WHITHER ARE WE DRIFTING?

On January 12th, the Mayor and finance committee of the City Council met with the Board of Directors of the Chester Chamber of Commerce to discuss the matter of increasing the revenue of the City of Chester in order to raise enough money to meet the 1923 budget, as adopted by the council.

It was shown that the assessments for the City had decreased from $2,400,000 in 1920 to $1,718,000 in 1922. This amounts to a decrease in taxes between the two periods mentioned, of $450,000.

According to reports of the above mentioned meeting the representatives of the City stated that an increase in the levy or an increase in the assessments was necessary to meet the expenses of the City of Chester.

Apparently council has set the inflation period as the goal and instead of trimming expenses they have the idea that the proper thing to do is to call upon the tax payers of Chester to come across with enough money each year to keep the city's affairs at the "high water mark."

A meeting of the council was held last Tuesday night and Alfred Martin was instructed to get the Chester delegation to pass a law allowing the City Fathers to increase the tax levy in the City of Chester five mills, if so much be necessary.

A few years ago our levy was 15 mills. We then added on additional mills to take care of the street and water works improvement bonds. Now we are being called upon for 15 mills more which will make our levy in Chester approximately 25 mills, an increase of 66.5 per cent with in the course of only a few years.

If our city had grown to such proportions we could readily see the absolute necessity for such an increase in our taxes, but since our city has only grown about ten per cent in the past ten years we fail to see the justification for such an increase unless it be that we have decreased the "high liver class."

Practically every business in Chester has decreased expenses since the inflation period. Business men find it absolutely necessary to trim their expenses or go into bankruptcy. But not so with our city. It must have the money.

The City of Chester has approximately 20 miles of streets. 6 miles have recently been paved, leaving approximately 14 miles of dirt and sand-clay streets. When the bonds were voted for the paving of 6 miles it was figured that the City would be able to save the expense incident to the upkeep of these six miles to a great extent and therefore the street department would spend less money each year than it had been in the habit of doing without the paved streets. This was a logical idea and there was no apparent reason why it would not be practical. But when the figures are resurrected we find the opposite and for the year ending April 30th, 1922, we note that the street department more than made up at any time in the previous history of Chester.

We are herewith giving the expenditures of the street department for the past five years:

5-1-17 to 4-30-18	$6,159.79
5-1-18 to 4-30-19	11,752.85
5-1-19 to 4-30-20	5,665.10
5-1-20 to 4-30-21	9,254.53
5-1-21 to 4-30-22	14,452.65

The City of Chester has also had a material increase in the amount of water rents collected during the past few years. This increase has also been spent along with the taxes. As a matter of fact the City is now annually collecting approximately $5,600 more per year in the public works department than it did five or six years ago. This additional money has been going into the general fund. Last year the public works department's receipts were more than $25,000, but a part of this was insurance collected on account of a fire at the water works department.

Below we are giving the receipts of the public works department for the past five years:

5-1-17 to 4-30-18	$12,620.56
5-1-18 to 4-30-19	12,956.79
5-1-19 to 4-30-20	17,428.12
5-1-20 to 4-30-21	18,515.59
5-1-21 to 4-30-22	25,589.04

Also for the benefit of our readers we are giving herewith a list of the taxes collected by the City for the past few years:

5-1-17 to 4-30-18	$28,128.48
5-1-18 to 4-30-19	28,171.66
5-1-19 to 4-30-20	41,329.31
5-1-20 to 4-30-21	47,211.42
5-1-21 to 4-30-22	45,771.87

While The News does not profess to be an economic expert or a city government financier, it appears to us that the City of Chester should be able to operate its government as economically as other cities in its class. If we cannot do this then other towns of our class must be behind or else we are not getting as much for our money as other towns.

The City of Greenwood has never been accused of being a dead town. It has a city appearance; it has many signs of improvement. Its Mayor who draws a salary of $500 per year; it has a City Recorder, a city attorney; it pays its Aldermen $40 per year; it has a Health Officer; a City Engineer; a Clerk and Treasurer; a Chief of the Fire Department and an Assistant who are paid $1,920 per year; and it even has a Tax Collector and a Motor Policeman. Yet, while all of this the tax collections in Greenwood for the year 1921 show $6.64 per capita while the taxes in Chester for the same year were $8.07 per capita. In other words it cost $1.43 more per capita to govern the people of Chester than it does the people of Greenwood, and still pay want more.

