TUESDAY, JANUARY 10.

No longer is the shortage of homes permitted to stay the boom in the marriage market. Just a year ago it was said that hundreds of couples were deferring marriage because it was impossible to find quarters for rent. According to recent government statistics there have been a million marriages during the past ten months and the number is increasing steadily.

The fact that the country is short at least a million homes has been entirely ignored by the happy bridegrooms and brides. Not alone in the United States, but in many of the countries in Europe has the number of marriages increased enormously. Germany alone is lagging in this respect. In France and Italy the number is far above the normal record.

In the Bible story of the Ten Talents the fact is related that when the lord of the vineyard called his servants together for a reckoning there was one man to whom he had given one talent who returned to his master only the bare principal. He had not invested it in any way that would shield returns. Like some miserly people today, he had simply hidden the money where he benefited nobody—neither himself nor his master—the community at large. The lord of the vineyard was rightly indignant and called the one unprofitable servant "wicked" and "loathful." His lordship demanded to know why the money had not been put to the exchangers in order that the amount loaned might have been repaid with interest. Thus was proclaimed the principle upon which modern bank loans and discounts are based.

A FARMER ON THE BOARD.

The Observer is entirely in sympathy with the movement under way to bring about a membership on the Federal Reserve Board of a farmer. It would not regard that as class legislation, because the agricultural section merits representation and the general of the country demands that a farmer should have active participation on the board. The law requires two banker members, but there are plenty of men in the South and West who are both bankers and farmers. There would be no difficulty in finding a competent man for the place. Recent developments have clearly indicated a drift away from the original purposes of the Federal Reserve System, and it is out of these developments that agitation has been created for agricultural membership on the board.

The Federal Reserve System as organized by the Wilson Administration whose value is beyond estimation. Properly managed and in line with the original purposes, it is capable of rendering the country a continued service of like value, but its autocratic tendencies must be checked. Farmer representation on the board would quickly retrieve much of the loss, popularity of the System—Charlotte Observer.

Of interest to many friends in Chester is the news that Miss Besie Walsh and Mrs. M. M. Brice will open a millinery establishment in the store room now occupied by the Edward L. Ayers Company, who have advised that they will discontinue the business here. Both Mrs. Brice and Miss Walsh are experienced milliners and have many friends in Chester who will be glad of the opportunity to patronize them.

Choice Cuts

—and Others

A few weeks ago a newspaper man visited one of the wholesale markets of Swift & Company. He wanted to see a retailer "buy a loin of beef and then watch the retailer sell the porterhouse and sirloin steaks from it over his counter. He thought this would make a good story.

The head of the market took the reporter into the "cooler" where he showed him a high class side of beef. With a wooden skewer he marked off the loin and said, "That would cost a retailer just 40 cents a pound, but it's only 8 per cent of the weight of the whole side.

"This piece, (and he marked off about one-fourth of the carcass) is the chuck and I'll sell it at wholesale for 7 cents a pound. Please remember, this is one of our best sides of beef. We also have beef which sells for half as much."

This wide variation in the price of various cuts from the same side of beef is caused largely by demand for the tender cuts. The others are, of course, just as wholesome.

It seems as though more people than ever are demanding choicer cuts, and their demand sets the price. If few people ask for the choicer cuts, the price of forequarter will automatically drop to a figure low enough to induce people to buy because of cheapness.

Even though certain cuts sell for relatively high prices, other cuts, due to lack of demand, sell so low that our profit from all sources over a period of five years averaged only a fraction of a cent a pound.

It is competition between consumers for the choicer cuts that keeps prices for those cuts relatively high; an equalizing demand for all parts of the carcass would benefit producer, packer, retailer and consumer.

Our average wholesale selling price of all products has fallen about 40 per cent since September, 1920.

FARDON GRANTED FOR YORK NEGRO

Emmanuel Daniels, Quilled Motley on Chalmers and is Rewarded for His Work.

Emmanuel ("Bud") Daniels, the York county negro convict who last week quilled a threatened mobbing of 12 white and negro prisoners on the York county gang after James Robinson, the guard in charge of the men, had been hit by the ax and was granted a full pardon by Governor Cooper yesterday morning.

Daniels grabbed Guard Robinson's shotgun after the guard had been felled by the blow from the axe and covered the prisoners. As Daniels and the negro, Reid, who hit Mr. Robinson, had the axe drawn back for another blow, and officers who arrived on the scene soon after the trouble believe the guard would have been butchered if Daniels had not intervened. Daniels was sentenced to one year for forgery and had only a few months to serve. He has been praised highly for his prompt action and for York for him. Daniels was a sum of over $100 has been taken from him. Daniels was a trustee for help while Daniels covered the convicts. Executive clemency for Reid is also being agitated.

