THE LANTERN.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: TWO DOLLARS A YEAR, CASH. FRIDAY, OCT. 25, 1907.

Wall Street is suffering from a panic feeling. Well, some of us think this way have been having that same feeling for years.

It is announced that Supr. Murkin will take a trip abroad after the close of his term. This is a good idea and no doubt will be received with pleasure by some people.

Wednesday is a good day to have a celebration. The past two Wednesdays have been big days in Chester's history. If you want to have a Rally, a Horse Show, or get married, Wednesday is the day.

They say there is nothing in a name yet. It was Alton Collier, who located the bank book found by the Rev. Mr. Cassie Chadwick calling for $500,000 in a Pittsburgh bank—Greenville, Piedmont.

He proved to be a disincorporator, for he never had any money in the bank.

It looks now as if Chester will get the regimental rifle range. This is good news and will mean a good thing for our bustling city. What we want is to pull for every dollar. It will help the city in any way. Chester has the railroads and should be the largest city in the upper part of this state. Nature meant to be the center of all this region and we are slowly but surely coming into our own.

Mr. Harry Wylie had another lot of "emigrants" from Chester, showing them over Rock Hill Saturday. To the party were Mrs. Giles Patterson and daughter, Miss Nellie Patterson, and Miss Bell. Mr. Wylie is a great host to show people around and he took the party to the city with him—Rock Hill and the city.

We are glad that Mr. Wylie did not secure them as immigrants. After looking around they concluded that there was no place like Chester, and returned.

The Horse Show was well attended and everything showed well. The horses were the best it is a matter of pride that Chester county owns such horses. We are glad to note success of the occasion. These horse shows have become immensely popular and desirable so. Why not start in time next year to work up a fair? This is the place and there is no reason why a fair should not be a big success. Let every one think about this and then let us have a Chester county fair next year.

The letter which was published Tuesday, written by Mrs. J. A. Hayne from the scene of the work on the Panama canal, is one of the best we have ever seen. It is so distinct and paraly at least to the fact that the letter was to her mother, without any thought of its being published. The letters for publication are those not intended for publication.

Mrs. Hayne sent along some specimens of foliage from Canal Zone, also a copy of The Canal Zone, a 50-cent page paper, published weekly at Ancon, under the supervision of the Isthmian Canal Commission, and furnished free to all employees of the Commission and Panama Railroad Company.

The primary election for probate judge will be held next Tuesday. There is some probability of its being forgotten or neglected. People should turn out and vote, so as to indicate their choice between the candidates, Mr. J. H. McDaniel and R. L. Douglas, Esq. It is the duty of every citizen to have the boxes at the voting places, but we have heard that at some precincts the chances are that no managers will be present, or those expecting to be at the state fair and others detained by other causes. The managers should arrange at least to have the boxes on hand. In case they do not, some of the voters should look after them. Any of the managers present Tuesday morning will be glad to see the boxes and can fill vacancies. If no managers present the voters can select managers and go on with the election. We suppose, of course, it will be necessary for them to qualify, which will require them, or one of them, to go before a notary public. We believe one of them can administer the oath to the others. This is written entirely from memory, however, and it might be well to verify the impressions given.

Installation Service. The Rev. C. E. McDonald will be formally installed as pastor of the A. B. Church this evening, the services beginning at 7:30. J. S. Moffatt, D. D. will preach and assist. The Rev. A. S. Rogers, of Rock Hill, will charge the pastor and Rev. W. C. Ewart, of Yorkville, will deliver the address to the people. Freeholders are cordially invited to attend these services. Dr. Moffatt will preach tomorrow at 11 o'clock and will deliver the communion service on Sabbath.

The pain in Mr's head has gone, she's as happy as can be, and Mr. W. is better. The Rev. Mr. Blair, of Yorkville, will deliver the address to the people. Freeholders are cordially invited to attend these services. Dr. Moffatt will preach tomorrow at 11 o'clock and will deliver the communion service on Sabbath.

There are no birds, hawks, swans, in last year's nests, and crows are quite as rare in last year's trees.

BORN.

To Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Dedmont, in Gastonia, Monday Oct. 19, 1907, a son, Caton Glenn.

Away in Oklahoma. Mrs. J. R. Thompson writes from Hobart, Oklahoma, where she is now living, that while it is a trying ordeal to have behind the friends of a lifetime, she is very pleasantly attended and the people there are very kind and sociable, and everybody works. The ladies are being in touch with South Carolina friends.

