FRIDAY NOVEMBER 10.

There can be no question but that prohibition is gradually covering the United States. A few days ago Virginia entered the dry column. This being the case, in all probability the larger part of the whiskey now coming into South Carolina is coming from Florida. In the election Tuesday, Sidney J. Catts, independent and prohibition candidate for governor of Florida was elected by a majority of about 10,000. This would indicate that Florida is also getting tired of the whiskey business.

Some time ago there was talk of establishing a creamery in the Armetta section of this county. We are not familiar with the present status of the matter but we fear there must be a lack of interest in creameries in this section.

There are four creameries in South Carolina today and from information at hand all appear to be doing a thriving business, in fact, they are unable to supply the demand and are daily receiving orders. This being the case the people of Chester county should begin to give the establishment of a creamery serious thought and, besides, it would not be bad business to have a creamery established before the dreaded boll weevil invades our section.

Tuesday night in New York City especially, it was conceded that Charles Evans Hughes had defeated Woodrow Wilson for President and this news was flashed by the newspapers of that city, in fact, Hughes was receiving congratulations and was termed as the President-elect. On the front page of this issue our readers will find editorials which appeared in Wednesday morning issues of the New York American, The Tribune, The Sun and The Herald. Since the tables have turned and Woodrow Wilson has been re-elected they make rich reading.

Well, it is a pleasure to know that the Republicans had a real good time on election night.

AN EXCELLENT IDEA.
The political battle is over. The smoke is issuing from the "bellows" and everybody now is getting down to business. What's everybody's business is nobody's business and our real interests are allowed to drift. When we want to do anything for the common good, it is opposed. A meeting is called. A few get together and resolve and perhaps resolve several times and sometimes fiercely resolve. They adjourn and that ends it all. Allow me to suggest a plan for mature consideration of all propositions for the common good.

Organize a county forum to be composed of representative men from several townships of the county to meet at the Courthouse at least four times each year to consult over and consider every proposition for the common good. Let the forum consist of four members from each township representative of the various interests of that township.

Say allow a township composed of our farmers and white tenants, then elect from each their proportion of representatives. If of farmers, merchants and white laborers and tenants allow each be represented proportionally or fix a number of representatives and apportion them according to qualified electors and the several interests or occupations. The idea is to have every interest represented for the purpose of full and free discussion of all questions presented. In the future more or less men can live for himself and for himself. Each man is and will be part of the whole; also the several interests of each man.

We stand apart and misunderstand each other and sacrifice the common good.

If others endorse or approve this suggestion let us hear from them through our papers. I stand ready to show the advantages to accrue.

GOV. MANNING FINAL REPORT

When Courts Have Failed in Striking Situation at Anderson, Miss. Then He Announces He Will Act.

Columbia, Nov. 8.—Governor Manning today made public the correspondence which he has had in regard to the strike situation in the white at Anderson, Miss. He stated the reason that when it is established that when it is established that

PRESIDENT WILSON RE-ELECTED

Tuesday night telegrams received in Chester pointed to the election of Charles Evans Hughes as President. The leading newspapers of New York City flashed the election of Hughes about eight o'clock Tuesday night. The daily papers throughout the country, including those in the South, practically admitted in their Wednesday morning editions that the Democratic party had been defeated in the battle of votes. However, messages received since Wednesday morning papers encouraged the Democrats and the election of Woodrow Wilson began to hang in the balance. Yesterday afternoon the election of Mr. Wilson proved down to the states of California and Minnesota, one of which would give the President the necessary number of electoral votes to be re-elected.

Last night at eight thirty o'clock Republican Chairman Rowell, of California, conceded that Mr. Wilson had carried California by 3,131 votes. This vote re-elected President Wilson and caused much rejoicing by the Democrats throughout the United States.

With Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Mexico and West Virginia yet to be settled, President Wilson has 269 electoral votes, three more than the necessary number to elect him.

Special To The News
Columbia, S. C., 12:23 P. M. Nov. 10, 1916.

Wilson is sure of election. New Mexico today swung into the Democratic column giving Wilson 275 votes sure and Hughes, in leading in Minnesota by but 770 votes, with 78 boxes to report and Wilson closing in on him.

Hughes has not yet congratulated Wilson but Republicans know that they are defeated.

William Banks.

When he will use the power vested in the governor's office.

It is said that particularly in the disputed situation, both sides have appealed to Governor Manning but that he has refused to interfere while there is a chance of the civil statements as to the whole situation concludes as follows:

"Because on some other occasion the circumstances did not warrant interference on my part, the idea of a civil war has been spread abroad that I will not act in industrial disputes. This idea is erroneous. The civil processes of the courts are for the court officials to carry out. When it is established that they have failed then I will use whatever power is vested in the governor to carry them out."

That the civil processes of the courts must be exhausted before he will take more drastic measures to uphold the dignity of the law in the Anderson mill strike situation is the sum and substance of the position taken by Governor Manning.

ACCEPTS CALL TO SPARTANBURG.

