Fine Opportunity for Grant.
Mr. Manning ridiculed the idea of paying men only $400 a year to manage a $2,000,000 business, and then proposes to remedy the evil by having them do the work for nothing. Both together, will not receive as much as the one board now gets.

He intimates that three men will be named, but they are not paid out of the state, but out of the money which he has borrowed for about half the money that the three now get.

It is claimed that stealing will be prevented by having the purchasing committee act only one time. The state is to call on three citizens and say: Come and buy our year's supply of liquor, glass bottles, demijohns, corks, labels, sealing wax, shipping cases, paper wrappers for bottles and all other needful supplies required in the conduct of the business of the state dispensary. After you have done this, you can go, you rascals. Here's your $10.

Now who do you think will accept positions on this committee, honest, high-toned citizens—or grafters?

The bill provides that all bids for supplying liquor must be sent in by March 31st of each year, and opened on March 31st, "by a committee of three citizens appointed by the governor before the 1st of March." Contracts are to be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder for the several kinds of liquors and other supplies required.

It is feared that to prevent graft by this committee? They are appointed more than ten days before the contracts are awarded, and their names are known to the whiskey trust. Therefore, the committee will be their only grab bag of the year. They are to spend three million dollars of the state's money in one day. Some of the witnesses said before the committee before March 20th, "Contractors have paid ten per cent rebates. Ten per cent of $3,000,000 is $300,000 or a hundred thousand dollars apiece for each member of the purchasing committee."

How many men, who would take that ten dollar liquor job, would refuse to quietly slip the hundred thousand into his pocket, and go home with enough to buy a bank or two for one day's work.

The commissioner is to order out the liquor which has been purchased by this ten dollar committee, "with the ten per cent rebates," and it is in his judgment necessary to supply the demands.

What a job hole is that! One man is authorized to buy all the pleasures of the state for ten dollars, and to him that there was a hundred thousand in it for him if he would buy a certain amount of a certain liquor. How easy it would be for him to slip into the county dispensary, and to had that brand and order more to "supply the demand."

The immense quantities of the other kinds, which had been bought by the ten dollar committee, would be in the building with the state's money tied up in it, while the commissioner may maybe county dispensary would be rolling in rebates from the houses that were buying.

The purchasing committee is not to buy any case goods and they are not to be kept in stock at the state dispensary. They are to be shipped direct to the county dispensaries to supply individual orders, but the orders must go through the state dispensary. So both the state and county dispensary can get a rake off on these cheap goods, which are not to be analyzed, and which may be made up of chemicals as they now are.—The Deo Advocate.

Lowest Down Form of Gambling.
The state has passed many of the big gambling laws in New York. It has played poker, faro, roulette, horse races and other games, and indeed has even passed laws against the cotton futures, in his opinion, is the lowest-down form of gambling known or that he has ever seen or indulged in. To see the abject misery portrayed in the picture, "What, Oh! what has come to New York, having lost almost his all and comes to be near the 'dealer' to see if he could not get some of his money back, to hear his pitiful cry: 'What, Oh! what must I do? My family in Ohio is that condition. I'm ruined. Oh! tell me how to get my money back,' is enough to melt a heart of stone. But these gamblers have no hearts. Then hear one of these so-called brokers ask another in laughter: 'How do your customers stand?' Answer: 'Mine are all behind. How are yours?' 'Mine are all trying to get even.'"

The poor southern folk who deals with them is to be pitied, but how much more so is the innocent poor fellow who is led to believe that he can win. And now I want to say to the people of Rock Hill that if the city council will license this form of gambling, which in my estimation is the lowest-down form of gambling, on the fact that it injures the innocent as well as the individual gambler, then the city council must impose the fine on the negro crap shooter and the white poker player, and the police scientifically do it and will not. The commission must try such cases. If a man is allowed to take a ten, twenty or hundred dollar stake and bet it on the roll of a die, or on the turn of a telegraphic instrument, decides whether he wins or loses his money, then I can't conscientiously impose a fine on a negro for a few dice tacking against a table for a few cards, then I can't conscientiously impose a fine on a player for a few cards tacking against a table for a few cards. There is no justice nor fairness in it, and I do not see the possibility of mayor of this city or any other position enough to make me do it.

