FRIDAY, JANUARY 30.

So much has been written and said about the treatment and combating of influenza that it is a hard matter for one to arrive at any definite conclusion as to the best means to handle the spread of the disease.
The News has probably directed as much "influenza dope" as any one and it has come to the conclusion that there is nothing to be gained insofar as the spreading of influenza is concerned. According to our opinion there is only one salvable way to be derived from a quarantine, and that is, it spreads the epidemic over a longer period.
Now the question is, what is the best thing to do in the way of the appearance of influenza in a community. The News believes that no quarantine should be instituted unless the situation becomes such that those afflicted with the disease are unable to secure proper attention. In this case a quarantine should be instituted so as to spread the epidemic over a longer period.
The News believes, which belief is based on various opinions as to last year's epidemic and also previous epidemics, that influenza will reach every person in a community except those who are physically able to throw off the disease. Such being the case it is up to each individual to keep himself in the best physical condition possible so that when he comes in contact with the germ he will be physically able to ward it off.
The minute one contracts a cold or becomes the least chilly, he should immediately begin treatment of some kind. And every person who contracts a cold should be considered enough of others to avoid coming in contact with them. He should remain away from all gatherings and should avoid drinking at public fountains.
The individual is in a better position to keep down the spread of influenza than can be done by the most drastic actions of any Board of Health.
The News noticed in particular the action of the health authorities in New York City as compared with those in Philadelphia during the epidemic of last year. The New York health authorities refused to quarantine, whereas Philadelphia placed the lid in light. The condition in Philadelphia was considerably worse than in New York, which would indicate that nothing was gained by a quarantine.
Keep yourself in the best possible physical condition and in the event you contract a cold remain away from others.

MOSQUITOES AND FLIES.
The following article was written to the Progressive Farmer by a contributor and brings out a fact. The News has been preaching for years. The News would also advise people who expect to put in screens to pay particular attention to the mesh of the screen wires. Screens with a large mesh are very little good in the case of mosquitoes. Many Chester people were talking the past summer of having their houses screened, yet they were bothered with mosquitoes. They did not seem to realize that their screenings were not the proper mesh to keep out the malaria breeders. If you want to keep the mosquitoes out see that you get the proper mesh wire.
Ten years ago, we moved into our new home. My brother insisted on our screening the house for the baby's sake, but we hesitated about the added expense, so he kindly offered to make the screens if we furnished the material, which we did.
"We raised two babies each through the critical period, with never a day's sickness. In fact, for eight years a doctor never entered our home."
Screens don't last always though and the summer after our third baby came the house was almost bare of screens. That summer we all had the most violent form of malaria, even the little baby had a very serious form of it, and while in such a weak state he developed acidosis, bowel trouble, caused by flies. The doctor says mosquitoes and flies caused our family's sickness. A sadder and wiser family has concluded that screens are cheaper than doctors' bills and funeral expenses.

The matter of sanitary drinking cups at the various soda fountains in Chester was discussed at a meeting of the Board of Health last evening. The board was of the opinion that sanitary drinking cups should be used at this time with the view of avoiding spreading influenza. The News is heartily in accord with the recommendation of the Board of Health in this matter, and The News is also of the opinion that every soda fountain should be required to use sanitary drinking cups at all times, regardless of an epidemic. While our local fountains are apparently clean, no one would attempt to contend that glasses washed in cold water can be made sanitary. Hundreds of people of Chester county visit the various soda fountains each week and the probability of spreading disease at the fountain is so small one.

The News understands that the sanitary drinking cups are expensive, however this is no argument in favor of the present style. The News contends that sanitary cups should be used at all times and if the dealers are unable to furnish the drinks at the present prices in sanitary cups we say raise the price but give proper sanitation.

J. FRED POAG LOSER IN FIRE AT CAMP BRAGG

Rock Hill, Jan. 29.—J. Fred Poag, son of Mrs. J. Leroy Poag of this city (his personal belongings) lost a fire which destroyed the hostess house at Camp Bragg, Fayetteville, N. C., a few days ago. The following account of the fire is from a Fayetteville newspaper:
"The hostess house at Camp Bragg was completely destroyed by fire this morning between the hour of 8:30 and 10 o'clock.
"The hostess house is the building owned by the U. S. M. C. A. at Camp Bragg last spring at a cost of $15,000. It was taken over in November by the war department, since which time it has been run by the camp recreation and recreation department, as a visitors' home or hostess house for the relatives of the soldiers and for any visitors at camp.
"Mrs. Fred Poag was the hostess of the house. She with Mr. Poag and family have lived there since November. As the fire originated in the basement under the part of the building in which they reside, they lost all of their personal belongings. A subscription is being taken up for them today among the men in camp.
"We have not been able to ascertain if there was any insurance on the building or furniture. But some new furniture had just been installed. This furniture had recently been purchased from a factory in High Point and installed two days ago."

