ARP SOLVES A PROBLEM.

He Helps the Grandchild in With Their Sties at Home.

Atlanta Constitution.
If two-thirds of a house costs four-fifths of the lot and both together cost $4,400—how much was paid for each? Well, that sum is easy if you know how to do it. Our little school girl has me to help her every night, and some of these tangles up sums strain my old-fashioned mind for the rule that is abolished and new methods adopted. I remember a sum in the old Smylie arithmetic—if six men can cut four acres of wheat in three days by working six hours a day, how many men will it take to cut 9 acres in four days and working eight hours a day? These perplexing problems remind me of Judge Bob Strotzer's charge to the jury in a horse case, where the plaintiff sued for damages because the horse he bought had the glanders and was a stumpy-sucker and wouldn't work on the off side. Fourteen witnesses had testified, some for and some against the horse, some for glanders but not for stumpy-sucking, some for stumpy-sucking but not for glanders, and some swore he was glandered and some unsworn. "Gentlemen," said he, "if you believe that the horse had the glanders but did not stumpy-suck, or if he sucked stumps but did not have the glanders, or that glanders is an unsoundness, but stumpy-sucking is only a habit, or if the horse wouldn't pull when worked on the off side and couldn't be cured of it, though this court knows from experience that he could be cured of it or if you believe from the evidence that the horse was not stumpy-sucked and was against stumpy-sucking and off siding but only against such material things as glanders and swiney and the like, then, then you must find for the plaintiff or the defendant according to the weight of testimony."
"My candid opinion is that some of these miscellaneous problems are too perplexing for children not yet in their teens, and if parents or grandparents or uncles or aunts or somebody don't give help the child would give up in despair. I have often wondered how those pupils got along who had no help. My father helped me all my school life, and my wife and I have helped our children. It is impossible for a school teacher to give patient attention to each child where there are, thirty or forty pupils in the grade. Only five hours to teach in and four or five different textbooks for each pupil and that gives him five minutes to each pupil a book, while it takes me half an hour every night for one pupil in one book. Hence it is that only a few pupils get a fair education in a graded school, only those who are bright and willing and have help at home.
Parents that can't help or won't help lose their home influence over their children. Every phase of their education is turned over to the public school, which is a free machine and teaches books only. Modesty and obedience are not in the curriculum. Many little children are sent there to get them out of their mother's way, for she has work to do or shopping or visiting or must go to the club. Nevertheless, a few make good scholars and good citizens, and for their sake the system must go on. It is no better in the colleges, for the most charitable estimate is that not more than ten in a hundred ever make a creditable success in life. The ninety had just as well not be born, but the ten will save Sodom, and it will be found that these ten got their best education at home. Good morals, good principles, obedience, self-denial, industry, kindness and good manners are a better foundation to build on than books. To make the home happy and inviting is the secret of all success.
The family is a more important institution than the school, and love is the keystone of the family. I scolded a little grandson the other day, and he got mad and went off and told his little cousin that grandpa was mean and he was going to

BORN BLIND.

Remarkable Achievements of an Afflicted Ruler of Mississippi.
"Blindness is not such a bad thing when a fellow gets used to it," said a New Orleans oculist, "and, after all, in cases where a man is born blind there are certain compensating effects which seem to offset, to some extent, at least, the affliction of living in total darkness." Sam Jones is the author of a rather homely story to the effect that a man who lost his right foot in an accident consoled himself with the reflection that it was the foot that had the corns on it. The law of compensation is a great and consoling factor in life, and Emerson's splendid tribute to the principle did not reach too high. But speaking of blindness, I recall a rather remarkable case which came under the observation of a celebrated Tennessee oculist, Dr. J. L. Minor, in a town in Memphis. It was the case of a Mississippi. He was born blind, and was forty years old when the attention of a specialist was first called to his case. He had catarrhs on his eyes, and had lived in utter darkness during the forty years of his life. The specialist found the case of such absorbing interest that he made a close study of it, and reported it to the national association of which he was a member.
The remarkable features of the case were found in the ease with which the blind man had moved about the world, in his ability to reason accurately about distances and directions, and in the fact that he had been able to make a living for himself and family and had acquired a small competency. He was a farmer. He had bought and paid for a farm. He was able to do any kind of agricultural work, we were assured, the best and the best of his kind. He was the proprietor of a small grocery store, and was able to leave his home without a guide and to go to the home of his neighbor on a social or business mission, and he often called his dogs around him at night with the hunter's horn, and would plunge into the very heart of the forest on acoon hunt or a fox chase, and he never experienced any trouble in getting back home. While he could not tell where the moss was on the ground, he knew intuitively from south, and always got home, even when he made the trip by himself. The fact is that he experienced absolutely no trouble in ordinary affairs of life, and was looked upon by his neighbors and friends as a good and useful member of society in every respect. He had worked, and had wedded a young Mississippi girl, and had reared an interesting family of children.
"By the most interesting part of the story," the narrator continued, "from the way I look at the case, was in the experiments made by Dr. Minor after the blind man came under his observation. These experiments had particular reference to the man's method of reasoning. He concluded that he would have his eyes operated on; and he sought the specialist for that purpose. After going to the operating table he was awakened. "I believe I'd rather not see anything," he said, "apparently to the specialist, and was pressed for the reason he married that he loved his wife and believed she was the prettiest and sweetest thing in the world, and that he had drawn a mental picture of her, and he was fearful that really seeing her might in some way mar the picture."
"At this rate the specialist persuaded him to undergo the operation. The sudden change which followed was marvelous. Square blocks, things in circular form, glass tumblers, and things of that sort were held up before him after the operation. When the specialist asked him to name a certain article he would reach for it from the force of habit, but of course the physician would not let him touch it. He was told, after some hesitation, to tell the shapes and names of things which he had only known through the sense of touch. The cot in