Personally I like all the young men in Rock Hill that I know in this business, and so do they seem to be getting fellows. Yet do not hesitate to say, though the salaries are paid, probably more than they could get at anything else, that in my opinion they are working for a bunch of gamblers, and that the state is the subject of whose existence is depressing the South's richest product to ruination of the innocent producer as well as moral and financial death to thousands. T. B. Holley Jr.—Rock Hill Record.

President Castro Very Sick.
Wilmington, Curacao, Sept. 7.—President Castro is unable to see anybody, being still confined to his bed after four days of illness. He is the subject of his physician and friends as to the true nature of his disease alarms the public and the belief is current that he has paralysis. His condition is such that the cabinet will continue in charge of affairs until General Gomez arrives at Caracas, awaiting the moment to assume the presidency in case of an unexpected emergency.

General Castro has been ill most of the time since his resumption of the presidency on July 5th. He caught a cold in Los Toxines a few days before his departure from his suburban residence for Caracas. Though much indisposed, he attended the several balls given in celebration of his return.

On July 21st he attended a cabinet meeting, and on his return, an influenza, and notwithstanding efforts to keep him dry in his victoria, the dampness was sufficient to bring on a severe attack of malarial fever. The progress of this was such that General Castro was hurried away by Dr. Berenguer to Moutou, where the sea air was for a time reported to be restoring him.

General Castro's wife, summoned by the president to Maguey on August 11th. Since that time he has been constantly near at hand, which circumstance has convinced the people of Caracas that General Castro is in a serious danger. As it is reported in that city that it is only Castro's hand that has held the factions in check, there is alarm for what might follow his death.

New Light on Dairying.
In one of the model schools in our town, a first grade teacher was having a "lesson on the cow." She was trying to impress on the young minds the various uses of the milk. Butter, cheese, etc., had been disposed of, and she wanted some of her class to tell how the farmer fed the surplus milk to the pigs. Leading up to this, she asked this question:

"Now children, after the farmer has made all the butter, cheese and milk, and uses what milk he wants for his family, what do he do with the milk that still remains?"

These children followed for a moment, and then one little boy came forward. The teacher smiled and said, "Well, James."

"He pours it back into the cow!" piped James, with a man's Home Companion for September.

Contest in Hauling Powder.
For weeks Dewey Hardware Co. has been doing business at the old Oetzel stand, had been advertising the free gift of a handsome steel range, and a great crowd of people, both in front of their store the largest number of persons in one wagon or any kind of vehicle provided for the contest. This contest was to take place on Friday, Sept. 1st, 12 o'clock was the closing time.

"As a result of the widespread advertising of the affair and the general interest attending a contest of this kind, a great crowd of people, between 1,500 and 2,000 assembled on the street around the store. Only three wagons entered the contest. These belonged to Messrs J. A. Wilburn, J. L. Helue and J. E. Edwards.

Mr. Wilburn's wagon was a two-story affair and well loaded with human beings of various sizes and shapes, but to break down near the railroad crossing at the end of the street.

Mr. J. L. Helue arrived with his great freight of lumber live, 215 being the number he carried. His wagon was one belonging to Union county, and was loaded with lumber, and had a wide platform construction with a rilling around. The average weight of these persons was near 100 lbs; those, with the 2,000 lbs. weight of the cargo, made a load of about 23,500 lbs. and it was drawn by four mules.

Mr. J. E. Edwards, the last to arrive (and he was a little after 12 o'clock, the appointed hour), bore the greatest number and was the prize. In this case 288 men, women and children were packed up together like imported articles. On a platform arrangement, 115 feet long, was drawn by four mules, and weighed about 3,000 lbs. and the average was much less than 100; probably 80 lbs. His whole freight weighed then something like 27,000 lbs.

