Rock Hill, Jan. 2--Winthrop college officials announced today that the world-renowned Jooss Ballet will appear here ^{Tuesday} Tuesday, January 7, at 8 p.m., in the fourth event of the 1946-47 artist course series.

The dance group, appearing in the United States for the first time in six years, will include in its program at Winthrop the dance number that brought world fame..."The Green Table", a satire on peace conferences, in which the world's diplomats are represented by masked figures dancing around a green-clothed table.

Kurt Jooss, founder of the company and its artistic director, will play the part of Death in the dance-drama, which was awarded the first prize at the International Dance Competition in the ~~Theatre des Danseuses~~ Theatre des Danseuses in Paris in 1932.

Other numbers on the program will include "The Big City", "A Ball in Old Vienna", and "Company at the Manor".
