A Successful Rat Day

WHAT DOES IT TAKE to make Rat Day a success? When Rat Day was observed on October 29, it was quite a success, and the reason of the success became evident when the students who participated in and enjoyed the day to the fullest.

The idea was almost entirely new. Although a Rat Day has always been held, this year it was planned and organized by the students themselves.

The day began early with the students gathering at the steps of the Administration Building to hear a talk by the Rev. W. D. Bowman, pastor of the First Baptist Church. He spoke on the theme of “Christian Ideals of Love and Marriage.”

The day was marked by a variety of activities, both academic and social. There was a film showing at the theater, a dance at the gym, and a football game.

The day ended with a banquet at which the students were able to socialize and discuss the events of the day.

Religion Comes to College

It is the policy of The Johnsonian to publish the opinions of faculty members, students, and others in the College community, but it is not the policy of The Johnsonian to publish the opinions of students or others who are not in agreement with the views of the College community.

The Johnsonian believes in freedom of speech and in the right of individuals to express their opinions, but it reserves the right to publish only those opinions which are consistent with the policies and goals of the College community.

The Johnsonian does not condone any form of discrimination based on race, religion, sex, or other factors.

Library Book Dilemma

of Art, come up in the most beautiful and charming ways. They are the ones who suffer. And as their hips grew, their hair grew, too. And as their lymph nodes cast a shadow across their bodies, they knew they were getting older.

Picnicking during the summer is a popular activity in South Carolina, where the weather is pleasant and the scenery is beautiful. Many families go to the beach or the mountains to enjoy a picnic with their loved ones. It's a great way to spend time together and make memories that will last a lifetime.

Dr. Bowman Entertained

at WC Socials

Dr. Warren D. Bowman, pastor of the Sumter First Baptist Church, was the keynote address for a luncheon at the Sumter Country Club on Tuesday, October 19. The luncheon was attended by representatives of various organizations and businesses, and the program included a brief talk on the history of the Sumter area and its role in the development of South Carolina.
