Get This Bumming Business Straight

Major Business on the Campus is controversy over accepting rides on Winthrop girls getting everywhere.

Can juniors, with their night out and seniors accept rides after dark? Statements posted on the dormitory bulletin boards belie the statement that Winthrop girls may not accept rides at night. The statement is not connected with the College. Girls may accept rides from members of the Crowell house only during the day.

The last week of October, the College has introduced a policy that all students are not to accept rides from Winthrop girls waiting to be transported to the “dealing-out place.”

This has caused considerable concern, and for the past weeks the problem of finding a place has been constant. The problem is being handled by the following means:

1. The College has arranged that there shall be some way that we could find a place. It is against the College rules to accept rides directly to the business district.
2. The students on the campus have arranged that they might be on the lookout for a place to be visited.
3. The students have arranged to meet at the College and then go to the business district together.
4. The students have arranged to meet at tables for friends, is frowned upon.
5. The students have arranged to meet at tables for friends, is frowned upon.

The job of fitting uniforms for over 1500 students is a tedious, time-taking task. The Fashion Department, with its large staff of experienced tailors and seamstresses, is well prepared for the task. The uniforms are designed to meet the needs of the students and to provide a uniform appearance for the College.

Conception in the Uniform Room

Since the beginning of the school, the door to the Uniform room has been opened to the students and visitors. It is open at all times, and students may enter at any time of day or evening. It is open to all students, regardless of their major.

The uniforms are designed to meet the needs of the students and to provide a uniform appearance for the College. The uniforms are also designed to meet the needs of the students and to provide a uniform appearance for the College. Fun On the Campus

A marked improvement has been noted on the campus in the line of recreation. The students have been more active during the past few weeks, and a large number of outdoor activities have been planned. The improvement is evident in the greater number of students participating in these activities. The improvement is evident in the greater number of students participating in these activities. Sociology Students To Conference
Visit State Hospital With Sociology Faculty

Thirty-six Winthrop students, along with the Student Service Faculty of the university, took a trip to State Hospital for the Training of the Feebleminded on October 18, for the purpose of getting a closer look at the type of patients treated in the institution.

A general meeting of the Sociology Conference was held at the hospital to discuss the training of the patients. The students were divided into groups of four and were assigned to different wards in the hospital.

The groups were given a tour of the hospital by the attending physician, who explained the different types of patients treated in each ward. The students were also given an opportunity to observe the treatments being administered to the patients.

The tour was a great success and the students were impressed with the work being done at the hospital. They were especially impressed with the dedication of the staff members and the care that is provided to the patients.

Winthrop’s “Shack” Affords Fun-Sending Division

The Shack, Winthrop’s greatest diversion from Win-throp, has certainly proved its worth in the past few years by distracting the attention of our students from classes, books, classes, and all things serious.

In recent weeks, the Shack has been a popular destination for students to hang out and socialize.

Winthrop’s students are known for their love of the Shack and its lively atmosphere. The Shack is a great place to relax and enjoy the company of friends.

It’s a great place to unwind after a long day of classes and work. The Shack is open to everyone, and it’s a great place to meet new people and make new friends.

Winthrop’s Social Cam-Neen Chairman Mary Fa-yed Haseldon and her committee get well soon. Certainly been missed around the halls. Roses to you Mrs. Willis, and you Rowena, we’re plugging for you.

TO TENNESSEE TO WIN!

On September 20, the Winthrop University football team took on the University of Tennessee in Nashville. The game was a tough contest, but the Eagles came out on top with a final score of 14-10.

The Eagles were led by quarterback Timmy Williams, who threw two touchdowns and ran for another. The defense was led by linebacker Jeff Brown, who registered 13 tackles.

The win was a huge boost for the Eagles, who are now ranked 11th in the nation. They will look to continue their winning ways in their next game against the University of Alabama on October 17.

FOOTBALL ENTHUSIAST

Margaret Ann Lewis and Betty Carpenter.

Winthrop’s social calendar is heating up with the upcoming Social Service Federation Conference. This conference will bring together students from across the country to discuss important social issues.

The conference will feature keynote speakers, panel discussions, and workshops on topics such as poverty, race relations, and the environment. It is a great opportunity for students to learn more about social issues and to network with other students.

Winthrop’s students are excited to be part of this conference and are looking forward to the opportunity to learn and to connect with others who share their passion for social justice.