The Women's Plea.

The women of the state interested in the cause of temperance would have the white ribbon flying over the South Carolina, and West Indian exposition grounds. Yesterday the following interesting protest reached the governor through the mail:
Newberry, S. C., November 9, 1901:
To His Excellency, Gov. M. B. McSwain, Governor of South Carolina:
Whereas, we have been reliably informed that authority has been given by the state board of control in the case of the South Carolina and West Indian exposition for the establishment of dispensaries on the exposition grounds, and
Whereas, we, the members of the W. C. T. U., of South Carolina, in convention assembled, believe the placing of said dispensaries will furnish an additional trap for the young men of our fair land and endanger the lady visitors at the exposition, and
Whereas, the ladies of the State have done, and are doing, so much for the success of the exposition, supposing that its purpose was to give to our section of the country the benefits that might come from a moral, educational and heightened fair; therefore be it
Resolved, That, as representatives of the mothers, daughters and sisters of our beloved state, we look upon this introduction of the State liquor saloon as a decided blow to the best interests of the exposition and that we do heartily condemn the action of the commission in this regard, and the board of control in granting dispensaries.
Resolved further, That these resolutions be presented by a committee appointed by this body to the governor of this state, the chairman of the board of control and the commissioners of the exposition, praying them if it be possible, for the sake of the husbands, fathers, brothers and sons of our state, and for the sake of the fair name of our state in the esteem of foreign visitors, that they revoke the order for said dispensaries.
Resolved lastly, That the daily and weekly papers of the state be requested to publish these resolutions.
(Signed) Bettie P. Hayes, Annie White,
The governor promptly addressed the following communication to the ladies whose signatures are attached to the resolutions:
Dear Ladies: The resolutions adopted by the W. C. T. U. of South Carolina, in convention assembled, have been received, have nothing whatever to do with the granting of whiskey and beer privileges. That is a matter solely for the state board of control, and therefore I cannot be of any assistance in the object aimed at by your union. I will give the newspapers the resolutions that you have forwarded to me.
Shooting in Edgfield.
EDGEFIELD, Nov. 5.—Last night about half past 9 o'clock, Dr. L. W. Jones and Mr. H. C. Watson, both highly respected and estimable young men of Edgfield town, became involved in an altercation. Mr. Watson is fatally wounded with gun shot wound in the bowels and Dr. Jones is suffering with fracture of one of the bones of his left forearm. The circumstances surrounding the memorable affair have not developed.—Special to The State.
Two aged citizens of Cherokee died last week, Mr. A. A. Porter, aged 89, and Mrs. Araminta Jeffries, widow of the late Sam'l Jeffries.
To remove a troublesome corn or bunion: First soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it, then dip it down a closely drawn slip without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily; rubbing vigorously for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn for a few days, to protect it from the shoe. As a general liniment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequalled. For sale by all druggists.