The contest was won by the Acting Mayor Long thought it unsafe to proceed after the wagon reached the People's Supply Company, because of the down grade and the great weight. While standing, one side of the wagon sagged a little, but finally they were able to proceed. The prize was a steel range valued at $45, made by the Phillips & Burton Manufacturing Co. It was awarded to Mr. Edwards, but because of his tardiness a question was raised as to the fairness of the decision. In view of this Mr. Long very generously gave Mr. T. B. Holley, the winner, the same range of the same make and value.

The judges were Messrs. J. E. Belue, T. K. Foster, D. J. Gregory and W. W. Colton.—Union Times.

Staring to Death.
Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, O., was literally starved to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I began to take at once, and a complete cure followed. I feel health to me on earth. So, guarantee me the Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. To J. H. Johnston & Guy's Drug Store. Co."

Something New in 1866.
"The original artificial ice plant established in the United States is in New Orleans in 1866, and the intention of its projectors was declared to be to supply artificial ice in the territory south of the ice line, which is south of the North Atlantic, New England, Middle and Northwestern States. By degrees ice plants have been established in the territory supplied with natural ice, breweries, hotels, restaurants, packing houses and hospitals having refrigerating plants."

—Exchange.

In 1866 we landed in Austin, Texas, and there was great excitement. A few persons were supposed to have been poisoned by eating ice cream made with artificial ice. It turned out to be a false alarm.

On the same trip we met a young man, on the steamer between New Orleans and Galveston whose business was to introduce iron cotton ties, was for some time patented.—Abbeville Medium.

WAS A VERY SICK BOY
But Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.
"When my boy was two years old he had a very severe attack of bowel complaint, but by the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy we brought him out all right. He has since been a healthy child. This remedy can be depended upon in the most severe cases. Great care should be taken to follow the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by all druggists."

Eastern and Western Women as Clothes Buyers.
In the course of a series of articles on "The Dressmakers of the United States" in the New York Woman's Magazine, a prominent woman dressmaker of New York is quoted in the October number as saying: In regard to American women buying clothes at home and abroad: "In some respects the western woman is our best customer. Those who are rich are frequently very rich. They spend their money freely and rarely haggle about prices. Indeed, they don't have time to haggle. The woman who lives in New York is a bargain hunter. We would all be bargain hunters if we had time, but we haven't. This is with the westerner. She knows correct clothes when she sees them, knows how to buy them at a fair price, but she is in New York only for short periods of time, and must consequently put her business matters through promptly. The dressmakers find it a most satisfactory customer. The eastern woman, on the other hand, can pick and choose. Because she has more time, it is no sign at all that she does not wish to get the full value of what she spends. She has time and opportunity to look for the best to be had in a city full of many varieties of the best. Hence she is often hard to please, and sometimes finds it her part to be satisfied. She is the easterner who most persistently patronizes Paris. Western women do about probably just as much as does the New Yorker, but they are frequently at least, more likely to encourage home industry than foreign. And it is so easy for the New York woman to go to Europe! She is almost there when she is in New York!"

Well Worth Trying.
W. H. Brown, the popular pension attorney, of Pittsfield, Vt., says: "Next to a pension, the best thing to get is Dr. King's New Life Pills." He writes: "They keep my family in splendid health. I am a sufferer from Headache, Constipation and Biliousness. 25c. Guaranteed at the Chester Drug Co. and Johnston & Guy's Drug Store."

The Jury's Hitch.
Judge Justice wrote out the issues for a jury to try, and in one case that great bitwark of freedom out of the Union county court house to find a verdict. As the jury did not return as soon as the judge expected, he sent a runner to find out the trouble. He discovered that the hitch was due to the inability of the jury to read the judge's hand writing.—Gastonia Gazette.