Now if Greenwood was a dead town and had no city improvements it would not be so; to use it as a comparison, but the records show that Greenwood is better off than Chester and naturally the question presents itself: If Greenwood can have this amount of improvements at a cost of $6.64, why can't Chester?

The people of Chester have only recently voted a bond issue of $150,000 for a new high school building. The building of this school is a necessity and there was practically no way to get around providing another school. The erection of this school means an increase in taxes of approximately 4 mills; and if we add mills on to the city government it means that the people of Chester will have an increase next year in their taxes of around 8 mills or about 13 per cent increase and yet the taxpayers are clamoring for a reduction in taxes. "They ask for bread and you give them a stone."

To the average layman, who of necessity, was forced to cut his expenditures in recent months, it appears that our city fathers should be putting forth the same efforts in the city's affairs and instead of asking for an additional levy they should at least be "trimming" sufficiently to make the amount of money now collected answer all necessary purposes in conducting the business of the town.

And while this idea is not original with The News, we would ask why the city fathers schedule a meeting with the Chamber of Commerce to discuss ways and means for raising additional revenues for the city? In the Chamber of Commerce the spokesman for the taxpayers of Chester?

The Chamber of Commerce probably represents a small minority of people who are, with possibly a few exceptions, financially able to pay a raise in taxes, but those of a raise in taxes and those who labor for financial gain are not represented by that body.

If the city fathers are going to discuss the raising of taxes it is not fair that such a matter should be taken to the people as a whole. It may be that the people of Chester are not yet ready for any proposition to act as their guardian in the discussion of municipal affairs. However, the city fathers meet the Chamber for the suggestion of the Chamber and we should not unduly criticize the Chamber for the meeting.

As previously stated in the article the city council has instructed the city attorney to confer with the County Delegation and instruct them to have a law passed at the present legislature permitting the city council to raise the city levy 5 mills, it is so much necessary.

Senator Hamilton and Representative Glen and Westbrook are the county delegation and were elected by the people to act as their representatives in the legislative halls at Columbia. Such being the case the question arises, will the county delegation do as the people want them to do or will they carry out the wishes of the city council?

Before passing the law as wanted by the city council it appears to The News that it would be wise for the members of the county delegation to get the wishes of the taxpayers of the City of Chester as to whether they care to have their taxes raised. If the county delegation is going to represent the people of this city then they must know the wishes of the people and The News does not believe that anything like the majority of the people of the City of Chester want their tax levy raised. This question can only be settled by the people, possibly at a mass meeting or through some form of primary.

Anyway, The News does not believe it would be wise for Messrs. Hamilton, Glen and Westbrook to pass a law allowing a body of eight men to raise the taxes of the people of Chester without the people even having a say in regarding the matter.

Every student knows that the first Bible printed by Gutenberg was the Holy Bible, called the Masarin Bible, on movable black types, took about five years, from 1450 to 1465, but the science of printing has advanced so far since that time that the American Bible Society has placed an order for 3,000,000 copies of the Bible, which are to be turned out on a rotary press at the rate of 10,000 copies an hour, and are to be sold in the Latin American and other countries for the sum of one penny.

It is expected that the total number of volumes to be issued this year by the society will run considerably more than 5,000,000 copies, possibly approach 6,000,000, and still be short of the demand. The many other agencies, private and semi-public, the production of the Bible, undoubtedly will send the figure far above 30,000,000 this year, and create a still greater demand for the years to come.

BIG INCREASE IN DEMAND FOR BIBLES

Shows Trend Against Materialism. Chinese Lead in Buying of Bibles. Supply Far Short of Demand.

Since the war there has been an unprecedented demand for Bibles available in all parts of the world, not only in the belligerent countries, but also among peaceful people who were considered somewhat lower in the scale of civilization than those fighting in the war. And this great interest, measured by the number of volumes, has come in a world with millions fewer population than before the war, because of the ravages of war, influenza, disease, misery, famine and disaster.

