LAYER ELECTION RETURNS.

UNCLASSED STATE OF OVER 300 VOTES.

New York, Nov. 5.—The members of the electoral college which chose the next president of the United States remained in dispute for the official counts in Maryland. The returns for the best of the state are still being counted, but it is a strong indication that the state's vote will be split. In any event, the margin of victory will be small, as the state was claimed by the leaders of both parties. Maryland elected one Republican and seven Democratic electors. It appears to be safely split, with the probability of 300, with the probability of a few final districts will double the figures.

Indiana, Nov. 5.—Returns practically complete from the entire state. Taft a plurality over Bryan in Missouri of 2,228.

Missouri, Nov. 5.—Returns practically complete from the entire state. Taft a plurality over Bryan in Missouri of 2,228.

Ohio, Nov. 5.—Taft's day's election. Outside of Ohio, Taft surpassed the million ballot deposited four years ago, making a new high record for Ohio voters.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN R. SCHOR.

Yorkville, Nov. 6.—Mr. John R. Schorb died at his home last night yesterday morning of heart failure, which was the result of a long illness and after having been confined to his bed only a few days.

Mr. Schorb was the oldest citizen of Yorkville and the oldest photographer in the world. He was born in the Grand Duch of Baden, Germany, on October 24, 1818, and came to the United States in 1841. He first established a residence at Burt, N. Y., but after two years walked to Michigan City, Ind., about 600 miles of the distance in the snow. Michigan City was the lake port of Chicago, which at that time, 1850, had less than 2,000 population. He remained at Michigan City until 1859, when he returned to Buffalo. In 1860 he cast his first vote for president in favor of Wm. Henry Harrison, the Whig candidate. Shortly afterward he went to Rochester and in 1861 he began working for the late Joseph C. Schorb, who had just prepared himself for Hamilton college, from which he was graduated in the time. Shortly before his graduation he learned of the death of a friend of his, who had been working for the purpose of acquiring the art of photography, the discoverer and inventor of the collotype. Mr. Schorb devoted himself to taking pictures, working in New York, Virginia, and New Jersey. Later he went to Cleveland and from there to Columbia, Pa., finally stopping in Winsboro, N. C., to take a position as instructor in the famous Mount Zion Institute. A few years later he returned to Yorkville, where he continued to reside up to the time of his death.

During the first years of his residence in Yorkville he taught in what was known as the Male academy and afterward took a position in the female college. In 1869 he began teaching himself entirely to photography and has continued the practice of the art ever since.

He was ordained a ruling elder in the Presbyterian church of Yorkville in 1863 and continued in the office up to the time of his death.

During all his long residence in the town, Mr. Schorb was a man of great esteem and respect in the community. He was a man of great industry and was a member of the Yorkville Historical Society. He was a man of great industry and was a member of the Yorkville Historical Society.

A. R. P. SYDOR.

Newberry, Nov. 6.—The synod of the A. R. P. church was constituted for business Thursday after the opening services of the setting dedication of the new church at Newberry, N. C., by Rev. J. A. White of Blackstock. The moderator-elect, Wm. H. Miller of Rosemont Tenn., then took the chair, with Rev. James Byrnes as first clerk and Rev. E. B. Kennedy bill clerk.

The unfinished business of the last meeting was first taken up, very little of which was of any importance. The reports of boards and treasurers were submitted and referred to appropriate committees. The afternoon was a continuation of reports of boards.

The order of the continuing was a monitory address by Rev. Wm. Duncan of Charlotte, N. C. This was a most earnest appeal for foreign missions. An invitation was received by the synod from the synod of the Lutheran church, meeting in Prosperity, to meet with them and join in the inauguration of President Harms. The invitation was accepted and a committee of 12, headed by the moderator, was appointed to attend the inauguration.

The second day of the synod convened at 9:15 a. m. Rev. Wm. H. Hunter of Arkansas conducted the devotional services. Immediately afterwards the business of the day was devoted to reports from the following presbyteries: the Second presbytery of Kentucky presbytery, Tennessee and Alabama presbyteries. Texas presbytery and Arkansas presbytery. Some of the reports were read and some referred to committees.

