TUESDAY, JANUARY 21.

This paper has enlisted with the government in the cause of America for the period of the war.

The ideal witness before a Congress committee is a guy with no character to maintain and no reputation to lose.

Old Venus Carranza declares that politics is adjourned in Mexico. Robbery of foreigners, however, is not barred.

Why not have the peace conference had executive sessions? That always results in full publicity in the United States Senate.

Whenever Congress becomes jaded, all it needs is a snuffing committee and a few letters from boom lobbyists telling how they "control" legislation.

A scare-head news item. The street sprinkler has again been repaired and is running on all four wheels.

In New York a woman asked her husband when he does not do right. If the same practice were put into effect in Chester, well, it's too horrible to think about.

For the benefit of our boys who are returning from the firing line we wish to advise our readers that shrapnel is as liable to hit a man from behind as well as in front. Don't get the idea that because a soldier was hit in the back that he was not facing the enemy. The guns in the recent war shoot different from those used in previous wars.

Yes, we are to have national prohibition. Old John Barleycorn has at last been sentenced and we hear, his side partners, Old Man Lemon, Extract, Colonel Sweet Wine and Major "Paw-Paw" are shaking in their boots. However, we would like to call the attention of the jury to Second-Lieutenant "Bait-Tonic," who is scheduled for promotion at an early date.

The speeches for which Senator La Follette's loyalty and fitness to remain a member of Congress were challenged by some of his fellow-members were delivered a year and a half ago. Precisely under indictment during all the time that has elapsed since then, it was not until recently that he was pronounced guilty, $1 to $21 by a Senate subcommittee. He had always been reluctant to sit at the feet of offenders of one kind or another against the section laws had been made the beneficiaries of such a delay, how many of them would now be undergoing punishment?

In its plant-breeding work with cowpeas, which involves several hundred hybrids and selections, the United States Department of Agriculture during the past year has developed several new sorts which give such promise that they are now being grown in quantity for distribution. These varieties are Potomac, Arlington, Columbia, White Hybrid, and Early Buff. Extensive field work is being conducted by the department with hybrids, especially in the wilt and nematode lands of the Southern States. Two hybrid selections, unnamed as yet, have been found highly resistant to both nematodes and wilt and are superior to other sorts for the production of seed and forage. These two selections are being grown in quantity for more extensive field tests next year.

PRaises Railroad Women

High praise for women railroad employees is contained in the annual report of the railroad administration division of labor, directed by W. S. Carter, made public Friday, between January 1 and October 1 last year the number of women workers on American railroads increased from 86,000 to 161,000, constituting 5 per cent of the 2,600,000 rail employees, and practically all of these are anxious to remain permanently, officials report.

It appears that whenever women have been given proper instruction," says the report, "they have proved their value in practically all the clerical and semiclerical occupations. Old prejudices are rapidly disappearing, and they are being recognized by many officials as permanent additions to the labor force."

Of the 101,000 women employees, 73,000 were in clerical or semiclerical occupations, 5,555 in cleaning cars or offices, 5,091 in shop work, 2,390 telegraph operators and 2,513 telephone operators. Others were employed as bridge attendants, car employees, engine wipers, switch tenders, track work and watchwomen. Few were given heavy work on tracks or in warehouses. Policy of employing women in groups rather than in twos or threes has been adopted by the government administration.

Foreigners in many cases reported that women were more attentive to their work than men, the report notes, and were superior to men for some work.

"FLU" PREVENTIVE

The following from the Keowee Courier with reference to the influenza situation in Oconee county will be read with interest:

"The influenza situation in Oconee today is bad. We hear reports from almost every section of the county to the effect that there are probably more cases at present than there were in the outbreak of a month or more ago. It is true that in most instances the reports are to the effect that the disease is not as severe as in the first outbreak, but it is bad enough at best. It is the part of wisdom for each of us to be very careful.

Doctors disagree as to the preventive measures, some claiming that the measures used in the last epidemic were of no service whatever; that the influenza germ cannot be stopped or even deterred by the use of masks, or saturated cloths covering the mouth and nose. Others, however, frankly admit that they do not know, and these are the ones we prefer to follow—advocate the use of all reasonable means that might lead to lessen the danger of contracting the disease.