So great has been this demand for the Word that about 30,000,000 volumes were printed and distributed in the last year, and the indications are that this figure will soar to new heights. What this figure may be no one can tell, but those who know say that, whatever it is, it will not reach the full demand of the world's people who seek the Truth.

Almost a quarter of the twentieth century is now passed and still there is no unanimity among savants as to whether it is to be an era of the spiritual, the triumph of the good, of morals, of benevolent civilization, or whether it is to be an epoch of materialism, an age swept by the ideal of selfishness, revenge and hatred.

In high ardors of the war self-prophets predicted that a new and brighter world would emerge; that the soldiers would be the advance guard of a new spiritual order, rendering the higher plane. After the war they were no so sure that this new renaissance of the spiritual had come, and some of the surprising ideas of materialism sweeping away all the spiritual victories of the war, carrying the world into the dark ages. In the winter of 1919 twenty-eight nations were at war, the darkest and most materialistic.

But the laith that turned out of the war and war material had hardly stopped before the power belts that propelled them alighted, figuratively, on the spirit of printing press, which turned out not only printed currencies, but also copies of the Holy Bible. In unprecedented numbers for the fulfilling of the demand of a world sorely afflicted by the tragedies of war. It is the main spirit that the press was used alone for the printing of more and more currency—and the fact that the Holy Bible, the Book of the Ages, was being sought by the millions, has escaped the notice of those who study world, eye down, looked only at the matter—money, and the fact that appeared to hedge in the future.

Every student knows that the first Bible printed by Gutenberg was the Holy Bible, called the Masarin Bible, on movable black types, took about five years, from 1450 to 1465, but the science of printing has advanced so far since that time that the American Bible Society has placed an order for 3,000,000 copies of the Bible, which are to be turned out on a rotary press at the rate of 10,000 copies an hour, and are to be sold in the Latin American and other countries for the sum of one penny.

It is expected that the total number of volumes to be issued this year by the society will run considerably more than 5,000,000 copies, possibly approach 6,000,000, and still be short of the demand. The many other agencies, private and semi-public, the production of the Bible, undoubtedly will send the figure far above 30,000,000 this year, and create a still greater demand for the years to come.

The success of the American Bible Society, which co-ordinates the Bible production efforts of about fifty Protestant denominations in this country, has found the great interest for the Bible to be in China, where a gigantic nation is slowly awakening and seeking light. Almost half of the Bibles supplied by this society in the last two years have been taken by the Chinese. In 1922 the Chinese took 2,325,000 volumes, an increase of 506,111 over the preceding year, and incomplete figures on the distribution for the last year indicate that the figure will be much higher in China than ever before.

"We saw many of your gons by the agents of the American Bible Society in Peking," namely, the lack of copies to fill the demand. With such a limited supply one dare not exploit the field as a whole, still less the details of that field, which, if minutely surveyed, would demonstrate a yet greater discrepancy between supply and demand. In fact, the number of the limited number of books that could be allotted to me one entire province from my field, have practically had to leave out one entire province from my field, where the other Bible societies have not met the demand either. From personal knowledge of the province, I know that a little advice to the workers there would have created a demand far beyond what the society could possibly supply, unless the whole year's output could be handed over to me.

"I am sure to reason that as the number of Christians grows, and new centres of Christian activity are established, the non-Christian population will be induced to discover for themselves what is that the spirit of printing of more and more currency—and the fact that the Holy Bible, the Book of the Ages, was being sought by the millions, has escaped the notice of those who study world, eye down, looked only at the matter—money, and the fact that appeared to hedge in the future.

Claude Peck, sixteen years of age, was carried to the Chester Sanatorium yesterday morning. Dr. E. E. Abell amputated his leg just below the knee. It is stated that young Peck was riding a Southern Railway freight train along with the bumpers of two cars, mashing it to such an extent that amputation was necessary. Young Peck's parents reside in Ridge way in Chester at the Burke Cotton Mill.

It was very thoughtful of the school faculty to add the school children Wednesday as to the danger of touching any electric wire that might be down on the ground. The electric wires to break in various sections of the town and the touching of them would probably have caused some serious personal injury, if not death.