Spreads Like Wildfire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling remedy we have handled in 20 years." You know why? Most diseases begin in disordered stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Put back life and vigor into any weak, ailing, run-down man or woman. Price 50 cents. Sold by Woods Drug Co.
The Wood's Balm Willam.
"I see Bro's Williams has done good home 'um Washington and New York."
"Yes, he come back."
"Had a good time dar, didn't he?"
"Wust in de world!"
"You don't say?"
"Hit's de Lawd's truth. Fer all dem talkin' dey wasn't a white man's hotel would 'comperdate 'im; eh what you reckon come on it!"
"Danno—you tell it."
"W'y, after proclikins' tuz' on' he'd night he actually had ter go to a Constitution up his own color!"—Atlanta Post.
A Splendid Discovery.
From Coopersville, Mich., comes word of a wonderful discovery of a pleasant tasting liquid that when used after retiring by any one troubled with a bad cough always ensures a good night's rest. "It will soon cure the cough too," writes Mrs. S. Himmelfinger, "for three generations of our family have used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and never found its equal for coughs and colds." It's an unrivaled life-saver when used for desperate lung diseases. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00 at Woods Drug Co. Trial bottles free.

Depression of Labor.

Washington, Nov. 12.—The industrial commission today made public its review of evidence taken before the commission on the subjects of agricultural labor. Among other subjects discussed is that of agricultural depression, of which the commission speaks as follows:
"The cause most often assigned for the depression of agriculture in the eastern States is the increased production due to the opening of western lands in advance of the natural demand, especially through the agency of liberal land laws and grants of land in aid of railroad construction. The competition of the west has been rendered especially severe by the policy of the railroads in making freight rates relatively low for long distances. The old staple products having thus become unprofitable in the east, it has been necessary for farmers to change their methods and vary the character of their crops, taking up especially the products which are not easily transported long distances. Thus truck farming has largely superseded cereal growing along the Atlantic coast, but farmers in the north Atlantic States now complain of the severe conditions and lack of effective business planning and management. The farmers as a class have not kept up with the times, but have raised the same crops year after year without regard to changes in supply and demand. This undue conservatism and lack of management among farmers is especially emphasized with reference to the southern States, and is given as an explanation of the exclusive attention to cotton production prevailing there.
Another cause assigned for agricultural depression in the south is the scarcity of money, difficulty of borrowing on real estate security, and the consequent high rates of interest. It seems to be possible, however, to borrow money in the south at somewhat lower rates of interest than formerly. The decline in the price of cotton is of course an important element in the depression of agriculture in the south. The inefficiency of negro labor is assigned as another cause. On the other hand, it is affirmed that there is too much good and cheap labor in the south. An abundance of cheap labor is said to be unfavorable to the success in agriculture, because it results in neglecting too large an acreage and in neglect of personal attention by the planter.
Against the charge that farmers are unduly conservative, is put the counter charge that they turn from one crop to another without sufficient regard to the suitability of the climate and soil, or to the conditions of the market."
"For two years all efforts to cure Eczema in the palms of my hands," writes the Editor of N. L. East's of Syracuse, Kan., "then I was wholly cured by Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's the world's best for eruptions, sores and all skin diseases. Only 25c at Woods Drug Co's.

Buffalo Exposition Shortage.

It was known long before the Pan-American exposition closed that it would not pay out, but there is a general surprise that its expenses exceeded its receipts by more than $3,500,000.
The exposition was pitched and carried on at a magnificent scale, and its patronage fell short of what was reasonably expected.
This was due to the fact that so many expositions had been held in this county during the previous few years.
Another reason of the financial failure of this great enterprise was the fact that the counties of Central and South America did not encourage and participate in it as they were expected to, and as several of them had given assurance that they would.
The Pan-American exposition, in spite of its big name, was, strictly speaking a local enterprise. True, it was by far the most comprehensive and magnificent show that any city ever presented, but the lack of any national feeling back of it had a great effect in limiting the extent and variety of its attractions and in the splendor of electrical display the Buffalo exposition surpassed by far anything of the kind ever seen before, not excepting the Columbian exposition, or the last world's fair at Paris.
It is to be regretted that the public-spirited citizens of Buffalo, who subscribed so liberally to the fund for this great exposition and bought its stock and bonds are to lose all they put up, but their city and the country at large to some extent have been benefited by the investment.
It is estimated that $175,000,000 was brought directly to Buffalo by the exposition, and the people of that city received back from many sources a large part of what they contributed to the enterprise. There is talk of appealing to congress to pay the debts of the Exposition company, but little probability of the success of such an effort is apparent.—Atlanta Journal.
When you feel that life is hardly worth the candle take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They will cleanse your stomach, tone up your liver and regulate your bowels making you feel like a new man. For sale by all Druggists.
A Strange Fatality.
A strange fatality seems to have followed many of the whig and republican presidents in their accession to power, while the reign of all the democratic presidents has been peculiarly blessed. The republican party, in its forty-five years of existence, elected six presidents—Lincoln, Grant, Hayes, Garfield and McKinley. Just half of these, it is noted, Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley, were assassinated. The Whig party was in existence from 1834 to 1854 and elected two presidents, Wm. Henry Harrison and Zachary Taylor, both of whom died in office. The democratic party has been in existence 110 years, a longer period than the whig and republican parties combined, and has never had a president. It elected nine presidents, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Jackson, Van Buren, Polk, Pierce, Buchanan and Cleveland, five of whom were elected for two terms each, yet none of these died in office. Peculiar, isn't it?—Dillon Herald.
That Throbbing Headache.
Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their merit for such sick and nervous headaches. They make your pulse beat and build up your health. Only 25c. Money back if not cured. Sold by Woods Drug Co.
Our friend Mr. R. R. Norton brought us yesterday 24 sweet potatoes which aggregated 75 pounds, an average of 3 pounds each. He raised 75 bushels from 24 rows 30 yards long.—Kershaw Era.