This much is certain: The person who sprays the mouth, throat and nostrils will, even if he or she does not prevent the contraction of influenza, have the satisfaction of having carried out a very sanitary, safe, ultra-hygienic program that can do no harm and that will, whatever the case may be, with reference to influenza, prove most beneficial in other ways. In addition to this, if one will watch for any trace of kidney affection, apply prompt remedy, keep the liver active and the bowels properly cleansed, one need have little fear of influenza, or for that matter, have the satisfaction of an ordinary mature. We claim nothing for these precautionary measures in the way of lengthening one's life, but there is, beyond question merit in them as a means to the end of avoiding many minor illnesses.

Be careful, avoid crowding, and keep your system in good order. You may even then find yourself overtaken by the "flu" but your chances of escape will be infinitely better. Ask your doctor about it if you feel skeptical about taking our advice."

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR FINAL DISCHARGE

Notice is hereby given that on the 18th day of February 1919, at 11 o'clock A. M. I will make my first and final return to the Administration with the will annexed, the estate of Mary E. Anderson, deceased, to the Probate Court of Chester County, S. C., and upon said return will propose I will apply to Hon. A. W. Wise, Judge of said Court of Private, for letters of administration.

D. C. FARRER, Administrator, with the will annexed of the estate of Mary E. Anderson, deceased. By R. L. Douglas, Attorney, Chester, S. C.: February 18, 1919. 21-28-4-11.

Know His Business

The new minister in a Georgia church was delivering his first sermon. The negro janitor was a critical listener from a back corner of the church. The minister's sermon was eloquent and he prayed fervently to cover the whole category of human wants.

After the services one of the deacons asked the old negro what he thought of the new minister.

"Don't you think he suffers 'up a good prayer, Joe?"

"Ah, min, 'specially does, boss. Why, dat man axed de Lord fo' things dat de udder preacher didn't even know He had!"

Good Roads Meeting Friday

Mr. Chrl J. Baer, of the Community Development Association of America, will speak in Chester at 12 o'clock Friday, January 24th. He will explain in detail the legislation which is proposed to aid the Federal General Assembly to erect, build and hear him and bring your neighbor.

R. E. HATNER, Chairman of Committee.

LETTER FROM FRANCE

Young Refo in Luxemburg—Says People Are Very Happy—Was in the Big Drive That Put The Man on the Run.

Hovelange, Luxemburg

Nov. 26th, 1918

My dear Mama and Papa:

It has been so long, over three weeks now, since I wrote you that I don't know hardly how to begin. I did write you a letter just before we made our last drive, which carried us from near Exermont to Sedan, but I lost it before I was able to mail it. After the attack there was no time for letter writing.

The Germans in their retreat destroyed every bridge. We put them back up in double-quick time.

When we were relieved we knew nothing about the armistice. The next day we learned that the armistice had to be signed that day. Well, it was and that night the sky was ablaze with rockets and flares of every description. Since then we have been hiking toward Germany as fast as our legs would carry us.

It is great to get beyond that battle scared region, where once more you find civilians living, and happy—they are the happiest people on earth.

Just outside of one Belgian town we spent the night. In the town was a sign reading: "Thank God for President Wilson."

Another Saragani and myself spent that night in a feather bed. Hardly had we sat down in CHAIRS before in the old lady comes with two bowls of hot coffee and informed us that some French fried "soupe" would be ready for us in a few minutes. But that wasn't all, she had chicken and jam besides. We thought we were dreaming but I guess it must have been true.

The old man said that America saved Europe from ruin. Their twenty-year-old son had been carried off by the Germans and worked to death. We are now at Hovelange, Luxemburg, about 15 KMS from the city of Luxembourg. I think I will have a chance to visit the "burg" before we leave. The people in this country do not greet us with open arms like those in the liberated sections of France and Belgian and most of them speak "Dutch." They are strong for the Allies and treat us well.

Tomorrow is Thanksgiving. We truly have something to be thankful for this year—peace. I don't suppose we will have turkey but there's no doubt we will have something extra. Now that the censorship has been partially lifted I would like to write you something about what I have been doing but I think I could tell you better after I get home. However, I might say that after we left the Lorraine front we were with the French "Blue Devils" who stopped our last German drive in Champagne east of Rheims. We acted as infantry at Chateaux Thierry and put the boche across the Ourg river. We were with the first wave of infantry as the cutters at St. Mihiel and we were in the last drive to Sedan. The greatest pleasure I get out of those experiences now is that I do not have to go through them again.

