The Robe, like other camp "camps", is not based on any previous book but is being written with a new and unexplored language, thus, being written out.

"Well, I'll set the regular night as soon as possible," they concluded. "Until then, we'll like to ask the cooperation of stu-sents, as well as corned for ourselves already shown."

Fresh Paint Cleans Gym

White dingoes replaced the usual saint painting this week in the gymnasium while two paint boxes redecorated the dressing room, leased the pool, and sprayed the walls in preparation for the soon-to-be-arriving Christmas. The first floor of the gymnasium has been given a complete overhauling. The walls in the pool area, the showers and the dressing rooms have been sprayed over, and the shining room floor is a streamlined look. The tile has been done to the shining tile clinic and the general appearance of the first floor is impressive. Plans are being made to paint the floors and walls of the second floor during Christmas vacation.

Miss Julia H. Post, physical education department head, expressed satisfaction in the improvements, and hopes that the students will take care of the beautified walls and floor.

Students Instruct Athletic Classes

Added for the first time to the physical education department staff are two student assistants. While Whittington, Durante and Ball, senior physical education majors, are teaching tennis fall classes in tennis, swimming, and golf.

A class in beginning swimming, which meets Monday, Wednesday and Friday, first period, and a half class which meets Monday and Wednesday, third period, is being instructed by two student assistants on Tuesday and Thursday, sixth period. As student assistants, the majors are instructed in teaching and receive valuable experience in their special fields.

Sincerity was respected by the physical education department staff when they met for their first luncheon of the new term. All staff members, including morning and evening instructors and Annette Folder, assistant, were present.
