ELECTRICITY IS THE PROPER POWER TO USE.

Possibly you are satisfied with your present power equipment. Probably you are not. Would you welcome a proposition from us to equip your plant for using electric power? Would you, if we could prove that such power would be cheaper, and save you real hard dollars and cents? Would you, if we could prove to you that such power would save you worry, bother, insurance, danger, dirt, coal, etc.? Would you, if we could show you that electric power would reduce the chances of breakdowns and loss of time? Would you, if we could show you that it would mean more and better work from your employees?

If this kind of money-saving proposition will interest you, just write us. We can wire your place for using electric power from an outside source, or we can install a complete plant for you that will generate your own power—and make you independent of power and light. We are waiting for your invitation to show you—send it today. All kinds of electrical repairing given prompt attention.

Ohio Mob After a Negro.
Dayton, O., Oct. 30.—George 'Hassore' town marshal of Franklin, 15 miles south of this city, was shot and instantly killed this morning while attempting to arrest George White, a negro suspected of being implicated in robberies there during the two weeks. White was captured after an exciting chase through the town and is now in the town jail. The people are enraged and mob violence is feared.
The whole town of Franklin is wrought up over the affair, and colored people are being chased out without having been given time to explain.
Passengers from Cincinnati over the traction line that runs to this city, came on through and they declare they would not stop in Franklin, as indications pointed to more serious complications tonight.
The negro held his pursuers at bay until shot in the right arm, when he surrendered. A mob composed of about 300 men and boys attacked the Franklin jail, bent on lynching the negro. While they were forcing an entrance in the rear, Sheriff Patterson and deputies took White out the front way, placed him in an automobile and made a speedy run to Lebanon, the county seat. The departing automobile was used at by armed members of the mob.

Capt. Jno. S. Douglas, of Columbia, arrived in this city Tuesday to visit his daughter, Mrs. W. F. Martin. He expects to leave for Washington Monday to visit his two sons there and will also visit his other son, Rev. J. W. Douglas, in Baltimore, before returning.

A Loved One Gone.
Death has again visited our home and plucked one of our sweetest flowers. Martha Janet Rix was born Aug. 29, 1883, and died Oct. 29, 1906. Her remains were laid to rest in New Hope cemetery on Sabbath evening. Dear little Martha was only sick three days, when the blessed Saviour called her home to Heaven to be with him. She leaves a sad vacant place, her voice is no more heard. We trust to meet this little one some day where parting is unknown.
Dearest Martha, thou hast left us. Here thy loss we deeply feel. But 'tis God that has bereft us; He can all our sorrows heal.
Woodward, S. C., Oct. 30, 1906.

Circus Men Convicted.
George Spivens, white tramping, and Jack McComer, colored cook, of Cole Brothers' circus, charged with the murder of Mr. E. W. Galtard at Manning a few weeks ago, were convicted in Sumter Tuesday, with recommendation to mercy. Judge Hydrick sentenced them to ten years in the penitentiary for life. Spivens' counsel announced his purpose to appeal to the supreme court. He asked that in the mean time his client be confined in the penitentiary on no account "the insanitary and unpleasant condition of the county jail." Judge Hydrick said he had no authority to do that, but he would have the jail put in decent condition, if it were necessary to call an extra term of court and have the jailer and other officials indicted. This case was tried in Sumter because that was the jailer's home county and he died there, and the law permits such a case to be tried either in the county in which the crime is committed or the one wherein the victim died.

An Apology and a Settlement.

When the theater crowd was at its thickest on Broadway on Saturday night, a well set up man of medium size, wearing a glossy silk hat, hurried along. In going along through the handle of the case he carried caught the arm of one of two burly persons who were going in the same direction. He half turned as if to apologize, but before he could do so one of the pair smashed his side with a heavy stick.
"I beg your pardon, sir," said the man, blandly taking off his battered hat. "My rudeness was unintentional."
"Putting back the damaged hat on his head, the man stepped back and said, "Now I propose to settle with you for a blackguard."
"Where on the spot was he struck by the big man went on his back from a clean smash on the jaw. "If you want any more, I am ready to oblige you," said the other.
The other apparently didn't. The smaller man picked up his stick, took off his damaged hat and continued on his way down Broadway. And the crowd of spectators, who had gathered about the magic hook-up with the feeling that they had seen as near a bit of work as it would ever be, thought good fortune to encounter—New York Sun.