Pain from a Burn Promptly Relieved by Chamberlain's Pain Expeller.
A little child of Michael Strauss, of Vernon, Conn., was recently in great pain from a burn on the head, and as cold applications only increased the inflammation, Mr. Strauss came to Chamberlain's Pain Expeller, a local merchant, for something to stop the pain. Mr. Strauss says: "I advised my little child to use Chamberlain's Pain Expeller, and the first application drew out the inflammation and gave immediate relief. I have used this liniment myself and recommend it very often for cuts, sprains, strains and lame back, and have never known it to disappoint." For sale by all druggists.

Mrs. G. D. Tillman Critically Ill.
Clarks Hill special in Augusta Chronicle: There is a gloom over our community on account of the critical illness of Mrs. M. J. Tillman, the beloved widow of the late Hon. Geo. D. Tillman, who for years represented this district in congress. She has been confined to her bed with typhoid fever for nearly three weeks, and on account of her age a fatal result is feared.

The laxative effect of Chamberlain's Sassafras is very reliable and so agreeable and so natural you can hardly realize that it is produced by a medicine. These tablets also cure indigestion. For sale by all druggists.

The Stensland Case.
Washington, Sept. 5. The Moorish authorities will interpose no objection to the removal to America of Paul O. Stensland, president of the Milwaukee & Chicago State bank of Chicago. A dispatch to the effect has been received at the state department from Minister Gummere at Tangier, dated today. The dispatch advised that Stensland is a prisoner in the American legation there, we mean the best dispensary. Who are they but the old barron element? There is Gobie, and until recently Nary, and the rest of them, who used to curse the dispensary because it put them out of business, now that they have a finger in the pie they are the loudest mouthed advocates. Putting the old barron element in it. If they ain't already in it, it's a strange thing to us. We helped to put them out of business once and by the grace of God and a few thousand pure voters we'll help to put them out again next Tuesday. Gaffney Ledger.

Government Ownership.
Elaborate preparations, the dispatches say, have been begun for Mr. W. J. Bryan's reception at Salisbury on the night of the 17th of this month, at which time he is to make a speech. If our Salisbury friends are not particularly interested in the government ownership of railroads they might ask their distinguished guest to substitute a few remarks on the lynching evil and arrange to have him introduced by Senator Tillman with a few suggestions on the government ownership of railroads. As a burning question of the hour these parts, neither pays its ineffectual fires in the luminous atmosphere which hangs about the government ownership of railroads. Gastonia Gazette.

Don't Need Courts Much Now.
Although it has been three months since the last court was held in Cherokee county and it will be nearly one month before another court will be held, there are only three prisoners in the county jail who must answer for violations of the law at the approaching term. This speaks for a prohibition county, doesn't it.—Gaffney Ledger.

Red Racket Store

The best values for the least money, settles friendship, politics and religion. For instance: The High Tariff Republican will buy of the hard-headed Baptist who has the audacity to sell one dollar's worth of goods for fifty cents. This question is being asked on the street, in the stores and in the homes of Chester: How is it that W. R. Nail, the Red Racket Store man, can simply beat the town selling goods? He surely must be backed up by one of New York's millionaires. Our answer is simply this: The period of the world's history through which we are at present passing may fully be termed the age of competition, and it is an indisputable fact that all the money made in business nowadays is by strictly buying "Job Lots" from auction for cash and selling them the same way. Regular goods on regular terms at regular prices will not meet, much less stand, the fierce and crucial strain of the unanswerable arguments that fall untouched in fabric from the auction block with the prices split in two. We invite an early and repeated visit and inspection.

You can't see the dividing line.

Come around and let me show you how it is made.

A little high, but, oh my, the SATISFACTION!