The petition from York bore the signatures of all the petty officers. Senator J. E. R. H. says the governor had ever requested a pardon for any one, but he thought this negro certainly should be given clemency.

May Liquidate Hotel Company.

The following article is from The Rock Hill Record of yesterday. At a recent called meeting of the City Investment Co., better known as the "Rock Hill Hotel Company," there were not enough stockholders present and proxies represented to hold a meeting, so it was postponed for another date. That date, to be held at 10 o'clock in the daytime instead of at night, and at that meeting it is hoped to be able to get enough of the stockholders present to transact business. It was the opinion of a majority of those present at the recent meeting that the lot for which they paid $5,000 should be sold. The money received from the sale and the $1,100 on hand should be returned to the stockholders, and the company be liquidated.

Next Meeting in Chester.

The quarterly meeting of District No. 4 Nurses association was held last Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. David Lutz, at Rock Hill. A short business session was held, the chief feature of which was the election of officers for the ensuing year. All present officers were unanimously re-elected.

An interesting program was carried out, as follows: Reading article on "Public Health," by Miss Carol Cylmonson, of Chester; paper on "General Nursing," by Mrs. Sigman, of Chester; "reading," "Sub-Nurses, Why Not Sub Doctors?" by Miss Alice Beckett, Rock Hill; paper on "Bacteriology," by Dr. Henry, of Chester.

Following the program was an enjoyable social meeting, during which a "hotter served" dainty menu. The next members were in attendance. The next quarterly meeting will be held in Chester.

State Laws Being Codified.

One of the most important features connected with the approaching general assembly will be adoption of the 1922 code of laws. The code is being prepared by a special commission composed of the regular code commissioner and two assistants appointed by the last legislature. The commissioner is J. C. McLaughlin, of Chester, and the collaborators are W. W. Lewis and Silas Wetmore. The new code will be in three volumes and will include the statutes of the 1921 session of the legislature. All laws, clauses and statutes that have been repealed, adjudged unconstitutional or become obsolete will be omitted.

GONE ARE THOSE DAYS.

The Lenoir News-Topic prints a picture giving an interior view of the chair car that was at one time operated on the Carolina & North Western Railroad between Chester and Lenoir, and wants to know "what has become of the good service given by this road." The service it speaks of was of public enjoyment about 20 years ago, and those were the de luxe days of the little old narrow gauge, which was later converted into a standard gauge and its courses diverted from the ridge route to a riverbank line. The chair car at that time knew no automobile competition. There were no good roads in those days and the auto route was undreamed of. However, with arrival of this competitive combination began the emptying process for the chair car, and the daily bundling out and on at Lincolnton was long ago a thing of the past. But what is one chair car to a thousand automobiles for Lenoir, anyway?—Charlotte Observer.

MOORE SUSTAINS PLAINTIFF PLEA

Rodday to Be Receiver in Lancaster Concern.

Lancaster, Jan. 7.—Judge Ernest Moore today filed two decrees in the case of the Catawba Fertilizer company, plaintiff, against the Lancaster Mercantile company, defendant, and the petition of C. D. Jones that he be allowed to intervene and be made a party to said action.

Judge Moore holds that Mr. Jones has no right to intervene in the pending suit and that he is not a necessary party thereto.

He holds in his other decree that a receiver is necessary because of the insolvency of the Lancaster Mercantile company, and appointed John T. Rodday of Rock Hill as receiver and Charles W. F. Spencer of Rock Hill receiver in the receivership until Mr. Rodday qualifies as receiver.

The Lancaster Mercantile company will be operated under the management of Leroy Springs and John T. Stevens.

The order states that the assets are approximately $100,000 and fixes the temporary bond of the receiver at $25,000.

REFUSE TO ISSUE TIRE GUARANTEES

Sixty-Six Manufacturers Enter Agreement on Mileage.

Sixty-six tire manufacturers supplying nation-wide trade have entered into an agreement to refuse in the future to give mileage guarantees on their tires and to segregate them in the future only against defective material and workmanship, according to information made public.

"It has been decided, in the first place," this announcement reads, "to abolish entirely all mileage guarantees. Such a guarantee was obviously illegal because no manufacturer could possibly foretell how far any tire would run, for the simple reason that he could not foresee what conditions it would be run under, or what sort of roads it would travel over. Instead a standard warranty will be used by each manufacturer. This warranty obviously goes as far as any straight-walled manufacturer can go. All he can do is to guarantee his product against faulty material or workmanship."

