THE LANTERN

FRIDAY, SEPT. 17, 1907.

Flights between canines frequently disturb the slumbers of the citizens in the residential portions. Too many dogs about.

Why not remove the old wall in front of the court house? It would improve the appearance of the city, which, at present, it is an eye sore.

We are glad to note the increased enrollment at the Public School. With such good educational advantages Chester is safe. "Our people are wide awake on this subject."

President Roosevelt recently appointed a negro to the rank of major in the army. This is only a step for the negro vote, and is an attempt to offset the Brownsville incident. The President's mode of forwarding Taft's candidacy are not calculated to help him in the eyes of good citizens.

Autumn has come as can be seen on all sides. The leaves are taking on a golden hue, crops are being harvested, birds are winging their ways to warmer lands, and the weather is getting on a fall feeling. The days are pleasant and cover is required at night. The passing of the fall equinox with its storm has left September a lovely month. Man and beast are getting ready for winter and everything is rejoicing in the goodness and mercy of God.

Every business man should attend the Chamber of Commerce meeting tonight at the city hall. The executive committee has an interesting report to make. Let every one come out and be ready to put their shoulder to the wheel. Chester is on the verge of rapid development and, if all citizens give the Chamber of Commerce their support they will be gratified with the results. Considerable business organizations that will work for Chester and make this the model city in South Carolina.

The Political Post Begins Belling.

The local political post is beginning to toll. Already several have announced that they will be in the campaign next year and others are considering the matter. The leading names are not yet apparent. There appears to be a growing sentiment against liquor in any shape and it will be no surprise if prohibition is the leading theme in the next summer campaign. The candidates who make the next race on the platform of program will run a hard race. The issue of liquor serves the support of all good citizens. Chester is on the forward march of improvement and those who are not in accord with the progress as well as stay at home for that is where they will be found when the race is over. "Program" is bound to be the keynote of the campaign in Chester county.

Cooler-Edmondson.

The following invitation which has been received in the city will be of interest to a number of Chester people. Miss Coogler is a niece of Mr. W. W. Coogler and spent a month here last summer. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Coogler request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter Louise Amelia to Mr. Lester Edward Edmondson, Wednesday evening, at eight o'clock, October thirteenth and ten o'clock, October thirteenth and ten o'clock, at two hundred and ten Cooper street, Atlanta, Georgia.

Miss Matilda Barber and daughter.

Miss Matilda Barber and daughter, Miss Letitia Barber, have moved to town this week from their home in the Torbit neighborhood. Miss Barber has rooms in the old Colton hotel building over the bowling alley. Miss Letitia has rented a house in the Ford's millinery row and is in business for herself.

Quiet Home Marriage.

Mr. Frank Thomas and Miss A. Estelle Ferguson were quietly married at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Sept. 26, 1907, at the home of the bride's father, Mr. S. T. Ferguson, on "Floyler Mill." On account of the illness of Rev. B. A. Lummus, the ceremony was performed by Rev. W. A. Parry. Only a few near relatives and friends were present to witness the marriage. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Thomas left for their private conveyance, and this morning they left on No. 30 of the Southern for a bridal tour to Jamestown and probably Washington. On their return they will make a short tour to Mr. Thomas' father's Mr. B. D. Thomas, near Wylie Mill, until the end of the year, after which they will probably make their home in the city where for several months Mr. Thomas has been working for a portrait painter.

Her Departure Causes Regret.

The Connersville (Ind.) Daily Examiner of recent date has the following complimentary mention of Miss Mary Owen, of this city: "Miss Mary Owen, who has held position for two years at the Lipard business college of this city, has tendered her resignation, which will go into effect Thursday evening when she will leave for her home in Chester, S. C., where she will spend several days before going to Columbia, S. C., where she has accepted the position of an instructor in the school here, but has been requested to be retired by another teacher."

To say that Miss Owen has won the esteem and respect of all who know her is not placing it too strongly. She is a young lady of high moral characteristics, and her many friends, while rejoicing with her in her good fortune in securing so lucrative a position, regret extremely that she is soon to leave Connersville.

Gaston-Jennings.

On Wednesday evening in the home of Judge and Mrs. G. W. Gaston, the wedding was celebrated between Gaston and Mr. David Jennings were quietly married.