A matter which The News overlooked mentioning was the fact that the beautiful home of Mr. W. H. Harp, vice-president of the Southern Public Utilities Company, was destroyed by fire on January 16th. The fire started in Meyer Park. Charles Harp's residence in Meyer Park, Charleston, was the most of the furnishings were saved. The loss is partially covered by insurance. Mr. Harp is a frequent Chester visitor and has many friends here who sympathize with him in his loss.

As previously stated the loss by fire of Messrs. W. H. Newbold and John W. Gladden, on Hudson street, last Tuesday morning was partially covered by insurance. Mr. Gladden's insurance will probably be of $7,000 insurance, on his residence and office equipment including law books, and states that his loss amounts to approximately $15,000.

Mr. Newbold has secured office in the Scholberg building on the corner of Wylie and Gadsden street, which were formerly occupied by him. We do not know as to whether either of the gentlemen above mentioned expect to rebuild but if they do the buildings will probably be of brick or brick veneer. The location is within the bounds of the fire limits and the city ordinance prohibits the erection of frame buildings in the fire limits.

A report made by the South Carolina Tax Commission shows that the corporations and individuals in Chester county paid the Tax Commission $32,444.35 for the year ending December 31st, 1921. The Chester county corporations paid $24,677.94, and the individual income taxes paid by Chester people was $8,766.51. Chester county is in amount of income taxes paid in amount of income taxes paid in South Carolina. Greenville is being headed by Greenville state. As is generally known, the state income tax is one-third of the amount paid to the federal government and the above shows that Chester county individuals paid the federal government in income taxes the sum of $26,000 for the year 1921. This shows a total income tax paid by Chester people of $35,665.24.

Official announcement has been made by the Pacific Mills company, 511 Cotton street, in the county, work to begin in the early spring. The initial cost of the plant is stated, will be about $10,000,000 but it is understood that much larger sum will be spent. The Pacific Mills company some weeks ago secured an option on a tract of about 700 acres of land at Groce, and engineers are making a survey of the property, amount of that it would be suitable for the bleaching, and the announcement that the plant would be erected follows. Some other Pacific Mills, a Massachusetts corporation, is one of the leading textile concerns of the country. It operates several mills near Groce, and mills at Columbia and Winstonsboro in this state. The officials of the Pacific Mills recently visited Winstonsboro, where they showed much attention and it is stated that Mr. Desportes of Winstonsboro, offered them a site of 200 acres and offered to locate the mills in Winstonsboro, but it now appears that this was not considered as an inducement.

In talking of municipal affairs in general, the meeting also took place at the county meeting, Aldermen White and Hamilton, both of whose terms expire this coming May, stated that they were not again the candidates for the office. This year it will be necessary to elect five aldermen, one from each of the four wards and an additional one from Ward 2 to serve the unexpired term of Z. V. Davidson, who resigned when appointed Mayor. It is also stated that Mayor Byars will not again stand for re-election as he is going to leave the city to start an entirely new bunch this year.

The work of the domestic science classes was practically demonstrated Tuesday, when they gave a dinner at the home of Mrs. H. H. McNamee, and also at six o'clock P. M. to the Board of Trustees, officials of the city government and the citizens. The eighth and tenth grades were in charge of the noon luncheon, to which were invited Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McNamee and Mrs. H. B. McNamee, W. H. Taylor and Dever Little. Sally Young acted as host and Beatrice Jackson as hostess, with Lillian Dye and Clara May Williams as waitresses. A color scheme of red and green was artistically carried out in decorations, and also in the menu, beginning with fruit cocktail and ending with lovely little red tulip baskets filled with mints. The place cards were also in tulip design.

To the six o'clock luncheon, which was in charge of the ninth and eleventh grades, were invited Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Jordan and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gibson. Helen Oggins was hostess, with Mrs. H. B. McNamee and Helen Tibbs and Alice Gibson waitresses. Their color scheme of yellow and green was carried throughout the menu, with an entrée of orange salad (hot), favors of staid yellow tulle in green baskets. The place cards were in tulip design. The entire menu of each luncheon was planned, prepared and served by members of the classes, under the supervision of Miss Gladys Cook, and was a pleasing and satisfactory illustration of the training the girls are receiving in domestic arts.