The Texas presbytery asked to be dismissed from synod in order to be united with the United Presbyterian church. This request was referred to a committee, but will very likely be granted by synod.

At 10:30 a committee appointed to assist in the inauguration of Dr. Harms as president of Newberry college left the synod and in the absence of the moderator, Hon. Geo. Gordon, of Atlanta Ga. led the services, took the chair. He presided with ability and grace.

The question of changing the name of Due West Female college was brought up. The names proposed were "Clark college," "Hough college," "Bonner college," for Dr. Bonner, who was president of the college for 15 years. No definite action was taken. Rev. A. Patterson of Monticello Ark., preached to a crowded church at 11 a. m. Mr. Patterson took as his theme "The drawing power of Christ." He preached a pleasing and stirring sermon from Luke, 15:11: "Then drew near unto Him publicans and sinners to hear Him." Mr. Patterson emphasized the significance of the claims of people who were drawn to Him, "publicans and sinners," indicating the lowest class of society, those who do not as a rule attend religious services. He then asked why they came to Jesus. "Was not because He excused or condoned their sins, not because he appealed to their passion and prejudice, not because He resorted to highly sensational preaching. They were drawn by his humble and open manner—there was nothing about him but it was inviting. They were drawn by His manifest love and sympathy for them—they recognized in Him a friend." They were drawn by His noble and noble character. Let us have the same mind in us that was in him.

At 3:30 p. m. the regular routine was taken up, consisting of reports of committees and boards, and after the selection of the place of next meeting of synod and the next officers of the synod, the following were elected: Moderator, Barlow, Fla.; Monticello Ark., and Neely Creek, S. C. were put in nomination and resulted in the selection of Barlow, Fla.

Rev. S. W. Haddon, Old Providence, Va., was elected next moderator. Rev. Dr. J. K. McClurkin, Pittsburg, Pa., fraternal delegate from the United Presbyterian church, and Rev. J. E. James, of the Presbyterian church of Newberry, were introduced to the synod and were accorded privileges of the floor.

IN MEMORIAM.
Three ministers, Rev. J. E. Martin, of Georgia, Rev. W. S. E. Neal, of Yorkville, and Rev. D. P. Neal, of Yorkville, have died since the last meeting of synod. Memorial services will be held next Sabbath for these ministers.

At 8:15 p. m. Rev. R. E. Hough, of Charlotte, N. C., general secretary of Young People's and Sabbath school work, addressed the synod on home missions.

IN THE NEW CHURCH.
The synod is meeting in the elegant new church, which with fixtures cost $10,000. A new pipe organ to which $2,000 was added, cost $2,000. It has been installed and was skillfully handled by the organist, Mr. W. S. E. Neal, the venerable exponent of the church, Dr. E. E. McClurkin, was in charge of the services in the delivery of the synod.

There are over 110 delegates from very Southern States, with two representatives from the republic of Mexico.—Special to the State.

BRYAN ON ELECTION RESULTS.

Confident that Democratic Principles Will Eventually Prevail.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 5.—William J. Bryan today gave out the following statement: "The election has gone against us by a decided majority. The returns are not all in, it is impossible, at the present time, to analyze them or to say what causes contributed most to the Republican victory."

"I made the fight upon a platform which embodied what we believed to be good for the American people, but it is for the people themselves to decide what law they desire and what methods of government they prefer. I have faith that the publicity which we asked for will yet convince the American people that the election of senators by the people will be secured; that the integrity of the trust will be aroused and that the principle of private monopoly I am confident that the people will see the necessity of the inauguration of President Harms. The regulation which our platform demanded I am confident, too, that the educational work done in this campaign will result in a greater protection to bank depositors."

"The above are the most prominent reforms for which we labored, and I believe that these reforms will yet be carried out. I am confident that the regulation of railroads and independence of the Philippines."