The bridesmaids, Misses Lottie Jennings, of Greenwood, Martha and Pattie Gae, Annie Aiken, of Greenwood, Kate Torrence, of Charlotte, Laura and Isabel Douglas, of Winston, formed a lovely circle in the midst of which the bride and groom and the officiating minister, Rev. Mr. Cartledge, and his assistants, were seated. The bride and groom were linked together forevermore.

The out-of-town guests were the bridesmaids, Mrs. H. B. Jennings and Miss Lottie Jennings; the bridesmaids, Messrs. Harry and George Jennings, of Mrs. Covington, of Sumter, Messrs. Clarkson and Thomas, of Columbia, and Messrs. Brantley and Hammond, of Greenville.

Mr. and Mrs. Jennings left on Tuesday last night for Columbia. Their spending a few days in the capital city will go to the woods, and thence to Greenville, where is to be their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Ziegler, of St. Matthews, spent a day with Mr. and Mrs. Ella Walker's family this week on their way home from New York.

Mr. Jno. S. Lindsay, of Camden, returned to his home Wednesday after spending a few days here with Mrs. Lindsay who is in the hospital.

Mr. Jimmie Crawford suffered another severe attack of indigestion at his home on Center street, yesterday morning. He reported some better this morning.

Traffic Between Monroe and Hamlet.

There has been no through train on the Seaboard since Tuesday. The cause of the block is explained by the following from the Charlotte Observer: "The freight train which was wrecked north of Monroe. The locomotive, numbers 62 and 63, are running and are taking care of the mail and passenger service between the two stations. Trains number 33, 32, 35, and 41 are handled via Clinton and Columbia. A telegram posted on the bulletin board at the depot here, Monday, and about the train. It is likely that the track will be cleared by today and the train running as usual. While the wreck is a hard one to clear, the freight having gone into the creek where the tracks collapsed, still it is gratifying to learn that no lives were lost."

Monroe, Sept. 25.—A through freight train from the North last night jumped the track at a point two miles east of Monroe, at a place known as "Richard's Circle." The train had about got across the trestle when the accident occurred. Five cars left the water and the others hung over the side of the trestle. The track was badly torn up and the wreckage cannot be cleared and the train required so that trains can pass all Friday. In the meantime trains are being made around by Chester and Columbia to Hamlet. The cause of the wreck is not exactly known, but it is believed that it was a result of too fast running. No one was hurt.—Charlotte Observer.

Slower Dogs.

The Stover school has opened under the management of Miss Louie Wrenn, of the West End.

Mrs. Jennie Bankhead and little son David, of Longtown, are spending a few weeks at the home of Mr. J. W. Bankhead, near the mill.

Miss Martha Black is spending a while with Mr. L. B. Sisson, at Blackwater.

Mr. W. S. McDonald, who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. W. McDonald, has returned to his home in Chester.

Mr. J. McD. Bankhead spent last Sunday at the father's, Mr. J. W. Bankhead.

Mr. A. G. McNeill has returned home, after a short visit to his mother, Mr. J. J. McNeill.

The play, "Ye Village School of Long Ago," given by the school, was a success and a nice sum was realized.

Letter from Indian Territory.

Ada Ind., Territory, Sept. 23, 1907. Editor of The Lantern—With your permission I will tell your readers something of the recent election in Oklahoma and Indian Territory. The Democrats were the victors of the constitution as made by the constitutional convention. The republicans often holders and politicians were opposed to the work and part of the other republicans, but a large part of the republicans voted for the constitution as they wanted statehood and relations removed to the Indians can sell their land and let people come and buy land and help develop the country.

The question of statewide prohibition was voted on separately from the constitution as formulated by the convention. The brewers and wholesale and retail liquor dealers organized to fight prohibition and put two hundred and fifty thousand dollars in the hands of their leaders to be used to defeat prohibition. When we republicans organized we had no fund to be used in our fight, but as the results showed we had something better. We had God and the right, and the women and children on our side. While the saloon crowd could spend their thousands we could only pay the traveling expenses of our workers and a great many of us gave a good deal of our time and money too. When we organized we got the women and children organized and then the liquor dealers no small part toward our success. I never knew any body to organize and win as such a fight in this world. When you remember that we had a million and a half of population in the two territories and a large part of that is Indians and negroes and that the Indians and negroes are and we are supposed to have a large element of toughs, it seems marvellous that we were able to carry prohibition by thirty thousand majority. When you remember that we had a million and a half of population in the two territories and a large part of that is Indians and negroes and that the Indians and negroes are and we are supposed to have a large element of toughs, it seems marvellous that we were able to carry prohibition by thirty thousand majority. Feasterville Items.