"Claims forms" it is explained, are provided for tire users who find their tires defective and these forms, filled out, must accompany the supposed faulty tire which will be inspected at the factory.

ORANGEBURG FAVORS PROPOSED MEASURE

Resolution Adopted Commending Legislative Recent Suggestions. Orangeburg, Jan. 7.—A meeting of the taxpayers of Orangeburg county was held at the court house today with practically every section of the county represented. Col. James H. Clardy was elected chairman and Fred Wannamaker was chosen secretary. The program of the conference of taxpayers of the month, held recently at Columbia, was thoroughly discussed and was unanimously adopted. Resolutions to the effect that it was the sense of this meeting that rigid economy in the conduct of both the state and county affairs be practiced and that by rigid economy it is meant the dropping of useless other offices and the discontinuance of such appropriations as are not absolutely essential to the proper conduct of the county and state government.

You Cannot See Public Opinion

You can not see the Law of Gravitation, yet it controls every action of your life. You can not see Public Opinion, but you are influenced by its force every hour of the day.

The man who does not advertise realizes the might of Public Opinion in politics, war, ethics, religion, but he fails to apply this force to his business.

Yet Public Opinion is so real a thing that we talk of 'moulding' it as though it had three dimensions like a cake of soap. Advertising is moulding Public Opinion to a favorable view of your business.

Public Opinion is as potent a force in the business world as it is in the moral world. The organized application of it to business is new because the multiple printed page and swift transportation are new.

In your line of business there are or will be firms that will continually reap the rewards of favorable Public Opinion.

The fire under the grate was found to be burning and things looked serious for a few minutes. Mr. Lindsay secured help and with buckets got the fire out.

It will be recalled that the last General Assembly of South Carolina passed a law placing a license on dogs in South Carolina of $1.95. Approximately 2,800 dogs were returned in Chester county whereas the treasurer has only sold about 1,000 of them. This would indicate that there must be at least 1,800 dogs in Chester county which are not licensed to live, so to speak. With the exception of a small fee, license collected for the dog licenses goes to the various schools. The News understands that several people in various sections of the county have asked that they be appointed as "official dog catchers," but there is no law as to the appointment of such officers. However, the law provides that the party reporting another for violation of the dog license law shall be entitled to one-half of the fee.

Mr. Sanders is secretary of the Camden and Kershaw County Electric Companies and is interested in electric bakeries at both Camden and Laurens. Mr. Darby will have charge of the company, and Mr. Sanders will continue to live at Camden.

The electric bakery is the latest thing in the baking business and is said to be the best in the South. Every customer who visits the bakery will be sure to give the good of the day.

NORTH CAROLINA MAKES FINE RECORD IN COTTON

Raleigh, Jan. 5.—Of the 95 counties raising cotton in North Carolina, 50 of them raised more in 1921 than they did in 1920, according to Major W. A. Graham, commissioner of agriculture. Only 15 counties in the state fell behind in the production of cotton in comparison with the previous crop. The whole amount of cotton raised in the state in 1921, says Major Graham, was 767,144 bales, in 1920, production was 690,664 bales. This would appear to be a very fine record in the face of boll weevil conditions and talk of a reduced acreage.

Second Installment Now Due.

Those who subscribed to the Capital Stock of the Community Creditors' Company on Saturday, received notice from Mr. E. B. Howard, president, that the second installment on the stock is now due and asking that same be paid at once.

The notice sent to the various stockholders was, in part, as follows: "The work of launching our creamery is progressing satisfactorily. Officers and directors have been elected and the first installment of twenty per cent of our capital stock has been paid in except in one or two instances. We will get our charter within the next few days and the securing of a location and the buying of the necessary machinery is already under consideration. Additional funds are going to be needed right away and the recent meeting of our directors was instructed to call for a second installment of our stock subscriptions on or before January 15th, and this time we will want thirty per cent."

The call of Saturday means that fifty per cent, or $5,000 of the capital stock, has been called for up to this time.

No Court Yesterday.

As a general thing, Monday morning is a busy time around the Recorder's court, and The News was very much surprised yesterday morning when Chief Grant, in reply to the question, stated that there was nothing in the court's calendar, if all day Saturday and Sunday and all Chester law-abiding citizens better for the moral end of the community. Or possibly the moonshiners failed to bring in a supply Saturday, and possibly people are a little shy of money with which to pay fines and they are either in the good of doing the officers.