I desire to commend the work of our national cause the election. I am truly satisfied with Mr. Mack as the chairman and with the members of the committee. I do not see how I could have done more than I did, and as for myself, I put forth every effort in my power to secure victory for our cause. The nomination came from the hands of the voters. I have obeyed their command and have labored as best I could. Words will not express my gratitude for the support given me by the friends of the cause. I am deeply indebted to the friends of the cause who have supported me during the past 12 years. Neither am I able to adequately express my appreciation for the kind words which have been sent me by my friends. If I am personally one I would consider it a blessing rather than a misfortune for I am relieved of the burdens and responsibilities of an office that is so burdensome. I am confident that I have an opportunity to render a larger public service. But I shall serve as a willing in a private capacity as in the past. God does not require great things of us; he only requires that we improve the opportunities that are presented and I shall be glad to improve the opportunities for service presented by private life.

"In this hour of national defeat I find some consolation in the cordial support given by my neighbors, by the people of the state of Nebraska. With a Democratic governor and Democratic legislature we shall be able to put in practice so much of the Democratic platform as relates to state legislation and I trust our state will set an example that will be an influence for good in the nation."

OPERA HOUSE

A Texas Ranger.
No other drama has so well reflected the manhood, the freedom, the honesty, and the indomitable spirit characteristic of the people of our great country, as does "A Texas Ranger" which will be the attraction at Opera House tonight, Nov. 10th. The story of the play represents a conflict between the free, untrammelled spirit of the West and the traditions and conventionalities of the East. It tells the romance of an eastern woman and a western man, and is a love story dramatically told. "A Texas Ranger" possesses literary qualities rare in plays of today that are satisfactory from an acting standpoint. The story is told in unobtrusive, picturesque prose illuminated by a glowing and virile imagination. "A Texas Ranger" will be the attraction at the Opera House tonight, Nov. 10th.

The people of Chester county have reason for congratulating themselves upon their splendid victory in the dispensary election, and yet the actual victory is only half won. The enforcement of any law is its only merit.

For Better Freight Rates.

Mr. E. Campbell, manager of the freight bureau of the Columbia Chamber of Commerce, was in the city last week, and while here saw Osgay Caldwell and a number of other business men in regard to local freight rates. Mr. Campbell thinks that freight rates all over the lower and middle states are higher as compared with those of other states, and he wants, if possible to bring about an improvement, by appeal to the courts, if no other way is left to him to secure the desired reduction.

Leper Can Not Be Deported.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Secretary Cortelyou in a statement today announced that he is concerned in the recent decision of Attorney General Bonaparte against the deportation of John R. Early, the North Carolina leper, who is kept here under guard. Mr. Cortelyou holds that while he has authority to make regulations to prevent the introduction of contagious or infectious diseases into a state or territory from the District of Columbia from any state he has no authority to make any rule by which Early can be legally deported from this city or the State of North Carolina, required to remain here.

Temperance Work in South Carolina.

