YORK COUNTY NEWS ITEMS

Many relatives and friends of the young couple will attend the wedding of Dr. W. Carl Whitesides of McConellville and Miss Margaret Caldwell, which is to take place at the home of the bride's mother, King's Creek this evening.

Messrs. William Moore of York-rieville, and Willie Plaster of Yorkville, have received notice of their appointment as clerical-letter carriers on the home of the bride's mother, King's Creek this evening.

With a view of trying to curtail the sale of illegal liquor in the town, Chief of Police Lovin visited the express office Saturday and set aside a number of packages of liquor consigned to persons suspected of selling. The identity of a number of these persons was satisfactorily established later and their liquor was returned. Other packages are being held pending further investigation.

The physical condition of the Marjorie railway, which connects the Southern Railway, is better than for several years. In fact the section foremen between Rock Hill and Bluffton report that it is better than it has ever been. Mr. Street of the Sharp section, says that except for the few small holes, which are too light for the heavier engines, the road is in as good condition as the main lines. Upon being asked whether if the July flood had left the bridge between Rock Hill and Bluffton, could the section between Rock Hill and Blackburg have taken care of the main line traffic between Charlotte and Atlanta, he said that there would have been no serious trouble provided the engines used were not too heavy for the rails.

FRIDAY NOVEMBER 3.

Woman as a bride during the first year of her married life. After that time she is a young matron.

A WORLD RUN SHORT.
Just now New York claims that she is facing a coal shortage and the newspaper people cannot buy white paper, and all kinds of things necessary to sustain life are either short or hard to get.

The Federal trade commission has appealed to big newspapers to curtail the Sunday editions, to save enough white paper to keep the publishers from being ruined, and men and women are wondering if they will freeze to death this winter because of a shortage of coal.

The trade commission does not seem able to get at the facts, to find the cause of the wonderful shortage.

It appears before the war abroad there were some several thousand little men and when the munition factories started all who wanted to work got it. And it must further appear that we have taken much time to help the allies and forgotten our own demands.

Few people realize, or if they realize, refuse to acknowledge, the serious situation now confronting many people. The newspaper man is up against a proposition that threatens his very existence—and reports indicate that there is no relief in sight. With a coal famine just as cold weather approaches—well, there is no use to talk hard luck, but really hard luck seems to be on the way. Too much prosperity that a city government can be only as nearly ideal as a community can appreciate and understand, and that no community can be properly governed until a large majority of its electorate is prepared to eliminate politics from its municipal affairs and keep them eliminated." continue to be a case until it not only takes more interest in the selection of the man constituting its governing body, but in keeping a watchful eye on the city hall if it shall have been elected.

FELT LIKE SHE WAS ON FIRE, SAYS MRS. BURGESS

Greenville Woman Tells How Relative's Good Fortune Aided Her.

HOPES TO AID OTHERS.
Though She Had Become a Physical Wreck, Her Health Was Restored.

"It is the grandest medicine there ever was."

That's Tanlac, as Mrs. Burgess, of No. 16 Saco St., Greenville, described it.

"I was a physical wreck when I began taking it, but three bottles made a well and strong woman," added Mrs. Burgess. The endorsement she gave it because she said, "I hope my giving this statement will help some other woman to find relief in Tanlac-like it gave me."

"Mrs. Burgess said she took Tanlac because it had helped a relative of hers, Mrs. Lillie Burgess, so much. The latter mentioned Mrs. Burgess also had given an endorsement of Tanlac for publication Mrs. Mamie Burgess' endorsement follows:

"I suffered with indigestion so badly that I just could not eat anything at any time hardly, and especially at supper, for I would almost choke to death. It seemed that I just could not eat anything at any time hardly, and especially at supper, for I would almost choke to death every night. I had no strength left, and I could hardly do anything with my hands, and my liver was out of order."