Mr. Darby, as is generally known, conducts a fine grocery store at the Bankers Cotton Mills and has many friends in Chester and throughout the county. 1922 Business Will Be Good.

"There is no question in my mind that we have seen the worst of the business depression and are now on a new slow-but-steady upgrade," declares S. W. Simms, the well-known financier. "Take first the psychological factor in just as important as the material factors in any annual commercial period, whether depression or inflation. The public is in a better state of mind."

"When it seemed probable that the bank question would be settled the whole Pacific conditions stabilized the whole world reacted joyfully. The effect on business was marked and decisive. Almost overnight the mood changed and a reasonable optimism in regard to business conditions was manifest almost everywhere."

"The basis of modern business, of course, is the banking system. The Federal Reserve system has been in effect for eight years, and its first great test was surmounted in a way that must give us absolute confidence for the future of this great institution—the very foundation of the nation's finances. For the first time in the history of the country we went through an extremely serious business depression without a banking panic, and for this we have the Federal Reserve system chiefly to thank."

"The building industry shows hopeful signs. This is the key industry of the nation. A score of diverse lines of trade are centered in it. Steel, brick, cement, hollow tile, lumber, plumbing supplies, electrical fittings, roofing materials, paints, hardware—these and many other industries are involved in construction work. Since the United States entered the war the building industry has been virtually at a standstill. There has been only a small part of the new construction necessary to meet the normal steady growth of the nation, by and by there are plans in the office of architects for buildings to cost many billions of dollars. If only a fraction of these plans is put into effect 1922 will be the greatest year of new construction work the United States has ever known, and the great housing shortage about which so much has been said and written during the past three years will rapidly become a thing of the past. Employment will be found for millions of men not only in the actual construction work itself, but in all the contributory lines."

Prices of building materials are at a figure as low as they are likely to be for many years to come, and in all probability lower. The need of new construction is urgent, and there is every reason to believe that this need will be quickly met."

"The supply of money and credit have been restored to normal. With interest rates relatively low, the price of credit is again within reach of business men. The great reservoir of the national credit is ready to do almost any business is ready to do."

"A bright spot in the situation is the tremendous bond market which was developed this winter. Never before have large bond issues been taken up so rapidly by the investing public. A big bond market during a period of depression is always followed by an upward movement in the speculative stock market, and then by a general resumption of business activity."

"I think it is reasonably safe to hope for a very considerable measure of prosperity and activity during the current year—a prosperity that will make us forget the troubles through which we have passed and look forward only to the brighter future that opens around us."

DISCOVER WHY PLANTS NEED LIME IN SOIL.

Why plants must have their lime or calcium in order to thrive was explained recently by Dr. Rodney H. True, professor of botany and director at the University of Pennsylvania, in the leading address before the botanical section of the American Association for the Advancement of Science at Toronto.

By growing seedlings in carefully prepared solutions that do and do not contain calcium, Dr. True has been able to show that when calcium is present the roots absorb food nutriment from the solution, but that when calcium is lacking in the solution the plants actually give up their salt constituents to the water, do not grow as well, and finally die.

"Perhaps the fundamental reason for liming the soil is to provide the walls of the plant cells, as well as the inner membranes, and thus insure normal powers of absorption to protect the calcium compounds in soil solution with sufficient calcium and retention of the necessary nutrient ions," said Dr. True. "When molecules of different salts, such as those of lime, are dissolved in a great volume of water they break up into smaller particles, called ions, which bear electrical charges. By measuring the capacity of the solutions to conduct electricity, Dr. True was able to tell just how much of each element the roots absorbed."

Salus Horstman, in 1856, first discovered that higher green plants need calcium, various theories have been advanced as to the reason why. Dr. True's work explains the value of lime fertilizers.

DOUBTS OF DULL.

By H. Addington Bruce
Wonderingly Brown responded to the summons to call in at the manager's office. He could think of no reason for it—unless he had unwittingly made a serious mistake of some sort.

But the manager's first words allayed this disquieting suspicion. With an affable smile he began, "You've been working faithfully and well, and I am glad that an opportunity for promotion has now come to you. Smith is leaving on Monday and we have selected you to take his place."

"But I will mean, of course, new duties and increased responsibility. But I am quite sure that you will handle everything all right."

Murmuring a few words of thanks for the unexpected good news, Brown returned to his desk. He should have felt jubilant, exhilarated. He did not.

Now that advancement had come to him, doubt had unhappily come with it. Would he succeed, he asked himself. This question kept recurring with torturing frequency, despite friendly reassurances given him by the departing Smith himself.