Dr. Gilmore Will Go to Spartanburg—Chester Regrets His Leaving.

Not only the Presbyterians of Chester but the community as a whole will regret to learn that Dr. A. D. P. Gilmore, D. D., who has been pastor of Purdy Presbyterian church since May 1911 will leave Chester to become pastor of the First Presbyterian church, at Spartanburg, about the first of December.

Dr. Gilmore has been undecided for the past two weeks as to whether or not he would leave Chester and on Wednesday did he decide to accept the call. He has done a great work since he came to Chester, not only in the Presbyterian church but in the community as a whole. He was instrumental in organizing the Brotherhood of Purdy Presbyterian church, the Associated Charities and the addition of a large and commodious Sunday school building which is now nearing completion.

Dr. Gilmore is conceded to be one of the foremost ministers in the Southern Presbyterian church and Spartanburg should feel especially fortunate in securing him.

Before coming to Chester, Dr. Gilmore spent some time in the Presbyterian church at Bristol, Tenn. He is a graduate of Hampton Sidney and the Union Theological Seminary. He attended Princeton and later graduated from the Princeton Theological Seminary. The community will also regret exceedingly to give Mrs. Gilmore up as she has taken an active part in all church affairs and has devoted much time to the Sunday School department of the church which department has wonderfully improved during her stay in Chester.

Albert S. Johnston of Columbia, S. C., will lecture here on Friday, Nov. 24, at 8 o'clock.

NEGRO SHOT AND KILLED.

Asked For Ride in Automobile—Attacked Mr. Hollis From Rear.

Coroner J. Henry Gladden was again called to the Great Falls section last Tuesday afternoon to hold an inquest over the body of John Alton Giles Williams colored, who was shot and killed by Mr. A. Dalton Hollis, a young farmer of the Millford section of Fairfield county.

Mr. Hollis was enroute to Great Falls in his automobile and the negro stopped him and asked for a ride. Mr. Hollis granted his request and the negro got in the rear seat.

As the car was going down the McAlley hill about a mile this side of Great Falls the negro suddenly attacked Mr. Hollis who managed to secure his pistol and fired four shots all of which inflicted wounds from which the negro died.

It is presumed the negro intended robbing Mr. Hollis as he had no cause whatever in attacking him. Mr. Hollis surrendered to the authorities and was released on bond.

The coroner J. Henry Gladden, D. B. Lumpkin was formally returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death from gunshot wounds received at the hands of A. D. Hollis.

FINDS SUBSTITUTE FOR FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH
 Mrs. Lee, Though Much Older, Says She Now Feels Like "Sweet Sixteen."
ONCE SUFFERED MUCH.

Three-fifty Pounds—Took Tanlac And Says It Broke Up Her Ills.

"I weighed ninety pounds when I began taking Tanlac, and I now weigh 125 pounds," declared Mrs. Annie Lee, of 415 Pall Mall St., Columbia, in a statement she recently gave in endorsement of Tanlac. "The National Tonic," which she said took a year ago and which restored her health.

One year after she took Tanlac she gave the following statement of the remedy which gave her such remarkable results. Her statement follows:

"Before I took Tanlac I suffered from rheumatism and a trouble in general was run down and weakened. I was so nervous that I would jump at anyone who spoke when I was not expecting it or if anyone called on me. I had no appetite at all, and really I did not eat as much as a cat.

"My strength had almost left me and I could hardly walk across the floor. I was so weak and nervous. I suffered awfully with headaches and it seemed that there was nothing that would stop them. I could not sleep at all hardly and a few minutes after I would get to sleep I would jump as if I were wide awake. This was very little rest for me at night. In general, I felt badly all the time.

"I bought Tanlac because I had read so much about it, and I took four bottles. After a year I feel as well now as when I quit taking Tanlac. It was a well-woman when the fourth bottle was gone, so great was the results Tanlac gave me."

"The Tanlac helped me so much that I feel like I was sixteen years of age now, though I am much older than that. I weigh ninety pounds when I began taking Tanlac, but I now weigh 125 pounds (a gain of 35 pounds) or more. The Tanlac cured all my nerves and strengthened them and built up my nerves. My nerves are fine now and I feel well.

"I am always glad to recommend Tanlac, and I do so because it is the best medicine I know of. I could want it to do for me. It did just broke up my troubles. It has been a year since I took Tanlac and I feel as fine now as I did when I quit taking it."

J. A. BARRON

ARE WE SATISFIED WITH OURSELVES?

