THE LANTERN

UNPUBLISHED TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS.

J. T. BENTLEY, A. Editor and Proprietor

Published at the Postoffice at Chester, S. C., as Second class matter.

TUESDAY, NOV. 13, 1906.

A woman worthy of fame was taken out of the world when Mrs. Kate Patton Kenney, of Dun West, died a few days ago. Beamed among people of culture, "doubtless" integrity and sincere play, she developed and exhibited all these qualities in her life, and in a sphere of wide influence by precept and example, she did a work which eternally alone can estimate in moulding hundreds of useful lives. She taught in a private school with her brother, Dr. E. L. Patton, and later for many years in the West Female college. She gave up teaching some years ago to devote her life to an illustrated lesson, her usefulness continued until the day of her death, and being dead she yet speaks.

The automobile has enemies in Maine, and now they have a new and serious charge against it, that of supporting the gray moth from the unnumbered commonwealths of New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts. We know but little about gray moths, but if they are anything like the Gypses that occasionally pass this way we don't want to have much dealings with them. They seem to have a mathematical turn for according to a Maine paper, when they arrived in the town of East Rochester on the New Haven boundary, they very soon began to multiply and the product was tremendous as the "town has been driven nearly to destruction," and "many of the streets of Maine's beautifully wooded parks and roads may be destroyed, once the moths get headway." Maine's legislature will be asked for $100,000 to combat the plague. "It is not stated whether the moths or the automobile is 'the plague' to be combated, but if the moths destroy the trees, they are not doing it, they will do it, it will be much easier to dodge the automobiles, and they may become so much discouraged that they will withdraw from the country whether they take with them or not the unwelcome immigrants they have so recently imported. Now that a generation of boys are growing up that are immune to automobile fright, we trust that the red devils will not find some other plague to inflict upon them.

The following pathetic intercession is from the Palladium, Baltimore: "Our readers will understand why this issue of the Enterprise is so delayed in its publication. I have already learned that the great heart of our loved Editor has ceased to throb in earth, and the tiny body that he left for your reading the bright light of her own life has been gathered for our items of current news. I have clasped themselves over the pulpit's breast, and in sleep that sleep which knows no awakening. "She was ill but she died of pneumonia, sudden and rapid in its development, being the foe that robbed my sister and me of our sweet mother and changed her husband's happy after-living life into one of bitter pain. "I wish I might give to you some idea of what her going was to me; that I might make you realize that there are hearts in which she still lives, hearts that recognize the bill of death for her, yet hearts that are broken, broken and aching from visible sight. But instead, from this many many tributes, we print a few that will show you what the passing out of Virginia Durant Young means to us." "Miss Marion Durant-Gregg."

"Mrs. Young was regarded with affection by the members of the South Carolina press, whatever may have been their view on woman suffrage, the main object of her efforts. Her kindness of heart was such as to arm ill-fellow, her weapon of defense was the christian spirit. In which she also turned the other cheek, and if she undertook to punish her wrongdoer by leaping coils of fire upon his head it accompanied with scripture injunction.

Stewart and son George, of Chester, came down today to visit friends. Dr. W. G. Neville, of Clifton, preached at the Presbyterian church last Sabbath.

Ootton about 91. Miss Adelaide Gaston arrived home Friday from an extended visit in Maine and Massachusetts. Miss Alice McCullough and Janie Ford came home from Rock Hill Saturday evening to visit their parents and returned yesterday evening. Misses Linae E. and Lora Mills, of Blackstock R. F. No. 1, spent last night with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Jones left for Atlanta this morning and will return Friday. Miss Maggie Ferguson, of Edgeboro, came over yesterday to spend a while with the family of her brother, Mr. Joe Ferguson.

Miss Fannie Turner, of Orns Station, was in the city this morning on her return from a week's visit to her brother, Mr. John Turner, in Clifton. Passenger trains No. 7 and 8 of the C. & N. W. made their last run Saturday for this season. The one coming down in the morning and leaving in the afternoon made a convenient schedule for people along the line and is quite a disappointment to the people that it has been discontinued.