THE LANTERN,
PUBLISHED TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS.
J. T. BIGHAM, Editor and Prop.
Entered at the Postoffice at Chester, S. C., as second-class matter.

FRIDAY, NOV. 15, 1901.

How much did you make on your cotton farm this year? Try grain and see if you don't at least have less loss.

The circus was in Winstboro Thursday and Brother Fooshe is not going to get out any paper today. Like as not he will take another day off Christmas.

It has been reported to us that the new grand jury room has been shamefully abused already. We have not seen it; but it is said to be a scene of filth, the floors, the table boards, the coffers, the chairs and other parts being polluted with tobacco spit and discarded quills. Nothing but repainting will remove the foul marks. The room had just been completed and was in an admirable condition. A man can deliberately spit on a floor or on the walls of a building as a mystery to us.

We do not know who are the guilty parties, but the abuse must have been committed during the term of court, as it has not been open, we believe, at any other time. However, this is a matter for the grand jury. We have no doubt that by prompt investigation they can place the blame on the guilty parties. Of course, if the condition of the room has been misrepresented, that should end the matter. And now finally, we here call upon that honorable body to look into this matter and make proper presentment to the court at the next term. Surely there is some remedy, and a lesson should be taught in this matter at once.

Report of Grand Jury.
To the Hon. Ernest Gary, Judge presiding in sixth Circuit:

We beg to submit our report for the present term as follows: We have passed upon all business hands and returned by proper officers all bills submitted to us. The county officers and their books and offices have all been examined by us and found to be well ordered.

The county jail, poorhouse, chancery and other institutions of the County have been visited by committees and found to be in satisfactory condition.

The county roads show evidence of neglect and where the chancery have not worked recently are in need of work by the overseers.

The county treasurer's books show a gratifying financial condition of the county, there being a balance on hand to date of $3,309.82 after his annual settlement with the comptroller general and the payment of current expenses we are.

The surplus will be reduced by the payment of the balance due on the court house improvement of about $2,500. But it is worthy of comment to note that there will be no indebtedness upon the county by this work, the funds being ample to meet all expenditures.

The supervisor and the county board deserve great credit and the thanks of the entire county for the efficient manner in which they have remodeled and improved the court house, rendering it both convenient and beautiful, while the enlargement of the building and the addition of more rooms with fire proof equipments afford full accommodations for the county officers and ample protection for the records.

We found the property at the poor house to be as follows: 120 bales of cotton, 40 bushels of peas, 160 bushels of wheat, 22 head of cattle, 4 mules, two being old, 25 wagon loads hay, 3,000 bundles of fodder, 25 head of hogs, 150 bushels of corn. The inmates of the house were well cared for, there being 10 white paupers and 16 negroes.

The dispensary shows that the sales for October of the present year amounted to $5,576.41, while the expenses were $2,596.41, leaving a net gain or profit of $2,980.00. Compared with the same month of last year the sales are less than by $335.10, the total amount for October 1900, $6,911.57. The officers are competent and the dispensary well kept.

