student has a greater freedom of choice in his courses of study. He has the opportunity to choose from a wide variety of courses, and can select those that best suit his interests and abilities. He has also the chance to change his courses of study at any time, if he so desires. This is a great advantage for the Freshman, as it allows him to explore different fields of study and to find his true vocation.

As a Freshman, you should take advantage of the opportunities offered to you. You should make the most of your college education, and strive to become the best student you can be. You should also make the most of your extracurricular activities, and participate in as many as you can. This will help you to develop your skills and abilities, and will also help you to meet new people and make new friends.

During the Freshman year, you will be introduced to a wide range of courses, and will have the opportunity to choose those that best suit your interests and abilities. You should take advantage of this opportunity, and choose courses that will help you to develop your skills and abilities, and that will also help you to meet your personal and professional goals.

To the Freshman who is in his second year at Winthrop, we wish him luck in his academic endeavors. We wish him success in his studies, and we wish him the best of our opportunities.

A Welcome--

The most fitting expression that we can address to the teachers and students of the 1925-26 session of Winthrop is one of welcome—and profound pleasure in having them again in our midst.

That each one will receive as much pleasure from their relationship with us as we will receive in serving them, is the day's message.
