11-20-1945

The Johnsonian November 20, 1945

Winthrop University

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/thejohnsonian1940s

Recommended Citation

https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/thejohnsonian1940s/125

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the The Johnsonian at Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Johnsonian 1940-1949 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. For more information, please contact bramed@winthrop.edu.
Services of Mrs. Ellis, Tel. 425, N. C., Convention, January 25. The subject of Dr. Eyten's address will be, "Slothes of St. Mary's." Bells of St. Mary's.

Classes Are Committees

Members of the talks committee include Billy Barksdale, Fredrickson, Nancy Grover, and Miss Estelle Granger. The executive committee, Kathleen Howell, chairman; Pauline Smith, vice-chairman; Dorothy C. White, secretary; and Doris Woodruff, treasurer, will continue to be in charge of the entire program.

Commission to Report in January

[Continued on page 4]
Play Ball

TOMORROW WINHOP will be home to five colleges at the revived Fair Day one of the best actions of the current term. Intercollegiate sports are a firecracker to school spirit. More than that, they brand institutional relations in a state-wide scope.

Intercollegiate sports spent the war on the bench. With the revival of Fair Day, a minute of sports competition comes back in the game. Although it is not yet a matter of full-fledged competition, it has been an ideal platform for the middle of the right direction.

We admit that our own student athletes are not yet strong enough to face the best of the nearby colleges. However, even a small step in the presence of the hostess as it is to the Academy's Life, is a step in the right direction.

The best is yet to come in the presence of the hostess as it is to the Academy's Life. It would be a mediocre Winthrop. The challenge of other colleges is an opportunity to "slide" has been mastered by a Winthrop. We believe that Winthrop can be made to go this road. We think that the future of Winthrop is bright and that we can make it go this road.

This Is It

TWO WEEKS AGO TODAY Winthrop celebrated its 100th year anniversary. The celebration was a highlight of the school's year. It was a great day for the school and for the community.

The WAA and physical education department presented a special event, Play Day in an effort to increase participation in the school's athletic programs and to promote school spirit.

Each Winthrop student is a member of the WAA and is encouraged to participate in the various events throughout the day. Play Day is a day for Winthrop students to come together and enjoy the various activities.

The WAA and physical education department hope that this event will encourage more students to participate in the school's athletic programs and to promote school spirit.

Whitewed Trees

In 1959 a committee of Rock Hill professors proposed a campaign to plant trees on campus. Even today, the trees on the land were whitewed for the first time.

The trees were planted at the request of the General Assembly in the interest of the community. They were a gift to the school.

"All very fine," says the college girl, "That's what we want to see." The trees in the Whitewed glass voices singing the Alma Mater at the inauguration.

The Whitewed trees are a symbol of the school's commitment to its students. They are a reminder of the school's values and its dedication to its students.

The trees stand as a testament to the school's commitment to its students. They are a symbol of the school's values and its dedication to its students.

In Praise of Pep

Once a year the pep class that compose Winthrop's student body is a sight to behold. This year's pep class was a sight to behold. The students are a sight to behold. They are a sight to behold. They are a sight to behold.

The school's pep class is a sight to behold. They are a sight to behold. They are a sight to behold. They are a sight to behold.

In the words of the school's principal, "We are all very fine." The pep class is a sight to behold. They are a sight to behold. They are a sight to behold. They are a sight to behold.
Social Events

High Light Celebration

Two social events highlight the week-end celebration of the 50th anniversary of Winthrop University's founding.

A reception, held in Johnson hall November 16, was given by the city of Rock Hill. The Woman's club of Rock Hill was in charge of the reception for Winthrop's guests.

Amidst the merriment were the guests of honor, the president's entire staff, the faculty and the students. Miss Mary Alice Markova, a dancer, and肿n Dolin, a dancer, were among the winners of the Markova-Dolin ensemble.

By ANN DOAR

"The best way to start the class and then branch out into book reading, as I do, is with classical and modern ballet," said Alicia Markova, a dancer, and Alvin Ailey, a dancer, of the Markova-Dolin ensemble.

"As an interlude," she continued, "modern ballet is all right for those who like it, but it should not take up the whole performance. The beauty is in the classical and if you want to take a glimpse of the beautiful — but, according to what you like — it's with a shrug."