Feasterville, Sept. 21.—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mobley, of Chester, visited relatives in this county last week. We were glad to have them with us.

Miss Sarah A. Coleman, a recent graduate from Winthrop college, is teaching school in this county. Miss Yvette Coleman has returned to Winthrop college, where she goes to resume her studies.

Prof. and Mrs. D. B. Busby, of Manassas, have been spending a while with Mr. and Mrs. S. Coleman. Prof. Busby will be long remembered in this section as the principal of the school at Feasterville and Crosby Institute, where he taught several years. He is perhaps one of the most accomplished men in this state.

There was a good rain here last Sunday accompanied with some wind, but there was no damage done to the crops.

The cotton crop of this section was greatly damaged by the dry weather during the latter part of August. In many places there will not be more than a half crop.

Mr. John S. Stone has built a new gin house and is now preparing to begin the ginning outfit and gin for the public.

Mr. Edward M. Coleman also has a good ginning outfit and gin for the public.

Our annual protracted meeting is going on this week at Beaver Creek Baptist church. Our popular and efficient pastor, Rev. E. D. Wells, is being assisted by the Rev. Roberts of Ridge Springs. Rabk, R. Jeffers.

Death of Baby East.

Union, Sept. 21.—At 6 o'clock this morning, Miss John A. Fant, president and treasurer of the Monarch cotton mill and one of the most prominent women in this county, died. The news of his death came as a great surprise and was a terrible shock to the entire community.

To many that the death of John A. Fant is a great loss to Union in every department of its life. It is especially so in the mill, where he was associated with its men, closely cooperating, educational and religious interests, almost every public improvement, but from the prices they had referred to him for his consideration.

(Mr. Fant was born in this county, near Santeeville, on the 22nd of April, 1862, and was the son of Mr. David J. Fant. He received his early education at the male academy in Union. At the early age of 16 he took a position with Spawr & Colton, which he held for 10 years. There he began his career as a self-made man, to which he later attained to high and such honors.

On the 21st of April, 1907, he was married to Miss Ora Wilkes of Chester county and of this union four children are now living, Mrs. W. N. Chandler, Mrs. A. B. Ray, Mr. Roy Fant, and Miss Ora Wilkes.

Mr. Fant was a graduate from the University of South Carolina and Eastern Business college, and who is now residing in the city of New York.

Mr. Fant was a member of the Baptist church and a leading part in religious matters.

President Roosevelt left Oyster Bay where he has been spending the summer on last Wednesday morning for Washington. The records show that since June that the president has received 146 persons at Sagamore Hill.

At Asheville, Sept. 23.—It is learned here that several contractors working for the South & Western Railway have had their concrete and grade contracts considerably reduced. These contractors were working south of Marion, and the cutting off of a part of the work will be a considerable loss to them.

One instance, one contractor with a $40,000 contract has had $20,000 lopped off, while a grade contractor with 175,000 yards of dirt to move has been notified to accept only $100,000.

The New York Times and the Chicago Tribune have made charges of the South & Western to be the "real cause" of the strike. The Times says that there is a warring in support of Bryan and that a southern man is being elected. The Tribune says that the strike is being organized by the South & Western.

The fight against the railroads is still raging in all its fury and injudicious are still coming. The latest one is granted by Federal Judge LeRoy against the state of Minnesota forbidding them to enforce the rate law which was recently put in operation.

It is said that the law will be enforced to see to bring it before the supreme court at its early date.

Miss Lillian Reddick, of Lancaster, came down Wednesday evening and stopped over with Mrs. Harper en route to the same place.

When you see Mr. Gwaltney riding behind a mule these days instead of being off the air with his automobile, you have a fortunate demonstration. First, not even a Ford automobile is constructed for climbing a tree, an experiment that Mr. Gwaltney tried Saturday in Chester, while on his way to Rock Hill, with fearful results in his splendid machine. When it comes back from the shops he is going to stick to terra firma. Fortunately he himself came out all right.—Windsor News and Herald.