We have investigated the matter of the illicit sale of intoxicating liquors, having a number of warrants brought before us by bench warrant, and we find in that there is a great evil here. We leave the investigation to be continued by the next grand jury, when there will be ample time to bring the matter before the court by presentment of the parties engaged in this violation of the law.

We present Collins Williams for malicious mischief in killing a mule, the property of R. S. Hope, on the 18th of September, 1901, and we present the names of Joe Lee, Robert Smith, Geo. Porter, Sam Porter, Sam Jackson, Della McClure and J. A. Hope as witnesses to prove said charge.

Mrs. J. S. A. Hunter Dead.
ABBEVILLE, Nov. 13.—Mr. J. H. McClull received a dispatch from Ciudad del Maiz, Mexico, this morning announcing the death of his sister, Mrs. J. S. A. Hunter. Mrs. Hunter had been engaged in the mission work for the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church in Mexico for a number of years. She has many friends in this state and in most of the southern states who will lament her untimely death both on account of personal friendship as well as for the loss sustained to the great cause for which she labored so faithfully. Her last visit was paid to the United States about three or four years ago and by her bright and happy disposition she endeared herself to many who had not known her before.—Special to The State.

[We learn from the Abbeville Medium that appendicitis was the cause of death.—LANTERN.]

Monday, November 18th—Lot day in Chester.

A Bounty Coming.
It is announced through the daily papers that volunteers who enlisted in the federal army to fight the Spaniards in 1898 are to receive a bounty. Those who saw service on foreign territory are entitled to $100 for each man, and those who did not serve outside of the United States will receive $100 for each man honorably discharged or mustered out of the service.

It is expected that this state will receive a quarter of a million dollars in bounty paid the soldiers of the First and Second regiments and the heavy battery in these three commands of 2,831 men.

There is an un-repealed bounty law, which was passed by the federal government during the civil war, giving this bounty to volunteers, and it so happens that the sons of Confederate soldiers are to receive bounty under a law that was enacted to encourage the enlistment of men to fight against their fathers.—Greenwood Journal.

Farmers' Mutual pays at once. On Friday night, November 1st, Mr. F. W. I. Kee's house was damaged by fire. By ten o'clock Saturday morning the loss had been assessed and paid. The money is kept on hand to pay losses, and there is no "red tape" about it. The cost this year has been very light.

A Harmless Assassin.
Now it appears that the body of the assassin of President McKinley will be preserved instead of destroyed. If the chemists are right, it will, according to a formula which is equivalent to "quicksilver plus vitriol equals plaster of paris plus water," become solidified rather than disintegrated. However, a plaster of paris assassin several feet under ground can do no harm.—Spartanburg Journal.

A free lot to be given away at the auction sale of lots Monday, the 18th.

Editor Gonzales Married.
Mr. N. G. Gonzales, editor of The State, and Miss Lucy Barron, of Manning, were married Wednesday morning at the home of the bride. The wedding was very quiet and only near relations of the couple were invited. Mr. and Mrs. Gonzales came to Columbia on the morning Coast Line train and left the city last evening for the north. They will be absent a fortnight or more.—State, 15th.

Almaeute voted Tuesday on the ratification of the new constitution. Those in favor of ratification claim a majority of 27,000 and the opposers having a number of which it is possible there is a majority for ratification.

Offered a Lieutenantcy.
T. O. Stewart has been offered by President Roosevelt the appointment of lieutenant in the regular army, but he has not yet decided whether he will accept.

Mr. Stewart was a lieutenant in the 1st regiment in the Spanish war and has a liking for military life, but would prefer not to leave Newberry, though he may decide to accept the appointment, which is a good one, paying $1,400 a year.—Newberry Observer.

It is said that Ex-Representative G. W. Murray, colored, is to be appointed deputy collector under Collector Geo. R. Koster.

The town of Dillon, in Marion county, had the greatest fire Wednesday morning, in a row of wooden buildings. Estimated loss $15,000, insurance half as much.

A large number of cotton seed oil men have been indicted by a federal grand jury in Mississippi for violating a United States statute in combining and conspiring to control the prices of cotton seed products.

BIDS CALLED FOR.
Seals will be received at this office until 10 o'clock a. m. on Monday the 2nd day of December, proximo, for a ferryman to operate "Woods' Ferry" for the year 1902. On the same day we will sell in front of the court house door immediately after the legal sale, a wind mill and water tank, a lot of doors, a building, carpets, etc. Terms of sale cash. J. R. CULP, Supervisor.