Mrs. Sallie Raff and daughter, Miss Agnes, of Wilmboro, returned yesterday to a visit to Mrs. J. S. Stone of this city. They were here on Monday at the homes of the former brother and niece, Mr. D. P. Orally and Mrs. J. T. Collins, before going home.

Mr. J. L. Williamson, of Newberry, who has been spending a few days with his parents, Col. and Mrs. J. R. Culp, left this morning for Remington, Va., to visit her brother, Mr. J. C. Culp. From there she will go to Washington to visit her brother, Mr. Will Culp.

Dr. J. S. Moffatt and Rev. J. A. White will go to Charlotte this afternoon for the meeting of the A. B. R. synod at Camden, Ala. It is probable M. A. R. is quite a disappointed to the people that it has been discontinued.

Rev. and Mrs. P. A. Pressly and children spent a few hours here this morning. Mr. Pressly has resigned the pastorate of Lancaster and Shiloh A. B. R. churches in Lancaster county, and is moving to Louisville, Ga. Today he is on his way to spend in Camden, Ala. Mrs. Pressly and the children went over to Dun West to visit relatives before going to their new home.

Confederate Rally. The Confederate rally will be Dec. 14th. This date suits Dr. Wharton and it suits God-elect Antle, who is expected to speak. Committees are being organized for the meeting, and will look after the entertainment of the old soldiers. Further arrangements will be published later.

Infant Dead. Cora, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Kee, aged four years, died Thursday evening at the home of his parents on Henry street, and was buried in Evergreen cemetery Friday afternoon. The funeral services were at the home conducted by Rev. J. S. Snyder.

Arbor Day. At the last meeting of the Federation for the improvement of the committee of five ladies was appointed to visit the schools and ask that Arbor Day be observed with suitable exercises. The object of the committee is to find in favor of the plan, and will see to it that the school children are started out on a line of work that will cause them to be interested in the beautifying of the city.

Robinson's Circus. The circus was here Friday as advertised, and the crowd was here too—some say it broke the record. The street parade seemed to us unusually long and the wagons appeared the longest and heaviest we had ever seen. There were many good horses, and a few camels and elephants. There were some troops and Indians the clown with his painted face, and many other men and women. There were two or three bare-knuckle fights, and one of them "Tommy" who played the same old game. The cages were all shut up tight, so that not a glimpse of the animals could be seen. The manager was said to be pretty good and the acting fair, the riding of the troopers being decidedly the best.

Court Proceedings. In the case of J. Jones vs. W. N. Walker, suit for damage in a land case of $500 against Stewart & Jones, plaintiff for the amount demanded, $115.15. W. R. Douglas, who sued the Southern Railway for $100 for personal injury at a crossing, was given $5,000. Defendant gave notice of appeal. Sallie M. Glendon was given a verdict for $100 against Stewart & Jones, railroad contractors, for removal of earth. The case of S. E. McFadden, executor of the will of Mrs. W. C. Neely vs. Mrs. Maggie E. Jones et al. is now on trial. "This grows out of an effort of Mrs. Neely's sisters to break her will on the grounds that at the time the will was made she was in such mental condition that she was not capable of properly disposing of her property, which was left to her son, Robert Neely.

Cor. Hudson Dead. Miss Cora Hudson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hudson, of Bascomville, aged about 13 years, died yesterday, Nov. 12, 1906, after an illness of several days and was buried in the cemetery at Dulon A. R. F. church today. She was a grand daughter of Messrs. W. Hudson and J. H. West.

The South and the Cabinet. The South has been practically without representation in the cabinet since the inauguration of President McKinley. The Republican president has seldom chosen men of their party in the South whom they cared to treat with cabinet portfolio at home, very few southern Republicans have been honored. President Hayes, wishing to reconcile the South, made a Tennesseean a Confederate, who had up to that time been a Democrat, postmaster general; but Republican administrations as a rule have ignored the South both in cabinet appointments and also in important diplomatic missions. When the president of the Republican party in the South is considered it is quite a disappointment that he did not look to the ranks of his own party in this section for cabinet material. But one of the few who has taken into the cabinet has not been always a Republican. He was one of the bolters on the electoral college of 1880 and the president might have found an able Southerner of the same persuasion willing to take a place in his official family—Nashville Banner.

