For the first time in its history, Winthrop College held a Christmas pageant on the evening of Wednesday, December 10th. The pageant was sponsored by the Sophomore class and was entitled "Christmas." It was held in the small auditorium of Jonathan Hall under the direction of Miss Delphine Wilson, who was assisted by Miss Helen Moon and Miss Mary Jane Cleland. The pageant was well attended and received enthusiastic applause from the audience.

The pageant began with a reading of the Christmas story from the Bible, which was followed by a series of dramatic presentations. These included "The Nativity," "The Shepherds," "The Wise Men," and "The Other Wise Men." Each presentation was accompanied by music and songs related to the Christmas theme.

The pageant was a success and was enjoyed by all who attended. It was a fitting way to celebrate the Christmas holiday and brought joy and warmth to those who participated and watched.

A Joyous Christmas and A Happy New Year
CHRISTMAS WISH

The Johnsonians wish to be the first to extend this Christmas wish to the dear throng of faculty, family members and officials of Winthrop a merry Christmas, a happy New Year, and a joyous season of happiness.

May the happiness of Christmas fill your heart and mind and soul with a flame of good will toward all men. May your joy be multiplied as the days pass by. May your Christmas be glorious and your New Year filled with promise.

CHRISTMAS WISHES

The Christmas woes are so many and so many, they seem to bring with them a sorrowful reality often. In the days and in the weeks before Christmas, we feel the weight of the world bear down upon us. We are all alone in this time of need. We are all alone in our grief and our sorrow.

The Christmas wish is to be remembered in our hearts and minds, to be cherished and to be remembered for all time. We wish for a Christmas that is filled with love and joy, a Christmas that is filled with hope and promise.

THE LEAST OF THESE

The Christmas holidays are a time for generosity and giving. There are many who are in need during this season, and we are called upon to help lift their spirits.

The Christmas wish is to remember those who are less fortunate than ourselves. Let us remember those who are so hungry and sick, those who are on the brink of despair.

They are the ones who need us most, who need our help and our love.

The Christmas wish is to be a beacon of light, a source of hope and comfort. Let us be a light in the darkness, a guide for those who are lost and lonely.

The Christmas wish is to be a source of joy and happiness. Let us bring joy to those who are in need, to those who are suffering.

The Christmas wish is to be a part of the love and hope that Christmas brings. Let us be a part of the spirit of Christmas, a part of the joy that Christmas brings to all.
Dr. Kenan, Rector of an Episcopalian Church of Asheville and Cecil B., was attending the meeting held by the Student-Council at the Southern Methodist University where the Rev. Dr. Rector, was one of the principal preachers.

The students, dressed in white, sang the national anthem of the United States, while the Rev. Dr. Rector preached a sermon on "The Importance of Education." The sermon was well received by the students, who all sat quietly and listened intently.

Dr. Rector ended his sermon by saying, "Education is the key to success in life. Without it, we are nothing. With it, we can achieve anything we want."

The students were all very much moved by the Rev. Dr. Rector's words, and they continued to applaud him as he left the pulpit.

The meeting adjourned shortly after, and the students dispersed to continue their studies.