PHOTOGRAPHS.
For the next 90 days we will make cabinet photographs for $1.50 per dozen. Work will be delivered one week from time of sitting. Work guaranteed not to fade, come rain or shine. Remember the place, Columbia St., opposite R. W. Crowder's Livery stables, Chester, S. C. DIXIE PHOTO CO. Nov. 8. 1m.

SALE.
On Monday, Dec. 10th, I will sell at auction at my house, near Olive, York county, the following personal property: Two mules, one horse, three milk cows, a veal beef cattle, hogs, corn, fodder, hay, cotton seed, one wagon, buggy, household and kitchen implements, and general farming implements. LOCAL NEWS.

Mrs. W. A. Davis is visiting her friends in town.

W. A. Barber, Esq., of New York, is in the city.

Mr. John Peay has returned from Asheville.

There is said to be an egg trust, and we believe our hens are in it.

Mr. and Mrs. David M. Mobley are in the city, at Mrs. J. N. Cross's.

Mrs. Jas. H. Hoke returned to Fort Mill this morning after visiting Mrs. B. M. Spratt.

Tax collections are very slow, far behind the figures at this date last year.

Friday is Arbor Day. Do something to encourage the growth of trees.

Mr. J. K. Henry returned Wednesday night from his trip to synod, in Tennessee.

The sale of lots next Monday will be interesting. See what is offered in the advertisement.

The delegates to the Presbyterian synod in Charleston returned much pleased with their entertainment.

After a drizzle 'n rain Tuesday, it is clear and dry looking again.

The rain was not sufficient to soften hard ground.

Elections by Commissioners. The county commissioners elected the following officials: Superintendent poor house, J. A. Carter; superintendent chain gang, J. G. Howze; county physician, Dr. J. G. Johnston.

Spence Cook Dead. Wednesday about one o'clock, Mr. Spence Cook was found dead on the floor of an outhouse at the rear of Frazer's livery stable. He had been seen about the stable a short time before, and was on the street about 12 o'clock. He had been afflicted for months with something like dropsy, involving the heart, and had not been able to do anything. Formerly he was employed about the meat markets. The remains were buried yesterday afternoon, the Rev. J. S. Moffatt conducting funeral services.

A War Rall. Maj. J. W. Reed has shown us a copy of the poem written on the back of a $50 Confederate bill by Hazy McCarthy, the author of the "Bonnie Blue Flag," when the money had lost its value. A copy was sent by a Confederate soldier to a friend in the north, with appropriate verses, and the northern acknowledges in another poem. Maj. Reed has also a chart representing the Confederate bill in its different phases of value, and the hopes and the fate of the country in the various periods of its rise and fall.

A Safe Plan. Mr. J. Stringfellow is getting tired of furnishing land, stock, and supplies to renters and getting back perhaps about enough to pay rent. He is sowing down two plantations in oats and wheat, reasoning that even if the grain crop prove a partial failure, and he get but light returns, he will have but little at stake and can lose but little, while his land will improve rather than deteriorate.

He invested in two-horse turn plows and a grain drill, and is preparing the land and sowing the grain in good condition.

9:30 a. m. is the time of auction sale of lots. Free Carriages. Monday 18th.

Closing Out. As will be seen in their advertisement Messrs. Strong and McKewen, of Cornwall, are going to close out their mercantile business.

With the boys at school, Mr. Strong says he is unable to give proper attention to the store and his own and his sister's farms. If any one wishes to buy the business as a whole, he can get a bargain, otherwise the sale will go on until the stock is disposed of, with auction every Saturday.

They mean just what they say, they are going to close out, and they are going to sell the goods at a price that will sell them quick.

Daughters of the Confederacy. At their November meeting, which was held on last Monday, Nov. 11th, the Chapter D. of C. elected officers for the ensuing year as follows:

President, Miss Annie C. Hardin; first vice-president, Mrs. E. C. Stahn; and vice-president, Mrs. Julia Campbell; secretary, Miss Berta Heath; treasurer, Miss Marion Leckie; historian, Mrs. J. G. Moffatt.

The special work in which this chapter is now interested is the building of a Confederate monument in Chester. The nucleus of a fund for this purpose has already been raised, and a committee, with Mrs. Campbell as chairman, was appointed to stir up and keep up interest in this subject.

The chapter appointed Misses Annie Hardin and May Davidson to represent it at the annual State Convention of the Daughters, which Convention meets this year with the Dick Anderson chapter, in Sumter, Nov. 28th and 29th.