Spartanburg, S. C., Nov. 7, 1908. Editor.—Please allow me through your columns to make some report on the temperance work in South Carolina. For a number of years we have been on the firing line, and in that time, we have things new and old, and have learned as we never knew before what it means to contend for civic righteousness. As we look back over the 60 years, we are constrained to say thank God for the work that has been accomplished in our beloved state. Any one who will take the pains to look over the temperance work in South Carolina, will not quite a change in that body. Several gentlemen of the old senate who stood for the dispensary system, did not make the race for reelection, and gentlemen will differ views on the liquor question will take their places in the new body. In other counties where former dispensary senators stood for reelection, they were defeated by gentlemen of prohibition principles. The fact we lost only two prohibition senators in the whole state. It is encouraging also, to note that a large majority of the men in the house of representatives stand for state-wide prohibition. But the liquor question in North Carolina is not settled yet. The old dispensary faction is dying hard. At the next session of our legislature, all sorts of moves will be made doubtless, to thwart the prohibitionists in their plans. Some of the gentlemen elected to the state senate, and also to the house, are in favor of state-wide prohibition, while others favor referring the matter to the people as was done in North Carolina last spring. As we see the matter from our viewpoint, that is that a large plan for more reasons than one. If we can have a state election, with all its attendant expenses, and if the dispensary system, our victory will be a signal that it will make an impression upon the entire country. Moreover, if such an election is planned, it is a sentiment, which would go far toward enforcing the law after it is passed. We have had some indication of what can be done, and how the people feel about the liquor question. In the temperance, Union, Clarendon, and Chester in the past few days. A few speakers went into each of these counties and held public mass meetings. The intensity of temperance, a few days previous to the election, and while these counties may have good prohibition sentiment, it is safe to say that these three to one vote would not have been possible. We have now 22 counties with seven hundred thousand population in South Carolina, where no liquor is sold legally. Twenty counties yet hold on to the dispensary system, but some of them only have a few saloons left. We have in South Carolina a being curtailed. We have arranged for Dr. P. A. Baker, the national superintendent, to be with us at Laurens, South Carolina, and speak on Sunday before the South Carolina Annual Conference the 10th and 11th. We sincerely hope that the people in the surrounding country will make an effort to hear this noted temperance advocate at that time. Dr. Baker will also speak in the First Baptist church Spartanburg, South Carolina, Wednesday night, Dec. 2nd. Our plans have been perfected for a grand state convention to be held in the hall of the house of representatives, Columbia, South Carolina, Thursday, Dec. 4th. We hope every member of the state executive committee of the Anti-Saloon League of South Carolina and every other officer of the organization will be able to meet with us in the senate chamber at Columbia Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock, Dec. 2nd. Every minister, secretary, every legislator, and civic gentlemen, will be especially invited to attend this meeting. Please brethren make your arrangements now and be sure to be here. We have written Dr. Anderson, our national legislative superintendent, and sincerely hope that he will be able to secure his services for every Baptist convention to be held in Union, Dec. 8th-13th. Many things are transpiring throughout the whole country to encourage us, and we have no doubt that more than nine thousand barrooms have been closed in the United States since January 1st, 1908. We have now nine whole states in the prohibition column. Only five states in the Union are regarded as still liquor states,

SLAG-ASPHALT ROAD.

Government's Tests to Provide a Dustless Highway.

NOVEL USE FOR MOLASSES.

Waste Product of Sugar Refineries Utilized as Binder For a "Candy" Highway Near Newton, Mass.—Oil Tried in Kansas.

Chicago is to have a dustless road, and Superintendent M. J. Deberry, of the department of streets and the experiments of all the park systems are awaiting the result of the experiments with molasses.

The road will be constructed of blast furnace slag combined with asphalt or tar by the office of public roads of the United States Department of agriculture. It will be one of a number of experiments conducted by the department in the effort to give the nation dust proof thoroughfares. Possibly the road will be constructed in one of the south side parks.

If the results are as satisfactory as the preliminary conditions indicate, the slag asphalt or sugar road will realize the hope of the scientists for the total utilization of by-products and the treatment of a dustless highway.

The road to be constructed in Chicago under the supervision of Chief Engineer Vernon M. Peavey, will be of slag and asphalt. It will be carefully observed during the trying months of winter. If in the spring it has been established that this class of road remains firm, does not rut, sheds water freely and that it has the same characteristics as the ordinary road, it will have been taken into consideration for general use.

More novel than this, however, the office of public roads has been preparing in the east to lay a stretch of what functions as a "candy" road. In all signs of fancy it is probable that nobody would expect a scientist would go so far as to recommend a material as molasses as a road building material, but that is exactly what has been done.

It has so difficult to strengthen a road with the use of molasses. And this is true of the heart and kidneys. The old fashioned way of treating the ailments of the heart and kidneys is surely wrong. Joeவில், Nov. 5.—Mr. E. Littlejohn, a prominent planter of this section, suffered a serious injury Monday when his hand being caught in the machinery of a gin and severed from his arm. The accident made amputation of the arm just above the elbow necessary.