Hot Time Around Smith's Turnout. Major Rodney received the following letter the other day, the writer failing to sign his name: Smith's turnout port Co S C Nov 5 1906

M. A. BARTIN

Rev. R. Z. Johnston-Beagas. Rev. R. Z. Johnston, for thirty five years pastor of the Methodist church at Lincolnport, has resigned his work. Mr. Johnston is now 72 years of age. His resignation has not as yet been accepted, but it is generally supposed that he will be relieved of active work. Mr. Johnston has many admirers in this section, all of whom will learn with sorrow that he has decided to give up his pastoral work.—Gaston News.

Return Cargo for The Witkield. The Witkield's return cargo of cotton from Charleston to Bremen will be worth about six hundred thousand dollars. Charleston with the assistance of her neighbors can doubtless do as well every thirty days. And there is opportunity for development. The Great Atlantic Company has found it has made no mistake by inaugurating direct trade with this Southern port.—The State.

Plain Talk To The Jury. Dotlan, Ala., Nov. 9.—When the trial of William Crockett, a white man charged with the murder of L. M. Henderson, a negro, ended today, Judge Henry Pearce, in distributing the jury, declared that he had acquitted Crockett because he was a white man and had killed a negro. In concluding Judge Pearce said: "If the dead man had been a white citizen it would not have taken you two hours to have returned a verdict of guilty, and I don't see how any member of the jury can go from this court house and face his fellow citizens in the street."

Who's to Do the Shooting? That familiar stereotyped phrase, "It's all over but the shooting," got on to have a prophetic sound, and is more so today, as it is now being used to some effect in the case of the shooting of a white man by a white man. The man who was shot was a white man, and the man who shot him was a white man. The man who was shot was a white man, and the man who shot him was a white man.

A Slow Freight Train. A local cotton merchant purchased a lot of cotton in Hickory Grove the day after yesterday. He received the bill of lading showing that the cotton had been shipped via the Southern on October 9th. The cotton reached Greenville on the 12th. Confession Killing the Pop. Rome, Nov. 9.—Unable to stand confession in the Vatican, Pope Pius X. is slowly making away. This opinion by Dr. Lappone, stated to a correspondent of the Publishers Press is the first official announcement in regard to the Pope's health. He is also suffering from gout and rheumatism, caused by remaining confined in the Vatican prisons. This is making his health very bad. The Pope will die in a few days. He is now in the Vatican hospital. He is now in the Vatican hospital.

Flight on Francis Tab. Comptroller General Jones has followed with much interest the fight made by the corporation of Georgia against the payment of the franchise tax made under its law regarding the sale of this state. A case is now before the supreme court of this state by one of the corporations which makes a case of the present term. A Georgia paper has the following to say in regard to the tax matter: "The taxpayers are now in the hands of the Comptroller General William A. Wright against the Southern Bell Telephone Company. Attorney General Raff, appeared for the State and Joseph E. Lanier and Sanders McDaniel for the telephone company. Under an act of the general assembly the comptroller general is empowered to levy, on telephone, telegraph, express and sleeping car companies subject to making a case of 1/2 per cent on gross receipts.

"Where the ad valorem tax is not sufficient to make the tax 1/2 per cent, the taxpayers are now in the hands of the Comptroller General William A. Wright against the Southern Bell Telephone Company. Attorney General Raff, appeared for the State and Joseph E. Lanier and Sanders McDaniel for the telephone company. Under an act of the general assembly the comptroller general is empowered to levy, on telephone, telegraph, express and sleeping car companies subject to making a case of 1/2 per cent on gross receipts.

When tried in Fulton superior court the jury returned a verdict of guilty holding that the law under which the gross receipts tax is imposed was unconstitutional. The state withdrew the case on the ground that it is affected by the act of the legislature. The state withdrew the case on the ground that it is affected by the act of the legislature.