Small Farm to rent. Enough for two or three plows. A good bargain for the right man. Having place well cared for is more desired than high rent. Don't apply unless you mean business. Apply at LANTERN office.

Trouble at Clemson. Serious trouble is reported from Clemson College. A representative of this paper has secured reliable information regarding the students and of a supposed victory of the students. It is thought the trouble will cause one of the professors, who is well known here, to cease to be a member of the faculty.

It seems that recently Prof. W. S. Morrison, teacher of history, gave great offense to some members of the senior class and that the professor had become very obnoxious to many members of the student body. In a late instance some of the seniors considered themselves grossly insulted and Cadet Lister, a football leader, organized himself into a grievance committee and demanded an apology. An animated conversation occurred between teacher and pupil. Professor Morrison carried the case to the faculty and it is claimed by the students, suppressed some of the facts. Lister was suspended.

The students, particularly the senior class, were angered by this action: It happened that it was time for a meeting of trustees and the matter was brought to their attention. Notice was served in a dignified manner by the seniors that if Lister was not immediately reinstated, the entire class would leave, and the juniors made a similar announcement.

It is said that the trustees ordered Lister re-instated at once and ordered Prof. Morrison to apologize to the boys, which he did. The trustees also said to have advised the boys that they would only have to accept apology as a temporary expedient, from which it is inferred Prof. Morrison will resign.

Prof. Morrison is well known in the city and county, having been educated at Wofford and having lived at Weiland. He is a fine teacher and is generally respected. It seems, however, that he has always been somewhat severe towards his pupils, and uprisings against him by the boys have been narrowly averted several times. He is superintendent of public schools at Greenville and was attacked by Mayor S. A. Townes because Townes' son had been very severely whipped by the professor.—Spartanburg Journal.

Sale of Lumber. Under our lien as sawyers we will sell at public auction on the 30th day of November, 1901, at 11 o'clock, a. m. on the Steve Kirkpatrick place, near Scott pasture, Chester county, ONE LOT OF POPLAR, PINE AND OAK LUMBER (40,000 feet more or less). Terms of sale, CASH.

The old Strand place, at Weiland, 200 acres, at suit of James H. Stroud, administrator of E. R. Stroud, dec'd vs. J. J. Stroud et al. Terms, one-third cash, balance in two equal annual installments.

A tract of 92 acres in Haiseltville town, bounded by Levi West, Jacob S. Stone, Robert Cunningham, S. T. McKewen, et al. At suit of Jerome Willford vs. S. Simpson Temple et al.

Worth Looking Into. A misfit tests a man's patience. A frayed cuff on a saw edge color do not add to his comfort. Economy sometimes prompts men to put up with these trying things. Men accustomed to paying fancy prices are likely to defer their shopping until necessity drives them. We suggest that our men's outfitting departments are worth the attention of every man in the country and town. Both because of good goods and good fits, and because they are economical. Don't forget that our prices are in keeping with the low price of cotton.

Chinese Laundry. Lum may come and Lum may go, but the laundry will ever be the old stand. Having many years' experience, we do first-class work and guarantee satisfaction. Work from the country and other towns solicited. Give us a trial. FLANK FOSH, 111 N. 11th St.

WANTED. Five Jersey or grade Jersey Milk Cows, not over 7 years old, with young calves. Not less than a pound of butter per day. Name lowest cash price. J. D. RATTERREE, Chester, S. C.

Closing Out! We are going out the mercantile business, and to close out our entire stock of Dry Goods, Clothing, Shoes, Hats, Hardware, etc., we will begin Saturday, November 16th, selling this stock.

AT COST! Positively no goods will be charged, as we are going to close up the business at once.

AUCTION Every Saturday from 2 to 4 p. m. We will consider propositions from any party desiring to purchase the business of the firm as a whole.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Seaboard Airline Railway to Winter Resorts.

Winter excursion tickets were placed on sale to resort points on this line in North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, on October 15th, and will remain on sale during the season. Exceptionally low rates are in effect this year to Pinehurst and Southern Pines, N. C., Camden, S. C., Spartanburg, Ga., and all points in Florida and Cuba. To reach any of these points, the service of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, "Capital City Route," will be found the best and most attractive. In addition to the superior service now operated, it is announced that Cafe cars will be placed in service on the Washington-Atlanta Line about November 1st, and on the Florida Lines about November 15th, 1902. Following this the Florida & Metropolitan Limited will be inaugurated about January 15th, 1902, with sumptuous appointments and superb equipment, including dining and club cars, constituting it beyond a doubt, the peer of any train in the world.

