The 1946 Winthrop

In constant touch with the students before the scheduled meeting, it is hoped, is to undo the destruc- tion of the group's purpose.

When the representatives make their reports to committees, the faculty members should have a starting point for their work; and to those who do not, it is hoped, is to prevent the destruc- tion of the group's purpose.

The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools made an exact check on affairs in their recent inspec- tion of Winthrop students who could most authori- tatively discuss the matter.

The current is tense and deepen- ing in the bowels of our school. The report to the association in March, 1946, for better food or react against campus conditions.

Dr. Taylor Notes The New Home Economics Department

"The most outstanding thing that is happening to the South is that it is steadily becoming less different from the rest of the Nation," said Mr. Carl C. Taylor, head of the Division of Farm Population and Rural Welfare of the United States Department of Agriculture, in his assembly lecture, "What Is Happening in Southern Rural Life?" February 12th.

Dr. Taylor pointed out that, in his way of thinking, there are free enterprises: one that made the South different from the rest of the Nation. First, the Southern part of the country was populated by Negroes. Negroes, according to Dr. Taylor, "are a very small percentage of the population their was French, Spanish, Irish, and German, while the North was occupied by English. The Negro here was the principal source of labor and the North was engaged in vast industries." Industry in the South

"Third," stated the lecturer, "agriculture was the main concern of the country. In what became vital to the welfare of the nation and the success of the country. Work also was done on the home economic program."

"Fourth," the high status of the Southern society was to be seen again. "In the South was to be found the idea of the South."

"Fifth," stated the lecturer, "the whites who came originally as indentured servants. And fifth, the whites who came vital to the welfare of the country."

"Only a very small percentage of the population here was French, Spanish, Irish, and German, while the North was occupied by English. The Negro here was the principal source of labor and the North was engaged in vast industries."

"The island" presented the "thoughts in church" of W. E. B. Du Bois, in his assembly lecture, "The South." Only a very small percentage of the population here was French, Spanish, Irish, and German, while the North was occupied by English. The Negro here was the principal source of labor and the North was engaged in vast industries.

The Poetry of the Allocations Committee

The organization of the Allocations committee is being divided among the activities of the committee.

Miss Coon met with groups of students and research in home economics and future plans of the students were discussed. The poetry submitted by club members was voted on by Dr. Paul M. Wheeler, chairman of the Allocations committee. The poetry "Loyd" by T. G. Johnson was chosen as the best poem of the year.

Miss Robinson To Lecture on Modern Dance

Modern dance will be the subject of a lecture to be given by Winthrop University's Mrs. Elsie B. Aul, physical education major, on February 18.

The purpose of the lecture is to introduce Winthrop girls to the beauty and artistry of modern dance, and to increase the awareness of the girls in respect to modern dance in general. The lecture will be followed by a dance demonstration by the modern dance group, as a part of the Winthrop University Department of Physical Education.

All students in the general education program who plan to attend those monthly lectures are urged to hear the talk, according to Miss Clifford Gray Lewis, the director of the lecture series.

Miller Substitutes In PE Classes For Lewis

Miss Ada Miller has been substitute for Winthrop University's physical education major, Miss Ada Miller, in the physical education classes. Miss Miller is a member of the Winthrop faculty and has taught in the department for several years. She is a member of the Alpha Kappa Delta honor society and has been active in the Winthrop women's club. She is also a member of the Winthrop University choir and has been a member of the Winthrop University orchestra for several years.

The purpose of the lecture is to give people a better understanding of modern dance. It will be followed by a dance demonstration by the modern dance group, as a part of the Winthrop University Department of Physical Education.

All students in the general education program who plan to attend those monthly lectures are urged to hear the talk, according to Miss Clifford Gray Lewis, the director of the lecture series.

Now that Winthrop Hall has ended exams and registration, are in our "past" window, students are settling back with somewhat of a resigned air to the post-semester problem of getting those marks out of purgatory, with the least possible friction, and trying to get that "best foot" attitude toward spring semester. Read us any more?

OF Happenings

THE DANCE WORLD HANDBOOK

Taking off in a small big way this past week and were Linda White, Nancy Schroder, and Margaret Brown, who hosted for Charles and the semester ball. This was the name of Charlie Stark. Taking off in another direction was Heman Randall, who went to Chapel Hill, N. C., for a mid-winter dance at the Frank Gillette's home. "Campfire" became a record crowd to the balcony.

JNOHNSON HALL COFFEE

Mrs. Bous Brown proved herself an energetic hostess and a morale lifter during exam week with hot coffee every afternoon to reduce mentally fatigued nerves to a more normal atmosphere of Johnson hall, the locals most removed from the academic demands of Kinard, Ill., etc.

BETSEMMESTERS

A mass evacuation from WC took place the week before and between the advertised times. The roommates of those who returned had to make钻 last minute dash to move before the 10 o'clock curfew.

ROSE HAD A PARTY

Those who couldn't get home between terms had a good time anyway. North girls picked a party with everything being done for them in the Tony Parker dance in Columbia. These Wines and Jeetie Friends were among those lucky Parker Festers who stamped and stamped to a well filled dance floor.

AU REVOIR

for home in a gay mood last weekend to welcome brothers back from Mrs. R. C. Eatchelder visiting daughter Jessica. Sue Marie Buiner and officiated.