CARD OF THANKS.
Chester, S. C., Jan. 27, 1920.
Editor of Chester News:
Will you please give me a short space in your paper to give thanks for the kindness of Dr. Wylie in visiting my home in the severe illness of my wife. He has given us as kind attention as any young doctor should be due his mother and father in case of sickness, and he has done all of this free of charge and has made several calls unrequested. On the first I asked him his charge and his reply was that he had never charged retired ministers of the gospel for attendance. Long live the good man and may the prayers of all the saints go up to God in behalf of his dear life and work with all that is dear to him.
Rev. J. J. Ellis.

Columbia, Jan. 29.—By a vote of 51 to 46 the house of representatives today refused to pass a bill to abolish the present tax commission. The bill was an attack on the chairman of the commission. In the debate the personnel of the commission was severely criticized.
Heated debate over the bill to abolish the personnel of the present tax commission marked the usual session Thursday morning. Representative Berry of Orangeburg, Moore of Sumter, and Atkinson of Spartanburg spoke in favor of the bill and praised the work of the tax commission in its equalization. Representative Keen of Aiken, Leonard of Pickens, McLaurin of Marlboro, Flamer of Dillon spoke heartily in favor of the bill and against the tax commission.
Representative Berry moved to strike out the enacting words of the bill and by a yeas and nays vote the motion was carried. 51 to 46, the house thus killing the bill and saving the tax commission.
Certain if there was any insurance on the building or furniture. But some new furniture had just been installed. This furniture had recently been purchased from a factory in High Point and installed two days ago."

The lower house of the Legislature Friday sent to third reading the Barnwell bill levying a tax of $12.5 on head on all dogs in the State. This measure was brought over from last year. The money to be derived from the dog licenses will go into the school fund. Failure to return the dog under the provisions of the bill would be a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $20. One-half of the amounts collected in fines would be to the persons reporting the failure to return the dogs. A metal tag is to be given on the payment of the license and this will be required to be put on the collar of the dog. The vote was 70 for the measure and 24 against.

State Board Wants Daily Report.

The following letter has been received from Dr. J. A. Hayne, Secretary of the State Board of Health, and is published at the request of the local health authorities, together with a request to local physicians to report promptly all cases of influenza or pneumonia:

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 26, 1920.
Secretary, Board of Health.

Dear Sir: In view of the fact that influenza has made its appearance again in South Carolina, it is desired that this office be advised by telegram, Government rate, of the first outbreak in your town, and that thereafter a daily telegram be sent this office, Government rate collect, advising as follows:

Number of new cases by date.
Total number of cases to date.
Number of cases pneumonia.
Number of deaths.

Yours very truly,
Jas. A. Hayne, M. D.
Secy. and State Health Officer.

The City Board of Health is very anxious to co-operate fully with the State Board of Health in combating the influenza. Therefore, the physicians of Chester are earnestly requested to make full daily reports of all cases of influenza or pneumonia diagnosed in their offices:

J. H. Melare,
Secretary City Board of Health,
Jan. 26, 1920.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Are cordially invited to attend all these services.

The Influenza Situation.
At the request of the Board of Health a meeting of the Board of the Chester Medical Society was held last evening to discuss the influenza situation in Chester and vicinity and to consider making recommendations to the Board of Health as to what steps should be taken. The information given at the various physicians present at the meeting indicated that the situation in Chester is not all alarming but that there are some severe cases but Chester physicians only have an average of four to six cases each, and that of these few have not yet been diagnosed definitely as influenza. It was also shown that the disease this year is of a much milder form than last year's epidemic. Of course, there are some severe cases but nothing to compare with the last year's influenza.

As to whether or not the present situation will grow into an epidemic, however, the physicians are looking for the situation to become epidemic and they ask that the public lend their co-operation toward helping to keep down an epidemic. This can be done by every one keeping themselves in the best possible physical condition and those who contract colds, or have any influenza symptoms which might appear to be influenza are requested to avoid crowds and all public places and to give serious proper medical attention at once.

The Medical Society recommended to the Board of Health that each physician report daily any case which had been diagnosed as influenza and in such case the Board of Health should in a place displayed on the board. This is the best means to keep the public informed of the number of cases and to keep the matter of sanitary drinking cups being used at the various social functions was discussed and those present were of the opinion that they should be used.

Immediately after the meeting of the Medical Society the Board of Health met and adopted the recommendations made to it by the Medical Society. The matter of the coming health survey in Chester was also discussed and an effort will be made to co-operate in every way possible to get the survey done and also about of surface sewers and also about as well as the cleaning of cow and horse barns.