And, simply because he was so doubtful Brown's first day in Smith's post went badly.

He was flurried as he had not been before. He did not think with his usual vigor and alertness. The close of the day found him strangely tired.

All this he mistakenly attributed to the difficulties of his new work. Actually it was the product of the fatigue-increasing, mind-brooding toxins of doubt. By doubt his brain had literally been poisoned.

up ones more the tasks with which he was familiar.
"I don't know what has come over me," he said, perplexedly. "But I do know that I can't fill Smith's place either efficiently or comfortably. It is justice to the firm and for my own peace of mind, I'd like to let somebody else have a try at it."

And Brown met the only man whose mind has been so dulled by doubt that promotion has meant failure. Every man who asks himself, when promotion comes, "Wonder if I can make good?" is inviting for himself the fate of Brown. Always doubt handicaps, retards, enfeebles.

"In matters of doubt," as the ancients used to say, "holdness is of the greatest value." Don't forget this when your own opportunity to rise presents itself. Seize it boldly.

HALF YOUR LIVING WITHOUT MONEY COST

Cash Crop Production Costs Can Be Cut in Half By Food And Grain Making And Sowing

Albana, Ga.—(Special)—"No one is wise enough to know or foresee the outcome of the world wide financial and political mix-up that has followed the war and the inflated prices for riding early that we have all experienced," said H. G. Stacey, Georgia's organization for state-wide development.

"A wise farmer in the South will figure the 30 to 40 cent cotton price the world war has inflated prices for riding early that we have all experienced," said H. G. Stacey, Georgia's organization for state-wide development.

"The cost of cotton or other cash crop making in the South or anywhere else is largely food cost. Food for the farmer and his family, food in the shape of grain and forage for his working live stock. With low prices for cotton or other cash crop the farmer cannot afford to pay any outside profit or income on the food he, his family and working live stock consume. This means to quit living off of supply merchants' shelves and to live off of the products of home acre."

"The situation requires a different type of garden and acres of corn, oats, wheat forage and miscellaneous crops from what we had and then the home vegetable garden which is the quickest and cheapest source of food in the world."

"Most folks here in the South don't take the time to garden and they thereby make a great mistake. There are too many of the 'lick and a promise' sort of garden and they are very far from the real sure enough kind."

"We have been told repeatedly by those who give us and persuade us to register, plant it, tend it and keep it replanted through the season, that it furnishes half the family's food with money cost except the small amount spent for the seeds needed."

"The garden of the real school is the earliest planted. It brings food, the quickest. It starts cooking, fire bills for food the first week anything is ready to use. A little later, half or more needed for the table come out of the garden."

"If rightly tended and replanted it supplies food all summer and fall, the surplus above daily needs goes into cans or is dried for winter use. Yes, the right kind of garden is the life-saver, and we all need a life-saver of this kind in 1922."

RYAN'S MAKES ATTACK UPON RESERVE BOARD

South Carolina Congressman Ryan's plan to spend $25,000,000 on New York Building.

Washington, Jan. 6.—An attack was made today in the house by Representative Ryan, Democrat, South Carolina, on the federal reserve board, which he said planned to construct at a cost of $25,000,000 an elaborate headquarters in New York city with a gymnasium, club and auditorium and other "extravagant features."

Such a building will do more to incite bohemism than anything else," Mr. Ryan declared, adding that he intended to introduce a bill curtailing the federal reserve board to submit all estimates for expenditures to Congress through the budget bureau so there would be a check on its spending.

Mr. Ryan stressed the point that the erection of the building would be undertaken at a time when Congress in the interest of economy was requiring various committees needed public buildings which in the aggregate would cost $40,000,000.

Representative Parker, republican New York, asserted that money for construction of the New York building would not be met through taxes on the public but from earnings of the federal reserve system.

Colds & Headache

"For years we have used Black-Draught in our family, and I have never found any medicine that could take its place," writes Mr. H. A. Stacey, of Brasylville, Tenn. "My wife, who is a Rutherford County farmer, recommends Black-Draught as a medicine that should be kept in every household for use in the prompt treatment of many little ills to prevent them from developing into serious troubles."

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

"It touches the liver and does the work," Mr. Stacey declared. "It is one of the best medicines I ever saw for cold and headache. I don't know what we would do in our family if it wasn't for Black-Draught. It has saved us many dollars. I don't see how a conference family can hardly get without it. I know it is a reliable and splendid medicine to keep in the house. I recommend Black-Draught highly and am never without it."
