In the Magazines

Mrs. Stillman's Croquet: Twenty-three years ago, when my favorite form of exercise was tennis, I began to wonder whether croquet would not be the same, for I had heard that it was a game for gentle women. . . . By Ann Page, in The Forum, February 19, 1927. Page 368.

In the Student Press

We are gratified to announce that the piece really was a gibe at those who are prone to indulge in such... The poem is entitled "The Poet's Vision." It is the work of a student who is known to us as a man of great promise.

The weekly student magazine, "MUSIC " Thai per cent, of the music was played by students. The rest was supplied by the University of Wisconsin Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Professor W. H. Hartley. The program was concluded by a concert tour of the University of Wisconsin Band. The audience was enthusiastic.

Composers Curled

The students of some colleges preserve a tradition that during chapel services they offer a prayer to the "compose" of the day. Among the "composers" is one who is said to have composed a symphony in the "wrong" key.

Journalistic Humor

The battle between the "chooser" and the "compositor" is being fought with increasing intensity. In some cases, the "chooser" has been out-voted, but in others he has managed to retain his position.