Following her performance with the Markova-Dolin ensemble Monday November 11 in the College of Charleston auditorium, Miss Markova joined Donald in her star in the Ballet Theatre in 1946.

Ballet Stars

Markova-Dolin Ensemble Anticipates Busy Season

By ANN DOAR

"That's just to start the class and then branch out into book reading, as I do, is with classical and modern ballet," said Alicia Markova, a dancer, and Alvin Ailey, a dancer, of the Markova-Dolin ensemble.

"As an interlude," she continued, "modern ballet is all right for those who like it, but it should not take up the whole performance. The beauty is in the classical and if you want to take a glimpse of the beautiful — but, according to what you like — it's with a shrug."

Following her performance with the Markova-Dolin ensemble Monday November 11 in the College of Charleston auditorium, Miss Markova joined Donald in her star in the Ballet Theatre in 1946.

Ballet Stars

Markova-Dolin Ensemble Anticipates Busy Season

By ANN DOAR

"That's just to start the class and then branch out into book reading, as I do, is with classical and modern ballet," said Alicia Markova, a dancer, and Alvin Ailey, a dancer, of the Markova-Dolin ensemble.

"As an interlude," she continued, "modern ballet is all right for those who like it, but it should not take up the whole performance. The beauty is in the classical and if you want to take a glimpse of the beautiful — but, according to what you like — it's with a shrug."

Following her performance with the Markova-Dolin ensemble Monday November 11 in the College of Charleston auditorium, Miss Markova joined Donald in her star in the Ballet Theatre in 1946.

Ballet Stars

Markova-Dolin Ensemble Anticipates Busy Season

By ANN DOAR

"That's just to start the class and then branch out into book reading, as I do, is with classical and modern ballet," said Alicia Markova, a dancer, and Alvin Ailey, a dancer, of the Markova-Dolin ensemble.

"As an interlude," she continued, "modern ballet is all right for those who like it, but it should not take up the whole performance. The beauty is in the classical and if you want to take a glimpse of the beautiful — but, according to what you like — it's with a shrug."

Following her performance with the Markova-Dolin ensemble Monday November 11 in the College of Charleston auditorium, Miss Markova joined Donald in her star in the Ballet Theatre in 1946.

Ballet Stars

Markova-Dolin Ensemble Anticipates Busy Season

By ANN DOAR

"That's just to start the class and then branch out into book reading, as I do, is with classical and modern ballet," said Alicia Markova, a dancer, and Alvin Ailey, a dancer, of the Markova-Dolin ensemble.

"As an interlude," she continued, "modern ballet is all right for those who like it, but it should not take up the whole performance. The beauty is in the classical and if you want to take a glimpse of the beautiful — but, according to what you like — it's with a shrug."

Following her performance with the Markova-Dolin ensemble Monday November 11 in the College of Charleston auditorium, Miss Markova joined Donald in her star in the Ballet Theatre in 1946.
Winthrop’s Play Day To Open Saturday Morning; 5 Colleges Represented

Sports Events to Begin at 11 a.m.; High Light Activities

The first Play Day to be held at Winthrop will be Monday, November 19, and will begin tomorrow morning at 11 a.m.

Schools sending representatives to the campus for the day include Limestone, 14 participants of the number being listed, and the Lanier, 21 players, of whom 1 is a coach. Five players are coming from Erskine, including one coach. Coker college is being represented by 16 students, one of the number a coach. Winthrop students playing during the day will number approximately 50.

Schedule of Events

A day of events for the day is as follows: Hockey will be played at 11:30 a.m., Converses to Coker. Lanier baseball team will play with Winthrop hockey team at 3:30 p.m. Hockey games will be played on the athletic fields.

The speedball game will be played at 1:30, followed by basketball that same time, followed by Winthrop will be staged on the athletic field.

Archery will begin at 11 a.m. with Limestone’s Team II and Winthrop’s Team I competing. At 1:30, individual players from various schools will compete. Limestone’s Team I and Winthrop’s Team II will compete at 2:30 p.m., and another group of individual archers will shoot at 3:30 p.m.