"Are we satisfied with ourselves? Is it possible to do better than what we are doing now? For self-improvement. We seldom care to look into our souls, however, perhaps because we fear the record we may find there, but you should know we are not quite ready to begin the work of improvement. We are filled with good intentions both to ourselves and to others, but we postpone putting them into execution for one reason or another, and in the mean time we try to take what comfort we can from the thought that we will carry out these intentions in the future. Many things happen in the course of a day which shift our currents of thought from one channel to another. We begin the morning with certain intentions which we are quite sure nothing will prevent our carrying out, but we do not always take into consideration the fact that other people, because of more pressing calls will make themselves heard, or perhaps our enthusiasm may run itself out, or we may be engaged by general conditions to care very much whether we carry out our early morning promises or not. If we do not feel that we are doing as well as we do at the beginning, when we rise from our slumbers refreshed and eager for another round of interesting events, we would probably be able to accomplish a great deal more than we do, but the fact is that the lures and diversions, the trials and complications which seem to belong to the day's work often confuse and carry us out, unless we are determined to withstand their assaults. If we have our forces of endurance and well-trained resistance in hand, the momentary and transient diversions we are so often called upon to bear can be overcome at least cost to ourselves.

However that may be, whether we feel that we have done as much as we could, or whether we feel that we have done so little as we could, we can easily find out if we are satisfied with ourselves by looking into our minds and hearts. We should solve the question. Self-revelation is of great assistance to us in our daily labors because we are then enabled to know our own weaknesses and to correct them. We have succeeded in necessary to devote any length of time to such an examination, but simply to give our consciences the chance to speak for themselves. They try to do even without our affording them the opportunity, for who has not heard their silent warnings from time to time? We may not notice these warnings, but they are given to us just the same, and unless we take the trouble to try and understand their meaning we merely add to our own number of wrongs we deliberately inflict upon ourselves. Were we satisfied with our thoughts and actions yesterday? If we were we have made a great step, for, because it is not every one who can feel that his conduct leaves nothing to be desired. Still, if a man does his best conscientiously and courageously there is nothing more than he can do, but the trouble is that it is difficult to keep up a consistent standard of action. We may do our best in one regard and fail entirely in another, and it is this inconsistency of method which is so hard to combat. It may not be an easy task, it is true, but still it is possible to be equally conscientious in all our efforts and to give to each separate task that comes to us the best that we are capable of. In such circumstances we shall find it easier to become satisfied with ourselves, not that we can ever hope to arrive at the state of perfection, but because an easy conscience promotes satisfaction.

More than that, we shall find if we persevere in our determination to render service satisfactory to our neighbors, that our standard of service will continue to become increasingly higher. The goal of our endeavors will develop automatically, and we shall seek for, and hope for and fight for only the best. We shall not be satisfied with lesser standards; indeed, the blessing of a conscientious approval of our conduct will be the only thing worth fighting for. It is easy enough to work for the highest ends on occasion, when emergency calls forth our best efforts, or when unanticipated conditions put us to the test. It is a very different thing to apply ourselves continuously to the duty of doing all things well, whether they appear to us strongly or not. The reward of our self-approval is sufficient compensation for the difficulties we may have to encounter. Spontaneous right living, so to say, is all very well as far as it goes, but it is the unceasing concentration of our moral and mental powers upon a sustained method of good conduct that merits our being satisfied with ourselves.

HERE'S A TIP ON RHEUMATISM Follow It

AN ACCURATE DESCRIPTION
 When your arm or your leg feels "all knotted" with rheumatism, when you feel as though your muscles were "tied up with a rope," you are really describing your pains because Rheumatism is a condition of the body when acids and other deposits of impurities are actually "rising up" the strands of muscles in your body, or strangling the nerves and thus producing the awful shooting pains of sciatica, lumbago, etc. Medical authorities agree that these acid deposits are carried and deposited by the blood in the various parts of the body. It stands to reason, therefore, that local applications such as rubbing with alcohol remedies can't do any permanent good. At best they can relieve the pain a little and only for a little while. The only way to effect a real cure is to attack the real cause—the blood. It is cleansed from the troublesome deposits by S. S. S., the reliable blood purifier that is now eating the pains and healing the ill of the third generation. S. S. S. "goes after" the impurities in the blood as relentlessly, as eagerly and as thoroughly as a ferret goes after rats; pursuing the poison into every vein and artery, into every nook and corner of the body, and chasing the troublesome substances out of the system. The blood thus cleansed carries off the acid and other injurious deposits and "alters" them out of the body through the kidneys. S. S. S. is not a drug. It is a purely vegetable blood purifier. You can get S. S. S. at every drug store. But in addition you should like to have the advice of the doctors in charge of our laboratory, do not hesitate to write us. You will receive free, conscientious and confidential advice. This is in line with our policy to make every effort to insure the best results from S. S. S. to every sufferer. YORK FARMERS PLANT BIG 1918 GRAIN CROP
 York, S. C. Nov. 6—A high price for cotton in the Autumn almost invariably results in curtailing the acreage in grain but this Fall has proved an exception to the long established custom. From all parts of York County reports are to the effect that more than usual the amount of grain being sown, which fact has occasioned some surprise and considerable comment by people living in town, the majority of whom thought 19-cent cotton would cause many of the farmers to forget all about crop diversification.
 One of the factors responsible for the large acreage in oats is the general realization of the fact that unless an oat crop is produced next year large quantities of corn will have to be bought at prices that will be almost prohibitive, while a strong inducement to plant wheat has been furnished by the high price of flour. Grain sown prior to the last rain is up and looking well.
