To Live In McLaurin

Sims Announces Recruits To Arrive Next Month; Breazeale May House Some

The approximately 20 cadet nurses from York County hospital scheduled to arrive in March will be housed in South dormitory or in Breazeale, according to an announcement this week from President Henry R. Sims.

Approved by the Winthrop college board of trustees on the basis of overcrowded conditions at the York County hospital, the arrival of the nurses is scheduled early in March. The women will work, it is said, in the hospital, although they will live with students in the dormitories they will be served meals by the College. They will be expected to conform to campus regulations.

The final decision concerning housing situation will be made this week by women from South and Breazeale, the dormitories having available space. Arrangements can be made so that South can accommodate the 20 nurses that dormitory will become headquarters for the cadet nurses on the campus. Breazeale will be used if South cannot house the entire group, according to President Sims.

M. JONES A SUSPENSE GUEST

A Fellowship council that sponsored 1948's Bicentennial celebration in Washington, D.C., gave an illegal Washingtonian a reason to believe he might be in a position to top the nation's most famous spy, James Bond. The suspense guest was none other than the late, great Mr. Bond himself, as the council members were conference with the world-renowned spy, the day before the conference was to begin.

To make matters worse, the council members were also discussing the possibility of an invasion from the East, with the potential for a war that could easily last for months or even years. The council was divided, with some members arguing for a military response, while others believed that a diplomatic solution was the only way to prevent the situation from escalating.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

Greenwood was the setting for the recent conference of the Methodist Church. The conference was attended by hundreds of people from all over the state, who came to listen to the council members as they discussed the church's future. The conference was marked by a sense of urgency, with many members expressing the belief that the church needed to do more to reach out to the community.

FRESHMAN PAINT THOSE RENAISSANCE WHITE

The Freshman class was preparing for the Renaissance Day celebration, which would take place later in the month. The students were busy painting the Renaissance theme on the walls of the cafeteria and the gym, and were planning a series of events to celebrate the occasion.

Of People

CURED, WITH HER BOW AND ARROW

"Before her marriage to James John Wiher, Jr., and Mrs. Mary Bird, she was an accomplished archer, and she continues to shoot with enthusiasm." This was the statement made by the council members, who were discussing the possibility of a new archery club being formed on campus.

Sophomore Edna McLean's intentions are being hinted around these days, but the council members are unsure of her exact plans. She has been seen with a group of friends, and they have been spending a lot of time together.