Your devoted son, Henry B. Redo, Co. B, 117th Engineers.

Just Arrived—Carload of fine mules. Come in and look them over. W. F. Moore.

Just what happened to a practically new buggy yesterday belonging to Ira McCullough, colored, who lives on Mrs. Claudia Key's place, on the York street road, is as yet an unexplained question. McCullough came to town yesterday and left his buggy in the lot to the rear of the Joseph Wylie & Company's. When he got ready to leave town he found that his buggy had disappeared and in its stead was an old dilapidated affair, that had the appearance of once having been a buggy. A description of McCullough's buggy will be found in an advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

Mr. M. A. Colvin and four children are indisposed with influenza.

Just Arrived—Carload of fine mules. Come in and look them over. W. F. Moore.

Mr. John T. Stevens, of Kershaw, district for the Fifth Highway Campaign Committee, has appointed Mr. R. B. Haffner, of this city, as chairman for Chester county. Mr. Haffner is asked to appoint five or six citizens of Chester county to act with him and states that he will make these appointments within the next few days.

Just Arrived—Carload of fine mules. Come in and look them over. W. F. Moore.

That cotton goods the coming season will be cheaper is indicated by the following extract from a New York dispatch: "Prices on cotton goods were reduced very materially during the week and there has been more active buying. Print cloths fell 5 to 6 cents per pound, and bleached cottons were reduced from 50 to 55 cents per yard. Wide sheetings were reduced 1 1/2 per cent, and irregular reductions were made in several lines of linings, quilts, towels, blankets, etc."

Miss Marie Malarkin will undergo an operation for appendicitis at the Pryor Hospital today.

For Sale—The Barron store property at Fort Lawn, S. C., will be sold to the highest bidder Tuesday, January 22nd, 1919, at 11 o'clock. Sale on the grounds. For full particulars call on Sims & Carter and R. R. Haffner, 21-24.

Lost—On Main or Salska street, what appears like a lost in plaid. Finder please return to the Chester News office.

Was Well Known in Chester.

Mrs. S. M. Wilkes, who died in Laurens last Friday morning after a week's illness with influenza, was well known in Chester. Besides her husband, S. M. Wilkes, and son, S. M. Jr., she is survived by her mother, Mrs. J. H. W. Stevens, and the following brothers and sisters: J. T. Stevens of Kershaw, W. G. Stevens of Rock Hill, Walter Stevens, Mrs. McKay of Cheraw and Mrs. Lefloy Davidson of Camden.

Does Chester Want A Cannon?

As noted elsewhere in this issue Congressman Stevenson has introduced a bill in Congress asking that a captured German cannon be sent to Chester along with several other towns in this district. A dispatch from Washington would indicate that towns desiring one of the German cannon must make some move to indicate the fact. If Chester wants war relics it is time an effort was being made to let Congressman Stevenson know about it.

The Washington dispatch says that Congressman Stevenson stated that the only town in his district which had agitated the matter and made an effort to get a cannon had been York. Congressman Stevenson, says that he does not want to force one of the cannon on any town and those desiring one should let him know at once.

Miss Berry in Charge Of Chester.

Miss Edith L. Parrott, state home demonstration agent, announces that with the beginning of the year 1919 three district home demonstration agents were appointed for the state of South Carolina. These are: Miss Edith L. Parrott, of Seneca, Miss Mary B. Martin, of Abbeville, and Miss Amanda Edwards, of Kingstree. All these are former county home demonstration agents and have done splendid work in their respective counties.

The duties of these district home demonstration agents are to supervise and assist the county home demonstration agents in every way possible. The counties of the state have been divided into three groups, each group consisting of fifteen counties. Miss Berry, with headquarters at Seneca, will have charge of Chester county. Miss Berry is now at Winthrop College assisting with the course of study for the home demonstration agents.

Insurrection Of Governor Today.