Mr. Earle in the City. Mr. B. F. Earle, of Greenville, secretary-treasurer of the Farmer's Union and organist, on commission, was in the city on Wednesday. He made a short talk to the farmer's meeting in the Court House. Mr. Earle is working hard for the farmers and is very much pleased with the success which has met him on all sides. He gave some practical advice to the farmers and several asked questions which were fully answered.

Grady-Brown. On Wednesday evening, Oct. 23, at 8 o'clock at the residence of the bride's brother, Dr. J. C. Grady, of Kenly, N. C., Miss Myrtle Estelle Grady, and Rev. J. J. Brown were united in marriage. Rev. W. Brown, brother of the groom, officiating. Rev. and Mrs. Brown and Rev. L. W. Brown arrived on No. 33 of the Seaboard yesterday morning and went out to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Brown, about a mile from town.

News of the S. A. L. Omer Williams arrested Jeff Featherston, colored, on the charge of robbing the bank at Rock Hill. Williams was on a freight which runs between here and Abbeville. He was carried to Abbeville for trial where it is understood he will be held in custody on the same charge. Special agent Newman of the S. A. L. worked up the case and had the parties apprehended. The entry of Williams was arrested on a break up this starting from freight cars.

Mr. W. F. Smith, of Ala., has succeeded Mr. J. D. Jennings, as agent of the S. A. L. Mr. Jennings has been located here for some time and his friends hope he will stay, in the city.

Two Accidents at Cornwell. Mr. J. A. Cornwell, of Cornwell, had the misfortune to have his left leg broken just above the ankle Tuesday morning. He was on the platform yesterday morning and was on the same car. Special agent Newman of the S. A. L. worked up the case and had the parties apprehended. The entry of Williams was arrested on a break up this starting from freight cars.

The same morning in the same neighborhood, Bishop, who has no lives on the Ross place, was thrown from a mule and had his left arm broken.

HORSE SHOW WELL ATTENDED.

A Large Crowd Was Present and Many Interesting Prizes Awarded.

Another great day in Chester was Wednesday when the Horse Show was held. On the preceding Wednesday the Confederate Rally took place and it is the general opinion that it was the best that has ever been held. On that occasion the crowd was large and everything was in good order. The Horse Show on Wednesday of this week also drew a large crowd and everything went off in tip top fashion. Again, as on the preceding Wednesday, the weather was glorious and all nature smiled on the events of the day and so was the feeling of all who were present.

On Thursday afternoon people from a distance began to arrive for the Horse Show. Many came from the surrounding towns and cities and the adjoining county. Almost everybody in Chester county turned out and the streets were crowded with the people. The show began at 12 o'clock and the show began. The grand stand was packed and many lined the fence overlooking the arena. The judges Messrs. John Crawford, of Union, G. A. Smith, of Yorkville, along with the superintendent, Mr. W. W. Dyer, took their station in the center of the ring. Among the number were many Chester county raised horses and mules, and it speaks well for the people of this county that they take such an interest in the show.

The Hardee-Hall Wedding. The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hardee on Church street was the scene of a beautiful wedding yesterday afternoon at four o'clock when their oldest daughter, Miss Hattie May, became the wife of Mr. Robt. R. Hall, of Columbia. Promptly on the stroke of the hour the strain of Mendelssohn's wedding march beautifully rendered by Mrs. R. T. Sandifer, of Lowryville, the bridal party entered the parlor, and taking their places before a bank of ferns made the responses that made their lives one. Rev. S. J. Cartledge pronounced the words that sealed the life compact.

The guests were met at the door by Mesdames John Hall, A. M. Hardee, and H. Witherspoon, of Fort Mill. They were taken to the hall, which was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and flowers, and thence into the parlor which was festooned with ferns and greenings. The bride looked exceedingly pretty in a handsome traveling suit of blue with black to match. Her sole attendant, Miss Maggie Hardee, wore a beautiful champagne costume. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Jno. R. Hall.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a delightful salad course was served. As the guests were departing they were asked to inscribe their names in the bride's register, which was presided over by Mrs. R. F. Towson. A number of friends accompanied the young pair to the station, where they boarded No. 34 for James-town. After spending a few days at the Exposition they will go on to Washington and Charlottesville, afterward returning to Columbia, where Mr. Hall has a good position in the Southern shops. R. Hall.

In cutting the bride's cake Miss Sallie Leard received the ring; Miss Mary Patterson the penny; Miss Arabella Derry the thimble; and Miss Harriet Stringfellow the time.
