Winthrop Honors Founder, Dr. David Bancroft Johnson

Dr. Neilson is Speaker

On the evening of January 16, at 8:00 p.m., the Winthrop Women's Club of Baltimore held a meeting in the auditorium of the Baltimore City College, where Dr. David Bancroft Johnson, through the kindness of President R. N. F. Oberg, was present to address the members of the club. The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. David Bancroft Johnson, president of Smith College, Northampton.

In a special memorial Tuesday evening in the college auditorium, there was a meeting of the Winthrop Alumnae Association. Dr. Bancroft Johnson was the speaker of the evening.

Winthrop Alumnae Association.

The Winthrop Choral Society, under the conductorship of Rev. F. W. Oberg of the First Congregational Church, presented a programme of music, including "The Star-Spangled Banner," "Home, Sweet Home," and "Oh, Give Me Some Peace." The "Waltz" was sung by two soloists, with a chorus of boys and girls, and "The Polka" was played by the orchestra.

Dr. Bancroft Johnson is speaker of the evening. His address was on "The Study of Human Nature." He explained why Smith College has no formal examinations and why the institution is devoted to the study of human nature. He pointed out that the college is a place for the study of human nature and that it is the study of human nature that is the most important work that can be done.

Dr. Bancroft Johnson said it was his pleasure to bring greetings from a sister college to this community. He expressed his appreciation of the hospitality extended to him and his guests during their stay in the city.

He concluded his address by saying that he had the highest respect for the work of the Winthrop Alumnae Association and that he was glad to be able to speak to them.