WINTER TOURISTS TICKETS.

The Seaboard Air Line Railway announces that, effective October 15, 1902 round the Winter Excursion tickets will be placed in sale to resort points on its lines in North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. These tickets are given in connection with the superior service and rate schedules operated over this line, which is the shortest and best to Florida points, are brought to the attention of those who are planning Winter tours. It will be distinctly to their advantage to obtain definite information, which will be cheerfully furnished by any Agent or Representative of the Company.

White House Magazine.

The collection of animals, wild, domestic and foreign, at the White House is being enlarged almost daily by new arrivals from distant places. The possum and the parrot may now be joined by a game rooster. It is a bantam and, although diminutive in size, looks capable of winning a championship in the featherweight class if pitted against an adversary of its kind. It is the property of Kermit Roosevelt, to whom it was sent, as was the President's possum, by some admirer in the South. The Roosevelt boys would like to see the rooster fight, but of course the President will not permit an exhibition of this kind in or near the White House. He yielded to Kermit's appeal, however, so far as to have a small coop erected for the rooster under the portico at the south side of the mansion. Yesterday the game cock escaped from its enclosure and strutted out over the White House grounds. Mrs. Roosevelt and a policeman joined in the chase to capture it, but took upward of an hour to run it down. The possum and the parrot are doing well. The bird is a Brazilian of gorgeous plumage, brought from South America by Charles Page Bryan, the United States minister, and speaks Spanish with fluency. Kermit and Archibald have conceived the idea of learning the Spanish language from it.

The dead never disagree.

"Woodman, Spare That Tree!"

Commerce, whether it is democratic or republican, moves everything that comes in its way. The three grand old oaks which have stood in front of the departed old Rock house time out of memory are being destroyed.

"Woodman, spare that tree. Touch not a single bough! In youth it sheltered me. And I'll protest it now."

Sublime sentiment! But what has cold blooded commerce to do with sentiment? Nothing but to annihilate it. There is nothing in nature that does not have to yield to the "Savage" life majestic mountains and the great "trailing deep."

Plant shade trees by resolution, says the board of health; destroy the magnificent trees we already have, say the powers that be.—Greenwood Journal.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cure biliousness, constipation and headache. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. For sale by all Druggists.

Grand Jury Too Soon.

Solicitor Thurmond has asked the governor to remove Magistrate C. C. Wise of Saluda County, on account of his admitting to bail C. W. Solter, who shot Mr. E. L. Asbill. The solicitor says the shooting was unwarranted and brutal, and will probably prove fatal, and that Wise was acquainted with the facts when he released Solter on the insignificant bond of $500, when he had no right to grant bail at all. Solter is disgraced. Gov. McSwainery has cited Wise to show cause why he should not be removed in accordance with the solicitor's recommendation.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and find it to be a great medicine," says Mr. E. S. Phipps, of Potomac, Ark. "It cured me of bloody flux. I cannot speak too highly of it." This remedy always wins the good opinion, if not praise, of those who use it. The quick cures which it effects even in the most severe cases make it a favorite everywhere. For sale by all druggists.

The Romance of the Presidency.

What sketch of fancy could have predicted four years ago that Theodore Roosevelt, a talented and rather bumptious young gentleman, holding little other than an upper clerkship in a subordinate department of the government—as a rule, considered a political cut-de-sac—would today be president of the United States? Yet the experience of Mr. Roosevelt is not exceptional to that of several of his predecessors in office. Six weeks before his nomination for president in 1884, James K. Polk was a weak candidate for vice president, resting his chief hope upon the nomination of Martin Van Buren for president. In two preceding state elections he had been successively beaten for governor of Tennessee, then regarded as one of the "pivotal states." In 1843 Franklin Pierce retired from public life because he could not resist the convulsion of the national capital. Ten years later, having done nothing in the interim especially to distinguish himself, he returned to Washington as president of the United States.

Take the case of Chester A. Arthur. He was regarded by the country, as far as he was known at all, as a New York politician merely. Many there who regarded him as a rather tough machine politician. Two years before his nomination for vice president on the ticket with Garfield he had been turned out of the collectorship of the port of New York by his own party, under charges. Elected vice president, Garfield's bullet made him president, and a more upright, gracious and graceful president, or one wiser in his order, never occupied the chief magistracy office.—Louisville Courier-Journal.