Mr. Billie Stewart, long-time keeper of the county home, two miles west of Monroe, now runs a restaurant in Lancaster, S. C. Tuesday's Lancaster News says that "yesterday morning about 10:30 o'clock, W. H. Stewart, proprietor of the DeLuxe Cafe, had the scare of his life when all of a sudden and without warning nearly a one-horse load of plastering from the ceiling to the DeLuxe Cafe, had the scare down with such a crash that Mr. Stewart and his customers thought an airplane had landed in the middle of his cafe. After pulling himself together, which was sometime afterward, the proprietor had the trash hauled to the place soon looking as epic and span as ever. He was not, though, keeping an eye on the ceiling while going about his business."

MAKING LAWS.

Buckle, in his history of Civilization says: "The love of exercising power has been found to be so universal that the desire of men who have possessed authority have been able to avoid abusing it."

"To maintain order, to prevent the strong from oppressing the weak, and to adopt certain precautions respecting the public health, are the only services which any government can render to the interests of civilization. That these are services of immense value, no one will deny, and it can be said that by whom civilization is advanced, or the progress of man accelerated. All that is done is to afford the opportunity of progress; the progress itself must depend upon other matters."

WOULD GIVE COMMISSION POWER TO CONDEMN LAND
Secure Road-Building Material.
 Columbia, S. C., Jan. 24.—Sentry and drainage commission of Charleston county is given power to condemn land from which to secure gravel, soil or other road building material, under a bill favorably reported in the house of representatives. J. S. Whaley is sponsor for the measure.
 The bill provides that hereafter the sanitary and drainage commission of Charleston county be and it is hereby authorized and empowered, in case it cannot secure gravel, soil or other road building material necessary for the construction of roads within said county, as a reasonable cost, to condemn any lands containing such material in the same manner as is provided for the condemnation of rights of way for railroads and other public utilities. The bill carries an emergency clause.

NO-HELP FOR GERMANY.
 As a result of the German policy of obstruction in regard to French occupation of the Ruhr district, allied reparations commission felt obliged to declare Germany further in default of her treaty obligations. In addition to this gentleman reminder that her debts are accumulating all the time, and will be against her until she pays them, Germany has refused any sympathetic answers upon any motion on her projects against the French occupation. Perhaps Germany is beginning to realize that while some of the allied nations and the United States do not think France's method of collection wise or economically sound, they in no sense champion Germany's refusal to pay what she owes, or intend to interfere with France.
 As this fact penetrates the Teuton mind, Germany may change front on the subject of payment. Until recently she has believed that nothing in particular would happen if she did not meet her obligations. If she decides to do her very best to pay her bills, the situation may be tolerably for everybody.

TRADE COMMISSION FAR FROM PRECIPITATE
 Washington, Jan. 23.—Senator N. D. Dial, after a personal investigation, today found that the federal trade commission like the mill of the gods grinds slowly. Under instructions of an amendment introduced by Senator Dial last March just completed an investigation into the effect exerted by cotton seed changes on the price of cotton. The commission, however, has not begun a study of the report, and it is not known whether the members will accept or reject it. Furthermore, nothing is divulged as to the nature of the report. The commissioners informed the senator that "we are still working on it."
 When Senator Fletcher of Florida put a resolution through the senate this afternoon instructing the commission to investigate whether or not combinations in restraint of trade had been formed to control the supply and price of boll weevil poison, calcium arsenate, Senator Dial suggested that he give the commission a time limit in which to report.
 Senator Dial then informed the Senate of the fact that the commission, in ten months, had not reported on a resolution introduced last March.

Create A Demand

If every person in Chester county would confine their expenditures to the absolute necessities of life, many mercantile establishments would have to close their doors.

The amount of business done in a community depends upon the demand of the people. Thousands of dollars are being spent throughout the country giving publicity to various articles, with the view of creating a demand.

Merchants should advertise their business thereby creating a demand for the various articles they sell.

Eskimo pies are a luxury, yet the manufacturers made millions by advertising and creating a demand.

The less advertising merchants do the less demand they have for their goods.