Swimming matches will take place at 11:30 a.m., at 12:30 p.m., and 1:30 p.m. all to be competed in from stroke and distance event. Swimming meets will be held at Winthrop college. Officials for swimming events will be appointed. Winthrop college lifeguard tomorrow.

Tennis will begin at 11 a.m. with Limestone’s Team I and Winthrop’s Team II of Conover; Limestone’s Team II and Winthrop’s Team I of tonight. At 1:30, individual players from various schools will compete. Conover classes line up against Winthrop, Lanier and Winthrop complete at 3 p.m.

Another tennis match will be the meeting of the South Carolina tennis team, including members who are the National Section of Women’s Athletics.

Coker College Plays Hostess To SCCPA

Coker college, Hartsville, will play hostess to the South Carolina College Press Association for the convention of the group at the spring of 1946.

Members of the SCCPA voted 18 to 1 in favor of the spring convention when this year’s convention was held in Columbia. The Citadel, 2nd in importance to the dominant U. S. Navy personnel at Charleston, could not be available for facilities in that city.

College publications will be judged at the Coker convention, and copies will be sent to the press and libraries.

Champs Named in Deck Tennis Knockout

Mrs. G. H. Robinson’s championship tennis team was crowned "King of the Tennis" in the championship play-off Thursday, November 15.

The winning team defeated Miss Katherine DeLorme’s class team, Miss Edward Marietta’s team and Mrs. Harry Faye Haselden.

Exceptional Committee Named

This committee is composed of officers of the club in the presence of the Winning female. It consists of the following: Mrs. Douglas Andrews, Miss Edward Marietta, Miss Lee Burruss, and Miss Betty Haselden.

Tennis Tournament

The annual tournament given by the women’s tennis association at Coker college was held November 10 in the gym. The informal party began at 12:30 p.m. Members of the faculty play included: Miss Burst, Miss Dailey, Mrs. Armstrong, Miss Lee Burruss, and Mrs. Gilbert.

Winners included: Katherine DeLorme, Pauline Palles, and Dell Eaddy; clean-up committee members, Mrs. Mary Faye Haselden.

Sherry Honeymoon

A Thanksgiving theme was used, and the Virginia red and gold decorations prevailed throughout the program. President Blackburn handed the program to Miss Jean Blackmore, chairman, Jean Blackmore, Jean Blackmore, Margaret McCurdy, and Mrs. Robert C. Bailey.

A Thanksgiving feast is being held today.

Winners included: Katherine DeLorme, Pauline Palles, and Dell Eaddy; clean-up committee members, Mrs. Mary Faye Haselden.

Frosh Panthers Yell Way To Pep Meet Victory

Not even four days after Thanksgiving-Day could dim the bright memories of that pleasant outing. The_memories are ever present in the minds of each of the young men.

Freshmen "woof side by side," rolling their wheels to the rhythm of the day. The boys met up for a final day of spirit. They took it up from the stands into the stands themselves and went right through on the last day of the pageant.

Despite the high temperature, the weather was perfect, and the boys had a fine day of fun.

Tiki Spring Thru

The sophomore team, on the other hand, met up for a final day of spirit. They took it up from the stands into the stands themselves and went right through on the last day of the pageant.

Despite the high temperature, the weather was perfect, and the boys had a fine day of fun.

The winning team defeated Miss Katherine DeLorme’s class team, Miss Edward Marietta’s team and Mrs. Harry Faye Haselden.

Thousands View

(Continued from page 1) varsity. Walter A. Standish, basketball coach, South Carolina college; Professor Grace Taylor, College of Charleston; President John Cottingham, Presbyterian College; Miss Edna Nigade, Columbia College; Dr. Glenn H. Haid, Furman University; Dr. J. W. McCall, Lander College, President Colgate University.

Beef Most Popular

Beef was the most popular meat served. A buffet line of meat was set up on the table. A large selection of meats were served.

Andrews was named president of the S.C. College Press Association for the year 1946-47.

Choice Cuts of Meats

Dry gleaning for sports fans. A Sportsman’s Paradise

GOLDSMITH SPORTS EQUIPMENT

A Sportsman’s Paradise

When you’re looking for the kind of equipment that’s ideal for sports fans.

Let’s talk about your special needs!