Negro Man Killed and Woman Wounded.
Laurens, Sept. 1.—Last night there was a mysterious shooting affair in a negro woman's house located between West Main street and the Greenville railroad. As a result Buck Stone, a colored barber of this city, was killed and the woman, Mary Herron or Burlock, was seriously shot. In the hall striking and scattering the elbow. Stone was shot in the mouth and after getting out of the cabin and running or walking 50 or 75 yards fell dead in the alley leading to Main street.

The Herron woman claims that another woman, Louisa Young or Blakey, also of the city, did the shooting, and Louisa was arrested within 30 minutes after the officers were notified of the affair, and placed in jail. She was found at her home near the Laurens mill, nearly a mile from the scene of the killing. The woman denies all knowledge of the shooting.

According to the Herron woman, the accused negro appeared at a window of the house, raised the sash and fired on herself, and Stone fell, using a pistol. Only two of the shots took effect.

The inquest which will be held this afternoon, may bring out additional information of the facts. In the case, Special to The State.

Curious War Claims.
Mr. Kruger's claim for $1,000,000 for moral and intellectual damage sustained by the raid was largely followed by the burghers in their claims for losses sustained during the South African war. A book has been issued, evening gives some amusing instances in the course of a lengthy account of the distribution of the war compensation.

One claimant asked that he be paid compensation for certain fowls which appear to have been killed and eaten; that 425 compensation for war losses be paid to him for the value of eggs which he had laid, but which he had not been destroyed; that in addition to the value of the eggs which those fowls might have laid had they not been killed; that he be paid compensation for war losses to be paid him for 11 table knives, 3 pieces of bacon, 8 sausages, 1 tin of butter, and a pair of shoes, which he had been obliged to leave behind when he was captured from his house when he returned.

Another, 37 years of age, who was a telegraph clerk in the service of the government and in receipt of a salary per month; asked that he be paid £1,000 as compensation for war losses for the value of the property which he had looted from the British and which the British recovered from him when they captured him.

The foreign claimants, the commissioners assigning the compensation found, had little regard for truth and whether their evidence was sworn or unsworn made no difference. One female claimant asked 2555 for horses and cattle. It was found that the only animal she possessed was a wounded horse, which had been lost in Cape Colony by her niece, a burgher on command.

One spinster claimed compensation for "loss of honor" because the man with whom she was living had during the war, been deported by the military authorities.

Mr. Clurehill stated in parliament yesterday that the funds for distribution of the war claims were all exhausted.—London Mail.

Cotton Rotting in Bolls.
Goodwill, Sept. 7.—The farmers hereabouts are glad to see that the cotton speculators are beginning to see that the cotton crop is short. Some will not make expenses under 12 cents and a few not even at 20 cents per pound. Cotton is rotting to such an extent that the prospective yield of 30 days ago will be cut off one-third, and poorer cotton is completely washed out. Every boll in some fields will be open or rotten if the inside of the boll (not weather continues) in two or three weeks. Grass in some fields already obscures the cotton, and the bolls are being searched for in the grass. Late corn is a comparative failure. But pea vines, and crabgrass hay yields promise the best in several years. Cutting has begun.—Special to The State.

As To Ladies and Gentlemen.
"It's a fine thing to be a lady or a gentleman," said the bookkeeper.
"What's your idea of a gentleman?" inquired the stenographer.
"A man that's clean inside and out; whenever looks up to the rich not down on the poor; who can lose without squealing and who can win without bragging; who is considerate of women and children and children; who is too brave to lie, too generous to cheat and who takes his share of the world and lets other people have theirs." asked the stenographer.
"A perfectly is a woman who can hear a choice piece of scandal about her best enemy and then forget her," answered the bookkeeper.
"Huh!" cried the stenographer.
"That kind of a woman wouldn't be a lady, she'd be in an asylum for the dumb."—New York Journal.

Lady's Shocking Death.
Greenville Special in The State of 7th: Miss Lucile Haddon, a beautiful young woman about 19 years of age, daughter of Mrs. Sarah E. Haddon who keeps a boarding house on North Main street, met death in a most shocking and tragic manner early this afternoon. She was struck through the heart by the accidental discharge of a pistol which evidently fell to the floor while she was removing several articles of clothing from a trunk.