"A relative of mine, Mrs. Lillie Burgess, had been helped so much by taking Tanlac that I decided to take it, too. The Tanlac drove away all my stomach trouble and gave me a great appetite. I can now eat anything I want and it does not hurt me. My nerves were quieted, and the medicine built up not hurt me. My nerves were quieted, and the medicine built up my system so much that I got to where I slept fine every night. It regulated my liver and my system generally and banished the indigestion."

"Tanlac increased my strength a lot and made me feel fine in every way. I am a well woman, I think. My nerves were quieted, and the medicine built up my system so much that I got to where I slept fine every night. It regulated my liver and my system generally and banished the indigestion."

MANNING ACCEPTS PLAN OF AGENTS

McMaster to Act as Chairman of Body-Citizens to Cooperate.

For Solution of Situation.

The solution of the situation of the fire insurance situation in South Carolina, the insurance commissioner will act as chairman of the committee. One representative citizen from each county in the State will be appointed to confer and cooperate with the special committee. The findings of the committee will be presented to the general assembly in January. This was the conclusion reached yesterday at a conference between Gov. Manning and a committee of five, representing all of the fire insurance agents in the State.

The delegation conferring with the governor was headed by Lawrence M. Pinckney of Charleston. Other members of the committee were A. G. Frazar of Greenville, August Kohn of Columbia, H. W. Parris of Georgetown, and S. M. Grist of York. F. H. McMaster, insurance commissioner, also attended the conference.

The "full time" fire insurance agents met in Columbia several weeks ago and adopted a resolution, containing the plan for remedial legislation. This resolution was not given out at that time, but was presented yesterday to Gov. Manning. He heartily endorsed the plan as suggested by the agents.

The resolution containing the plan follows:

"Resolved, further, that we vigorously request the designation one representative citizen from each county to cooperate with this committee in the best solution of the fire insurance situation."

"Resolved further, that this resolution be presented to the governor in person by a committee of five, the chairman of this meeting to be chairman of the said committee."

Saved Girl's Life

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Theford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clinton Mills, Ky.

"It certainly has no equal for its grippe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles they went in on her, but one good dose of Theford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without."

In a news item some time ago the term bride was used in reference to a lady who had been married several months. We, at the moment entertained some doubt as to the propriety of the word bride after such a lapse of time and the inquiry naturally arose as to whether there was any fixed time when the bride passed to the matron.

After consulting all authorities at hand without result, the matter was submitted to a number of persons of social prominence, who, in our judgment, ought to know, but to no avail. The replies of these social worthies were either vague guesses or mere personal opinions without the sanction of any authority whatever. The question was finally presented to Rev. Waddy T. Duncan of the Capers Chapel section. Mr. Duncan said that if society had fixed a certain time, it would be addressed to the Ladies Home Journal and requested the editor-in-Chief to pass the question on in the proper department for reply. The courteous reply of Mrs. Eleanor Phillips, of the Journal's staff to Mr. Duncan is herewith appended and will no doubt be read with interest by many of our readers.

The Ladies Home Journal, Philadelphia, Penn.
Editorial Rooms
My Dear Mr. Duncan:
Thank you for your very nice letter. There is no fixed rule in regard to the term of bride; but society, in general, refers to a young man as a bride during the first year of her married life. After that time she is a young matron.

Yours very truly,
Eleanor H. Phillips, A. B.

The Boston Mayor quotes Henry Waite, the city manager of Dayton, Ohio, as saying that a city will be governed "only as well as its people desire." It means that a city government can be only as nearly ideal as a community can appreciate and understand, and that no community can be properly governed until a large majority of its electorate is prepared to eliminate politics from its municipal affairs and keep them eliminated." "FORTY-NINE" AT THE YORK COUNTY FAIR.

