The Vitaphone installed for the enjoyment of all has been the source of much pleasure to Winthropians. We are able to say that many students and faculty members have enjoyed the sound news, which brings with it a wide range of entertainment. These additions have done much to make our college more modern, more attractive, and indeed we glory in our larger, better Wintert.

The appreciation of new importance is that we are not sitting or standing in the auditorium of our own building.而是，通过特有的设施，在教室中进行沉浸式的体验。在您的社区中，许多人将有机会体验这种新的声学环境。

Appreciation of New Importance

Now that we are about to settle one more important addition to Winthrop—Vitaphone. Now that we have welcomed home the Vitaphone and enjoyed, and used but we feel that these are such values and pleasures to us that we wish to take another opportunity to thank the “Flowers That Be” for their thoughtfulness in seeing to them.

The student body through the medium of The Johnsonian wishes to express its thanks and appreciation to Dr. Kittredge and the Board of Trustees for the new addition to our college.

These college years are important ones in the foundation we are building for life. Are we not living them too curiously, too superficially, and not letting the deeper side? Do we not learn to discriminate between the trivial and the important? The college years are a time for the building of character. Don’t we realize how much it means to us to be able to build something in the college years?

A recent survey of the North Carolina College showed that the vision and skill of college-trained men are much needed in the industries and in the governments of the state.

The field of letters is well represented in Winthrop, especially by the work of Mrs. Derrick, who has made a name for herself in the literary world.

Mrs. Derrick, a native of Lancaster, and Mrs. Nettles, of Davidson, are among the most successful authors in this field.

We have heretofore been too much in the habit of judging by appearances. We have been too ready to accept the small gains in appearance without thinking of the small gains in life that make the college years worth while.

The college years add something to the personal story.

It is that the North Carolina college has been able to boast of a Beach, three Shores, Brown, and Johnsons. The college has been the source of much pleasure to its students.
