BIRTHDAY HONORS TO DR. DAVID B. JOHNSON

BELIEVED PRESIDENT OF WINTHROP

FOUNDER'S DAY WAS A HAPPY OCCASION

DR. McCracken, of VASSAR, IS SPEAKER

Many gifts and tokens of affection and esteem were tendered to President David Bancroft Johnson, of the National Education Association, on the occasion of his seventy-second birthday.

President Johnson, in his capacity as chairman of the committee on the establishment of the college, paid tribute to the college's achievements. After the presentation of the gift, President Johnson said: "This is the best birthday that I have ever had, and it is my hope that this will be the last."

Dr. Johnson, in answering, said: "I am very grateful for the kind words spoken of me. I am sure that I shall never forget this day, and I wish to express my appreciation to all who have been so kind as to send me gifts."

The day was marked by a great deal of enthusiasm, and the college was filled with a spirit of joy and happiness. The college was decorated with flags and bunting, and the air was filled with the sound of music.

The program began with a recital by the college orchestra, followed by a speech by President Johnson. The president then presented a gold watch to Dr. Johnson, who was greatly touched by the gift.

Dr. Johnson replied by saying: "I am very grateful to you all for your kindness and friendship. I hope that I shall always be able to return your kindnesses to you."

The program continued with various recitations, music, and dancing, and the day ended with a grand banquet in honor of President Johnson.

It was truly a happy occasion, and everyone present left with a feeling of great satisfaction.
Though we eat heartily all the cream, and though we glory in the real reason why we are so "gratis," and do not remember the power of his will" are in-...

Miss Louise Spreen and Florence B. Woodruff have been appointed as saleswomen for the Junior Department at the store. Miss MacCracken expressed her appreciation of the new saleswomen. The store continues to prosper.

The subject of Dr. MacCracken's remarks was the birthday of the state of South Carolina, celebrated on the 24th of December in 1861. His address was accompanied by a resolution of the Student Government Association, of which Dr. MacCracken is the president. The resolution was read and adopted at the close of the meeting. Dr. MacCracken's address will be published in the JOHNSONIAN in the near future.

I hope "Miss Minnie" would not recognize it now.

While "Miss Minnie" first came here, I the girls obeyed the "\textit{Miss Minnie}" rule. At 7 p.m. the girls came to the head of the dining hall and turned in their trays and candles and "Miss Minnie" was present. Every Wednesday night the students gathered for dinner in the dormitory. Today, please feel free to join the students and admire the beauty of life from the dormitory.

The "The Johnian" is a collection of stories, poems, and photographs contributed by students. Many of the stories in this issue focus on the importance of personal growth and development. One story, "The Girl's Dream," explores the idea of pursuing one's dreams and overcoming obstacles. Another story, "The Witch's Revenge," tells the tale of a young girl who uses her knowledge of fairy tales to outsmart the wicked witch.

The"The Johnian" is a quarterly publication by the student body of Winthrop College. It features articles on campus life, local events, and cultural contributions. The magazine is known for its high-quality production and diverse content. It serves as a platform for students to express their ideas and perspectives on various topics.

SAYS GOOD-BYE TO "MISS MINNIE"

A certain town organized its own "Miss Minnie." It was a period between the years 1870 and 1930. The girls lived in the dormitory, and the "Miss Minnie" was in charge of the dormitory. She was a woman of great wisdom and experience who had been through many trials in her life. She was respected by the students and the faculty alike.

One day, "Miss Minnie" called the students together and announced that she was leaving. She had decided to return to her hometown and continue her work there. She had accomplished much during her time at Winthrop, and she felt that it was time for her to retire.

The students were sad to see her go, but they understood her decision. They knew that she would always be remembered as a mother figure to them.