Almost as popular and in fact more so with some than the exhibit buildings was "Forty-nine" in the large pavilion, which was one of the attractions on the Midway at the York county fair in Rock Hill, last week. "Forty-nine" consisted of a tent enclosing a board floor, a string band and a number of fairly good looking girls—the latter of course being the main attraction about "Forty-nine". There was here for the purpose of dancing—any old kind of a dance. Virginia reel, Boston Dip, Bunny Hug, Turkey Trot, square dance and fellows who visited the party. Some of them separated them from their money was a caution. An admission of fifteen cents was charged. If you wished to dance cost you thirty cents. If you were a sport—fifteen cents for your girl, and fifteen cents for you. The girl got twelve cents of thirty, the owner of the show got sixteen cents and you—yes, you—were a part of the fun. Ostensibly the dancing pavilion visited the days of 1842 in the way that section of the country was young. It was something new in this section and young fellows and old heads fell for it. Some say, and not altogether jokingly either, that the receipt of "Forty-nine" for the last year was not as much as those at the fair treasurer's office. The girls were dressed in western style and impudently western habits of dancing on the dance halls as they in the olden times. As a matter of fact those who had much counterfeiting money in their pockets were making a good thing of it.

SENATOR LODGE STILL TALKS OF NOTE POSTSCRIPT.

Declares "We-Are All Bound, of Course, to Accept the President's Denial, Just as He Makes It."

North Adams, Mass., Oct. 31.—The alleged weakening postscript to the Louisiana note to Germany regarding "strict accountability" was again referred to by Senator Lodge at a political meeting here tonight.

The President of the United States has denied that there was any postscript to the Louisiana note and we are all bound, of course, to accept the President's denial just as he makes it," said Senator Lodge.

"I need hardly say," he added, "that I would not willingly bring an unfounded charge against any one high or low and if misused into doing so, I should be sick to retreat. The President makes one mistake. The statement which he characterized as untrue, that there was such a postscript, was not mine, but was made by Mr. Brockbridge, a former Assistant Secretary of War, according to the evidence of two independent witnesses, both gentlemen of high character, responsibility and respectability, and Mr. Brockbridge was in a position to know, if, as he is reported to have said, he had seen the postscript. Bearing in mind the public and historic undisturbed fact that Mr. Bryan had informed the Austro-Hungarian Ambassador that the strict accountability note of May 18 meant nothing, which fact was at once called by the Ambassador to Berlin, it seemed to me that Mr. Brockbridge's assertion, as testified by two independent witnesses, ought properly to be laid before the public."

MASS MEETING.

The citizens of Chester county are asked to meet at the county court house in Chester, S. C., Saturday, Nov. 4th, at 11 A. M., to discuss with the legislative delegation the advisability of issuing bonds for road improvement. Each township is asked to send ten delegates, including the township road supervisors.

By order of the County Board, DAVIS G. ANDERSON, County Supervisor.

Chester, S. C., Oct. 8, 1916. T-47

Sentor Lodge said in conclusion, "the suggestion for a proposition of arbitrariness to accompany the 'strict accountability' note, whether as a postscript or as a separate note and the methods of its suggestion, consideration and rejection are only of interest as throwing light on the manner in which our foreign relations have been dealt with by this Administration. This question of the arbitrariness proposition does not in the least affect the essential fact that the 'strict accountability' note meant nothing as Mr. Bryan declared to the Austro-Hungarian Ambassador, and as every one who has seen any public document knows."

OTHERS SAY IT WAS A MIXTURE OF ROOBER AND GINGER ALE AND OTHERS VOTED FOR THE BUYER!

others say it was a mixture of roo beer and ginger ale and others voted for the buyer! In "Forty-nine" another man yesterday was telling of a Rock Hill man who went into "Forty-nine" unaware of his character. One of the dancers approached him and said: "You're either got to set me up or dance with me." The Rock Hill looked at her, and the other dancers, pitched her a quarter, wheeled around and was off as fast as he could. While the lady was within the law, many old fellows who wouldn't want their folks to know about it, had a glorious time in "Forty-nine."