Chew What You Know About and Know What You Are Chewing

There is real pleasure in chewing the best tobacco grown—where the best tobacco grows—in the famous Piedmont Country.
Only choice selections of this well-matured and thoroughly cured tobacco is used in making SCHNAPPS. That's why SCHNAPPS and others of the Reynolds' brands, as shown by the Internal Revenue statistics for a five-year period, made the wonderful growth of six and one-quarter million pounds, or a net gain of one-third of the entire increased consumption of chewing and smoking tobaccos in the United States.
Evidently, chewers cannot resist the flavor and they cheer SCHNAPPS because SCHNAPPS cheers them more than any other chewing tobacco, and every man that chews SCHNAPPS passes the good thing along—one chewer makes other chewers—until the fact is now established that there are many more

A certain Irishwoman, on her death bed called her husband to her side. "Patrick," she said, "I've a last rayquid to make of ye." "I couldn't refuse ye anything, Mary, darlint," responded the sorrowing husband. "Patrick," said Mary solemnly, "I want ye to love another rida in the carriage beside ye to me fuerril!"

The state dispensary may be making money, as its advocates claim, but it is not making money for the state. It has quit paying money into the school fund. The profits for the school fund has always been one of the main reasons offered for its existence, and with this feature eliminated its friend has very little to stand upon.—Anderson Mail.

There is a rumor to the effect that most of the money with which Commissioner Watson is now operating was put up by the cotton mills, a number of them putting up an aggregate of about $60,000. The understanding is that the rumor is so great in some parts of the state that unless something is done to supply the deficiency, hundreds of thousands of our citizens' investments will be lost.—Yorkville Enquirer.

chewers and pounds of tobacco chewed, to the population, in those States where SCHNAPPS tobacco was first sold than there are in the States where SCHNAPPS has not yet been offered to the trade.
SCHNAPPS is like a cup of fine Java coffee, sweetened just enough to bring out its natural, stimulating qualities. SCHNAPPS pleases all classes of chewers: the rich, because they do not find a chew that really pleases them better at any price; the poor, because it is more economical than the large 10c. or 15c. plugs and they get their money's worth of the real snappy, stimulating flavor so appreciated by tobacco lovers. All imitations contain much more sweetening than SCHNAPPS. They are made that way to hide poor tobacco improperly cured.
For the man who chews tobacco for tobacco's sake, there is no chew like SCHNAPPS.

A police captain was about to raid a gambling place at midnight, taking his place at the head of a squad of stalwart men, he looked there openly and their said to him, "It's everything in readiness for this raid!"

When They Will Quit Advertising.
An exchange says the wise merchant will cease to advertise when trees grow upside down; when the bazaar wears a crown; when ice forms on the sun; when the sparrow weighs a ton; when gold dollars get too cheap; when women keep address; when Satan sings a hymn; when girls go back to work; when the small boy makes a dress; when soldiers march in schenches; when mice play makes pleasant; when the lion breaks a tooth; when all lawyers tell the truth; when cold weather makes you drunk; when you'll like to smell a stunk; when the drummer has no brass; when these things all come to pass, then the man that's wise will neglect to advertise.

Jackson, La., Nov. 7.—The entire student body of about 500 of the Centenary college here struck and went home today. They left a signed statement that they were dissatisfied with the rejection of Prof. Moncrieff, who two weeks ago attacked Rev. C. C. Miller, president of the college. Remarkable Death of an Old Lady.
Miss Mary Tarrant, a white woman about 80 years of age, was killed instantly this afternoon about 1 o'clock by a switch train that caught her near the Salisbury Cotton Mill. She was evidently going down the Yadin road and had walked out and stopped on the bank by the tracks. The switch-train struck at this point and when it came along there is always a stop long enough to take aboard passengers. A switch train had caught her and she was watching the more, none of a car that had jumped from the tracks and as the siding of four men being pushed in a small engine she stepped in front of the cars and two passed over her. Both legs were cut off and she died within a few minutes. Chamberlain's Medical in Charlotte, N. C.

Tobacco is Immense.

He will never eat it. But he will drop his piece of tobacco on the ground and no difference how dirty the spot where it fell, he will pick it up and give it a careless swipe on his coat sleeve or on the bosom of his shirt and eat it.