Miss Haddon had only a few minutes returned from shopping up while out she bought a bottle of gasoline to clean a skirt.

She went to her room and a few moments later the report of a pistol was heard. When members of the family reached the room the young woman was lying on the floor gasping for breath. She never spoke.

Fell Dead After Speaking.
Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 6.—Gen. H. H. Norman, adjutant general of Tennessee under Gov. Buchanan, died suddenly at Woodbury, Cannon county, today. Gen. Norman had just concluded an address at a reunion of Confederate soldiers, expiring while in the act of resuming his seat.

Attempt to Bribe a Candidate.
Mr. J. C. Courtney, a candidate for the legislature in Alcon county now in the second race, claims that he has been offered a bribe to withdraw from the contest. In a card in an Alcon paper he says:

"In my public and private life I have always endeavored to do what is right and to earn the respect of my neighbors in Alcon county, and I had no doubt that I had established a reputation for honesty and integrity. I was therefore most surprised that certain parties should approach me with the request that I withdraw from the race for the honor of representative, in favor of other candidates, and as an inducement for my withdrawal should offer to pay my expenses and even intimate that a cash inducement would be given me if I would name the amount. It is needless for me to say that this proposition astounded me, but I am now too old to fight and retrained myself, hoping to be able to submit this offer in the presence of a witness. In this, however, I was unsuccessful, and inasmuch as I have no proof other than my word, I will not give the names of the parties, unless they appear in the papers of your paper, ask that I should do so. These parties requested me to withdraw because I received less votes than the three other candidates for the house, assuring me that my withdrawal would add two other candidates who favored this view of the dispensary question. I want the people of Alcon county to know that I entered this race as the candidate for no party, parties, but simply on my merit, exercising the right of a citizen of the county to aspire to office. I have conducted a clean campaign. I thank the large number of voters who gave me their support in the first primary. I believe I will be elected next Tuesday, and my loyalty to my friends who are supporting me would not permit me to withdraw from the race."

What Women Will Wear This Winter.
Dismissing suitable costumes for women in the New Idea Woman's Magazine for October, the writer of the article remarks: "The reaction to very dark colors which distinguishes this season from its several predecessors will have the full approval of all those women who have to contend with the winter before all else. It may be said, however, that in spite of the profusion of lace and furbelows lavished on summer styles, there always is an undercurrent of simplicity and sensibility sought by the conservative element, to which in great measure the best business women belong. Not only deep navy blues, ruby shades of red, and the old-fashioned bottle green which are being revived, but black in combination with bottle green and autumn colors produce effects which are in keeping with the somber color scheme. Among the manly suitings there are many unobtrusive stripes which are very attractive, and have almost superseded the checked materials in popularity. The plaids are also very dark, the newest ones showing a combination of brown and bronze greens. One characteristic of the novelty plaid materials is a satin stripe, generally in black, which recurs regularly, this pattern. The separate plaid skirt, particularly in the shadow plaids, is a feature of the season. It is invariably accompanied by a waist of the predominant shade in the plaid."

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success. Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only. They cure sick kidneys. They cure backache, every kidney ailment, and bladder troubles. James Vincent, mill hand, living on Factory Street, Easton, Pa., writes: "Doan's Kidney Pills did my back and kidneys a lot of good. I have suffered for several years with backache, and nobody knows what it is but those who have had it. I thought I was doomed to pass the rest of my life with it, but I was thankful to say that these I used. Doan's Kidney Pills I have not had the backache once. Before I used them, I had it all the time, right and day, and the constant aching across the small of my back was so bad I could not get about at all, and it kept me awake all night. Nothing I did gave me relief, although I did everything I knew, but nothing helped me until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the Palmiro Drug Co.'s store. Since taking them, my back has been better than during the past fifteen years."