The Colored Public School Opens. On Monday morning, 30th inst., the colored department of Public Instruction of this city will open. The outlook for the year is promising, and we therefore urge all parents to have their children report at the beginning and on time, if the best results are expected.

S. L. Finley, Principal.

Burn Burned. Mrs. H. T. Carter's barn and stable at the Old McAlley place, was burned yesterday afternoon, together with hay, tools and a quantity of hay and fodder, enough to feed her stock the coming year. One mule was right severely burned but it is thought it will get better. There was no insurance either on the feed or on the building. The barn was the property of Mr. B. M. White and was built about four years ago. It is not known how the fire originated.

Mr. Patrick Expected. The Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce expects to see Mr. T. Patrick, the industrial man at Wadesboro, to be here for the meeting tonight. Mr. Patrick replied to the letter inviting him here that he would come in about a week. It is believed that he will here and have an interesting proposition to make to the business men. But whether it comes or not there will be plenty of other hands and everyone should be on hand promptly at 8 o'clock in the City Hall.

TUESDAY and Wednesday, Oct. 1st and 2nd in the state of Lindsay's Millinery Opening.

The Cotton Outlook. A visitor in the city this week part of the week and this morning, was by a much better cotton crop than is now supposed. He said that he had just returned from a trip to the West and that in the states out there a good cotton crop was the prospect. The dry weather out the yield some, but the crop will be large notwithstanding the fact that it is somewhat short of the users of cotton but means a lower price and is not calculated to help the South Carolina farmers much. But there are kinds of cotton here that one man will announce that there will be only a half crop and another will come along about five minutes later and declare that the crop will be about as large as usual. And so it goes, not with the cotton crop but with everything else.

Berley-Klutz. The following invitation has been received in the city:

Mr. and Mrs. William Douglas Berley request the pleasure of your company at the marriage of their daughter Lueta Catherine to Mr. Sam Walkup Klutz on the afternoon of Wednesday, the sixteenth of October, at three o'clock, First Baptist church, Union, South Carolina.

Will be at home after the fifteenth of November at Chester, South Carolina.

Chalmers-Kingpatrick. Mr. John T. Chalmers requests the honor of your presence at the marriage of his daughter Eva and Colonel James Leroy Kingpatrick on the evening of Wednesday, the ninth of October, nineteen hundred and seven, at seven o'clock, First Associate Reformed Presbyterian church, Charlotte, C.

A Sudden Killing. Two runaway cows drew a large crowd in front of the Presbyterian church at the Springs on the Tuesday afternoon dinner time. It seems that the two cows had been tied one to each end of the same rope with the intention of taking them to the slaughter pen. It was intended to make one help drive the other on the route. One of the cows became angry and commenced to run, every one who would attempt to go near it. They made a circle and ran around several times, some coming back to Depot street, started to throw down a dead man. Coming on up the street at a terrific rate they came to the Chapel and right there in a pole. One of the cows was seen on the side of the post and the other cow took the other side. They wound the rope around the pole several times and then they tried to make the cows unwind the rope. One had almost been persuaded to unwind the rope when the other rope when just at this juncture the other started off at a great rate and pulled the rope so tight the pole was thrown off its feet and broke its neck. It was taken away in a wagon and made into beef. The other cow was not injured. A large crowd gathered near the scene and it was well that the post put a stop to the runaway, for if they had come on up the street there is no telling what damage might have been done. It was a dangerous way to drive the cows and there should be more care exercised in the future. It is said that the manner in which the rope was attached to the post.

NOTE: There is a visit Lindsay's Millinery opening Tuesday, Wednesday, Oct. 1st and 2nd.

OPERA HOUSE.
"Human Hearts." The distinctive American play depends to a great extent on its portrayal of character and scenes which are of a local nature. Thus "Shoes Across" deals with the inhabitants of a town in Maine. "The Old Homestead" with the natives of New Hampshire. "Arizona" with the denizens of the far west. The inhabitants of a town of man hearts," which is shortly to be seen here, with the peaceful lives of those who live in the picturesque Arkansas hills. Admitting as does of elaborate scenic effect, this advantage it is said, Manager W. B. Nandeville has eagerly set to, to supply to his patrons something out of the ordinary in the way of stage illusion. It is also stated that he has secured the services of a good company for the portrayal of the characters in "Human Hearts," a play peculiarly adapted to the representation of the type of people living in the state of Arkansas.