When the accident happened Mr. Littlejohn was attempting to remove lint cotton from a gin. His hand in some way caught in the machinery and cut off, his arm also being terribly lacerated.

Taft Promises to Enforce Law. He Will Oppose Disobedily.

Cincinnati, Nov. 5.—Speaking to the Cincinnati Commercial club, which he has been a member for 15 years, William Howard Taft tonight announced the keynote of prosperity for the country for the next four years.

"Every business man who is obeying the law and who is not engaged in any line in his possession; every enterprise which is within the statutes may proceed without fear of interference from the administration, when acting legally; but all interests within the jurisdiction of the federal government may expect a rigid enforcement of the laws against disloyalty and lawlessness," was the keynote of what Mr. Taft said.

The speech which Mr. Taft delivered here tonight created a profound impression among the business men of the city, who are members of the club. The speech was preceded by expressions of friendship and neighborly feeling on the part of the distinguished guest and was responded to with the greatest enthusiasm.

"Seriously," Judge Taft declared, "the indications are already apparent and the hopes which I entertain are that the business communities and the industry of both foreign nations their close cooperation will take hold in carrying out the great enterprises which have been projected and be carried to a termination if the country will reach to the business men of property and business attending.

"Business men are to be above the lines of legality and are to be directed in leading with these lines. The law has been emphasized during the last four years. Because men shall know that they are to conform to the law, and that the courts are to be enforced, and that no favors are to be expected for those who break the law.

"This shall be so that the men who conduct a legitimate business may understand that the government will back of them and does not intend to do anything to interfere with their legitimate advancement.

After the applause which met the declaration had subsided, Judge Taft added: "It is a question of the definite knowledge of the statutes and of their clear understanding that will make the honest progress of our business possible. And that is, in my belief, all that is necessary to make that progress substantial and lasting."

Judge Taft apologized for directing his words into such a serious discussion.

"I know the difficulties that will arise in many new careers," he added, "and I know that there will be questions which will arise that I do not know of now, and that time will still stand against us. I do not think it is for the government to be ill-willed, but all I ask is for suspension of judgment until the situation may be understood. Its decisions will rest on the merits of the sound and reasonable business policies. They have outlined and its intricacies may be ascertained and appreciated. These details may appear to be errors of judgment and mistakes."

Typhoid at Winthrop.

Columbia special of Thursday to Charlotte Observer: The authorities of Winthrop college, where 500 girls from all parts of the state are in session, are much worried over an outbreak of typhoid fever, the contamination source of which they have after several days of painstaking investigation been unable to locate. There are three well-advanced cases in the college hospital with an extra trained nurse on duty and seven other suspected cases which have not yet been finally diagnosed as typhoid. In addition to these one patient went home before the disease was too far advanced on her to prevent her from leaving. She is under the care of Fred Williams of Columbia. It is on hand making a thorough investigation with the local health board and the local members of the board of trustees, and will not leave until she gets satisfactory results. Not only is the food supply being scientifically checked but every article that comes on the premises is being investigated. Sample water from every spigot on the premises is drinking to the principal source of drinking water and the water supply at the college daily were sent on to Charleston today for the analysis. Even the boxes of food sent to the girls from home are being checked. A sample of the main drinking water was sent on to Baltimore some days ago, and the authorities there have just telegraphed that it is free from contamination. Sixty no traces of infection of any kind. There is no typhoid, it is in the city of Rock Hill, and it is probably the only case in the state. The trouble is over, if any reason is found for suspecting the present supply. The water supply is being checked at all the different dormitories and departments of the college, and from different rooms in the same dormitory. So far the authorities have not been able to uncover a suspicious circumstance that leads to a discovery of the cause. The college has been closed for two months and is thought unlikely that any of the cases started before the patients left home. President Johnson has been absent since his return on his European trip and is to remain till Christmas. As soon as more definite information can be obtained, probably in a day or so, a statement will be given out from the college for publication fully and frankly setting forth the true facts. This is the first trouble of the kind Winthrop has ever had.
