Remember we have fresh meat of all kinds at 15¢ times. Elliott's Market, 617.

We wish to call the attention of our readers to the fact that many of the registrants who are now filling out their questionnaires, are asking for deferred classification on an account of agricultural or grazing which is as it should be. However, any person who makes such a claim and hereafter decides to leave the farm must report the fact to the local board within five days after such action, since the fact that a man leaving the farm will cancel his claim for deferred classification on the facts being engaged in agricultural work. The farmers are requested to mention these facts to their crop agents and wage hands who have made claims. Failure to report the matter within five days is punishable by imprisonment for one year.

"While passing through Chester a few days ago," said a traveler in Yorkville, "I stopped at the 'Boarding' of the half-an-hour, in the deserted waitingroom were about twenty young negro men. I naturally gathered the idea that they were waiting on a train to take them, or somewhere to work. What followed, however, disturbed my mind. A white man came in and announced that he wanted somebody to cut a little wood for him. Not one of the negroes answered. There was no sign of a hat, a doxy of them, or any one. They put up a pretent kind of excuses and somewhat grined. I was so sure that the whole lot of them learned the idea of work and that they were only postponing the date to get warm on the boarder's side of the half-an-hour. I went to a telephone and a few minutes afterward officers came and ran with the whole crowd as gaggles to the Yorkville Engineer."

Relatives and friends of Miss Susan Puraley, who makes her home with her nephew, Mr. W. F. Erwin, in Chester, E. D. No. 4, are looking forward with pleasurable anticipation to the celebration of her next birthday on December 29. On that day Miss Puraley will be 62 years of age. At the present time, in doing all the years of her quiet, peaceful life, her health is most excellent and her mind and memory are both as clear as a bell. In good health she has been accustomed to walk several miles to church on any Sunday that convenience did not happen to be inconvenient, and during the past ten days she has not hesitated to go out into the snow whenever convenience has required, the same as the younger folks of fifty and sixty.

McCaw was educated at the Citadel and at the University of South Carolina. For more than 20 years he has been the capable stenographer of the Sixth judicial circuit. The new clerk is well known to the bench and bar of the state. His brother, the late William S. McCaw, of York, was a distinguished lawyer and admirable gentleman. His father, the late Z. C.

Winthrop Needs Another Dormitory.

Every year, for lack of dormitory accommodations, many young women, fully prepared for and desirous of a higher education, are unable to enter Winthrop.

This season 614 applications for admission could not be considered, and only a small number were not prepared for College, enough of them were prepared to have (that is to say) to enter the institution. At the last session was asked to make accommodations for an additional 100 students, but refused or neglected to do so. Was the action wise? Was it fair to the young women who were prepared to have (that is to say) to enter the institution? It is not fair to the State.

Females should not be limited by want of sufficient dormitory accommodations.

Winthrop College is the only institution founded and maintained by the State for the higher education of young women. She sees the need. She stands anxious to meet it but is being limited by her means at the present time. Her men as our great President Woodrow Wilson urged that all institutions of learning maintain, and if possible, increase their strength.

An additional dormitory to accommodate 200 to 300 students would mean the school for some years to come could be provided as maintained at a comparatively low cost. WAR INSURANCE LAW REEDUCATION AND REHABILITATION UNDER THE

If a soldier or sailor is injured in such a way that he can not resume the occupation or trade in which he was engaged, when he returned to service, the Government of the United States, at its own expense, will reeducate that man to some form of occupation for which he will be capable and which will enable him to spend the remainder of his life in useful work, helpful to himself and contributing to his own happiness.

If the Government reeducates a disabled man to a new occupation, and he earns money, so matter how much, because of his new occupation and because of his own effort, the Government will continue to pay him the full amount he is entitled to for his disability. All that he will be required to do in addition to what the Government pays him is to attend to his own affairs.

CATAWBA RIVER FROZEN

Rock Hill, Dec. 18.—This is the coldest yet in weather Rock Hill has seen in years, as is attested by the fact that the Catawba River from above near Cayula, a solid sheet of ice spanned the stream from Saturday until yesterday. This was caused in part by great force of jamming against the mill race, and basking up the stream for a mile or more. The ice surface was hard, the ice was not so thick, as to make skating possible. The last time the river was frozen, old residents say, was in 1860.

TOO MUCH BUSINESS.

Southern Does Not Solicit Passenger Business—Should Not Ride Unless Necessary.

Washington, D. C., December 22.—(Special) Transportation demands on the Southern Railway System brought about by the war are causing a complete reversal in the solicitation methods of the Passenger Department at this season. Instead of making efforts to promote and stimulate holiday travel, the Southern's passenger representatives are asking the public to refrain from making any trip during the Christmas season but absolutely necessary in order to assist the Southern in accommodating the soldiers' point from the camps to their homes for Christmas and in caring for private citizens who are obliged to make rail-road journeys.

"The reason for this is made clear in an appeal which has been addressed to People of the South by President Fairlie Harrison as follows:

"Every year the normal travel is greatly increased during the holiday season. This year it will be swelled by the return to their homes for Christmas of a large number of troops now in camp in the South. Furthermore, an extraordinary current traffic in military supplies, fuel and necessary commercial freight will be expected during the holidays.

"To limit our ability to provide comfortable passenger transportation. In view of these conditions, Southern Railway Company earnestly appeals to the travelling public not to attempt high riding on crowded trains during the Christmas season."

Notice is hereby given that on Monday, December 24th, 1917, I will make my final return as Guardian of the Estate of Julian L. Hightower, a minor, who will then have obtained his majority.
