DAISY CHAIN TO BE HELD THIS AFTERNOON

lovedly Processor on the frond led the traditional Customary at 3:00 O'clock.

In the opening of the daisy chain, Miss Macfeat presented the Processor's daisy chain with three gold coins for the presentation of the event. TheProcessor's daisy chain is of one hundred and ninety flowers, and will be voted upon by those present.

Following the presentation last year, an orange car, which was decorated in honor of Miss Macfeat, left campus. This year, a yellow car, representing the joyful event, left campus.

In the course of events, theProcessor's daisy chain will be transferred to another Processor, and theProcessor, as the text says, remember God.

Said the Robin to the Sparrow:

"I believe that It must be a fairly happy and proud group of people who have attended the ceremony of commencement week. The Senior Order of 1930-'31, the Senior Order of 1931-'32, and the Senior Order of 1932-'33, all of which were formed in the spring of the year, have been in existence for the past two years.

The Senior Order of 1930-'31 was formed in March, and consisted of a group of students who were interested in the growth of the school and the development of the campus. The Senior Order of 1931-'32 was formed in April, and consisted of a group of students who were interested in the growth of the school and the development of the campus. The Senior Order of 1932-'33 was formed in May, and consisted of a group of students who were interested in the growth of the school and the development of the campus.

One of the highlights of the Senior Order of 1930-'31 was the dedication of the steps. The steps were dedicated to the memory of Miss Macfeat, who was an outstanding professor and a dear friend of the students.

One of the highlights of the Senior Order of 1931-'32 was the dedication of the library. The library was dedicated to the memory of Miss Macfeat, who was an outstanding professor and a dear friend of the students.

One of the highlights of the Senior Order of 1932-'33 was the dedication of the auditorium. The auditorium was dedicated to the memory of Miss Macfeat, who was an outstanding professor and a dear friend of the students.

In closing, the Senior Order of 1930-'31, the Senior Order of 1931-'32, and the Senior Order of 1932-'33, all of which were formed in the spring of the year, have been in existence for the past two years. They have been a source of pride and joy to the students, and a source of inspiration and motivation to the faculty and staff.

ASTERISK:

"To memory—To memory."

HELD TUESDAY

TO RISING SENIORS

"we go forward from the top of these steps toward the Interest of the world" the class president, Mrs. John Coulson, gave an interpretative dance in the steps. The dance was characterized by simplicity and the story of life was told through the steps. The steps were dedicated to the memory of Miss Macfeat, who was an outstanding professor and a dear friend of the students.

As the steps were dedicated, the auditorium was illuminated with candles. Our hearts were lifted out and opened. Our eyes were lighted with a new discovery. Our minds were filled with memories which they will recall in future years:

Broom. Wilton Spartanburg, S. C

Aycock. Annie Catherine. Sharon, S. C

Ayres. Helen Nichols. Abbeville, S. C

Boozer. Bonnie Lee Greer. T. C

Barwick. Lora Sumter. S. C

Sandifer. Sarah Thome. History, S. C.

FAREWELL '31
Class of '31, can it be that we —Freshmen of only a few months—will be leaving our college days at Winthrop? Can it be that our second year has ended and we've just begun?
And only just begun?
We have been happy in our school; we have been happy in knowing that our goal that has been our highest ambition has been our highest achievement and has been our latest achievement.
The first two years of college are a time of learning, of exploring, of finding ourselves, of growing. The third year is the time when we begin to appreciate our education and to realize that we are graduating. It is only natural that we should feel a sense of loss and of change, but we should also feel a sense of achievement and of growth.
We have been happy in our school;
we have been happy in knowing that our goal that has been our highest ambition has been our highest achievement.

COMMENCEMENT
The term Commencement
meant for more than it means now.
It meant the beginning of our new life. We are scientific discoveries, mechaniques, and the like, and in our race—to-come. Should one question the motive for which we work, each individual.

One of the greatest joys of receiving our diploma is due to the knowledge that we accept our farewell in the stores of advantages at Winthrop.

MOTHS AND SEEDS
To further express the meaning of our college days,
we have planted seeds of knowledge.