Black of Little.
The stranger in any city half a hundred years old, if he knew nothing of the city's history, would learn from many of the signs that the second and third generations had succeeded to the business of father and grandfather. It is especially true of New York. The New York Tribune mentions some peculiar signs and relates the following:
A Landmark who had straggled about the streets of the city of the old New Yorker who called his attention to some of the signs of sons agreed that in this respect New York was very like London, but in neither city was there any such sign as he saw in one of the old English towns a few hours' ride from the world's metropolis. The sign reads, "John Littlejohn's Sons & Little Little Littlejohn, Dissoluble Littlejohn & John Little."
According to the Londoner the first Littlejohn and Little were partners. The former gave his first son his partner's family name, and Little gave his boy his partner's Christian name. Littlejohn's second son was named after his mother's family, Dissoluble. The third son succeeded to their father's business, hence the sign is as it is, and the Londoner was right in saying that the successors had no intention of dissolving the partnership, as they had their sign written as it appears.

Dangerous Economy.
A paragraph about an economical merchant in Broadway saving the backs of old envelopes for serate paper, reminds an old friend of the city of a New York letter, who left at $2,000,000, for a long time kept up the practice of writing his letters on the backs of the numerous foolscap letters he received and sticking them on a spindle for scribbling purposes. Envelopes were not put in use. In view of the and the merchant thought he had won his case, when defendant's letter, duly signed, was produced. Counsel for defendant examined the letter and found it over to look for the superfluous, found that it was unsigned. Immediately saw his advantage and said: "This letter is incomplete, your honor. A check of the contents of the order." The court so ruled, and defendant won the suit. The practice of utilizing old envelopes in this manner's office was at once discontinued.—New York Times.

A Sergeant's Surprise.
When Indians were being recruited for the regular army, said a western representative, a few of the recruits gave them civilized names. Down at Fort Apache army officers were recruiting the Yumas and Apaches. A recruiting sergeant was naming them. Finally a company had been formed, and the first sergeant, who was an American, went out to the front and company to report his company to the commanding officer.
"Company B, sir, four privates absent."
"Who are they? asked the commanding officer."
"Jay Gould, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jay Jefferson and Russell Sage, sir," said the sergeant.—New York World.

Fashion's Demands.
The conscientious young man of fashion now brushes his hair differently when wearing a hat. Chancellor Tindal, the acknowledged Beau Brummel of Dublin in his youth, had inexpressible difficulty in getting out for walking and for sitting and once sat down in the former with disastrous results. Not long ago a milliner advertised a newly invented hat that "deceitfully the mouth worn slightly open." What shall we come to next?—Vanity Fair.

Freelance.
"So Mrs. Gaylord insists on a separate bed last, does she?" "Well, he has neglected that matter fully."
"Oh, she didn't mind that particularly."
"What was the trouble, then?"
"Why, whenever he was a little good to her he was so very virtuous about it that she just couldn't stand it."—Harper's Bazar.

The actors' green room is so called because its floor in the time of Shakespeare was always covered with green grass.

Medieval knights often took a voluntary oath that they would never spare the life of an enemy.

500 Suits Worth $5.50, Going At $2.95

These serviceable Suits are brand spank new, direct from the factory where they were made. They were bought by a big merchant in Ohio, to be delivered on the 15th of last September, however, owing to a strike in this factory, it was impossible to deliver the suits at that date. The merchant being "cranky," as the factory word is, wouldn't take the suits, because they didn't deliver them when promised. The factory was compelled to get rid of them to make room for spring clothing, so they offered them to us at a gigantic reduction. And we intend letting you share in this reduction.

This is simply another case of our shrewd buying for cash. The big factories understand we always pay cash for what we buy, hence, they seek us, when they are loaded up with such bargains as this.

Remember the cloth alone in the suit is worth more than our give away price of them of $2.95. Let alone making the suit up. In the regular way we could not buy such suits for less than $4.00. And if you can purchase one anywhere else in America for

Less than $5.50 we will give you one, and a good square meal, in one of our hotels, to boot.

They are three-fourths wool, excellently sewed, stylish cut, and full made. Our price while they last

FRESH Pearl Grits at Wylie's.