Robert A. Cooper will be inaugurated governor of South Carolina today at noon. The oath of office will be administered by Judge Walter H. South Carolina Supreme court and the inauguration prayer will be offered by Mr. Cooper's pastor at Laurens, Rev. A. H. Thompson, D. D.

The ceremony will take place out of doors on the north side of the State Capitol. If the weather is not too severe and if Mr. Cooper's throat can stand the outside atmosphere at that time. He has been suffering from cold for the past week. If it is impossible to hold the exercises out of doors, they will take place in the hall of the house of representatives.

Died Last Friday.

Many friends throughout the county learned with sorrow of the death of Mr. H. C. Proctor, which occurred at one of the local hospitals in this city last Friday. Mr. Proctor was a former member of the Chester police force and made a very popular officer.

The funeral services were conducted Saturday at Evergreen cemetery by Rev. D. G. Phillips, pastor of the American Reformed Presbyterian church, after which the interment was made in the cemetery. Mr. Proctor was a native of Chester county and was a member of the C. O. A. R. P. church. He is survived by his wife, four children and two sisters, Mrs. William Thompson, of Lancaster, and Mrs. Frank Knox, of Chester.

Just Arrived—Carload of Brick Chester Machine & Lumber Co.

Half Your Living Without Money Cost

We are all aching for cold. On the use of good common sense in the 1919 farm and garden operations, depends prosperity or our going broke. Even at present high prices no one can plant all or over-plant his crops and feed and grain at present prices from supply means on credit and money. Food and grain are higher in proportion than are present cotton prices.

It's a time above all others to play safe. In fact, all sensible food, grain and horse supplies on your own plan, to cut down the store bill. A good piece of garden ground, rightly planted, rightly tended, and well planned the year round, can be made to furnish nearly half your living. It will save you the cost of the food and grain you eat after you have made the best two or three dollars worth of cotton you can get. Hastings' 1919 Seed Book tells all about the right kind of a money-making garden and the vegetables to put in it. It tells about the farm crops as well and shows you the clear road to real and regular farm prosperity. It's a money-maker. Write for it today. HASTINGS CO., Atlanta, Ga., 1919.

Mayor Issues Stringent Orders.

Yesterday Mayor Davidson summoned Chief of Police Grant to appear before him to receive orders. The Chief appeared and His Honor dictated that he should close all establishments in Chester who were selling, or who were thought to be selling, or who might expect to sell, this winter concoction known as "Paw-Paw" and instruct the proprietors of such establishments that any sale of this "stuff" or Beer, Wine and Iron, or Nook's Stomach Bitters, or Sarsaparilla or any of those things which if taken other than according to directions will make one "wild and woolly," would be brought before His Honor, whereupon they would be greeted with a fine of one hundred natural bones.

The Mayor has been considering this action for some time and of late it has come to his attention that the drinking of these various and sundry concoctions is not confined to those who have treated their majority but that young fellows, yes, boys in knee trousers, have developed limitations which, according to their minds, required that they take extra large doses of the aforesaid concoctions. Realizing that things had gone from bad to worse the Mayor demands that Chester join the National Prohibition movement and hereafter beginning immediately if not sooner, no one will be allowed to sell, give away, buy, steal or otherwise come in possession of any of the "things" aforesaid mentioned unless such person have a prescription from a medical physician legally authorized to practice his profession in the State of South Carolina.

According to this order it is the general belief that no one in, out or around Chester, will be able to come in personal contact with drugs that will make one see double, because it is not believed any practicing physician can be induced to prescribe "things" enumerated elsewhere in this article for physical or other ailments.

Goodbye "Paw-Paw" for ever more. I've had a good time, you will agree. But you see what Z. V. D. has done for me.

Death Of Mrs. R. E. Lee.

Friends throughout the county learned with much sorrow of the death of Mrs. Lily Douglas Lee, wife of Mr. Robert E. Lee, at the home near Cornwall's last Friday from pneumonia following influenza.

Mrs. Lee was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Douglas and was a consecrated member of Woodward Baptist church. She was a devoted wife and mother and a kind neighbor.

The funeral services were conducted at Woodward Baptist church Saturday by the Rev. J. F. Pittman, the pastor, after which the interment was made in the church graveyard. Mrs. Lee was survived by her husband and five children, who have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community.
