NORTH CAROLINANS WINTHROP VISITORS

Moses Bennett and Phillips, From North Carolina, Have a Good Time in Chapel Tuesday

At the evening chapel program on Tuesday, the students of the Davidson College chapel were delighted to welcome a group of visitors from North Carolina. The visitors were led by Mr. Moses Bennett, a prominent figure in the community, and accompanied by Mr. Phillips. They were received with enthusiasm and enjoyed a stimulating talk on current developments in their state. The event was a great opportunity for interaction and friendship between Davidson College and its North Carolina counterparts.

STUDY CENTER NEWS REPORTS EXPERIMENT

Interesting Work of Study Center Students Reveals Many Educational Possibilities

In a novel issue of the study center news, the emphasis was on the educational possibilities revealed by the work of the study center students. The article highlighted the creative and intellectual achievements of the students, emphasizing their ability to explore and develop new ideas. The study center is dedicated to fostering a learning environment that encourages critical thinking and innovation, and these reports serve to underscore the potential impact of such initiatives on education.

PRESENTATION OF "THE RIVALS" MUCH ENJOYED

Mary Johnson's Play Given by Junior Class

On the evening of Thursday, May 33rd, the junior class presented Mary Johnson's play, "The Rivals," at the college auditorium. The play, featuring a romantic comedy set in the early 1900s, was well-received by the audience, who enjoyed the wit and charm of the characters. The performance was directed by Miss Johnson, and the production crew, consisting of students from various disciplines, contributed to the overall success of the event. The presentation was a testament to the talent and dedication of the junior class, and a delightful way to conclude the spring semester.
BORDERED BY BEAUTY

There was once a time when no one in Winthrop had as good a view as we have today. There were times when we knew all the names of the stars and the planets. But those days are gone. Now we know about the planets and the stars, but we don't know all the names of the stars any more. And as a result, we have a very poor view of the world.

Today more than ever we have a very poor view of the world. We have come to realize that we are in a world of beauty. And that beauty is all around us. We have come to realize that we are in a world of knowledge. And that knowledge is all around us. And we have come to realize that we are in a world of science. And that science is all around us.

So, let us take a moment to reflect on the beauty that surrounds us. Let us take a moment to reflect on the knowledge that surrounds us. And let us take a moment to reflect on the science that surrounds us. For these are the things that make our world so beautiful.

A LITTLE CHARGE

The bell rings and everyone rises. The charge is given, and we all move to our places. The charge is a challenge. It is a challenge to be the best we can be. It is a challenge to be the best that we can be.

At the front of the chapel, the president addresses the audience. She speaks of the importance of service. She speaks of the importance of education. She speaks of the importance of being a good citizen.

Then it's time for the group to depart. It is a farewell. It is a thank you. It is a challenge. It is a charge. It is a reminder that we are the best that we can be.