Mr. J. E. Edwards and children, of Fingerville, who have been visiting at the home of her father-in-law, Capt. W. H. Edwards, and other relatives, left for their home yesterday. Mr. J. H. Kirkpatrick, of Fort Lawn, says that in places in that part of the county all the cotton is picked, while some fields appear as if none had been picked from them. Mrs. W. G. Jordan and daughter, Miss Emily, of Bodman, came over Tuesday to visit Miss Emma Emily and Miss Graham and returned Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. W. O. Atkins and baby, of Rutherfordton, N. C., are spending a few days with relatives here on her return from a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Madison McDonald, near Blackstock. NOTICE-Contract closed for the catch seed potatoes, January and February shipments. Early Rose and Blue Belles varieties. Middle stock. Prices and quality guaranteed. Ready to book orders. J. W. Bead. 1-20. The Rev. D. D. Wells was moderator of the Baptist association at New Boston, Cape W. B. Edwards was secretary and Mr. B. H. Ferguson treasurer. The next meeting will be at Fort Lawn. Miss Lilla Peay came home from Rock Hill Wednesday evening to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Peay, and returned Monday afternoon. Miss Geneva Curston accompanied her and spent the time with her sister, Mrs. J. B. Besterfield. The Rev. T. B. Craig and family passed through Wednesday afternoon moving from Fountain Inn to Rock Hill. Rev. Mr. Craig is the new pastor of Meeting Creek and Ebenezer Presbyterian churches. Also a church in Rock Hill. Mr. J. W. Bigham, of Watridge, and son, Rev. J. M. Bigham, of Rutherfordton, N. C., were guests of Dr. J. B. Welch Wednesday night on their return from the meeting of the late Presbytery. The latter went home with his father yesterday morning for a few days' visit. Investigation is being made by the Klutz's authorities about notices to determine whether the poll want has crossed the river from Louisiana into Maryland, as it has been reported to have done. It is believed that the old weather has increased in force and will quarantain some of the river.

COUSAR MERCANTILE COMPANY'S STORE

ON MAIN STREET, CHESTER, S. C., THE SALE OF THE STOCK OF

CLOTHING FROM APPLEFIELD OF BALTIMORE

LOOK FOR THE YELLOW SIGN.

A sensational purchase of clothing from Baltimore, bought at about 60 cents on the dollar, a few days ago, has paved the way for the greatest trade event that has ever occurred in Chester's history. This is to be a sale without a parallel, and will bring thousands to Chester, who will reap their share of magnificent values. These bargains are passed to you just as we bought them---at a great sacrifice, which will eclipse any opportunity offered you for money saving, either past or present. Hence we name this sale our "Ten Days' Challenge Sale," because its magnitude, its money saving opportunities challenge and defy all competition, and dwarfing in comparison all other attempts.

Our Entire Stock Added to The Baltimore Purchases.

Our entire stock of beautiful and fashionable merchandise joins hands with the famous Baltimore purchases to make this indeed Chester's greatest bargain event. Everything is included, the most exquisite Ready-to-Wear Apparel, Clothing, Dress Goods, Shoes, Laces, Embroideries, etc., etc. Bear in mind that the Cousar Mercantile Co. makes no misrepresentations. Every statement made to the people will be carried out to the letter. The confidence of the public has been won through our strictly adhering to our rule never to disappoint, nor make assertions verbally or otherwise that could not be substantiated. In placing such a sale before the people it was necessary to engage a sales expert to assist us; one who through experience knows how to display and arrange stocks most advantageously for the convenience and comfort of shoppers; one who has had wide experience in systematizing salesforce for properly serving the crowds in a satisfactory way. So we have engaged Messrs L. Kirstein & Co., of Portsmouth, who has had wide experience in Metropolitan Department Stores in conducting special sales.

IN FULL BLAZE - - NOW GOING ON

The very air is permeated with the Bargain Spirit, which is undoubtedly a charming sensation to the Lord of the Home, or the Economical Housewife. THE SALE IS BEING CONDUCTED UPON A PLAN IN KEEPING WITH THE STORE'S REPUTATION.

All Lines Join in the Bargain Chorus.

Clothing, Dry Goods, Shoes, Hats, ---such as Neckwear, and Notions of every description, Handkerchiefs, Ladies' and Gents' Furnishings. Everything in Ready-to-Wear Department, and Piece Goods of every description. Nothing escapes the pruning knife.
